desk

The Post Leads
Unrivaled in news coverage in Washington. The Post has Associated Press, United Press, Herald Tribune News Service and Wirephoto.

The Washington Post

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA - 1938 LIBRARY

The Weather
Today: Light rain with rising temperature. Tomorrow: Occasional rain and warmer. Yesterday: High, 34; Low 28. Details on Page 26.

NO. 22,815 Entered as Second-Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1938 X* Copyright, 1938, By The Washington Post. THREE CENTS

Police Quiz Mary Brown, Get No Clew To Kidnapers

Find Many Details Of Story Conflict, Attribute Confusion To Her Exhaustion

(Pictures on Page 19.)

Police last night frankly were puzzled by several aspects of the case of Mary Brown, 18-year-old high school girl, who returned to her Oxon Hill, Md., home Thursday night as suddenly as she disappeared Wednesday afternoon.

These were some of the questions they were asking themselves:

Why should three men kidnap Mary without first determining her identity and ascertaining whether her parents were able to pay a ransom?

Return Was Daring

Why should they take such desperate chances in returning Mary to within a half mile of her home? (One answer to this, suggested by Mary's father, was that the men didn't realize what a hullabaloo had been created in the press and on the radio.)

Why should they strip Mary of nearly all her clothes? (Mary told them that the men burned the clothes to heat the shack in which she was held prisoner. She said she was not attacked, and a physician confirmed this.)

Why, since presumably they had no personal grievance against her, should they have denied her food and water for 30 hours?

In asking themselves these question, the police made it clear that, up to a point, Mary's story tallied with that told by her 15-year-old sister, Lucy, who Wednesday afternoon ran home to tell how two men in a black-bodied truck had seized Mary on the roadside. Mary said that she was the prisoner of three men, and explained that the third man was inside the truck.

Police said there had been no developments to make them doubt Mary's story, and they added that they hoped, in future interviews to fill in gaps and find the answers to the questions that were puzzling them. Mary was too exhausted to endure more than the one interview yesterday.

Blindfold Not Found

Mary told them, police said, that when she was released near her home by the kidnapers she had on a blindfold. She said she took this off as soon as the men had driven away. The blindfold was gone when she staggered into the house, and police were unable to find it yesterday when they went over the ground that Mary covered in getting to her home.

In the District, meanwhile, a man whose wife reported to police he had been missing three days with a black truck like that used in the kidnaping, gave himself up at First Precinct. After questioning he was released.

His wife was being held at Gallinger Hospital for observation.

Munshower Present

Maj. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the Maryland State Police, who was asked to investigate by Gov. Harry Nice, was present yesterday when the girl told her story to Baltimore detectives. He said he hoped to talk to her again, and go into the case in more detail.

"After questioning the girl," he said, "we are no nearer solution of the case than before she was found. Her answers were confused and could be interpreted in several ways. I understand she is in a very bad condition and completely exhausted.

"Mary at first expressed the opinion she was not more than 5 miles from home, but replied to a question that the truck had traveled five to seven hours at a high rate of speed. She said it went at times as fast as 70 miles an hour, but I

See KIDNAP, Page 6, Column 2.

Use Post Want Ads This Sunday
—and save money!
At 38 cents for a 2-line want ad, The Post offers you the lowest Sunday want ad rate in town. The Post offers you the best prospects, too. For if there are any prospects for whatever you have to rent or sell, a Post Want Ad will find them. To place your ad in Sunday's Post, simply call
NAtional 4200
Just say "Charge it."

Says He Saw Car At Kidnap Scene

TERRELL ROBERTS

Warring Jury Rests After 11 Hours' Study

Deliberation on State Of Defendants' Minds Resumes at 9:30 Today

By Dillard Stokes.

Eleven hours' study of the fantastic maze of records of the Washington numbers racket failed late last night to bring a District court jury to a verdict on the criminal conspiracy charge against the brothers Warring and their tax expert.

The woman and 11 men of the jury were taken to a hotel to rest at 11 p. m., after they had been deliberating 11 hours. They will resume their discussion at 9:30 a. m. today.

What the Warrings and Gordon L. R. Sadur, their tax expert, were thinking about when they drew up the income tax return for their $2,000,000-a-year enterprise puzzled the jurors from noon onward yesterday. On the answer to this question, Justice Laws instructed the jurors, depends the guilt of the four defendants.

Bribes Not the Issue

The Government charged that the profits were huge and that Emmitt, Leo Paul and Charles (Rags) Warring plotted with Sadur to keep false books and deceive the Treasury agents. Government evidence was that thousands of dollars paid in bribes to members of the Metropolitan Police were concealed in the Warring accounts.

State of Mind

Harry T. Whelan and William B. O'Connell, counsel for the Warrings, and former District Attorney Rover, for Sadur, contended that the bribes were a proper expense for an unlawful business and could be deducted from receipts for income tax purposes.

Justice Laws ruled that whether the bribes were lawful deductions had nothing to do with the case. The question was, he said, whether the Warrings and Sadur thought they were. Thus, the court said, the verdict in the three-week trial depended on a state of mind.

Seeking to determine this state of mind, the jurors mulled all afternoon over more than 50 exhibits. These included the huge ledgers kept by the Warrings after they gave up the bootlegging business and ran a shoestring into a mammoth lottery that gambled in millions, maintained 76 underworld re-

See WARRING, Page 6, Column 4.

Maryland Man Gets Life Term For Slaying in Liquor Spree

By Howard F. Wentworth.
A Staff Correspondent.

Prince Frederick, Md., Dec. 2.—Walter Stinnett, 24, tonight was sentenced to life imprisonment after a jury of Calvert County farmers found him guilty of slaying Warren Gantt, wealthy eccentric, last July 12, after a two-day drinking bout.

The verdict, read by Eugene Walton, jury foreman, made the life sentence mandatory for the young farmhand. The jury deliberated 3½ hours.

Stinnett, who was standing with his right hand upraised, at the order of the court, drew in his breath as the verdict was read, bit his lower lip.

Spectators in the packed courtroom had been warned by Chief Judge Walter Mitchell to refrain from any demonstration on announcement of Stinnett's fate.

Speaking directly to Stinnett, who stood in front of the judge's rostrum, he said: "It is a sad thing that you in the prime of your life, must leave the outside, the sunshine, your playtime, to be shut up in prison for the balance of your natural life."

His voice choked with emotion, Judge Mitchell said: "It is also a sad commentary on your life that your young wife has preceded you to prison by a few short hours." He alluded to the court's action earlier today in sentencing Mrs. Blanche Stinnett to 18 months in the Maryland House of Correction for the theft of $960 from Gantt's farm near here.

Before sentencing Stinnett, Judge Mitchell observed that his duty was particularly painful because he had known throughout his life the family and friends of the convicted youth.

Stinnett refused to make any comment after the sentence and was led from the courtroom.

The two women who are also charged with Gantt's murder, Mrs. Margaret Abell, 19, of Prince Frederick, and Mrs. Evelyn Bajowski, 18, of Baltimore, displayed little emotion, sitting taut in their chairs as the verdict was rendered. Mrs. Abell, however, had sobbed audibly through the final appeals to the jury. She is the mother of a 3-year-old child.

6,400 Strike, Close Fisher, Buick Plants

G.M., Union Confer; Issues Are Slowdown And Piecework Scale; 11,900 Are Affected

By the United Press.

Detroit, Dec. 2.—Officials of General Motors Corporation and the United Automobile Workers Union met tonight to seek settlement of a labor dispute which led to a strike of 6,400 workers at the Fisher Body Plant No. 1 at Flint and forced the Buick factory there to close its final assembly line.

Approximately 3,000 Buick employes were left idle when the assembly line was shut down because of a shortage of bodies supplied by Fisher. Both factories are units of General Motors.

Other departments of the Buick plant continued operation, but Buick officials said the entire factory might be forced to close Monday if the Fisher plant fails to reopen. Neither plant normally operates on Saturday.

Pickets Halt Shift

A picket line of day shift strikers prevented the night shift from entering the Fisher plant, but there was no disorder. Approximately 2,500 night workers were turned away from the factory gates, bringing the total number of workers affected by the walkout to 11,900.

The walkout was voted by the U. A. W. in demands for straight hourly pay for all workers in the body plant, a General Motors unit. Union leaders protested against piecework wage scales for approximately a thousand workers in the press and metal departments.

The corporation, in a statement, said the strike violated an agreement between the corporation and the U. A. W.

The strike, which was voted by the union membership during the morning, is one of three being waged in Michigan. At Jackson, approximately 1,200 employes of the Reynolds Spring Co. are striking for a closed shop agreement. At Kalamazoo a strike of 500 members of the Building and Trades Council has tied up work on $1,000,000 worth of construction projects.

Both Sides Want Settlement

Negotiations toward settlement of the Fisher strike were started in Detroit almost immediately after the walkout was voted at Flint. Both sides were equally anxious for a settlement of the dispute because the Fisher plant supplies bodies to the Buick factory, which is operated at a peak production pace with 13,000 workers.

Kearney Succeeds Ott as Chief Deputy Marshal

Michael Kearney, deputy U. S. marshal for the past 10 years, yesterday was sworn in as chief deputy marshal, succeeding Thomas E. Ott.

Ott was placed on indefinite leave without pay November 10, when Government experts began an audit of accounts in the marshal's office.

Later the investigation was brought up in Police Court when Attorney Charles E. Ford, attorney for two men being tried for setting up a gaming table, charged that money seized as evidence was not available as an exhibit. Maj. Ernest Brown said the police had a receipt from the marshal's office for the sum, $267.88.

Deserted Wife Needs Only $60 To Get Job, Support Her Baby

She Must Have a Few Weeks to Regain Her Strength; Girl Whom Relatives Shunted About Also Deserves Your Help

The Washington Post Christmas Fund this year will once again be devoted to the District's neediest families selected from the "unemployed employables"—decent families, deserving, honest, willing to work—but desperately in need of a helping hand. Each day, between now and Christmas, stories of these families—selected with the cooperation of member agencies of the District of Columbia Council of Social Agencies—will be printed. Read these stories. And then decide if you can help.

Mrs. B is 24 years old. She has a daughter, aged two-and-a-half. Four years of an unhappy marriage ended several months ago, when the abuse and brutality of her husband became unbearable.

For several months—and until a short time ago—Mrs. B found work and was able to support herself and her child. Then came a nervous breakdown that made it necessary for her to leave her full-time position and take a part-time job.

Doctors say that three months at this less strenuous work will put her in proper physical shape to take on her former work again. And her old employer has agreed to take Mrs. B back, as soon as she is ready.

In the meantime, her part-time job does not bring in sufficient income to support both Mrs. B and her baby daughter. Amount needed, to supplement her present earnings for three months, $80.

Miss A is 18 years old. Her aunt told the court that the girl was "incorrigible," because "she stays out late at night."

But the court, on investigation, found other factors in the case. Deserted by her parents when she was 2 years old, Miss A was sent to live with her aunt. As she grew older, she quickly learned that she was not wanted in her aunt's home. At 14, she was what might be called a "rebellious" girl—but far from "incorrigible."

Neediest Families
No. 3, No. 4, No. 5.
Family B..	$ 60.00
Miss A....	240.00
Family F..	25.50
Total ...	$325.50

The agency which has thoroughly investigated the case reports that Miss A, despite a distrust of the world gained through years of being passed from one relative's home to another, can be made into a useful, self-respecting, intelligent citizen. She is resourceful, has real ability and almost hungrily reaches out for any opportunity whereby she may make something of herself.

She has entered and—despite all obstacles—is regularly attending a training school that, by next June, will have fitted her to make her own way in the world. But $8 per week for board and room is needed. Total amount, $240.

The F Family consists of a mother and a 4-year-old child. The husband has deserted the family and—pending his return or some settlement with provision for care—the present insufficient earnings of Mrs. F must be supplemented.

Ultimate solution of the F Family's problem involves a legal delay of 6 weeks. Only $4.25 per week, during that period, is needed. Total amount, $25.50—to keep a temporary problem from becoming a permanent one.

Contributions may be mailed to The Washington Post's Neediest Families Fund, or left in the Neediest Families Fund Box at the counter on the first floor of The Post Building, 1337 E street northwest.

New Pledges Spur Drive for Chest Quota

Executives Optimistic As Many Contributors Increase Donations

Encouraged by contributions to the Community Chest which are continuing at an unusual rate, although the formal drive is over, the executive committee, meeting yesterday, decided to continue the job and raise, if possible, the $248,000 still needed.

"The money is in Washington and the committee and the splendid workers who are determined to win out for Washington's unfortunate are going on," said Herbert L. Willett, executive director. "One man came into my office and raised his contribution from $50 to $500. Another raised his contribution from $700 to $1,100. There have been a large number of voluntary increases and we feel that many citizens, once they appreciate the real need, will be glad to give further help."

The campaign committee will meet early next week to complete plans to get the money needed to insure year around operation of the 57 institutions dependent on the Chest.

Frederick M. Bradley, chairman of special assignments, said there are still substantial amounts expected from big givers who for

See CHEST, Page 6, Column 1.

Tomatoes Miss Lord Justices, but They Jail Litigant

London, Dec. 2 (AP).—A disappointed litigant stood up today in the court of appeals and bombarded two bewigged lord justices with tomatoes.

He missed but the justices, Sir Charles Clauson and Sir Rayner Goddard, gave him six weeks in prison for gross contempt of court.

Earlier in the morning the litigant, Frank Harrison, had been refused an appeal for a new trial in a minor county court in an action in which he was involved.

He departed muttering. After a while he returned, his coat bulging strangely.

As the lord justices arose for luncheon, Harrison stood up in the back of the courtroom and shouted, "I want justice!"

Then he began pulling tomatoes from under his coat and opened fire.

One overripe missile squashed against the woodwork just over the Hon. Mr. Justice Clauson's full-bottomed wig.

4 Nazi Spies Given 2 to 6 Years in Jail

Judge Says Germany Wouldn't Be as Kind To Her Enemies

By the Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 2.—With a grim reference to punishment for espionage in Germany, Federal Judge John C. Knox today imposed prison sentences of from two to six years on two men and a woman convicted of selling United States military information to Nazi Germany and on a third man who pleaded guilty to the same offense.

"Had these defendants been apprehended within the confines of Germany," said Judge Knox, looking sternly at the four, "their fate would have been much more fearful. As it is, the agents of a totalitarian state are receiving the mercy of a democracy."

Red-haired Johanna Hofmann, 26, former hairdresser on the German liner Europa, who was accused of acting as a messenger for agents working in this country, was sentenced to four years.

The severest sentence, six years, was imposed on Otto Herman Voss, 38, airplane mechanic, accused of turning over aircraft information to German agents.

Erich Glaser, 28, former United States Army Air Corps private, stationed at Mitchel Field, Long Island, and Guenther Gustav Rumrich, 32, United States Army deserter, were sentenced to two years each.

6 Who Refused To Salute Flag Go to School Here

The six children of Mr. and Mrs. August A. Ludke, who were barred from Prince Georges (Md.) County schools because of their unwillingness to salute the American flag, now are attending classes in the District, their father revealed yesterday.

Their refusal to salute the flag arose from the family's religious principles against such display.

"Ruth, Frances and Fred are going to Eastern High," said Ludke, an employe of the Washington City Postoffice, whose home is in nearby Silver Hill, Md. "Esther, Walter and Louise are going to lower schools. They are all doing very well."

The father renewed his criticism of county authorities for what he termed the expulsion of his children shortly after the opening of the fall term in 1936.

Up to January of this year a private tutor came to the home, Ludke said, but the expense of this service brought about its abandonment.

French Seize All Ships to Balk Strike

New Crisis Faced, British Aid Sought As Italian Press Threatens War

Foreign Affairs

THE ITALIAN PRESS warned that the nation was "ready to march" against France as the latter's envoy protested demonstrations for colonies. Page 7.

A NAZI EDITOR revealed the Reich's plan to facilitate Jewish emigration in return for increased exports. Page 7.

AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS who served with the Spanish loyalists departed amid bombing attacks. Page 12.

REICHSFUEHRER HITLER told Sudetenland Germans that regimented youth made the future of Naziism secure. Page 7.

France Seeks Support

By the United Press.

Paris, (Saturday) Dec. 3.—The hard-pressed Daladier government, faced by new internal troubles and growing threats from abroad, acted swiftly yesterday and again early today to preserve national security. These were the important results:

All French steamships were requisitioned by the government to break a general strike of maritime workers. The requisition order was believed similar to that under which railways, bus and other transport systems were kept running in last Wednesday's strike. If such is the case, the maritime workers will be practically conscripted for service.

Amnesty was ordered for about 700,000 workers locked out of factories in punishment for Wednesday's short-lived general strike.

An attempt was made to line up British support to deal with increasingly violent anti-French attacks from Italy. Threats published in Fascist newspapers included a warning that Il Duce's followers are ready to go to war with France "if necessary."

Normandie Seized

The government's swift movement regarding steamships came after leaders of the maritime syndicate called a walkout for today. The secretary of the syndicate was ordered arrested.

The transatlantic liner Normandie in the port of Havre, was among the vessels requisitioned.

At the Saint Nazaire shipyards 9,600 of 12,000 workers Friday responded to a general strike call. The entire La Rochelle fishing

See FRENCH, Page 7, Column 4.

Anthony Eden Asks For Appointment With Roosevelt

By the Associated Press.

The State Department announced yesterday that Anthony Eden, former British foreign secretary, had asked an appointment with President Roosevelt.

Eden, who is to address a meeting of manufacturers in New York, will arrive in Washington December 13 and stay two days.

His request was transmitted by the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay.

Acting Secretary Welles said he hoped to have the privilege of seeing Eden who, it is understood, will visit Washington in an unofficial capacity. Eden is a member of Parliament.

Broker Denies 'Beauty Lobby' As He Pines for Loretta Young

(Pictures on Page 12.)

By the Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 2.—William P. Buckner, 31, Wall Street financier and self-proclaimed friend of Loretta Young, Hollywood movie star, denied today he used New York chorus girls in an attempt to influence Congressmen at lavish parties in Washington.

The dashing broker, released in $2,000 bail on mail fraud charges accusing him of mulcting investors of $100,000 in the manipulation of Philippines Railway bonds, anxiously telephoned Miss Young in Hollywood to "reassure her," he said, following his arrest last night.

Tipped off by Scotland Yard, Federal agents seized Buckner as he stepped off the liner Queen Mary last night.

"It would be nice to be able to say I am engaged to Loretta Young," he told newspapermen, countering reports that he had styled himself the movie star's friend. "but it is not so."

"As for girls being employed by me and my associates in order to influence legislation in Washington—ridiculous!" he said. "It would be a terrible thing if our statesmen in Washington could be influenced in such a manner."

Assistant United States Attorney William P. Maloney said Buckner had established a "beauty lobby" in Washington to put through the redemption of defaulted Philippines Railway bonds, and had flown five chorines from a night club in New York to a hotel party in the Capital in August, 1937.

Charles T. Murphy, chief attorney for the Securities and Exchange Commission in New York, said Buckner and his associates spread allegedly false reports about the bonds, with the result that the defaulted securities leaped from $11 to $31—and then slumped back to $14 when the "rumor" they were to be redeemed at $100 par w[illegible] officially denied.

Federal officials said Buckner, besides plotting the spectacular fluctuations, had organized a bondholders' protective committee and collected $100,000 from the bondholders.

No Monopolies But Triopolies

Associated Press Photo.
WILLARD THORP

D.C. Sales Tax Would Apply to 18% of Income

Advisory Group Will Ponder Public Reaction At Session Wednesday

By James D. Secrest.

Less than 18 per cent of the average Washington family's income would be reached by the proposed 2 per cent sales tax, it was computed yesterday, as a meeting of the District Tax Advisory Committee was called for next Wednesday to consider the testimony of local citizens at the two-day hearing this week.

At the same time, it appeared, upon the basis of tentative scales, that the proposed nonwage, nonsalary income tax would fall heavier on the professional man than on the small businessman, as compared with the present business privilege levy.

As the hearing produced no new ideas for balancing the District budget, except a local lottery, the special investigators are expected to go ahead with the dual sales-income tax plan which they devised with or without the support of the advisory committee.

Income Tax Backed

The graduated personal income tax has strong support and doubtless will again be advocated on Capitol Hill, regardless of the report of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue, which is directing the investigation. However, investigators and members of the advisory committee believe that the hearing produced no solution to the practical or legal problems which have balked the tax three times previously.

Upon the basis of a breakdown of living costs for Federal employes, as compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, it appears that almost 85 per cent goes for items which the sales tax would not reach. This does not mean, of course, that 85 per cent of a Federal employe's income would escape the tax unless all of his earnings are consumed in living costs.

Foods, Housing Take Half

The margin between living costs and income, however, is admittedly not wide for the average low-salaried family, experts on the subject explain, and it is likely that an additional 3 per cent would cover the difference.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that food and housing account for more than half of a Federal employe's living cost in Wash-

See TAXES, Page 12, Column 2.

Small Bloc Rules Wealth Of Nation, Thorp Says

Economist Shows 6% Of Corporations Own 86% of Assets; Puts Blame on Trust Laws

(Picture on Page 19.)

By Robert C. Albright.

The 1938 pattern of American industry, with one-company monopolies strangely absent and clustered industrial "duopolies" and "triopolies" competing for dominance in their place, yesterday was spread on the record of the President's National Economic Committee.

Dr. Willard L. Thorp, tall, ravenhaired Dun & Bradstreet economist, blaming growth of large corporate concentrations partly on the law designed to restrict them, related how over 86 per cent of all corporations' assets have come to be owned by less than 6 per cent of the number of corporations.

Thorp offered his blueprint of the economic machine without condemning or justifying "bigness" in industry. He said there were too many variations in the complex pattern for any conclusions on "size" alone as a factor in American economy.

Adjustment Needed

The essential need, he said, is better methods of keeping industry in balance—fine adjustments "to keep the valves working well—means of keeping the intricate parts working together efficiently at a high rate of activity."

His statement that the Sherman antitrust law is partly responsible for the large corporate concentrations now the chief target of the committee's investigation drew a sharp and immediate challenge from Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold, and precipitated a brief but lively committee controversy.

"I should like to advance the suggestion," said Thorp, "that the Sherman act or anti-trust law is in considerable part responsible for the development of these large enterprises.

"The reason for that is that through the process of interpretation, we have arrived at a state of law where five enterprises, each of which, let's say, represents 10 per cent of an industry, cannot have collective action with regard to prices or markets or allocation of production without running afoul of the anti-trust laws. That becomes a combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade.

"If, however, those five enterprises should merge into a single enterprise, then that single enterprise has no problem of conspiracy or combination, it is only a single enterprise."

Arnold broke in to say:

"I don't think that is the position which the anti-trust division is taking, and I don't think it is one that they are in a position to take. We have the identical problem in the Aluminum case." (The Aluminum Co. of America was one of two companies mentioned by Thorp as still a monopoly in the old one-company sense of the word. The other was the United Shoe Machinery Co.)

Arnold's View

Arnold told Thorp his contention that the Sherman antitrust law actually encouraged combinations was "a common interpretation, newspaper interpretation of the anti-trust law."

"I wish to make the record clear," said Arnold, "that we (the Justice Department) made no such distinction, and we will get a specific decision on that, I think, in the aluminum case."

Thorp replied that he was "merely citing this in terms of business motivation, and I'm afraid business isn't always motivated in a perfect understanding of the meaning of the laws."

"I would question that statement very seriously," Arnold said again.

Jerome Frank, Securities and Exchange Commission alternate on

See MONOPOLY, Page 6, Column 5.

Today's Index

	Pages.
About the Showshops	18
Alice Hughes	13
Amusements	18
Church News	8
Classified Ads	26, 27, 28
Comics	29
Crossword Puzzle	25
Death Notices	26
Editorials	10
Federal Diary	11
Financial	23, 24
Ida Jean Kain	13
In Hollywood	18
Walter Lippmann	11
Coffee	17
[illegible]	11
[illegible]	19
[illegible]	16
Radio	25
Society	14, 15
Sports	20, 21, 22
The Post Impressionist	10
Mark Sullivan	11
Woman's Page	13

TVA Inquirers To Re-examine Dr. Morgan

G. O. P. Members of Group Continue to Attack Power Phase

By Sidney Olson.

The three-year controversy over the Tennessee Valley Authority headed into a final phase last night as members of the Congressional Investigating Committee prepared for today's crucial examination of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, the lanky Ohio scholar-engineer who was appointed to and ousted from the agency's chairmanship by President Roosevelt.

The sharp division in the committee, following party lines exactly, continued yesterday as Representative Jenkins (Republican), of Ohio, charged that the Government is "spending millions and millions of dollars to erect big dams on these little Tennessee creeks for nothing but power and pleasure."

But major attention was concentrated on Dr. Morgan's expected appearance today, when he will have what may be his last opportunity to justify formally his numerous reiterated charges of "dishonesty," "malfeasance" (and other things) in the management of TVA.

Continue Onslaught

For drafting of the investigation's voluminous report to the next session of Congress is now tentatively under way, and the individual members of the committee have left little doubts as to their positions during the extensive hearings.

Jenkins, together with his Republican colleague, Representative Wolverton, of New Jersey, continued their onslaught yesterday on the TVA witnesses as both pried closely into the assertions of Theodore S. Parker, chief of TVA engineers—particularly his declaration that in the authority "the Government is getting a lot for its money."

Parker said that no matter how a cost breakdown among power, navigation and flood control was undertaken, the Government and the taxpayers were getting at least full value received. He said:

"We are getting three products for one price. If you increase the amount charged to power, you simply reduce costs for navigation and flood control."

Jenkins snapped:

"You engineers can get enthusiastic. You have an unlimited treasury and some of the best engineering minds. You don't look at the other side to see what damage you are doing to the other fellow. You don't see the destruction."

"Looks Good on Paper"

Jenkins referred to utilities in the TVA area.

Parker responded that the engineers were merely trying to carry out the TVA act as passed by Congress. Jenkins said:

"Oh, I know your argument looks good on paper.

"The power in this just slips in. There is no constitutional basis for it. There is no legal basis for the Government to go into the power business.

"The Government might be able to sell groceries cheaper than the big chains do, but as yet we have not used that as a reason for going into the chain grocery business."

Parker had testified that if power was charged with 65 per cent of the total costs, the kilowatt-hour cost would be $175, while a 35 per cent power charge would reduce the kilowatt-hour cost to $95. From these figures Jenkins continued his argument that navigation and flood control were used to mask the Government's "invasion" of the power field.

Parker spent considerable time in developing the argument that flood hazards will be greatly reduced in the area of TVA by the multi-purpose dams. Wolverton, examining him, asked if the resulting losses in farm production from flooding of thousands of acres of fertile bottom lands for the big dams outweighed claimed savings from flood damgae.

Parker admitted that this was difficult to figure.

Navy Improves Aerial Mapping

Improved methods for transferring topographical details from aerial photographs to maps have been devised by the Hydrographic Office, Capt. Lamar R. Leahy, Navy hydrographer, said yesterday in his annual report.

"The constantly increasing maritime and aviation facilities have, as in previous years, caused an increasing work load on this office," he reported.

Capt. Lamar informed Rear Admiral J. O. Richardson, chief of the Navy Bureau of Navigation, that the number of icebergs had been above normal in the last fiscal year. The international ice patrol, he said, began its work on March 24 and was still in operation on July 1, 1938, the close of the fiscal year.

Authority Revised For Private Fliers

The Civil Aeronautics Authority yesterday announced expansion of its recently formed private flying section to the status of a division "in recognition of the steadily increasing importance of private flying to the national economy and the national defense."

Grove Webster, chief of the new division, will guide the expansion of private flying and give special attention to the reduction of the "relatively high percentage of accidents."

Establishment of thorough ground school training and flight instruction and the maintenance of close contact with private fliers will be essential parts of the new division's duties.

Mrs. Roosevelt Leaves Florida for New York

Sarasota, Fla., Dec. 2 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and her secretary, Miss Malvina Thompson, left here by automobile today for New York after a visit of [illegible] days with Mrs. Roosevelt's [illegible] Siesta Key.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she would go to New York to do her Christmas shopping but would be in Washington December 9 for the annual dinner for wives of justices of the Supreme Court.

Private Lives

By Edwin Cox

Now WE KNOW HOW GEORGE BERNARD SHAW KEEPS HIS BEARD SO PERT— HE TAKES IT THREE TIMES A WEEK, TO A WOMAN'S BEAUTY SHOP TO HAVE IT SINGED, GLOSSED AND PRIMPED—
BEAUTY SALON
COLE PORTER, AMERICA'S MOST SOPHISTICATED SONG-WRITER ("YOU'RE THE TOP"—"ANYTHING GOES"—"NIGHT AND DAY") WEARS GARTERS OF GOLD SET WITH HIS INITIALS IN DIAMONDS
MRS. ROOSEVELT— THE FIRST LADY CLASSIFIES AS A VEGETARIAN CUSSER. HER PET EXPRESSION OF ANNOYANCE IS— "SPINACH!"

Mary Haworth's Mail also deals with private lives, while not always on celebrities, always on interesting persons. In Sunday's Post, Mary Haworth helps M. A. F., who wants to know why her friend turns warm, then cold

Ickes Threatens PWA Halt for 'Excessive Cost'

Will Make Wholesale Cancellations Unless 'Prices Are Reasonable'

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, in a warning paralleling that of President Roosevelt's in April, of last year, struck yesterday at what he called an excessive rise in prices of construction materials.

Ickes served notice that PWA allotments would be rescinded and projects canceled if "unreasonable prices are demanded by contractors and material dealers for erecting projects between now and January 1."

The administrator added that reports have been received from PWA regional offices that in a number of instances bid prices on projects appear to have risen excessively. In many instances, bids received, he said, have been above the amount of money available for the projects. Since all projects must be under construction by January 1, Ickes maintained that it would be impossible in most cases to readvertise for bids or to change plans and specifications to effect cheaper construction.

"When estimates were made of the cost of projects to be alloted," Ickes said, "we took into consideration reasonable increases in the price of materials and construction costs. However, in a number of instances, prices have jumped beyond all reason.

"The PWA program is designed to aid employment and industry and to enable municipalities to obtain the benefit of up-to-date facilities. All these objectives will be defeated if an attempt is made to take advantage of the situation and prices are stepped up to unwarranted levels.

"I hope that industry will not, by its own tactics, defeat the very program which was set up for its benefit."

Nearly $800,000,000 in construction work remains to be started, Ickes added.

Ickes' warning came 21 months after President Roosevelt announced a new policy of Federal spending to check what he called the recent rapid rise in both output and prices of such goods as steel, copper and cement.

Political Arena

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—A score of civic leaders, including Prof. Paul H. Douglas, of the University of Chicago, and Miss Charlotte Carr, head of Hull House, in a telegram to Secretary Ickes today urged him to enter the Chicago mayoralty campaign.

CHARLOTTE CARR

Other signers included William E. Rodriguez and Henry W. Dyer of the city manager committee; Lillian Herstein, a leader in the Chicago Teachers Union; George K. Quilici, president of the Chicago Lawyers Guild, and Abraham Plotkin, of the Ladies Garment Workers Union.

The group announced it would open headquarters shortly and start a pledge card campaign in the hopes of inducing Ickes to run.

Edward C. Eicher, former Democratic Representative from Iowa, was sworn in yesterday as a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Eicher resigned from the House yesterday noon, thus automatically ending his membership on the temporary National Economic Committee. He said he did not know who would take his place.

Southern Congressmen began organizing yesterday for a campaign in the next session to wipe out differentials between freight rates in different sections of the country.

Asserting that such differentials discriminated against the South, Representative Ramspeck (Democrat), of Georgia, said he had started lining up his Southern colleagues behind a projected bill to abolish them.

"They are a terrific handicap for the South," Ramspeck told reporters. "For example: A manufacturer in Atlanta, shipping first-class freight to Chicago, 731 miles, pays $1.91 per 100 pounds. From New York to Chicago, 890 miles, the rate is $1.52. Thus the Southern manufacturer has to pay a rate 19 cents higher for 150 miles less travel."

C. I. O. Plans Expansion in Maritime Field

John L. Lewis Charges U. S. Commission Is Anti-Union

By the Associated Press.

John L. Lewis designated a committee of union leaders yesterday to expand C. I. O.'s activities in the maritime field and oppose what he called "the present antiunion activities of the U. S. Maritime Commission."

His announcement said:

"The committee will vigorously oppose efforts of the Maritime Commission to break down collective bargaining in the maritime industry through abrogation of existing contracts on Government chartered ships and attempts to destroy the present system of C. I. O. Union hiring halls."

To Set Up Staff

The C. I. O. also will set up a legislative staff in Washington to work for extensions of Social Security laws to seamen and enactment of measures to extend collective bargaining in the maritime field.

The Maritime Commission has taken the stand that as a Government agency it cannot enter into collective agreements with unions.

The commission has not established any hiring halls of its own, officials said, but instead of working through either C. I. O. or A. F. of L. hiring halls it obtains from long-established shipping commissioners whatever seamen it needs to man Government owned or chartered vessels.

A. F. of L. and C. I. O. maritime leaders present a united front in opposition to the hiring and non-contract policies of the commission.

Lewis' committee includes Harry Bridges, West Coast C. I. O. director and head of C. I. O.'s longshoremen's union; Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union on the East Coast; Eugene Burke, secretary-treasurer of the Marine Cooks and Stewards' Association of the Pacific; Clyde W. Deal, president of the Inland Boatmen's Union; John Green, president of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers; Samuel Hogan, president of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association; Joseph Jurich, president of the Federated Council of Fishermen, and Mervyn Rathborne, head of the American Communications Association.

C. I. O.'s rival the A. F. of L., recently set up a new International Maritime Union built around the Sailors' Union of the Pacific.

Grin and Bear It

By Lichty

"The winters ain't what they used to be, Culpepper!"

In her third article on corrective make-up in Sunday's Post, Carolyn Abbott discusses the features of the oval face

G.O.P. Liberals Claim Party Leadership

Treadway Declares Conservatives Must Follow Congressmen

In apparent reaction against conservative control in the Republican National Committee, spokesmen of the party on Capitol Hill stepped out definitely last night for a liberal or moderate leadership of Republicans in the House and "a definite liberal program" in both branches of Congress.

Representative Treadway, of Massachusetts, ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, served notice that Congressional Republicans, not the national committee, will lay down the party policies.

Speaking "as one of the older members of Congress," Treadway said that "we are going forward, not backward.

Although Treadway did not mention personalities, special attention has been given to the sidetracking of liberal Kenneth E. Simpson, of New York, for a place on the national executive committee and the election thereto of conservative former Senator Hastings of Delaware.

Martin Has Edge

At the same time, backers claimed much new support for Representative Martin, of Massachusetts, for the party's House leadership in succession to Representative Snell, a stalwart conservative who retired. Martin is a moderate who has voted for much labor legislation and is sympathetic to Social Security programs. He is opposed by Representative Wadsworth, of New York, labeled an extreme conservative.

Yesterday the big Pennsylvania and New Jersey Republican delegations in the House were announced as enlisting in the Martin camp. Michigan and Massachusetts were similarly lined up. There was some indication the large Ohio delegation would make a break for Martin next week, although Representative Jenkins, of Ohio, is remaining for the time being as a third candidate in the leadership fight.

Claims 135 Votes

Out of 170 Republicans in the House 135 were being claimed tonight by Martin supporters. They took special joy in the Pennsylvania additions because the campaign tactics of Republican Gov.-Elect James had been advertised as giving that State a particularly conservative tinge. Pennsylvania will have 19 Republicans in the Next House. Representative Wolfenden, chairman of the delegation, announced that it was unanimous for Mr. Martin.

Representative George N. Seger, dean of the New Jersey delegation, said, "10 of our 11 members are pledged to vote for Representative Martin. One member is out of the country and cannot be reached."

At a meetitng of the Michigan delegation, six out of eight pledged themselves to Martin. Of the three absentees two are reported to be for Martin.

Davies Cites 12 Million Idle

Meanwhile, Senator Davis (Republican), of Pennsylvania, warned that any effort by the Administration to revive the "reorganization or court packing bills" will precipitate a sharp fight at the coming session of Congress.

He told reporters that if these controversial issues are not revived, major problems will be relief, labor measures, and earmarking Federal funds so that "no blank checks will be given henceforth."

"We still have 12,000,000 unemployed and that will be one of the major problems," he remarked.

He indicated he would oppose revision of the neutrality act to give the President more power in its application, saying "I have seen too much delegation of power. That's what they did in Europe, and in some countries now millions are being oppressed."

Great Britain, he said, "was much elated by the reciprocal trade agreements, and felt that Santa Claus was very good to them—at the expense of the United States.

Burke Says Senate Favors Split Funds

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 2 (AP).—Senator Burke (Democrat), Nebraska, said tonight the Senate favors the separation of relief expenditures and levies for armament.

"I expect to go along on the program of building up the air force, the Army and the Navy," he told a mens club. "I feel that if we have to strike, we'll then be able to strike effectively.

"However, I can say that the Senate, almost without exception, favors keeping relief spending and pump-priming entirely apart from rearmament."

Federal Deficit For 5 Months Equals 1937's

Recession Is Blamed As Spending Boosts Debt $1,400,000,000

By the Associated Press.

Government spending, plus a recession-caused drop in revenue, has brought the Treasury deficit to more than $1,400,000,000 in five months.

Department figures as of Wednesday, show that since this fiscal year began expenditures exceeded income by almost as much as they did in the entire fiscal year which ended last June 30. The deficit figures were $1,436,136,765, so far this year, and $1,449,625,881 for the whole of last.

In the comparative five months of last fiscal year the deficit was $738,044,590.

Treasury officials, noting that emergency spending designed to stimulate business and smaller income resulting from slower business contributed to the shortage, found an encouraging note.

This was that November, 1938, receipts were about $54,000,000 above those of the same month last year. It was the first month this fiscal year to show a favorable income comparison.

Expenditures in the five months aggregated $3,658,928,181, compared with $3,048,624,837 in the same months of the previous year.

Although WPA has led other Federal agencies in the boosting of expenditures, the relief organization last month, for the first time this fiscal year, reduced its expenditures slightly.

November expenditures of WPA were $194,492,243, compared with $207,238,134 in October. The November cost, however, was about double the spending of the same month last year.

Although the $2,222,791,416 receipts in the five months was about $90,000,000 less than in the similar period last year, November receipts of $381,644,253 were about $54,000,000 more than in the same month last year.

Meanwhile, Treasury borrowing to pay for the mounting deficit boosted the public debt to a new record high of $38,603,351,360 and the Treasury announced further borrowing which on December 15 will cause a new peak of approximately $39,300,000,000.

The Treasury yesterday made preliminary announcement of terms of its December $1,641,613,750 financing.

To raise $700,000,000 of cash for operating expenses, the Treasury will sell $400,000,000 of 2¾ per cent long term bonds and $300,000,000 five-year notes. The maturity date of the bond and the interest rate of the note will be made public next Monday morning.

To refund $941,613,750 of 1½ per cent notes maturing net March 15, the Treasury will offer holders an exchange of either the same types of bonds and notes to be sold for cash or a shorter term bond bearing 2 per cent interest.

The 2¾ per cent interest rate on the long term bond offering indicated it would not mature for at least 15 years, since the Treasury sold 12 to 14-year bonds bearing 2½ per cent only three months ago.

SPECIAL NOTICES

I WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR debts contracted by anyone other than myself. E. P. Preston, 1146 17th st. ne.

ANTIQUES—Genuine early Pennsylvania antiques and authentic glassware at public auction Sat., Dec. 3, at 1:30 p. m. An opportunity to get many lovely rare Christmas gifts. Eli Alper's Auction House, Rockville, Md. Rockville 214.

WANTED—Full or part loads to all points, 2,000 miles. National Del. Assoc., 632 N. Y. ave. nw. Padded vans fully insured. Ph. NA. 1460

APPLES—SWEET CIDER ROCKVILLE FRUIT FARM
Drive to Rockville, Md., then 1 mile on road to Potomac.

BOYD THINK twice and PREPARE for a better Position. YOU CAN make more money. BOYD helps you to success. Shorthand, Typing, Bookkeeping, Accounting, Calculating Machines. New classes now forming—INQUIRE—BOYD SCHOOL, 1333 F St. NAt. 2340.

Sweet Cider—Apples At Quaint Acres
Silver Spring, Colesville Pike, Route 29. Only 12 miles from the White House.

FORMAL Overcoats

YOUR Hickey-Freeman overcoat for formal wear gives you more than styleful lines and a smart, distinguished appearance. Don't let the social season find you without a Hickey-Freeman formal overcoat in your wardrobe.

From $60

GOLDHEIM'S
1409 H Street N.W.

Things to Remember
WHEN YOU SHOP FOR CHRISTMAS
★ Select only known gifts
★ Buy where you are best served
★ SHOP TODAY
★ Open an Account
★ Don't pay a carrying charge
★ Take as long as a year to pay
All These Can Be Had at
ROSS
1331 F ST.
Jewelers · Opticians

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
$10
The New Low Price on Dunhill Pipes

Because of the recent trade agreement with the United Kingdom we are able to sell these world renowned pipes at this new low price. Every pipe smoking man appreciates a Dunhill pipe . . . one of the most perfect examples of the art of pipe making. They are light in weight yet strong . . . they are made of fine briar . . . made to give years of sweet, cool smoking to a man's taste. Were $12. Now $10.

THE MEN'S STORE—SECOND FLOOR
28 Seconds Via The Electric Stairway

Tailored at Fashion Park

Tuxedo
Fashion Park
has achieved custom brilliance in creating this magnificent lounge dinner suit. Hand tailored of firm, mid-nite blue unfinished worsted, and ready to put on.
$55
● Single Breasted Tuxedo $50
● Full Dress $65
Fourth of a Year Charge Service
The Mode
F at Eleventh

$17-$19 Wage Asked Here for 4,000 Women

Board Approval Sought For Minimum Pay For Office Workers

The District Minimum Wage Board was asked yesterday to approve a $17 to $19 weekly wage for 4,000 women workers as recommended by the wage conference.

The $17 basic wage will apply to all office workers employed between 30 and 44 hours per week. For each hour overtime, the conference recommended a 50-cent wage.

Since the majority of the previous wage orders issued by the board was based on a 48-hour week, the wage for women or minors working the standard work week with a maximum of 48 hours, would be $19 per week.

In addition the wage conference recommended that "beginners" should receive a weekly pay of $14 for a period not to exceed six months. Maids employed in the offices were awarded a $14.50 weekly wage, based on a previous ruling by the board.

The conference said no office could employ more than one beginner per 10 workers. In cases where there are less than 10 workers in an office, one beginner may be included.

Parrot Fever Fells Third in Family; Embargo Urged

The third case of parrot fever was reported to the District Health Department yesterday when it was learned the father of the family afflicted last week was in a Baltimore hospital.

Dr. James G. Cumming, director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases, said the man had contracted the disease from the same pair of love birds which sent his wife and daughter to local hispitals.

At the same time, Dr. Cumming prepared to submit a proposal to Health Officer George C. Ruhland placing a ban on the importation of love birds into this city from the Western, New England and Southern States. Dr. Cumming said only the birds bred in Virginia, Maryland and Delaware would be permitted in the District for sale.

He said the mother and daughter were recovering and that the father also will recover.

Rum Officer Found Shot in Gettysburg, Believed Suicide

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 2.—Henry D. Bongartz, 42, Philadelphia, enforcement officer for the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and stationed here for the last 18 months, was found dead in bed in his hotel room here late this morning with a bullet through his brain and his service revolver gripped in his right arm.

Dr. Edgar A. Miller, Adams County coroner, said the man had been dead for six or seven hours before the body was discovered and announced he would list the case as suicide. Fellow officers said Bongartz had been brooding and melancholy for several months. His widow and a 17-year-old daughter were en route here tonight.

Miss Perkins Sees No Need to Alter The Wagner Act

By the Associated Press.

Secretary of Labor Perkins took her stand yesterday with those who think the Wagner labor relations act is all right as it is. She told reporters:

"On the basis of my present knowledge, I do not favor amendments to the act."

Though her statement was so worded as to permit a later reversal of attitude, it placed her, for the present at least, in the same camp as the National Labor Relations Board and the C. I. O. Both oppose revision, which is demanded by the American Federation of Labor, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Manufacturers.

Miss Perkins said it was "up to Congress to determine what policy it wanted to pursue."

Navy Cafeteria Sued Over Fall

Stella Whitford, 3369 Eighteenth street northwest, yesterday sued for $2,500 damages in District Court against the Navy Cafeteria Association, an unincorporated group of Navy Department employes.

Declaring through her attorney, D. Edward Clarke, that the association "negligently allowed a greasy substance" to remain on the floor, Miss Whitford asserts she slipped and fell, seriously injuring her knee and fracturing her left elbow.

She also informed the court that her injuries prevented her from performing her duties as a stenographer and clerk at the Navy Department for a considerable time.

Dr. Combs Feted By College Staff

Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 2 (AP).—Members of the faculty and administrative staff of Mary Washington College entertained at a banquet here last night in honor of Dr. Morgan L. Combs, who is completing the tenth year of his presidency of the college.

Appreciation of Dr. Combs' services during the period of the college's most notable development was expressed by Blake T. Newton, of the State Board of Education; W. Marshall King, Mayor of Fredericksburg; Mrs. J. M. H. Willis, of the alumnae association, and Prof. W. N. Hamlet, of the college faculty.

League of Voteless Women Visit District's Eyesores

Post Staff Photo

This typical slum area near the Senate Office Building was one of the unsightly spots visited yesterday by the League of Voteless Women, whose members are shown walking down the alley between ramshackle fences and buildings. The area is between B and C and First and Second streets northeast

New Substance Discovered to Detect Trichinosis

Development of a new biochemical substance which is expected to be of great use in the detection of trichinosis, a painful and sometimes fatal internal disorder, was announced yesterday by the Public Health Service.

Described by John Bozicevich, associate zoologist of the National Institute of Health, the antigen already has been used successfully, notably during an outbreak of trichinosis in Vermont.

Consumption of pork which has not been properly cooked is responsible for the disease. Studies indicate that one of every six persons is afflicted.

The new antigen is used in conjunction with two standardized diagnostic tests. One consists of injecting a minute quantity under the skin. The other is performed in a test tube.

The compound is made up of dried larvae of the trichina, the guilty organism, mixed with a neutral salt solution.

Paroles for Convict Witnesses Hinted in Jail 'Baking Deaths'

By the Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—A suggestion of attempts to influence convict witnesses in the Philadelphia prison "baking deaths" case came from the prosecution today as a State Supreme Court order caused postponement of the trials of ten former prison officials on murder and manslaughter charges.

Assistant District Attorney Boyle told the court he had been informed at least one prison official mentioned paroles to convicts summoned to testify about events last August when four men perished in superheated punishment cells.

The disclosure was made in opposition to a request by former Deputy Warden Frank A. Craven that he and his attorneys be permitted to interview 21 survivors of the heat.

Chief Justice John W. Kephart rebuked Boyle for denying Craven access to these witnesses, and the justice gave Craven's attorneys an additional two weeks to prepare their defense.

The trials were scheduled to begin next Tuesday, but Boyle announced that since Craven's could not be held until December 20, the others also would be postponed.

Nine others will go on trial with Craven. Former Superintendent William B. Mills and three guards are charged with murder; five other guards with manslaughter.

Taximen Denied Hearing on Rates

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday refused to order a public hearing to discuss changes in taxicab zones and rates requested by 14 operators.

In its order turning down the request the commission pointed out there are 5,167 licensed drivers and 3,695 licensed taxicabs in the District. The 14 taxicab drivers presented two petitions to the commission and each "varied materially as to the changes proposed."

Auto Fumes Fell Woman

Martinsburg, W. Va., Dec. 2.—Mrs. Robert S. Kuykendall, jr., of Moorefield, is recovering after being overcome by carbon monoxide gas.

Here at Beckers, we're all set to celebrate our sixty-third old-fashioned Christmas. You'll find this gift store literally brimming over with new and bright gift ideas. Come in and see why "A Gift From Beckers Means More."

BECKERS
1314 F Street N.W.

Father Dies of Burns He Got Saving Family

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Dec. 2 (AP).—Charles E. Murphy, 34, of Gilmore City, Iowa, a barber, died today of burns which resulted when he rescued his five children from a burning house November 12. His 2-year-old daughter, Janice, is recovering from burns, but the other four children were only slightly hurt.

Mother Is Calm Over Triplets

Hillsdale, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP).—Mrs. Ivan Nichols, mother of day-old triplets—two boys and a girl—said today she wasn't unduly surprised. She has given birth to three sets of twins. Fourteen of her 15 children are living.

Langdon Post to Talk On Housing to Forum

Langdon W. Post, former chairman of the New York City Housing Authority, will discuss "Challenge of Housing" at the Modern Forum tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Washington Hotel. The forum is second of a series sponsored by the Washington branch of American League for Peace and Democracy.

EMBASSY FAIRFAX

TRY THIS NEW Product
Served Wholesale and Retail—

100% PURE SUNSHINE FRESH

Genuine
ORANGE JUICE

Deliciously Rich in Vitamin "C"—Particularly Beneficial in the Prevention of Colds

40c qt.

As real Orange Juice is light-sensitive, this healthful food product is delivered in the latest, sanitary paper container. Many a family will soon be enjoying the double satisfaction of having GENUINE FULL-STRENGTH ORANGE JUICE (not an orangeade)—and the Embassy Fairfax extra-rich HI-TEST GUERNSEY Milk conveniently delivered each morning.

TRY this latest of our "Ambassadors of HEALTH." Simply 'phone DUpont 1441—or ask your neighborhood dealer for our daily-extracted, full-strength, genuine Orange JUICE!

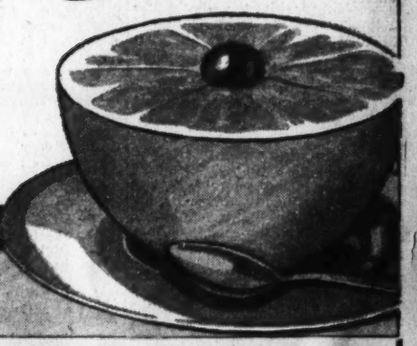
EMBASSY DAIRY PRODUCTS FAIRFAX
530 Seventh St. S. E. 1620 First St. N.W.

Phone DUpont 1441

FOOD STORES SANITARY FOOD STORES
SANITARY GROCERY COMPANY INC.

Sunday Breakfast Suggestions

BIG GRAPEFRUIT Sale at SANITARY!



PROBABLY THE FINEST VALUES IN THE HISTORY OF OUR BUSINESS!

Unusually large, beautiful fruit selling at a nickel—smaller sizes at 3 for 10c

You must see the fruit to fully appreciate the values being offered

COME IN TODAY AND INVEST IN HEALTH

FLORIDA GRAPEFRUIT

TWO PRICES ONLY—None Higher

3 smaller sized fruit for 10c — larger sizes each 5c

Sanico Pancake Flour . . . . 3 pkgs. 19c
Virginia Sweet Pancake Flour . . . . pkg. 5c
Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour . . . 2 pkgs. 19c
Pillsbury Pancake Flour . . . . pkg. 7c
Champion Pancake Syrup . . . Full Quart 25c
Log Cabin Syrup . . . . . 12-oz. Can 19c
Lake Shore Honey . . . . . 1-lb. Glass 17c
Large Bisquick For Waffles . . . . Large Pkg. 25c
Jumbo Brand U. S. Grade A Eggs . . . . . doz. 37c

XX All-Pork Sausage . . . . lb. 19c
Sanitary's All Pork Sausage . . . . lb. 23c
U. S. No. 1 Grade Scrapple . lb. 12c
Sanico Sliced Bacon . . . ½-lb. Pkg. 18c
STANDARD BACON . . . . . lb. 25c

Prices are for the District of Columbia until close of business Saturday, Dec. 3, 1938. In compliance with the "Virginia Unfair Trade Practices Act," some prices are higher in Virginia. We reserve the right to limit quantities and to refuse to sell those whom we believe to be competitors.

Board Indorses New Equipment For 6 Warships

Recommendations Follow Numerous Reports of Shake-Ups

New type engineering equipment, central friction point of a long-smouldering controversy over warship designs and construction delays, has received the indorsement of the General Board of the Navy, it was learned yesterday.

Secretary of the Navy Swanson had referred the controversy to the board after reports of a shakeup of officers assigned to duty with the Board of Inspection and Survey.

Some officers were understood to have criticized the equipment as experimental and unproved, and a factor in construction flaws and delays which have plagued the Navy since 1933. Mentioned at the time of the controversy were Capt. Joseph S. Evans, who recently was transferred from the Board of Inspection and Survey, and Rear Admiral H. L. Brinser, its president, who requested that he be transferred to other duty. Brinser said, however, that "no criticism of naval design is implied in my request for transfer."

Recommends New Boilers

Overruling critics of the equipment, an official report to Secretary Swanson this week recommended use of high pressure, superheated boilers in the Navy's six new 35,000-ton battleships and other naval vessels.

Informed persons said the General Board was convinced the new type power plants were more economical and efficient than other designs and gave the warships added cruising radius.

Coinciding with the disclosure, however, were indications that the controversy might reach Congress. Representative Maas, of Minnesota, ranking minority member of the House Naval Committee, expressed the opinion that the Navy Department "needs some kind of a shake-up."

Noted by Roosevelt

He stated he would re-introduce a bill to set up a general staff for the Navy similar to the Army's, although the Navy Department vigorously opposed the measure during the last session of Congress.

One high-ranking authority declared, without indorsing Maas' proposal, that he thought the Navy's bureaucratic organization partially responsible for construction delays which have been noted in recent weeks by Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Edison and Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of Naval Operations.

Major roles in ship construction are played by three bureaus—engineering, ordnance and construction and repair—at the present time. Occasionally, there have been jurisdictional disputes between them.

Nazis Plan 3d Battleship

Special Cable to The Post.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The German naval program provides for a third 35,000 ton battleship in addition to two under construction, it was disclosed today. The official navy year book of the German admiralty revealed the new man-of-war, like her sister ships, will be equipped with eight 14½-inch guns, twelve 6-inch guns, and antiaircraft artillery.

Moreover, construction of ten more U boats is planned. The Germans thus increase the total of this craft to 71, and outnumber the British, while the total tonnage of British submarines remain superior. The first of Germany's two 19,250-ton airplane carriers will be launched December 8, at Kiel.

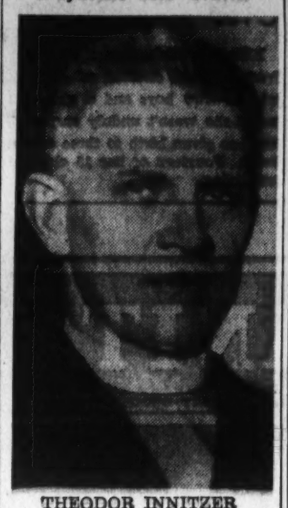
The launching of the first 35,000-ton battleship is scheduled for next year. The construction of four light cruisers is planned, with a displacement of 7,000 tons each. Two other light cruisers, with a tonnage of 10,000 tons, each to be armed with 6-inch guns, are under construction.

Copyright, 1938, New York Tribune, Inc.

Scholarship Awarded

Awarding of a special scholarship in romance languages to Edwin Burrows Smith, 2804 Fourteenth street northwest, has been announced by Brown University. Smith is one of nineteen to win special scholarships in the graduate school of the university this year.

Defends His Stand



THEODOR INNITZER

Did His Duty, Innitzer Reply To U. S. Praise

'Only Fulfilled Office Of Bishop;' Denies Antagonizing State

Theodore Cardinal Innitzer, Archbishop of Vienna, attacked by a mob for his opposition to Vienna Nazis, yesterday told the American Catholic hierarchy that "if I have defended the rights of God and the liberty of the faith, I have only fulfilled the office of a Catholic bishop."

The statement was made in a cablegram to the Most Rev. Joseph M. Rummel, Archbishop of New Orleans, and was in response to a message sent him by Archbishop Rummel expressing the sympathy of the hierarchy of this country for his injury at the hands of the mob October 8.

Approved by Bishops

The communication forwarded to Cardinal Innitzer had been authorized at the meeting of the bishops held here in October.

Cardinal Innitzer declared that, in exhorting Catholic youth to stand by the church in a sermon October 7, he had only sought to fulfill the office of a Catholic bishop and had "in no way hostilely opposed public authority."

His message follows:

"Accept my sincere thinks for the good wishes which your excellency sent by cablegram to me and to my associates in the pastoral office in the name of all the bishops of the United States.

"If I have defended the rights of God and the liberty of the faith, I have only fulfilled the office of a Catholic bishop. In this performance of my pastoral duty I have in no way hostilely opposed public authority. If indeed in the discharge of my episcopal office I must bear calumnies and misrepresentation I shall not refuse to walk the dolorous way of Christ Our Lord.

"A Valiant Spokesman"

"Gratefully, therefore, do I acknowledge your fraternal good wishes, which brought me great solace in my affliction, and reverently do I salute in the Lord, your excellency, their eminences and all your confreres."

Archbishop Rummel, in the message of sympathy to Cardinal Innitzer, referred to him as "an incontestable witness to righteousness and a valiant spokesman."

The vandalism of the mob which invaded the Cardinal's palace, burning furniture, prayer books and other objects and throwing priests out of second-story windows, "greatly annoyed" Reichsfuehrer Hitler, according to reports from Berlin at the time. He promised punishment for the ringleaders.

Dies to Be Honored

Representative Dies, of Texas, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, will be guest of honor at a luncheon to be given today in New York City by the American Defense Society, pledged to "defense of the Constitution and the American form of government."

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
The Christmas Store

LERAY

infra-red light to keep your dog free from "unwelcome boarders"

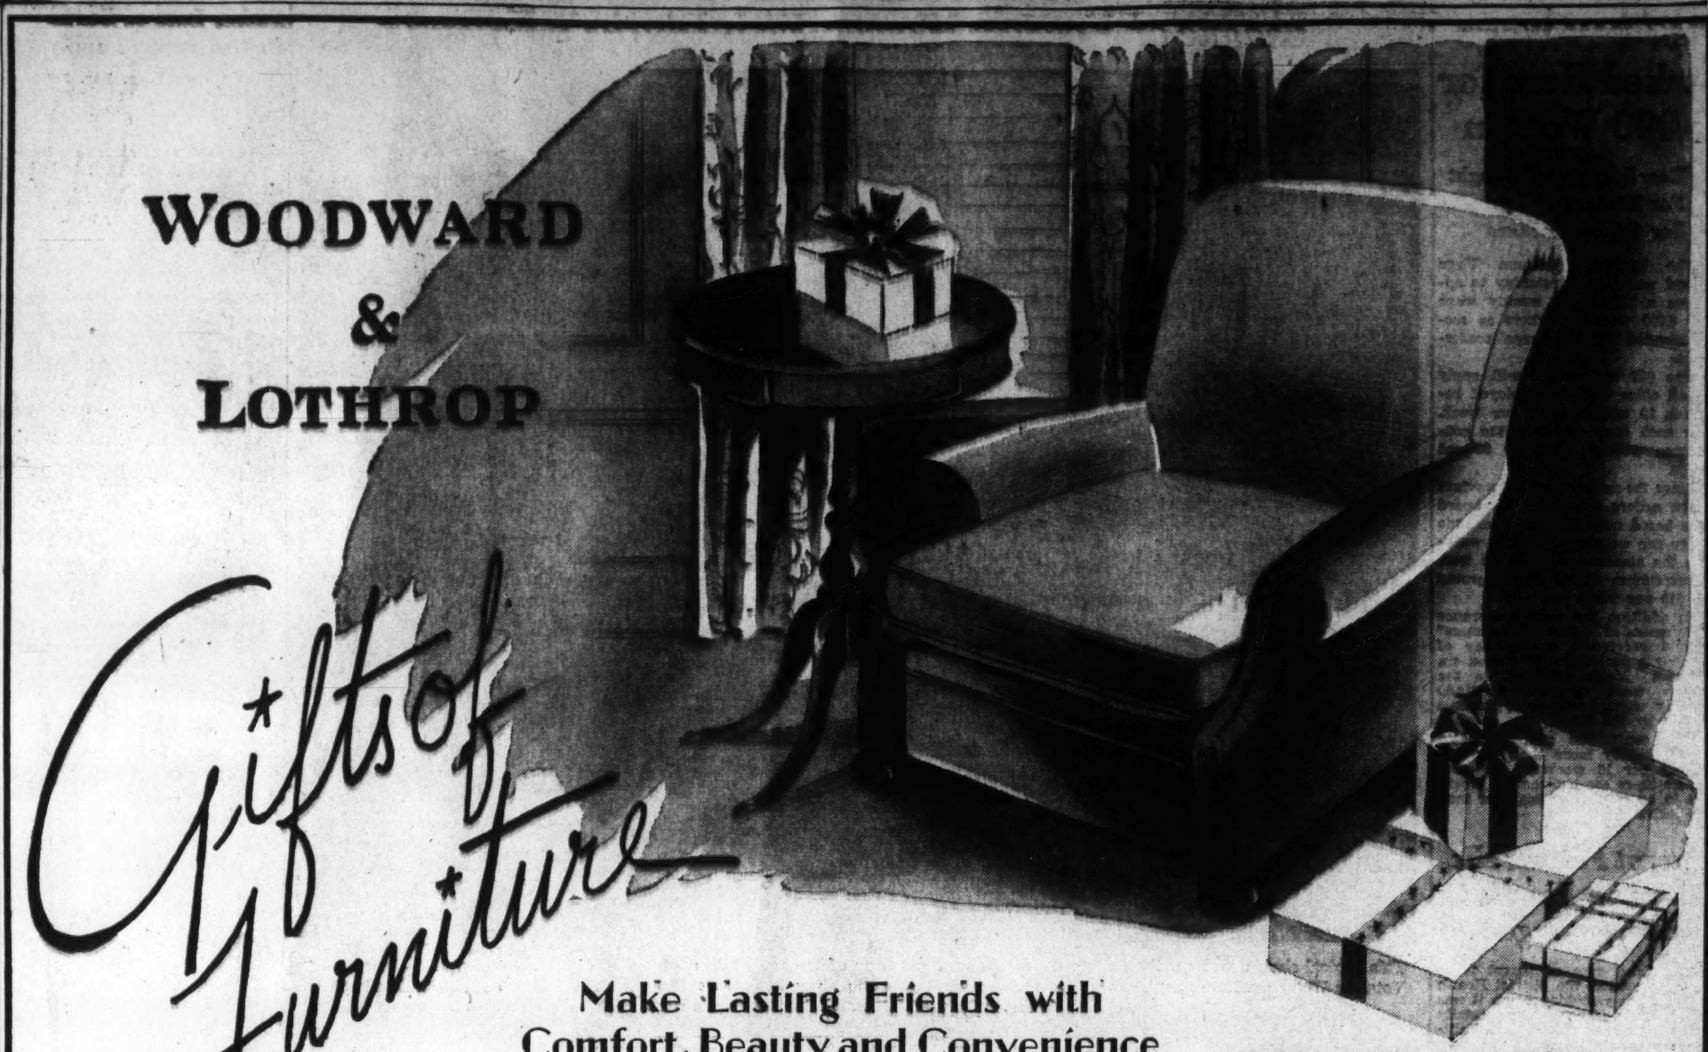
$12

Use it, too, to combat crawling parasites on cats, birds, plants and clothing. Bring your dog in and see it

Demonstrated Here Today

SPORTING GOODS, FIFTH FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP



Gifts of Furniture

Make Lasting Friends with Comfort, Beauty and Convenience

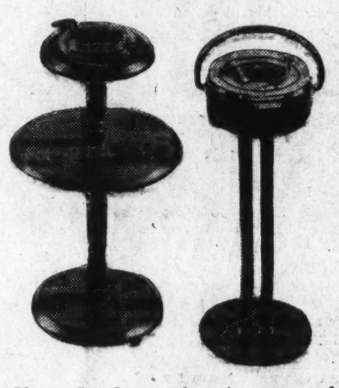
The furniture section is a gift shop where good taste, luxury and practical usefulness can be combined in gifts at almost any price you want. Seek the usable, unusual gifts here for appreciative friends.

FURNITURE, SIXTH FLOOR

Attractive Living Room Chair sturdily built for comfort with reversible spring seat cushion. Wide choice of colors in serviceable cotton friezette covers $19.75

Drum Table, all-mahogany.. $9.95

Tilt-Top Card Tables cleverly convert into attractive fireplace screens. Full-size 29-inch tops in assorted prints. $2.95



Neat Smoker with utility tray and cigar rests. Mahogany finish on birch. $3

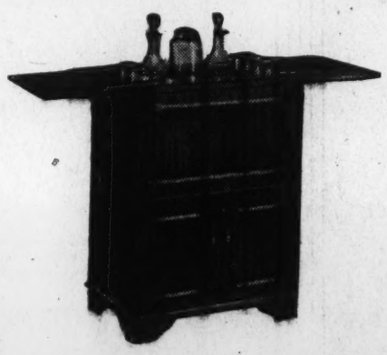
Metal Smoker in walnut grain enamel finish. "Anti-smoke" ash receiver. $2.75

Steel Art Metal Card Tables, sturdy and smart in a choice of colors. $5.95

Posture-perfect chairs to match, comfortable through hours of playing..... $3.95

Mahogany Footstool with cotton tapestry covered top. Choice of several covers. $5.95

Colonial Magazine Basket finished in mahogany or maple. Made of sturdy gumwood. $3.50



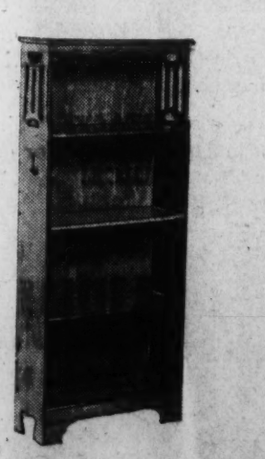
Smart Appearing Automatic-Opening Top Cellarette with lower compartment. Equipped with glasses, decanter and shaker. Cabinet of walnut or mahogany..... $39.50

Unusually Comfortable Platform Rocker covered in a choice of durable cotton tapestry covers $25.75

Leg-O-Matic Card Table takes the work out of setting it up and knocking it down. One leg automatically opens and closes all. Choice of leatherette tops in smart colors. Table and four chairs. $19.75

Knee Hole Desk, mahogany or walnut veneer and gum. Finished on all sides with moulded base around the bottom. Colonial style, oak interiors. $19.75

Handsome Beverage Table, all-mahogany with glass top and brass claw feet. Duncan Phyfe style..... $9.95



Useful Walnut Top Bookcase, 24 inches wide, with three convenient shelves. $6.95

Hostess Wagon with two utility shelves and scalloped edge drop leaves. Mahogany $29.50

Lovely Glass Door Bookcase in mahogany finish on maple with two adjustable shelves $9.95

Sen. Borah Says He May Back Ludlow Bill

Opposes Broadening of Discretionary Powers For President

Senator Borah (Republican), of Idaho, yesterday came out against the granting of broader discretionary powers to the President in dealing with foreign affairs. He declared that if there is to be more centralization of power along that line, he would undertake to put "in practical form" the Ludlow resolution, requiring a popular referendum before the Nation went to war, and to support it before the Senate.

This is the first time the Idaho Senator has spoken for the Ludlow resolution in any form. A strong fight was waged at the last session of Congress for the resolution, which calls for amendment of the Constitution. It was recommitted after it received the necessary 218 signatures on a petition to bring it to the floor of the House. The vote was 208 to 188.

Assails European States

Borah yesterday denounced the so-called democracies of Europe as not democracies at all when it comes to preparing for war or entering into war and expressed the view that "the people of this country do not want their President to pursue such a course of bluffing and trading which is being pursued by the heads of the European powers."

There has been talk of amending the neutrality law to broaden the powers of President Roosevelt to the point where he can declare only aggressors to be subject to embargo. Under existing law, the embargo, if declared, must apply to both sides.

"A great deal of discussion has been had recently," said Senator Borah today, "about increasing the power of the President as regards the neutrality law.

"Speakers didn't say much about it during the recent campaign but it was one of the determining factors in the campaign. People felt that the President needed to be checked. They notified him he was going too far.

Thinks Roosevelt Knows

"This view has been prevalent throughout the country and will spring into life very suddenly on the questions of neutrality or of an increase in armaments. I think the President is conscious of that fact."

The Idaho Senator added that he thought the President, in realization of the fact, was "afraid to push the matter now."

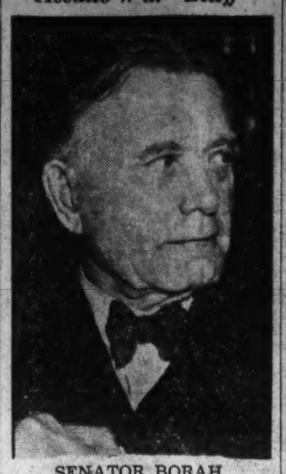
Turning to the matter of the Ludlow resolution, Senator Borah said:

"It is my opinion that along with the matter of huge armaments will go the Ludlow amendment on war referenda. The people are beginning to get deeply interested in that again because of the constant talk of war.

"If this centralization of powers as to wars and armaments (with the constant burdening of the people as a consequence) are to continue, I would undertake to put the Ludlow amendment in practical form and to support it."

Administration opponents of the Ludlow measure have held that passage of it would operate to "handcuff" the President in negotiations and would nullify the power of protests made by the United States to other nations.

Assails War 'Bluff'



SENATOR BORAH

Son Confesses Killing Pastor While Drunk

Bainbridge, Ohio, Dec. 2.—Sheriff Joseph Vincent said tonight that Robert Bready, 29, had confessed to shooting to death his pastor-father, Dr. Russell H. Bready, 62, while in a drunken stupor.

The sheriff said young Bready told him the shooting took place during a scuffle "somewhere near their home" as his father was taking him for a walk to "sober him up."

Young Brady was quoted as saying the details were too hazy for him to recall.

Earlier, Prosecutor Lester S. Reid quoted young Bready as saying he had been "too drunk to remember" what had happened.

The well-known Methodist Episcopal minister, once mayor pro tem of Pontiac, Mich., was found shot in the head in a vacant lot two blocks from his parsonage shortly before dawn today.

"I've definitely decided to charge him with homicide, but the degree has not been determined," Reid said. "The evidence seems to point to him." He added the charge would be filed tomorrow.

"Nothing has been uncovered yet to warrant a first-degree murder charge," declared Reid.

Under questioning, young Bready asked for liquor, saying: "It's the only thing that will help me remember what really happened." He was given coffee and became more coherent.

Reconstructing the tragedy, Reid expressed belief Dr. Bready returned home from a lodge installation, found his son drunk and a scene ensued.

Under a pillow in the parsonage, Marshal Earl Edington, of Bainbridge, found an automatic pistol which, an autopsy disclosed, was the type from which was fired the bullet that killed Dr. Bready.

Mrs. Bready died last July. The pastor's survivors include another son, Richard, of Washington, D. C., and two daughters, Mrs. Stewart Watson, of Detroit, and Mrs. W. W. Kenney, of Warsaw, Ind.

Robert Bready is divorced.

Policeman Hurts Arm in Saving Woman From Fall

The gallantry of a park policeman, whose gesture in saving a woman from a fall put him on the sick list for 13 days with a sprained right arm, was disclosed yesterday.

It happened on Halloween night, but only yesterday did Capt. Patrick J. Carroll, chief of the United States Park police, disclose the incident.

Private Jerome B. Lawler, stationed at the parade reviewing stand, near Sixteenth street and Constitution avenue, gave his right arm to a heavily built matron as she descended the stand reserved for distinguished guests. Suddenly she faltered and would have fallen if the policeman's arm had given way.

Lawler felt a twinge of pain, but he thought nothing more of the incident until later that night, when the arm, hand and fingers began to swell. Examination disclosed a sprain, and the parks officer was hors de combat until November 14.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
The Christmas Store

For Dry and Brittle Nails . . .

If you are troubled with dry and brittle nails . . . if your nails split and crack easily . . . our new Lactol treatment was created expressly for you. Entirely new and different. Given with Lactol, a rich creamy emulsion used hot, developed specifically to help keep difficult nails flexible and lustrous.

Now, moisture and oil, both vital to good nails, are supplied with the same treatment . . . . Lactol.

Complete Lactol Treatment and Manicure 85c

BEAUTY SALON, SECOND FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

We will observe our regular hours of business during the Christmas season
Open 9:30 A. M.
Close 5:45 P. M.
We suggest that you "Buy Now—Mail Early"

Barbizon Lingerie Is Tailored Luxury

—with the look of extravagance, the price of thrift

The name of Barbizon stands behind these purely feminine handfuls of "silks and satins" that are nightgowns, pajamas, slips. Fastidious tailoring, sturdy seams, flawless fit, washability, wearability—all these practicalities hide reassuringly behind smooth lines, clingingly soft fabrics, new color combinations, modern styling. Any one, or several, of these would be among the truly inspired gifts that, never often enough, nestle beneath a woman's Christmas tree.

A—Mannish Mode—tested rayon crepe, long sleeves and double-breasted coat; both coat and trousers piped in contrasting hues. Pompadour pink and sunset blue; sizes 12 to 20 ..... $3.95

B—Glenburn Gown—pure-dye silk satin Dosche, double tailored top, braided ties. Blush, pompadour pink, sunset blue. Sizes 32 to 44 ..... $4.95

C—Carlton—silk-and-rayon satin gown with the 1938 translation of the Directoire decolletage. Squared shoulders, tucked bosom; in pompadour pink, sunset blue, Bovary rose; sizes 32 to 44. ..... $3.95

D—Parkfield Slip—pure-dye silk satin Dosche, two seams, true bias cut, double top; medium and short lengths. Blush and white; sizes 32 to 44. ..... $2.95

E—Polly-at-Ease Pajama—silk-and-rayon satin notched collar, patch pockets, contrasting piping. Sunset blue, dusty pink, wine. Sizes 12 to 20. ..... $4.95

F—Bryn Vee—pure-dye silk crepe Dosche, four-gored slip, shadowproof panel. Blush and white; sizes 32 to 44 ..... $2.95

SILK UNDERWEAR, THIRD FLOOR
COSTUME SLIPS, THIRD FLOOR

Barbizon Gifts

Put "Peppermint" on every gift list . . . it is a new stocking color . . . packed in a shimmering "candy cane."

Gossamer nude evening shade, whimsically, captivatingly packaged in a be-bowed Cellophane "candy" cane—utterly inspired version of the Christmas stocking—for her Christmas tree. McCallum's silk stockings, pair. $1.35

HOSIERY, AISLE 19, FIRST FLOOR

Silk Lounging Robes and Pajamas

—romance from the mysterious Orient for girls and teen-agers

Made in Far Eastern China, these delicate brocade silk robes and tailored pajamas make any young girl feel luxurious. Robe in blue or aqua; teen-age sizes ..... $7.95 and $8.95

Two-piece pajamas, neck worn open or closed; yoke back; adjustable waistline; natural with wine trim; gold with brown.

Teen-age sizes $5.95
Girls' Chinese silk slips ..... $3.95 to $5.95
Panties $3
Juniors' slips and bed jackets $5

GIRLS' FURNISHINGS, FOURTH FLOOR

Dashing Gay Shirt 'n' Skirt

—make a very stunning "couple"

Rabbit's hair wool in a sweeping monastic skirt with wide-draped sash to contrast. Purple with wine, blue with wine, wine with blue, and black with royal blue. To complete the ensemble—a clever double-breasted effect shirt, to contrast or match. Sizes 12 to 20.

Shirt $5.95
Skirt $6.50

SPORTSWEAR, THIRD FLOOR

Marmalade Sprouts Holiday Spirit

Blue, red, and silver-colored Cellophane flares from the tops of little glass balls, filled with orange marmalade or damson preserves. Jar 25c, 35c

Individual jars—green, red, yellow of orange marmalade 35c

Jams, jellies, marmalades—box of 12 jars. $1.55

Box of 6 jars $1.10

Box of 3 jars 60c

BAKERY COUNTER, TEAROOM, SEVENTH FLOOR

Hull Praises Colombia for Social Progress

Secretary Pauses Briefly En Route to Parley at Lima

By the Associated Press.

Buenaventura, Colombia, Dec. 2.—Secretary Hull said today economic and social progress in Colombia was "a source of satisfaction and encouragement" throughout the American hemisphere.

The secretary stopped here briefly en route aboard the Santa Clara to the Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru. Hull declared:

"The Democratic traditions of freedom, representative government, and orderly and peaceful progress in international affairs are firmly rooted in your country. The relations between Colombia and the United States are those of friendship and mutual confidence.

"Your country is making progress toward the economic and social welfare of its people which is essential for both national and international stability and peace.

"The increasing friendship and mutual interests of our two countries finds expression in the steps which have been taken to raise our respective diplomatic missions to the rank of embassies. We may be confident that the ties between us will be strengthened and that we will come to have an even greater knowledge and appreciation of each other's institutions and culture."

Car Chiefs Voice Hope

Members of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, meeting here yesterday, voiced the hope that from the Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru, will come wider understanding and acceptance of the "most favored-nation" principle in world trade. The principle was described by Edgar W. Smith, of General Motors Corporation and vice chairman of the export committee, as designed, in Secretary of State Hull's trade policy, "to expand the trade of the entire world on a basis of equal opportunity, rather than to divert existing trade into new and artificial channels."

The committee considered current problems involving exchange facilities in Argentina and Jugoslavia, import permits in Chile and various automotive trade developments in Panama, Santo Domingo, France and Hungary.

Among those attending the meeting, in addition to Smith, were C. B. Thomas (Chrysler), chairman of the overseas contacts committee; B. C. Budd (Packard), chairman of the current problems subcommittee; Arvid L. Frank (Studebaker), chairman of the trade agreements subcommittee; Harold M. Salisbury (Nash), C. N. King (International Harvester), R. L. Vaniman (Chrysler), R. J. Archer (Willys-Overland), Allen Germann (Hudson), William V. Winslow (General Motors) and George F. Bauer, export manager of the association.

Hull and Landon Team on Shipboard

Associated Press Photo

Secretary of State Hull looks on seriously as Alf M. Landon takes his turn at shuffleboard while their ship bears the United States delegation to the eighth Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru. They are shown aboard the S. S. Santa Clara shortly before it stopped at the Panama Canal

Warring Jury Rests After 11 Hours' Study

Warring

Continued from Page 1.

tainers and operated a truck, a boat and a fleet of automobiles.

Also before the jurors were the transcripts on long interviews between the defendants and Internal Revenue agents, in which District Attorney Pine pointed out contradictions, evasions and other missteps which he said betrayed the gang to Federal agents.

Pine condemned the income tax plot as of a piece with the bribery by which the numbers racket was kept free of police interference. "An acquittal," he told the jury in his closing address, "would place lawlessness in the saddle . . . No doubt the Warrings would have liked to settle the tax. Then they'd have reduced the odds and made the poor gullible public pay more.

"They already have corrupted one branch of the law enforcement agency. They didn't have the decency to name the police they were paying off, thus leaving the entire department under a cloud, when you and I know that by and large the police are efficient and honest."

Police Agents Listen

Agents of the Metropolitan police, who have sat nearly three weeks hoping to hear named the bribed officers, listened impassively.

Depressed under the District attorney's arraignment was Sadur, tax expert here for 16 years, and his wife, who sat in court with their two sons.

Pine pointed out that the Warrings reported their income as much less than they paid some of their henchmen—runners and ticket writers—who collected fat commissions which were revealed in the expense column of the brothers' income tax returns.

Sadur came into the conspiracy after it was started, Pine conceded, but he was a full conspirator after he entered. "The firm ought to have been called "Warring Brothers and Sadur," he said. "Sadur helped out this mob with an accounting legerdemain which is better than pulling a rabbit out of a hat."

The co-operation Emmitt Warring said he gave the Government, said Pine, was "the same co-operation a fox gives the hounds when he crosses water."

The jury took the case at 11:58 a. m., and soon went to lunch. All afternoon while they deliberated the corridors outside Justice Laws' court were crowded by the defeandants, their lawyers, numerous witnesses waiting for the finish, and scores of spectators.

"Rags" Warring, dapper and genial trigger man of the gang, spent more than an hour in an earnest but amicable argument with H. Watson Leese and William H. F. Swain, Internal Revenue agents who were star witnesses against him. Attorney O'Connell reinforced Rags later in the afternoon.

The jurors adjourned for dinner about 6 p. m. and resumed their discussion later. Justice Laws spent the afternoon and evening in his chambers, to reconvene court if the jurors reported they had a verdict.

Thorp, Arnold Argue Effects of Trust Law

Monopoly

Continued from Page 1.

the committee, spoke up in defense of Thorp's position.

"Isn't it possible," said Frank, "that some lawyers heretofore have given their clients the interpretation of the anti-trust laws to which Dr. Thorp refers, and while they may have been in error, that, nevertheless, would account for the motivation for which he directs attention. I have some reason to believe that there has been such advice given by counsel.

Arnold said he thought "lack of the application of the Sherman act to new situations" has contributed to growth of large corporations. He said he couldn't agree that the Sherman act itself is responsible, but thought "that under the administration of the Sherman act, combinations have actually been encouraged in the past."

Sumners Draws Laugh

"Until comparatively recently," Representative Sumners (Democrat), of Texas, put in, amid laughter.

Thorp said he agreed that lack of enforcement was a factor, but again insisted that business enterprises might escape the law by mergers where they were not "a predominant part in industry."

"Let's say there are five of them (business concerns)," Thorp said, "each of whom is 5 per cent of the industry. If the five of them conspired, that would be contrary to the antitrust law. If their merger did not bring them to a monopoly position in the industry, it might be permissible under the law."

Distinction Questioned

Arnold again questioned "very much if a distinction can be made such as you are now drawing."

The spirited detour from the mass of charts and statistical evidence before the committee was shut off by Chairman O'Mahoney, who said he thought it "a point on which contrary legal opinions might be submitted by different persons."

At another time, Thorp said that "how much actual conspiracy there is in restraint of trade is something about which nobody, and certainly not I, could undertake to state."

"Labor Racketeering"

From some 56 complaints that have been studied, he said, it is possible to say such conspiracy exists. He said these cases included 3 of "labor coercion or labor racketeering," 33 complaints in the field of price control, 27 in control of distribution channels, and 3 special cases of development of special products, control of locations, and of a group of wholesalers appearing in the role of manufacturers.

Thorp told the committee it is not generally true any longer that one large enterprise dominates an industry. The present trend, he said, is toward two or three large enterprises in a dominant position in an industry, each in a competitive relationship with the other.

He called these "duopolies" and "triopolies" and said "the action of any one of them, of course, is of extreme importance and affects the whole economic picture and prevents further concentration."

Whether such corporate concentrations are in or against the public interest, Thorp in his role as committee adviser never undertook to say. He did say he thought no general conclusions could be drawn from corporate size alone, pointing to the wide variations in forms and operations and to the absence of any clearcut pattern.

As an example of how a few large companies control more or less the output in 22 industries, he offered the following statistics:

Aluminum, one company, 100 per cent.

Automobiles, three companies, 83 per cent.

Beef products, two companies, 47 per cent.

Bread, three companies, 20 per cent.

Cans, three companies, 90 per cent.

Cement, five companies, 40 per cent.

Cigarettes, three companies, 80 per cent.

Soft coal, four companies, 10 per cent.

Copper, four companies, 78 per cent.

Corn binders, four companies, 100 per cent.

Corn planters, four companies, 91 per cent.

Flour, three companies, 29 per cent.

Plate glass, two companies, 95 per cent.

Safety glass, two companies, 60 per cent.

Iron ore, four companies, 64 per cent.

Lead, four companies, 60 per cent.

Oil wells, four companies, 20 per cent.

Steel, three companies, 60.5 per cent.

Whiskey, four companies, 58 per cent.

Women's clothing, four companies, 2 per cent.

Wood pulp, four companies, 35 per cent.

Zinc, four companies, 43 per cent.

11 Numbers Versus Size

One of Thorp's charts, on size of corporations by assets in 1935, showed that corporations with less than $50,000 in total assets accounted for over half the number of all corporations, but for only 1.4 per cent of total assets.

At the other end of the scale, corporations with over 50,000,000, accounting for only two-tenths of 1 per cent of the number, controlled over half of total assets of all corporations.

Thorp said there are 135 corporations employing more than 10,000 workers each, and that only one-one-hundredth of 1 per cent of all corporations employ 12.3 per cent of all corporate employes. He said less than 1 per cent of industrial employers have in their hire 50 per cent of the Nation's wage-earners, all in concerns of more than 250 employes each. His statistics showed that about one-fifth of all business enterprises disappear each year, and that only 46.9 per cent of new enterprises in a typical large city last more than three years.

Leading up to the 1929 peak year, Thorp told of the steady growth of new business enterprises, from 1,200,000 in 1900, to 2,213,000 in 1929, then a drop to 1,961,000 in 1933, and back again to about 2,100,000 in the present year.

In America's two most active periods of consolidations and mergers, 1898-1902 and 1922-1929, Thorp said, there is no doubt that "the desire to have new securities to sell was one of the most important motives." He said the practice was to give one company a value of "3" and the other company a value of "2" and issue securities for both at a value of "5." The odd "one," he said, was sold to the public. Sometimes, due to the economic advantages of size, he said, "two and two actually added to five."

Thorp said that despite a low rate of business survivals, and barriers of many kinds in the way of new enterprise, there is freedom in most lines to enter business "and lose one's own or one's mother-in-law's savings."

8 Agencies Study Crash That Killed 23 at Salt Lake

Salt Lake City, Dec. 2 (U.P.).—Eight Governmental and private agencies tonight were investigating the collision between a freight train and a crowded school bus in which 22 children and the bus driver were killed.

Eight of the 17 children in the bus who escaped death were still in Salt Lake City hospitals tonight. Five were in serious condition.

Federal authorities in Washington said Interstate Commerce Commission investigators had been sent to Salt Lake City. They were expected to arrive to morrow.

Other investigations were being directed by Gov. Henry H. Blood, the State public service commission, State highway patrol, State insurance division, Salt Lake City officials, the Denver & Rio Grande, Western Railroad and the Jordan School District.

Racketeer to Pay Fine on Instalment

New York, Dec. 2 (A.P.).—Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro, 43, convicted racket czar of New York's $85,000,000 rabbit-fur industry, today agreed to pay $200 weekly on a $15,000 fine while he is serving a 3-year prison sentence. He was brought from the house of detention to the United States Courthouse on a writ of habeas corpus.

Shapiro, who once boasted he could dispose of a Federal indictment for $1.50, surrendered last April 14 following a nationwide search for him and his partner, Louis (Lepke) Buckalter, who is still a fugitive.

Dr. Narvaez Is Elected President of Ecuador

Quito, Ecuador, Dec. 2 (A.P.).—Dr. Aurelio Mosquera Narvaez was elected president of Ecuador today by the constituent assembly. He succeeds acting President Manuel Maria Borrero, who resigned yesterday without giving a reason.

Pecora to Sentence Davis Monday

Special Dispatch to The Post.

New York, Dec. 2.—J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, George Weinberg and Harry Schoenhaus, star witnesses against James J. Hines, Tammany leader, in the case which ended in a mistrial last September, will be called before Justice Ferdinand Pecora in Supreme Court Monday for sentencing. They pleaded guilty to the indictment charging that they, with Hines, conspired with the late Dutch Schultz to run the city's $20,000,000-year policy racket.

The prisoners, who have been secreted at various local hideouts since their trial miscarried, are expected to receive a commutation of sentence until they have been given a chance to testify again at the forthcoming trial of the Tammy leader, which has been set for January 9.

GIFTS FOR MEN
★
Gates Gloves
Pigrain leather. Black, cork, natural brown, and gray. $2.50 pr.
Just say, "Charge It" D. J. Kaufman, Inc.
1744 Pa. Ave. 1005 Pa. Ave.
14th & I Sts.

Liggett's
DRUG STORES
For Free Delivery Call
DU. 5050

Smokey Stover Starts As Daily Feature—Monday, Dec. 5th

Now you'll find the four-alarm blaze of laughter of this funny fireman in The Post on weekdays as well as on Sundays.

Police Question Mary Brown; Fail to Learn Clew to Captors

Kidnap

Continued from Page 1.

don't know how she knew that it she was blindfolded."

Munshower said Mary was asked how she knew she was in a shack and replied, "I just felt that way." Upon her return home Thursday night, she said she had been flung on a mattress and was knocked unconscious several times.

"She was able to give only a meager description of her abductors," Munshower said. "She was not even sure of the color of their hair and said she thought one had brown hair, the other dark.

"Mary denied the men attacked her and said they did not attempt to do so. She said she did not have to fight them off."

The Notre Dame Academy student, who returned home clad in a slip and stockings, told her questioners, Munshower said, that her clothes were burned by her kidnapers in the shack. Asked why they did this, she said:

"Probably to keep warm."

Recalls Broken English

She told police the men talked in such low voices she was unable to understand what they said, but she believed they were speaking in broken English.

"I heard her say nothing about a ransom," Munshower said, "but she did say her kidnapers asked her what kind of a job her father had, and she told them he had none, but was a poor farmer."

The State police superintendent said Mary "talked in such a way it was difficult to understand her, but what I did get corresponded exactly with what Lucy told of the actual kidnaping."

Lucy Brown, Mary's 15-year-old sister was with her when she was seized by two men on lonely Box road near her home shortly after 4:30 p. m. Wednesday. She escaped by crawling through a fence and ran home, where she sobbed out her story.

Asked if it were possible she was mistaken for another girl by the kidnapers, Munshower said that was possible, but a checkup showed there were no others in that neighborhood who resembled her.

A girl who lives nearby, however, told police yesterday she was accosted by three swarthy men in a black truck near the kidnaping scene several months ago.

Terrell Roberts, 15, a student at Oxon Hill School, told police he talked to Mary shortly before the kidnaping and was in the vicinity more than two hours, but saw no black delivery truck. He said he did see, however, a black sedan containing two men cruising along the road.

Mary was returned home in an automobile, she said, and not in the truck in which her abductors dashed with her toward Washington.

A Washington lawyer who owns property near Oxon Hill said last night his automobile was stalled at Hensons Creek, near the spot where Mary said she was dropped by the kidnapers, between 10:15 and 10:45 p. m., Thursday night, and he saw no car pass in any direction in that time. The girl reached home at 10:40 p. m.

She said she made her way across a half mile of fields through underbrush after her release in the middle of a farm adjacent to her father's. Though a State trooper who followed the same route yesterday returned with his breeches and boots saturated, Munshower said a physician's report indicated the girl had no scratches.

Police pointed out, however, that Mary, familiar with the neighborhood, probably would have followed a route, instinctively, which would have avoided most of the rough going.

She told investigators, Munshower said, that she was blindfolded with a bit of black cloth and that she dropped this where she was released. An intensive search yesterday failed to bring it to light, but police said they would continue the hunt.

Asked if it were possible the kidnapers might have been seeking revenge on the girl's father, Munshower said that suspicion had been investigated thoroughly but found groundless.

"The only thing we can do at present," he said, "is to follow through our tips and search for the shack, but we can't even be sure she was kept in a shack."

The girl's father, William B. Brown, an employe of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, said yesterday she was "semiconscious and in precarious condition." Earlier he had said she was in good condition, except for scratches and bruises.

Asked point-blank if he believed her story of kidnap for ransom, he said, "I believe my daughter's statement 100 per cent. She is a fine girl."

Asked why he thought she was treated so cruelly if her abductors sought ransom, he said he also was puzzled by this aspect of the case.

Mary told her family and police she was not attacked. This statement was confirmed by a physician.

Brown said he received no communication from the kidnapers.

He suggested they contemplated an attack when they seized his daughter but found her too athletic and decided on ransom as an afterthought. The girl is 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weighs 130 pounds.

Asked how she could have known one of the men wore a mustache if she was blindfolded, he said the mustached man was the one who caught her and dragged her to the truck.

He said he expected an arrest.

Meanwhile, Washington police picked up a light delivery truck apparently abandoned on E street northeast between Fourth and Fifth streets and later held for investigation two young men who called to claim it. The truck contained bedding and fishing tackle.

The men explained they were out of work and were living in the vehicle to save expenses. It bore Maryland license tags.

Early yesterday Brown issued a formal statement to reporters with details of Mary's experience not before revealed. He said:

"My daughter came home last night about 10 o'clock.

"The kidnapers let her out about one-half mile down the road from the entrance to our farm. It was near Hanson Branch. She came home wearing only a slip. She said the men burned all her clothes.

"She spent a restful night. The doctor examined her and found she had not been harmed in anyway by her experience.

"Mary said after she was shoved in the truck (described as the abductors' vehicle), she was driven at fast speed to a hut where she was kept on a mattress. A blindfold was put over her eyes after she was put in the truck but she was not gagged.

Three Men in Truck

"There were three men in the truck when she was kidnaped. She said then the men talked in whispers while she was kept in the hut.

"The motive for the kidnaping was ransom. When she convinced them that I was not in a position to pay any ransom they said they didn't want to have any more to do with her, and they brought her back in an automobile. They put her out on the side of the road, turned around and drove away before she could get the blindfold off."

Congressmen Touring Florida As State's Guests

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 2 (A.P.).—Congressmen and business leaders began tonight a five-day tour of Florida as guests of the State Chamber of Commerce.

The party of approximately 120 persons arrived here aboard a special train from Washington today. President Harold Colee of the State chamber said the trip was planned to acquaint legislative and industrial leaders with Florida's resources and possibilities.

The special traveled tonight toward Miami and will spend tomorrow and Sunday in the east coast "Magic City" area, Monday the Lake Okeechobee region, Tuesday in the Florida "ridge" section, and Tuesday night at Tampa. Turning northward Wednesday, the visitors will make brief stops at Lakeland and Orlando.

A 17-gun salute sounded as the train arrived here.

Commission Sets March 1 as Date To Fix Coal Rates

More than three years after its organization, the Bituminous Coal Commission, created by Congress to stabliize the soft coal industry by fixing minimum prices, held out to coal operators yesterday the hope that the first of the minimum schedules might be promulgated by March 1, of next year.

Hampered by factional quarrels and forced to revoke its first pricing regulations because of court injunctions, the commission was obliged to make what amounted to a new start in March of this year.

A spur to its efforts to promulgate prices by March 1 is the impatience of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who is anxious to have prices established before he begins negotiations in April for a new wage contract between the operators and the United Mine Workers.

New Contributions Spur Chest Drive

Chest

Continued from Page 1.

reasons of illness or absence from the city have been delayed in making their pledges.

With governmental departments continuing to report returns, several thousand dollars more are expected by that unit in the next week.

A number of contributions were received by The Washington Post yesterday, all of which are being acknowledged and turned over to the Chest.

Odd Fellows to Meet

Front Royal, Va., Dec. 2.—Hugh Reid, noble grand of Lodge No. 374, of Front Royal, has announced the quarterly meting of the Tri-County Association of Oddfellows will be held here Tuesday night. Representatives of lodges of Warren, Frederick and Shenandoah counties will assemble.

Speicher to Testify In Silverman Case

Frank E. Speicher, "mystery witness" of the grand jury investigations from 1933 to 1936 into an alleged fraud in connection with purchase of $10,000,000 worth of Army motor vehicles, will appear Monday as a witness in the trial of Joseph Silverman, jr., former dealer in surplus Army goods. Silverman is accused of having paid Speicher to absent himself from the original investigation.

Speicher has charged Government agents did not let him produce his records during their investigation. Witnesses at the trial will include several prominent Government officials, among them Secretary of War Woodring.

DRAFTING
MATERIALS
MUTH 710 13 T.H. N.W.

LAUNCHING a liner is almost child's play in comparison with launching the good glass of beer that Washington likes.

Every cool and mellow sip of Ruppert's is the product of the world's most modern brewery. A brewery that would shame a laboratory in its cleanliness . . . would astonish a scientist in its precision. A brewery so huge in resources and storage capacity that it never needs to short-cut quality or speed up aging, in order to appease a grateful city's thirst.

That's why you'll always find that Ruppert's is right! Right in aging. Right in purity and uniformity! Right in the tangy taste that this city votes "It's Right"!

Italy Ready To March, Press Warns France

Paris Envoy Protests Tirade Following Colonial Demands

By the United Press.

Rome, Dec. 2.—A warning that "the Italian nation is ready to march against France if necessary" by the Giornale D'Italia, which often serves as Premier Mussolini's mouthpiece, tonight unleashed an anti-French tirade in the Italian press.

The warning, appearing over the signature of Virginio Gayda, who is close to Il Duce, marked a grave turn in strained Italo-French relations. Shouted demands in the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday for return of French Tunisia and other former Italian territories aggravated the tension. Diplomats here and in Paris feared the situation might grow worse.

The new French Ambassador to Rome, Andre Francois-Poncet, who sat in the chamber and heard the demands, visited Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano tonight and presented what French observers described as "in substance a real protest."

"Disavowal" Demanded

British diplomatic quarters understood Francois-Poncet asked Ciano for a "disavowal" of any anti-French campaign on the part of the government, whereupon Ciano promised to take up the matter with Mussolini.

Ciano was said to have countered with an assertion that many anti-Italian demonstrations had occurred in the French Parliament.

Diplomats regarded the situation as a serious blow to British Prime Minister Chamberlain's hope for a general European appeasement plan. Chamberlain had hoped to improve Italo-French relations when he visits Rome early in January to confer with Il Duce.

Press Waging "War"

Meanwhile an Italo-French press war developed.

Paris made it clear to Italy that France, as much as she desires friendship and peace, never will permit territory to be sliced from her colonial empire and annexed by Italy as the price.

Paris newspapers spoke of the "well-rehearsed crisis in the Italian Chamber" and replied that "French opinion unanimously rejects it."

The Giornale D'Italia assailed the Paris press, particularly the semi-official Le Temps.

Gayda alleged that French newspapers, in commenting upon Ciano's foreign affairs speech which was interrupted by the shouts of deputies, had insinuated there was deep "discord" between the Italian royal family and the Fascist government.

Italy Ready to March

"Sixteen years of Fascism have consolidated Italy," Gayda said. "The Italian nation is bound to its government and prepared for anything. It is ready to march and, if necessary, even against France."

The Giornale D'Italia, in singling out the Paris newspaper, Le Temps, said the latter at the time of the Czecho-Slovak crisis had reported that the Italian people would refuse to fight alongside the Germans.

"So far as the Italian people being ready for a development of the Czech crisis is concerned it is sufficient to recall the silent and voluntary discipline of the masses which permitted rapid mobilization of 300,000 men and immediate perfection of the war defenses over wide stretches of the national and imperial frontiers," Gayda said.

"This mobilization occurred without arousing the slightest suspicion of foreign observers. Warlike and working Italy possesses a tone of substance which gives its foreign policy the possibility of straightforward direction placed at the service of European justice or the protection of all Italian rights, both those satisfied and those still to be satisfied."

Italy Covets French Territory

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

A Fascist editor's warning that Italy was "ready to march, even against France, if it is necessary," sharply emphasized the coolness that has been growing in Italian-French relations since Italian deputies demonstrated for recognition of Italian interests in Tunisia (see map). Italy also casts envious eyes toward Corsica and Savoy, also shown, and is interested in Djibouti in French Somaliland, far to the south of the area shown fleet was tied up as seamen and fishermen protested arrest of labor delegates.

France Requisitions All Ships to Block Maritime Strike, Seeks Britain's Help as Italian Press Delivers War Threat

French

Continued from Page 1.

The French ambassador in London, Charles Andre Corbin, visited British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, acquainted him with the French attitude toward Italy and pointed out that the situation is of vital concern to Britain.

Britain Also Involved

Corbin was said to have stressed that France expects full British support because the Italian campaign concerns not only France and Italy but all nations interested in peace in the Mediterranean.

From London came reports that the Italian outburst, hitting directly at British interests in the Mediterranean, threatened to force cancellation of Prime Minister Chamberlain's "appeasement" visit to Rome, scheduled for early January.

London morning newspapers warned that there can be no real Anglo-Italian friendship unless Premier Mussolini "repudiates" the war warnings appearing in the Fascist press.

France, making it clear that she never will surrender any part of her colonial empire to Italy as the price of European peace, has protested to Mussolini through the Italian Ambassador here, Raffaele Guariglia, and the French Ambassador to Rome, Andre Francois-Poncet.

Explanation Demanded

Explanations have been demanded, not only for the Giornale D'Italia's war warning, but for the cries raised in the Italian Chamber of Deputies Wednesday night for "Tunisia! Corsica! Nice!"—all former Italian territories now held by France.

France regarded the Italian hostility as preliminary to efforts by Mussolini to gain control of the French-owned railroad between Djibouti and Addis Ababa in Ethiopia.

The French embassy in Berlin was instructed to inquire as to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's attitude toward the new Italian hostility and when Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop arrives in Paris Tuesday morning—to sign a Franco-German "no - more - war" pact—he will be asked to help clarify the situation.

Ribbentrop will be told by Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet that under no circumstances will France sacrifice any part of her empire to acquire Mussolini's good will.

Daladier realizes that fundamentally the Rome-Berlin axis is solid and unbreakable but he hopes to convince Ribbentrop that Germany should not commit herself to support of any Italian claims on Tunisia, Corsica, Savoia, the Djibouti coast or Nice.

The French press and political leaders were agreed that France would fight rather than lose an inch of territory to Italy.

Meanwhile Premier Daladier tonight ordered sweeping amnesty for about 700,000 workers locked out of factories in punishment for Wednesday's abortive general strike and assured them of "full respect" for their collective contracts and wages.

The ministry of labor ordered the immediate reopening of all nationalized arms and aviation plants and called upon private employers to cancel all lockouts and resume normal production Saturday morning.

Only in "extreme cases" will sanctions be carried out against workers who obeyed the General Labor Confederation's call for Wednesday's 24-hour "folded arms" strike which Daladier smashed with a show of armed force.

The premier's action, which the government expected to end quickly a new wave of sporadic strikes and rioting in protest against the lockouts, followed appeals by the nation's 5,000,000 organized war veterans, the Christian Trade Unions and other groups.

Fly UNITED!
Most Frequent to Chicago

ONLY 5 HOURS! Leave Washington 6:35 p. m., arrive Chicago 10:35 p. m. Or take popular morning flight—be in Chicago in time for lunch. Low round-trip fares!

(via connecting airlines to Cleveland)

RESERVATIONS: City ticket office, 808 15th St. N.W., MEt. 5656, or hotels, travel bureaus.

Reich Willing To Trade Jews For Exports

Plan Considered to Aid Emigration if World Buys Goods

By the Associated Press.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—A prominent Nazi editor disclosed today plans were being studied for making Jewish emigration possible in return for increased German exports.

Although he declined to outline specific details, the editor said the project had advanced to the point where Field Marshal Goering, director of the four-year economic plan, could announce it soon.

The editor, who is close to Goering's group, explained the idea behind the scheme as follows:

"Jews need foreign exchange to get out. We haven't any. Hence other nations must supply it. These nations, however, will insist that Germany should repay these sums from possessions left behind by German Jews.

"There is only one way we can repay—through goods. Therefore, the problem of ridding ourselves of Jews and for Jews to make emigration possible comes to this:

"How great a quantity of additional German goods are foreign nations prepared to buy from Germany? They can have all 650,000 Jews and half-Jews if they will give us enough export orders."

Six Nations Plan New Appeal

London, Dec. 2 (AP).—Men of six nations decided today to tackle Germany again in the international effort to get her estimated 600,000 unwanted Jews out of the country under the $600,000,000 plan sponsored by United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy.

The action was taken by the vice chairmen's committee of the intergovernmental committee on refugees, composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, Brazil and Argentina, the latter a new addition.

The vice chairmen's committee, on which Myron C. Taylor represented the United States, decided on a fresh effort to obtain German cooperation in a 4½-hour session.

The committee members reported progress in obtaining places for the refugees to make new homes. But it was believed little could be done until Germany allowed the Jews to emigrate and modified the "flight-tax" rule which strips them of virtually all they own as they leave the country.

Nazis 'Never Will Be Free,' Hitler Boasts

Tells How All Youth Is Regimented in Talk To Sudeten Germans

By the Associated Press.

Reichenberg, Germany, Dec. 2.—Reichsfuehrer Hotler told 30,000 Sudetenland Germans in a 55-minute campaign speech today he was not worried about the future of Naziism because "the new generation is growing up, and we are educating it."

The Fuehrer described all the various youth organizations in which young Germans are enrolled, and said "they never will be free in their entire lives."

"And they are happy about it," he continued. "All the ridiculous prejudices, about which their fathers still may worry, slowly disappear from their vision. They see everything in a different light."

He said boys and girls first come into the Nazi organization at the age of 10, progress through the Hitler Youth, Black Guards and Storm Troops, then through the works service and the army, and then back into the Black guards and Storm Troops.

"Wait one, two, three or five or ten generations," Hitler said. "I can say to the fossils of the present time: 'Nothing will be left of you, but there will stand a strong, healthy and united people which can protect its rights from anyone who would take them and will be master of its own fate.'"

Hitler spoke in connection with elections Sunday in which 30 new deputies will be chosen for the German parliament from former Czechoslovak territory. He spoke in a hoarse voice, once broken by a cough as he described how all the old "idols"—monarchism, state lines, marxism and political clericalism—had failed to accomplish the birth of the greater Germany.

He devoted his entire talk to internal affairs, but sidestepped the Jewish issue.

Belgian Cabinet's Fall Averted as Minister Resigns

Brussels, Dec. 2 (AP).—Fall of the Belgian government was averted tonight by the resignation of Financial Minister Max Leo Gerard after a break with Premier Paul Henri Spaak over Belgian economic policy.

The resignation of Gerard, a liberal, followed conferences of cabinet members among themselves and with King Leopold in an attempt to end the crisis which started when Spaak, a moderate Socialist, embarked upon a policy favorable to Spanish insurgents.

Gerard's resignation, after an attack on the government's fiscal affairs, which are complicated by a flight of gold and a budget deficit of $40,000,000, cleared the way for Spaak to continue his plans for friendship with insurgent Spain.

Channel Shipping Asked to Help Find Australian Flier

London, (Saturday), Dec. 3 (U.P.)—All shipping and aviation in the English Channel was asked by radio today to aid in finding the plane carrying Capt. Edgar W. Percival, Australian aircraft designer, and three passengers.

The plane, designed by Capt. Percival, one of the most popular types of light British flying craft, has been unreported since shortly after it left Heston airdrome for Paris at 2:35 p. m. Friday. The plane was said to have been sighted over the channel about 3 p. m.

A heavy gale swept the channel Friday.

13 Nations Owing War Debts to U. S. Get Reminders

By the Associated Press.

Thirteen European powers received reminders yesterday that they now owe the United States Government $2,051,707,241 on debts left over from the last war.

The semiannual "please remit" notices went out from the State Department to foreign embassies and legations here last night, calling on their governments to pay the next installment of their 20-year-old obligations.

The amount due December 15 increases by $160,217,334 the previously due sum of $1,891,489,906 and thus shoves the total unpaid above the $2,000,000,000 mark.

The biggest current bill, $122,670,765, went to Great Britain, whose total unpaid debt now is $1,202,827,897. France was reminded she currently owes $22,308,312 and has a total indebtedness of $568,260,037.

Of the 13 debtor nations, Finland alone is expected to pay its bill. Finland owes $232,935 currently and no back payments.

Physician Asks Return Of Infected Canine

Dr. James F. Davidson, Chevy Chase, Md., physician, yesterday issued an appeal for the return of Peter, small black and white setter with an infected throat, missing since November 7.

Unless Peter receives treatment for the throat infection soon, he may die, Dr. Davidson explained. The dog liked to accompany his master on calls. He disappeared while waiting in Dr. Davidson's automobile near Georgetown University Hospital. Peter had undergone 11 operations in the last year for the throat infection.

FREE LECTURE
—ON—CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
—BY—
Peter V. Ross, C. S. B.
of San Francisco, Calif.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

In Constitution Hall, 18th and D Sts. N.W., Saturday, December 3, at 8 P. M.

Under the Auspices of
Third Church of Christ, Scientist

No Collection — All Welcome

DO YOU KNOW

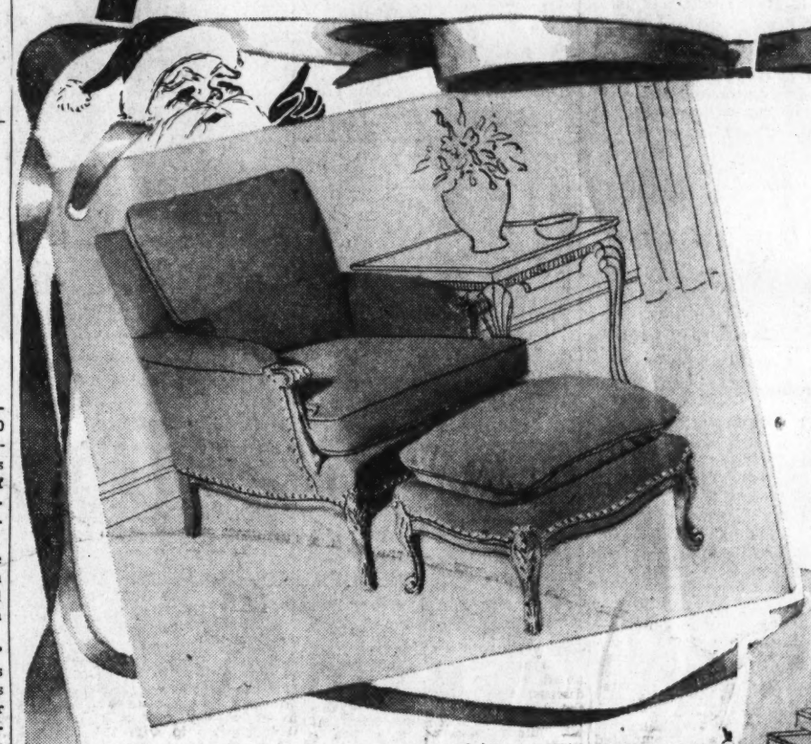
what United States voters think about Germany getting back the colonies she lost after the World War? You would know if you had read the Gallup Poll in The Post on October 14.

●

You cannot keep informed on shifting trends of American opinion if you do not read the Gallup Polls. You cannot read the Gallup Polls in Washington unless you are a daily and Sunday subscriber to The Washington Post.

THE MODERN FORUM
Presents
LANGDON POST
John Ihlder.
Warren J. Vinton.
Robert Weaver
"THE CHALLENGE OF HOUSING"
25c Sunday, Dec. 4th, 8 P. M.
HOTEL WASHINGTON

The Palais Royal
G Street at Eleventh — District 4400
Store Open 'til 9 P. M. Tonight



Give Dad Hours of Solid Comfort!
Lounge Chair With Ottoman
Shown At Left: $44.95
A man's chair, this—big, roomy, with wood grip arms, a down-filled loose pillow back for his head and an ottoman to rest his legs. It is built for years of service. Web-base sagless construction, carved wood frames around the base. Ottoman is made with semi-loose pillow top. Choice of mohair, tapestry or rayon damask coverings in color scheme to blend with most any setting.

Why Not Give This Occasional Chair
Shown At Right: $9.95
It is styled to fit in all settings, it is good to look at, and comfortable to sit in. Notice the graceful channel back, the tooled wood frames; features usually confined to higher-priced chairs. Spring-seat construction. Wide variety of coverings and colorings.

Pillow Back Lounge Chair
Shown At Left: $24.95
Made to our specification, in our own shop. A lot of thought has gone into the designing and construction of these chairs. They are built to give lasting service. The tapestry coverings are worth from $1.95 to $2.95 a yard. Frames are of well seasoned hardwood with deep coils embedded in the seat and back for restful comfort. Three other styles included at this price.

Barrell-Back or Wing Chairs
Shown At Right: $29.95
Give the home this grand gift—a chair that lends grace and beauty to a room. Rich coverings in floral or geometrical patterns in colorings that will harmonize with drapes or floor coverings. There are four styles for choice, all as gracefully designed as the one shown at right. Loose cushion seats and hardwood frames that will give enduring service.

Palais Royal, Furniture . . . Fourth Floor

N. Y. Avenue Church to Cut $127,000 Debt

Starts Drive Tomorrow
Committees Named
Dr. Marshall to Speak

New York Avenue Presbyterian Church will launch a campaign tomorrow to raise funds toward clearing an indebtedness of over $127,000 on its property.

The New York Avenue Church has had a notable history of over 135 years in the Nation's Capital, and was the pioneer Presbyterian church in this city.

Because of the necessity for meeting financial obligations next year, and in order that the church program might be strengthened and expanded, the church officers planned the present debt-reduction campaign as one phase of the Church Appreciation Crusade in which the membership has been rallied during the past month.

Tomorrow has been designated as "A Day of Response," and Dr. Peter Marshall, minister, will preach at 11 o'clock on the theme "An Old Subscription List."

Col. Walter C. Clyphane, president of the board of trustees of the church, is chairman of the special gifts committee, assisted by William B. Willard, Frank E. Edgington, Judge I. M. Foster, Adam Weir, Charles A. Stott, Verne C. Bonesteel, Lewis T. Breuninger, Joseph B. Schaaff, Newell Ellison, A. F. C. Lucas, Judge J. Russell Leech, Dr. Cloyd Marvin, Mrs. William L. Darby, Mrs. W. M. Ritter, Mrs. Cabot Stevens and Miss Marjorie Webster.

Harry Blake is chairman of the District campaign workers, assisted by the following team captains: Melleville B. Grosvenor, Neal Herndon, Donald Clement, James E. Hennessy, Gerald Cooley, Noah Goodridge, Shirley Mayers, Lloyd L. Smith, Ralph Burgess, Kennedy Irelan, Clayton Corliss, Myers Hand, Cabot Stevens, James Gulick and Walter E. Sias.

At the French service at 4 p. m., the Rev. A. F. Liotard, pastor of the French congregation, will speak on "Le Feu Divin."

Metropolitan. The church tomorrow will welcome the Rev. William James Sly, D.D., who will begin his work there as parish minister and assistant pastor, at 11 a. m.

Dr. Sly, educated at Rochester University and theological seminary, Denver and Yale Universities, has served as a pastor in Chicago and as professor of religious education at Linfield College, Oregon.

Mrs. J. Gretta Allen also begins her work this month as general church secretary and secretary to the pastor, the Rev. J. Lowrey Fendrich, D.D.

Dr. Fendrich will speak at the 11 a. m. service on "Ambition—Whip of Scorpions," and at 7:45 p. m. on "House or Home—Which?"

Central. At the evening service Dr. Harry L. Bowlby, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, will speak on the work of the Alliance, which is celebrating its Golden Jubilee.

In the morning Dr. James H. Taylor, the pastor, will preach on "The Meaning of the Lord's Supper."

Westminster. The Rev. Roy M. Allison, a missionary from China, will speak at the evening hour. In the morning the pastor will discuss "The Joy of Communion."

Sherwood. "Hardness" will be the subject of the Rev. Thomas L. Coyle's sermon tomorrow at the 8:50 and 11 a. m. services. The baptism of children will be observed at the second morning service. At 8 p. m. the minister's topic will be "Bargains."

Chevy Chase. "Go Deeper" will be the subject of Dr. J. H. Hollister's sermon at the 11 o'clock service. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at this service.

Gunton-Temple. Dr. Bernard Braskamp, pastor, will have as his text at the 11 o'clock service, Hebrews 6:9, "Things That Accompany Salvation."

Bishop Freeman Evensong Speaker At Cathedral

The Right Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., LL.D., Bishop of Washington, will preach at the people's evensong in Washington Cathedral tomorrow at 4 p. m.

At the 11 a. m. service of Holy Communion the sermon will be delivered by Canon Anson Phelps Stokes, whose theme will be "The Significance of the English Bible Today," in observance of "Bible Sunday."

Pilgrimages will be held after these services through the Cathedral and to objects of religious devotion and interest within the grounds. The Bishop's Garden will be opened to visitors tomorrow from noon to 2 p. m.

Celebration of the Holy Communion will be held in the Bethlehem Chapel of the Holy Nativity at 7:30 and 9:30 a. m.

Next Tuesday at 4 p. m. a memorial service will be held in tribute to the late Harry Lee Rust, treasurer of the Diocese of Washington and a faithful friend of Washington Cathedral. Bishop Freeman and Henry P. Blair will speak.

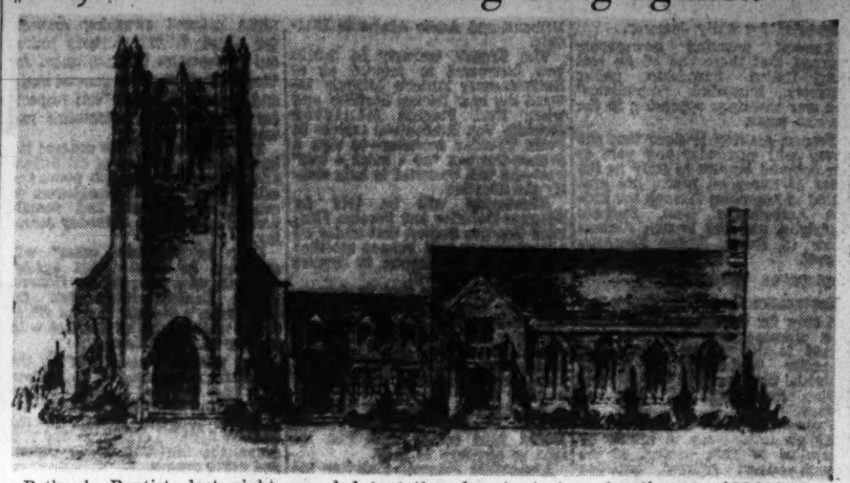
Unitarians to Hear Dr. U. G. B. Pierce

At the 11 a. m. service at All Souls' Church, Unitarian, the minister, Ulysses G. B. Pierce, D. D., will preach on "The Stain of the World."

Before the adult class in "Current Problems," meeting at 10 o'clock, Dr. Carl C. Taylor will conclude a series of talks on "The Religious Principles Underlying the Solution of Current Problems" with a question-discussion period.

At the same hour Rabbi Harry Silverstone will give another talk on "The Prophets of Israel" on the special subject "Jonah."

Bethesda Baptists, Organized in '34, to Build $25,000 Home for Growing Congregation



Bethesda Baptists last night revealed tentative plans to start construction on a $25,000 educational unit of a church building early in 1939. Above is architect's sketch of proposed building

All-Religious Mass Meeting Set Monday

Nazi Acts Prompt It
Burke, Walsh to Speak
Also Bishop Freeman

The religious forces of Washington—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—will unite Monday in their annual mass meeting at Constitution Hall to demonstrate their essential solidarity and emphasize the vital importance of religion in a democracy, Canon Anson Phelps Stokes, of Washington Cathedral, announced last night.

"Religious Freedom and Responsibility in View of the World Situation" will be the general subject of the meeting, which is open to the public and is to start at 8:15 p. m.

Featured speakers will be Senator Edward Burke, of Nebraska, Bishop James E. Freeman, representing the Protestants, and the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, vice rector of Georgetown University, representing the Catholics.

The Rev. Albert J. McCarthy, pastor of Covenant-First Presbyterian Church and chairman of the committee in charge, will preside and Rabbi Abram Simon, of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, will offer the invocation.

The four-fold purpose of the conclave, according to Canon Stokes, secretary of the committee in charge, will be:

To demonstrate the fundamental unity of the religious forces at the Nation's Capital.

To re-emphasize the American ideal of religious freedom under the Constitution.

To promote the conviction that religion is essential to true democracy.

To express profound sympathy with victims of intolerance and cruelty in all parts of the world.

Canon Stokes also issued the following statement about the meeting:

"We wish to have it understood that this meeting is primarily constructive in purpose, although the holding of it at this particular time has been suggested by recent tragic events in Germany.

"It is the desire of our committee to make it not so much a protest meeting as a meeting to strengthen all the religious forces of the Capital in their devotion to the religious freedom ideals of the American Constitution.

"We realize that such ideals cannot be maintained in a democracy except as the adherents of our different churches—using the word in the broadest sense—feel responsible for supporting through worship, life and service the religion of their choice and for maintaining the ideals of separation of church and state, which experience has shown to be so important.

"We must prevent any manifestations of intolerance in America and do everything in our power for all victims of persecution and intolerance elsewhere, whether they be Jews in Central Europe, or Roman Catholics in some Latin country that is cutting away from old moorings.

"In view of the European situation and of the development of religious intolerance in certain groups in this country the meeting should be one of great importance."

Dr. Anderson to Preach On 'America for Me!'

Dr. Howard Stone Anderson, pastor of First Congregational Church—slated to testify before the Representative Dies' House committee on un-American activities Tuesday—will speak at his church tomorrow morning on "America For Me!"

Dale Hamilton will sing and a slide adaptation of the film "Show Boat" be shown during a gospel song service at 7:45 p. m.

Bethesda Lutherans To Dedicate Church

Culminating four years of effort, parishioners of Christ Lutheran Church, Bethesda, tomorrow will worship for the first time in a building of their own at Glenbrook and Old Georgetown roads.

Members of Grace Lutheran Church, of this city, and their pastor, the Rev. Gerhard E. Lenski, will unite in the dedicatory service, the principal address of which is to be delivered at 11 a. m. by Dr. Walter Shuette, president of the Eastern district of the American Lutheran Church.

Dr. R. H. Miller To Speak on 'Loyalty'

In National City Church
At Morning Service
Women Meet Tuesday

Dr. Raphael H. Miller, pastor of the National City Christian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on the subject, "Loyalty and Outlook."

At the evening service, the Rev. Ivan H. Dugan, associate minister, will present the second of a series of sermons on the Bible, his subject being, "The Bible—Its Fight to Survive."

The Woman's Council will meet in the social hall, Tuesday at 11 a. m. Miss Etta Mai Russell, juvenile court worker of the City Federation of Churches, will talk on the theme, "Shadows On The City."

Park View. The Rev. J. Lloyd Black will speak at 11 a. m. on the subject "As God Hath Prospered," and at 8 p. m. on "Be Steadfast."

The Rev. Kenneth L. Pottee, missionary to India, will speak before all church groups in a special meeting at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Columbia Heights. Woman's Day will be celebrated tomorrow with the Rev. A. P. Wilson's sermon topic to be "Christianity Faces Anarchy."

Ninth Street. Volunteer Day will be observed as the Rev. Clifford H. Jope at the 11 a. m. worship hour speaks on "The Church in a Time of Crisis."

The pastor will preach at the 7:45 o'clock evening worship hour on the subject "The Meaning of the Lord's Supper."

Fifteenth Street. "Where the Road Turns" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. Leslie L. Bowers at morning worship. Pictures on "The City," illustrating missionary study for the last quarter, will be shown as Women's Day is observed at the 8 p. m. service.

Third. The Rev. C. N. Williams will preach on "Redemption" at the 11 a. m. communion service.

Curley Club Holds Retreat Tomorrow

The ladies of the Curley Club will have a day of recollection at the Washington Retreat House, 4000 Harewood road northeast, tomorrow.

Miss A. Luella All, chairman of retreatas for the Curley Club, has Miss Mary Connelly, Miss Agnes Bayer and Miss Mary McKay assisting her.

Each year the Curley Club has a retreat at the Washington Retreat House.

The Rev. Urban Adelman, O. M. Cap., will be retreat master. The theme of his conference, which starts at 10:30 a. m., will be the Catholic Action answer to the first question in the catechism: "Why God made us; to know Him, to love Him and to serve Him."

Youth in Capital Churches

"Successful Marriage and a Happy Home Life" will be discussed from three angles by three experts before the St. Paul's Rock Creek Parish Young People's Fellowship starting tomorrow, for three successive Sundays.

Capt. Rhoda J. Millikin, chief of the Woman's Bureau of the Metropolitan Police, will draw from her experiences in dealing with failures in family relations, and point ways to avoid pitfalls in her talk at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow. Dr. Hugh H. Hussel will present the medical aspects of the problem December 11 and Dr. F. J. Bohanan, pastor of Rock Creek Parish, the spiritual side, December 18.

Dr. Eugene Anderson, professor of history at American University, will speak on "The German-Jewish Situation" at a meeting of the Young People's Society of Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Emily Lillie will lead the devotional program of the Grace Church B. Y. P. U. tomorrow evening. Following this the young people will conduct the church service, led by Virginia Watson, and following this the group will have a Seth Parker meeting at the home of Cecil and Morgan Harvey.

"Christmas Art" will be discussed by Professor Will Hutchins, of American University, before the Hamline Epworth League at 6:45 p. m. tomorrow.

To Be Situated at Wilson Lane and Milrose Avenue

Keeping pace with civic and commercial development of the community, Bethesda Baptists yesterday announced tentative plans for construction in 1939 of a church building.

To be situated at Wilson Lane and Millrose avenue, the stone structure will consist of an educational building with chapel and a church auditorium. The educational unit, estimated to cost $25,000, is to be completed first.

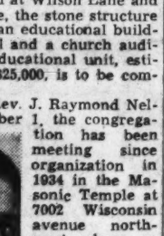
Led by the Rev. J. Raymond Nelson since October 1, the congregation has been meeting since organization in 1934 in the Masonic Temple at 7002 Wisconsin avenue northwest, where, on Christmas night, the Baptist Young People's Union and the Sunday school will present a pageant, directed by H. C. Hunter, superintendent of the latter unit.

MR. NELSON (minister)

Ironically, the man who was instrumental in founding the congregation has not lived to see his dream of a permanent house of worship come true, for the Rev. Bertram Osgood died in 1936 and was succeeded by the Rev. George Griffin.

Fortunately, the late minister left behind him a group of parishioners small in number but energetic in spirit.

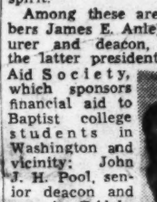
Among these are charter members James E. Anley, church treasurer and deacon, and his wife, the latter president of the Ladies' Aid Society, which sponsors financial aid to Baptist college students in Washington and vicinity; John J. H. Pool, senior deacon and men's Bible class teacher; Mrs. Hugh Myers, present Guild head, and her husband, church trustee; Wilbur A. Bouic, clerk and deacon, and Riley W. Evers.



AINLEY (deacon)

Although they have been associated with the church only a short time, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel G. Williams also have become active workers. Mr. Williams is deacon and teacher of the boys' class, while his wife is organizer of the Mothercraft Guild, a community child study group. Also prominent is Mrs. Viola Hitt, president of the Senior B. Y. P. U.

The Rev. Mr. Nelson, who came to Bethesda from the Alameda Baptist Church in Baltimore, where he also served as recording secretary of Maryland Baptist Union Association from 1932 to 1938, has taken a home at 4910 Moorland lane, with his wife and his 8-year-old son, John Raymond, jr.



HUNTER (school head)

He also has been a member of the State Mission Board of the association, president of the Baptist Ministers' Conference of Baltimore and vicinity, and teacher in the Washington Bible School for the past three years. He was graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and was ordained to the ministry by the Rivermont Avenue Baptist Church, Lynchburg, Va., in June, 1925.

He will preach tomorrow at 11 a. m. on "The Purpose in the Heart," and at 8 p. m. on "Benjamin, a Winner of Affection."

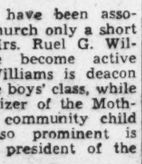
Etchison at Mt. Hermon

Page McK. Etchison, religious work director of the Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the morning service at the Mt. Hermon Presbyterian Church, Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Brooks to Speak

At services in Lincoln Congregational Temple tomorrow morning, Dr. R. W. Brooks will speak from the theme, "A Christianity Too Easy For Today."

Soulful Science of The Sikh Saviours
Humanity's Highest Ascended Masters
Life-instilling, soul-stirring Lecture-Lessons by Dr. Bhagat Singh Thind.
Beginning Sunday, Dec. 4th, 3 P. M.—"Just What Is God, Man, World and the Kingdom of Heaven Within."
8 P. M.—"How to Gain the Practical Realization of the Eternal, and Tune in With the Infinite."
CAIRO HOTEL, BALLROOM
Q at 16th Street
Two masterly lectures daily at 3 and 8 P. M. Daily Noon Hour Radiant Health Class 12 to 1.
Freely we give and Freely we receive. Truth cannot be sold.



Augustana Secretary to Preach Here

Two Officials in Town
Seek National Church
Confer With Locals

The Rev. Sigfrid Engstrom, of Des Moines, executive secretary of the Lutheran Augustana Synod of America, will be guest preacher tomorrow at morning worship of the Augustana Lutheran congregation in the auditorium of 2400 Sixteenth street northwest.

The service will be in charge of the pastor, Dr. Arthur O. Hjelm.

The Rev. Mr. Engstrom, who is also president of the Luther League of the Augustana Synod, has been conferring in Washington with Dr. P. O. Bersell, president of the Augustana Synod and with the local congregation about erection of a national Augustana church in Washington.

Reformation. At the 8 p. m. service, Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder, pastor, will conclude his series of sermons on themes suggested by the Oxford Group Movement, using for his subject, "Do Spiritual Superiority Complexes Promote Christian Democracy?"

The Rev. William Loew, assistant pastor, will begin a series of matin sermons, using for his theme, "Understanding the Dark."

"How the Kingdom Comes" is the topic selected by Dr. Backwelder for the 11 o'clock service.

Grace. Members and friends of the church are uniting in a "Loyalty" service at 11 a. m., at which time pledges and gifts will be made toward support of the work during 1939.

Leon Chatelain, jr., president of the congregation, will speak on "A Frank Statement of Our Needs."

The pastor will preach on "Loyalty—a Definition and a Challenge."

St. Mark's. The Rev. J. Luther Frantz will use as the sermon theme at the 11 o'clock service, "What Do We Get"

St. Paul's. Dr. Henry W. Snyder, pastor, will deliver a sermon tomorrow morning on the theme, "If Christ Came Today to Our Church." In the evening service Dr. Snyder's topic will be "Modern Daniels."

Georgetown. "The God of Hope" will be the subject at 11 a. m. of the Rev. Harold E. Beatty, pastor.

This church will conduct services at the National Lutheran Home for the Aged at 3 p. m.

Christ. Universal Bible Sunday will be observed in the morning. The Rev. J. Frederic Wenchel will speak on "The Claim of the Bible to Be the Word of God."

St. Stephen's. At the 11 a. m. service the Rev. Sam Kornmann will have for his sermon subject, "True Stewardship." At this service the men will be commissioned for the every-member visitation, which will take place in the afternoon.

Dr. John Rustin's Topic Is 'How Do Men Lose Faith?'

Dr. John W. Rustin, pastor of Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church, South, will preach at morning worship on "How Do Men Lose Faith?" His evening topic will be "Brushing Aside the Unessentials." Deane Shure will direct the choir in singing the morning anthem, "The Angels' Song," a seventeenth century Christmas carol; LaVergne Sims Fairchild, soprano, will sing the offertory solo.

The Young People's Chorus will sing at the evening service; Miss Elsie Sutter and Mrs. Hester Marston will sing "The Shepherd's Voice" as offertory duet. Representatives of the Younger Adult, Young Pople's and Senior departments will assist in the service.

The finance committee meeting and the regular monthly meeting of the board of stewards will be held Wednesday evening.

Francis Asbury. Dr. Robin Gould at 11 a. m. will give a brief Communion meditation and administer the Lord's Supper. At 8 p. m. he will preach on "A Neglected Law of Life."

Emory. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the morning. The Rev. Horace E. Cromer, minister, will use as the subject of his Communion meditation "The Road From Bethlehem." He will preach on "The Wind and the Sails" at the 8 o'clock service.

Christian Science Topic

"God, The Only Cause And Creator" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist tomorrow. The Golden Text is from Isaiah 43:15: "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King."

METHODIST EPISCOPAL SOUTH

MOUNT VERNON PLACE
SOUTHERN METHODISM'S REPRESENTATIVE CHURCH
Massachusetts Ave. at Ninth St. N.W.
9:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—"HOW DO MEN LOSE FAITH?"
8:00 p. m.—"BRUSHING ASIDE THE UNESSENTIALS."
DR. JOHN W. RUSTIN
7:30 p. m.—Organ Recital.

CONGREGATIONAL

1st CHURCH
10th and G Sts. N.W.
11:00 A. M.
Sermon by Mr. Anderson
"America for Me!"
A preview of testimony on next Tuesday before the Dies Committee.
7:45 P. M.
Drama-Picture Service
"SHOW BOAT"
Slide and story adaptation of powerful expose of gambling.
Song Service. Free.

CHRISTIAN

The National City Christian Church
Thomas Circle
Raphael H. Miller
Ivan H. Dugan, Ministers
9:45 a. m.—Bible School.
10:50 a. m.—Morning Worship. "Loyalty and Outlook." Dr. Miller.
7:45 p. m.—"The Bible—Its Fight to Survive." Mr. Dugan.

Rev. Mr. Jones To Leave for Md. Parish

REV. R. L. JONES

At St. Paul's Tomorrow
To Be Last Morning
Aide a Year and Half

Having accepted a call to Zion Parish, in nearby Fairland, Md., the Rev. Robert Lewis Jones, assistant pastor at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rock Creek Parish, will be there tomorrow for his last morning service.

Since he personally planned the entire program for evening Advent services, the rector, Dr. F. J. Bohanan, has arranged for him to conduct these rites during the rest of Advent.

The Rev. Mr. Jones was appointed to Rock Creek Parish July 1, 1937 while a deacon. Because of his excellent record he was ordained to the priesthood six months later by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington.

During his year and a half at Rock Creek, he has been adviser of the Young People's Fellowship, director of the church school and chairman of the directors of the Men's Club as well as assistant minister.

St. John's. The Rev. John Gillespie Magee, Yale, 1906, will speak at both the 9:30 and 11 a. m. services. The Rev. Mr. Magee has been in charge of the Episcopal Church in Nanking, China, and will describe his recent experiences there.

There will be celebrations of the Holy Communion at 8 and 11 a. m. The business and professional woman's group will have a corporate Communion at the 8 o'clock celebration.

Epiphany. Tomorrow being the second Sunday in Advent, the church school will meet at 9:30, and at 11 o'clock there will be a choral celebration of Communion with a sermon by the Rev. Z. B. Phillips, who is giving a course of sermons on "The Opportunities of Life in Our Present Day Civilization." His special theme for tomorrow will be "God's Revelation to Man in the Bible."

At 8 o'clock there will be evening prayer and sermon by the Rev. Duncan Fraser.

St. Paul's In the morning the rector, the Rev. Arlington A. McCallum, will continue his series of Advent sermons on "Our God Is Marching On." The subject is, "God Marches Through the Pages of the Bible to You and Me."

All Saints. The Rev. Henry Teller Cocke will preside at 7:30 a. m. Holy Communion. At 11 o'clock the speaker will be Dr. G. Freeland Peter on "The World's Greatest Book."

Our Savior. At 7:30 a. m. there will be Holy Communion.

At 11 a. m. there will be a second celebration of Holy Communion, with the rector, the Rev. Alvin Lamar Wills speaking on "Preparing Ourselves for the Advent of Christ Through a Renewed Hope."

UNITARIAN

ALL SOULS' CHURCH
Sixteenth and Harvard Streets
Minister:
Ulysses C. B. Pierce, D.D.
9:45 a. m.—Church School.
11:00 a. m.—Morning Worship.
"THE STAIN OF THE WORLD"
5:00 p. m.—Program of Kars-Ekert Music.
5:30 p. m.—Travel Chat. Mrs. George Zook.
7:30 p. m.—Motion Picture Hour. "Yellow Jack."

LUTHERAN

CHURCH OF THE REFORMATION
Opposite Folger-Shakespeare Library
212 East Capitol Street.
Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder, Pastor.
Dr. John Weidley, Pastor Emeritus.
Rev. Ralph W. Loew, Assistant Pastor.
8:30 A. M.—Matin Service. Sermon—"Understanding the Dark"—Rev. Loew.
9:30 A. M.—Sunday School.
11:00 A. M.—Morning Worship. Sermon—"How the Kingdom Comes."—Dr. Blackwelder.
6:45 P. M.—Luther Leagues.
8:00 P. M.—Evening Worship. Sermon—"Do Spiritual Superiority Complexes Promote Christian Democracy?"—Dr. Blackwelder.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

• Christian Science •
Churches of Christ, Scientist, Branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
First Church of Christ, Scientist
Columbia Rd. and Euclid St.
Second Church of Christ, Scientist
111 C St. N.E.
Third Church of Christ, Scientist
13th and L Sts. N.W.
Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist
16th and Meridian Sts. N.W.
SUBJECT:
"God the Only Cause and Creator"
SERVICES:
SUNDAY, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
SUNDAY SCHOOL, 11 a. m.
WEDNESDAY EVENING MEETINGS, 8 o'clock.
Radio Programs
Sunday—9 A. M., WJSV
2nd & 4th Fridays—12:30 P. M., WRC
READING ROOMS
FIRST CHURCH, 730 17th St. N.W.—Hours, 9 to 9, except Wednesdays, 9 to 7 and Sundays and holidays, 2:30 to 5:30.
SECOND CHURCH, 111 C St. N.E.—Hours, 12 to 5:30 week days; 2:30 to 9:30 Sundays and holidays.
THIRD CHURCH, Colorado Building, 14th and G Sts. Hours, 9 to 5 (except Wednesdays, 9 to 7:30; Sundays and holidays, 2 to 6.
FOURTH CHURCH, Riggs Bank Bldg., 3300 14th St. N.W.—Hours, 9 to 5 weekdays; Wednesdays, 9:30 to 7; Sundays, 2:30 to 5:30; holidays, 2:30 to 5:30. All are welcome to attend our church services and use our reading rooms.

Chevy Chase Baptists Mark 15th Birthday

Special Rites Tomorrow
Others Set Thursday
Organized Dec. 6, 1923

Chevy Chase Baptist Church, founded 15 years ago, will celebrate its anniversary in special services tomorrow and Thursday evening. The 28 members who met at the home of Mrs. William D. Henry on December 6, 1923, to establish the church, will be special guests of honor.

Of the 28 charter members, the following are still members: Mrs. William D. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes, Mr. George F. Gravatt, Mrs. Flourney Menefee, Mr. Robert G. Menefee, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Forbes, Miss Mary Forbes, Miss Maude Forbes, Mr. Edward Forbes, Mr. Kenneth B. Forbes, Mr. G. B. Likens, Mr. and Mrs. Adon Phillips, Mrs. Arthur A. Smith, Mrs. Rufus Walters, Mr. and Mrs. LaMont A. Williams.

For two years services were held in the music hall of the Chevy Chase Theater. The Rev. O. Clark, formerly chaplain of the Seventy-fourth Artillery, C. A. C., was called to the church in June, 1924. The present church edifice was built in 1925 and the first service held Christmas morning, December 25, 1925. The membership is now 400.

At morning worship the Rev. Mr Clark will speak on "Building For Eternity."

In the evening service, at 8 p. m., Gratz E. Dunkum, former moderator of the Columbia Baptist Convention, will speak.

First. Exercises celebrating completion by Dr. Erward Hughes Pruden of two years service as pastor of this church, during which time more than 400 new members have enrolled, will be held tomorrow morning.

Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, executive secretary of the Baptist Convention of the District of Columbia, who served as pastor of the church preceding Dr. Pruden, will extend greetings. Dr. Pruden will take as his morning subject, "Expression of Gratitude."

Takoma Park. The Rev. E. La Rue will speak in the morning on "The Interpretation of Duty," followed by Communion and reception of new members.

At the evening hour the monthly songfest will be held, led by members of the choir and chorus and followed with refreshments.

Metropolitan. In the morning Dr John Compton Ball will begin a series of Christmas sermons with "Remembering Jesus."

At the evening hour the Rev. Robert Savage will bring the message on "God's Conservation Program."

Calvary. The Rev. W. S. Abernathy, pastor, will preach in the morning on, "The Day of Unrest" Communion will follow. At the evening service young people's night will be observed, with Robert Sammons speaking on, "Inconclusive Thinking." He will be assisted by Miss Laura Hughes, Terry Coleman and Robert Gasser.

West Washington. The Rev. Charles B. Austin, pastor will preach at 11 a. m. on "We Thank Thee, O God for John Three-Sixteen," and at 8 p. m. on "The American Home."

Fifth. Dr. John E. Briggs will speak at 11 a. m. on "A Noble Incentive," and at 7:45 p. m. on "Salute No Man on The Way."

Italian. The Rev. M. C. Marseglia will preach at 10:45 a. m. on "Ruin and Redemption." Holy Communion will be observed at this service.

Episcopal

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH
23rd S. Near Washington Circle
7:30—Holy Communion.
11:00—Eucharist and Sermon.
8:00—Evensong and Benediction.

Rock Creek Church
Founded A. D. 1719
Rock Creek Church Rd. and Webster St.
Rev. F. J. Bohanan, D. D., Rector
Service 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m.

Washington Cathedral
Wisconsin and Massachusetts Avenues and Woodley Road.
7:30 and 9:30 a. m.—Holy Communion.
11 a. m.—Holy Communion and Sermon. Preacher, Canon Stokes.
4:00 p. m.—People's Evensong and Sermon.
Preacher, The Bishop of Washington.

SAINT JOHN'S CHURCH
16th and H Sts. N.W.
8:00 A. M.—Holy Communion.
9:30 A. M.—Morning Prayer and Sermon. Preacher, Rev. Mr. Magee.
11:00 A. M.—Holy Communion and Sermon. Preacher, Rev. Mr. Magee.
8:00 P. M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon. Preacher, Rev. Mr. White.

Church of the Epiphany
1317 G St. N.W.
Rev. Z. B. Phillips, D.D., LL.D.
Rev. Duncan Fraser, B.A.
8:00 a. m.—Holy Communion.
9:30 a. m.—Holy Communion for Church School.
11:00 a. m.—Holy Communion and Sermon by Dr. Phillips.
6:30 p. m.—Young People's Fellowship.
8:00 p. m.—Evening Prayer and Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Fraser.

Dr. J. H. Willey Will Be Guest At Foundry

Of Lord's Day Alliance
Observes Jubilee
Was Organized Here

"Listen to the Cross" is the subject chosen by Dr. Frederick Brown Harris for his sermon at 11 o'clock tomorrow. The organist and choir will render selections from "The Messiah," by Handel.

Dr. John H. Willey, president of the Lord's Day Alliance of the United States, will speak at the evening service in observance of the golden jubilee of the organization of the alliance in old Foundry Church, which stood at Fourteenth and G streets.

Hamline. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at 11 o'clock. A brief Communion meditation will be given by the minister, Dr. H. W. Burgan. At 8 p. m. the Hamline Choir, under direction of John H. Marville, with Lyman J. McCrary as guest organist, will furnish a special musical program.

Eldbrook. "Bread in the Wilderness" will be the subject of Dr. Walter M. Michael at morning worship.

At the evening service the pastor will preach on "Worthwhile Discipleship."

Wesley. At 11 o'clock the Rev. J. Luther Neff will give a Communion address.

Metropolitan Memorial. The first of a series of pre-Christmas sermons on "Advent Attitudes" will be delivered at the 11 o'clock service, by the Rev. William Andrew Keese. The theme will be "Mary."

Chevy Chase. The Rev. Edward Gardner Latch will begin a series of Christmas sermons with, "The Christmas Commitment."

Petworth. At the 11 o'clock service Dr. Frank Steelman will preach on "The Christian Mystery." It will be "young people's night" at 8 o'clock. Gene Otto and Beth King will lead a song service. Dr. Steelman will preach on "The Great Conqueror."

Union. Dr. John R. Edwards, pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. on "A Picture of God" and at 8 p. m. on "The Disciples Enter College."

Trinity. "The Deepening of Life" will be the sermon subject of Dr. Dan L. Ennis' Communion sermon at 11 a. m. Maud Hallerman and Jack Yost will assist him.

UNIVERSALIST

Universalist National Memorial Church
Corner 16th and S Sts. N.W.
Rev. Frederic W. Perkins, D. D.
10:00—Church School and Adult Forum.
11:00—Service of Worship.
"OVERCOMING THE WORLD"
National Capital Choir,
Jessie Masters, Director,
H. Jerome Graham, Organist.

BAPTIST

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
16th and O Sts. N.W.
Rev. Edward Hughes Pruden, D. D., Pastor.
11 a. m.—"Expression of Gratitude."
8 p. m.—Pageant: "The Christmas Story in Song and Drama." (Presented by the Volunteers of America.)
Come to Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.! B. Y. P. U., 6:45 p. m.

Presbyterian

Church of the Pilgrims
On the Parkway
at 22d and P Sts. N.W.
Gift of the Presbyterians of the South to the Nation's Capital.
Rev. A. R. Bird, D. D., Minister
Divine Worship, 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.
A Cordial Welcome to All

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN
Southern General Assembly
19th and Irving Sts. N.W.
Rev. James H. Taylor, D. D., Pastor
9:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—Sermon by Dr. Taylor.
5:00 p. m.—Westminster League.
7:00 p. m.—Christian Endeavor.
8:00 p. m.—Sermon by Dr. H. L. Bowlby.

NEW YORK AVENUE CHURCH
13th & H & N. Y. Avenue
Ministers
Dr. Peter Marshall
Dr. Albert Evans
9:30 A. M.—Church Bible School.
11:00 A. M.—"AN OLD SUBSCRIPTION LIST."
6:45 P. M.—Christian Endeavor Society.
8:00 P. M.—"HOW TO BE SURE OF GOD."
Dr. Marshall preaching.

SHERWOOD
Rhode Island Ave. at 22d St. N.E.
THOMAS LAW COYLE, Minister
3 Church Services Each Sunday 8:50 A.M., 11 A.M. & 8 P.M.
Sunday School 9:45 A.M.

COVENANT-FIRST
Conn. Ave. at 18th & N Sts. N.W.
Albert Joseph McCartney, D.D.
Rev. Samuel R. Allison
Rev. Irving W. Ketchum
Ministers
Morning Worship—11:00 A. M.
"Beyond Victory"
Dr. McCartney Preaching
Sunday School for all departments at 9:45 a. m.

3 ROWS OF TWELVE
$45
Smart! Set with 3 rows of 12 diamonds each!
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

BULOVA KIRKWOOD
$23.75
17-jewel movement with the Ross Watch Service Bond!
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

THE ELGIN CLASSIC
$27.50
Dainty — exquisite — natural gold color! Jeweled movement.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

FIVE DIAMONDS
$100
She will thrill with the beauty of this solid gold exclusive creation.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

DEFERRED PAYMENTS . . . . . WITHOUT AN EXTRA CHARGE

SOLID GOLD SOLITAIRE
$50
Neat, plain, simple! Lovely engraved solitaire diamond setting.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

HEART LOCKET
$5
Beautifully engraved, with a dainty rope chain.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

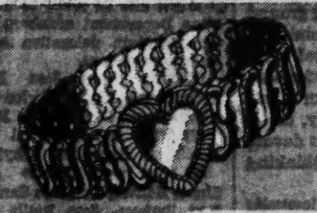
KREMENTZ JEWELRY
$10
Includes knife, chain, collar pin and tie holder. Pigskin case!
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

GIVE THE EVERLASTING GIFT . . . . . JEWELRY

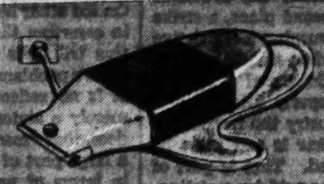
GIFTS

ENGRAVED CROSS
$2.50
Makes a very smart gift. See our complete selection.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

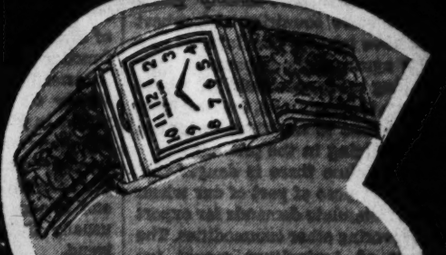
DOUBLE HEAD CAMEO
$20
Carved, solid gold, with a genuine hand-fashioned tiger-eye cameo.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS



LOCKET BRACELET
$5.50
Expands to fit your wrist—locket center opens for photo.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS



RAND SHAVER
$9.50
Made by the makers of the famous Remington-Rand Shaver.
DEFERRED PAYMENTS



THE HAMILTON CONTOUR
$52.50
Fits the wrist in any position! 17 jewels, natural gold-filled case!
DEFERRED PAYMENTS

This Christmas

ROSS
1331 F STREET
JEWELERS OPTICIANS

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office.

An Independent Newspaper.
(Published every day in the year.)

Eugene Meyer, Publisher.
Floyd R. Harrison, Comptroller.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

New York Office..... 270 Madison Avenue
Chicago Office..... 360 North Michigan Avenue

DELIVERED IN WASHINGTON
Daily, Sunday, 1 yr...$7.80 Daily, Sunday, 1 week..15c
Daily only, 1 yr..... 5.20 Daily only, 1 week.....10c
Sunday only, 1 yr..... 2.60 Sunday only, per copy.. 5c

BY MAIL—MARYLAND, VIRGINIA, WEST VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year...$9.00	One year....$4.00	One year....$6.00
Six months.. 5.00	Six months... 2.00	Six months.. 3.50
One month.. 85c	One month... 40c	One month.. 60c

OTHER STATES, MEXICO AND CANADA

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year..$11.00	One year ... $4.50	One year....$7.50
Six months 6.00	Six months .. 2.50	Six months.. 4.00
One month 1.00	One month ... 45c	One month 70c

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.
Entered at the Postoffice Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

TELEPHONE NATIONAL 4200.

Saturday, December 3, 1938.

Wheat Subsidies

As the Department of Agriculture announced the subsidized sale of 20,000,000 bushels of wheat to the United Kingdom, Secretary Wallace was expressing his dislike for export subsidies. "Ordinarily," Mr. Wallace told the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, "it doesn't make very good sense to send farm labor and soil fertility to foreign consumers at give-away prices while at the same time we charge our own people prices which are two or three times as high."

The Secretary might also have said that it does not make good sense to raise farm prices by curtailment of crops and then to subsidize exports because domestic prices are too high to permit a natural flow of commodities to foreign markets. It should be recognized, however, that export subsidies are not an integral part of the AAA system. That method has been adopted as an expedient to keep American wheat from being entirely squeezed out of the world market.

Other wheat-exporting nations began the uneconomic practice of dumping their surpluses abroad. The Department of Agriculture joined in this trade war reluctantly because the payment of bounties on foreign sales seemed to offer the only means of keeping for this country a "fair share" of the world's wheat export markets. So this vicious practice has become general. And as a result taxpayers in the wheat-exporting countries are helping to pay the bread bills of many foreign consumers.

Participation in such an irrational scramble for markets can be justified only if it leads to some agreement among the export-subsidizing nations. Fortunately an accord of this sort now seems to be in prospect. Since the United States began to play the export-subsidy game, some of the other countries with wheat surpluses have taken a new interest in a stabilizing agreement. Apparently they are beginning to see, as should have been evident from the beginning, that dumping ultimately works to the disadvantage of all those indulging in the practice.

In the meantime there is danger that this effort to dispose of part of our wheat surplus will stimulate demands for export subsidies favoring other commodities. The Department of Agriculture cannot too frequently emphasize the emergency nature of the subsidies now stimulating the flow of wheat into foreign markets.

Tragedy Fosters Safety

The ghastly accident near Salt Lake City centers attention once more upon the hazards of grade crossings. Many of the States have passed drastic laws to govern the movement of motor vehicles over railway tracks. But this tragedy offers ample proof of the fact that such precautions are not enough. The bus driver is reported to have stopped, presumably in accord with the State law, before driving directly into the path of the onrushing freight train at a cost of more than a score of lives.

Apparently needless human slaughter of this sort can be prevented only by the elimination of highway and railroad grade crossings. Since this collision took place on a little-used crossing, it might not have been prevented by even the most extensive program of grade separations. Nevertheless, it graphically illustrates the dangers that lurk in every juncture of steel rails and motor highways.

Following the collision in which 14 school children lost their lives at a Rockville crossing a few years ago a major campaign for elimination of grade crossings was inaugurated. A fund of $200,000,000 was allocated to this cause under the work-relief program of 1935. As a result 1,913 crossings have been eliminated, 364 grade-separation structures reconstructed and 888 crossings protected by signals. Projects involving 116 crossing eliminations and numerous other safety improvements are still under construction.

Impressed by the need for continuation of this desirable work, Congress appropriated $50,000,000 for that purpose in both 1938 and 1939. Thus additional projects eliminating nearly 250 grade crossings have either been completed or are in the process of construction. Many others have been approved. Assurance has been given, moreover, that the program will be extended through 1940-41 with additional appropriations.

This work has been carried on quietly by State highway departments under supervision of the Bureau of Public Roads. Although wanting in sensational appeal, it represents a very substantial achievement. Where there is a failure of the human element under unusual circumstances tragedies like that in Utah may continue to occur. But it may reasonably be taken for granted that the Government's grade-crossing program has already saved more lives than that collision destroyed.

Striking Civil Servants

As a sequel to the abortive general strike of last Wednesday the Daladier government is suspending, or dismissing from the service of the French Republic, a number of civil servants who participated in this revolutionary attack on its authority. Some private employers are similarly locking out those of their workers who voluntarily quit employment at the instigation of the General Confederation of Labor.

So far as the employes of the government are concerned these reprisals are not merely justified, but essential. The private employers of France would be well advised to show magnanimity toward the misguided minority of workers who sought to paralyze the nation as an act of coercion against legally constituted authority. But for the government it would be a sign of weakness, not strength, to be unduly tolerant toward those who are clearly guilty of a form of treason.

Everyone knows what would happen to employes of the Russian, the German or the Italian governments who might dare to participate in any mass demonstration against the policies of their respective dictatorships. They would, unquestionably, be shot down in batches. Democracies are more humane and easy-going. But because retention of power by a democratic government depends on the will of the majority is no reason why such a government should abjectly submit to attempts at sabotage by its own employes.

The issue of the rebellious civil servant is comparatively new and is not confined to France. With the rapid extension of governmental functions, particularly in the field of technical services, many persons have become servants of the state without adequately realizing the essential distinction between public and private employment.

In government service, of course, the strike is a completely inadmissible activity, whether it be directed against conditions of employment or larger governmental policies.

In the first case, the agencies against which the strike is directed are usually without power to remedy the protested conditions. In the second place, a strike of civil servants is usurping a legislative function and is therefore clearly a revolutionary action. Compared with the liberty of action properly allowed employes in private industry the freedom of the government worker is and must be severely circumscribed. That is part of the price which is to be paid for socialism, and is one reason why real liberals are usually dubious about the socialization trend.

As a matter of policy there should be no penalization of those trade unionists who participated in Wednesday's strike. Their action was injudicious and was playing the game of the Communists who have been seeking to capture control in France. But for free trade unionists the right to strike is an established prerogative which cannot be questioned.

Government employes, whether they be soldiers, postmen, clerks, railroad workers or whatnot, have no such prerogative. When they strike they attack the government which they are sworn to uphold. No government can possibly regard such an attack with indifference, whether or not there is legislation on the statute books specifically forbidding activities which are illegal from the very nature of state employment. Premier Daladier prescribes a mild penalty when he expels from state service those who have so clearly demonstrated their unfitness for that responsibility.

They Won't Be Rapid

In an address before a group of New York bankers Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board advises against too rapid reductions in the scale of Government spending. With an extensive rearmament program ahead, and millions of unemployed still on work relief rolls, Mr. Eccles need have no fear that deficit financing will soon be abandoned. The major task now confronting the Administration is to keep expenditures low enough to avoid equaling or exceeding the alarmingly large deficit anticipated for the current fiscal year.

Opponents of rational economies in governmental outlays will doubtless derive great satisfaction from Mr. Eccles' inopportune spending appeal. The head of the Federal Reserve system is a strong believer in the doctrine that deficit financing practiced on a generous scale for a sufficiently long period can be depended upon to raise the national income to a level at which the budget can be painlessly balanced.

But in the ninth year of deficit financing, when we are experiencing a partial recovery from the severe business recession of last year, there is good reason to feel skeptical as to the validity of this theory. And skepticism is not lessened by a survey of the scene in France, where a very similar theory has had free rein.

In Defense Of Mr. Smith

When Congress reassembles, the National Labor Relations Board is certain to be subjected to a barrage of hostile criticism, accompanied by demands for radical revision of the act which it administers. For that reason, if for no other, it would seem wise for Edwin S. Smith, as a member of the NLRB, to pull his punches instead of denouncing employers who fail to co-operate, expressing doubts about the judicial impartiality of the courts and attacking State legislation affecting labor unions. However, a man who has the courage to express his convictions even when the political weather is stormy is worthy of the admiration of those who may differ strongly with him on questions of policy.

Moreover, Mr. Smith's addresses delivered last September in Mexico City and this week before the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work are by no means the intolerant, injudicious utterances that they have been represented as being. They have to be read in their entirety to appreciate the injustice that is done the speaker by excerpting a few of his more striking utterances for quotation.

Mr. Smith is undoubtedly obsessed by the idea that the majority of employers who criticize the Wagner act in its present form secretly desire to destroy the system of collective bargaining which it aims to establish. He seems convinced that the NLRB is the victim of an employers' cabal to poison the mind of the community against labor unions and against the board which is trying to help them to maintain their organizations.

But apart from this disposition to regard himself and his colleagues as martyrs, Mr. Smith has not, in these public addresses, been as unsparing in his attacks or as oblivious to the shortcomings of organized labor as reporters have made him seem to be. For instance, while he criticized an Oregon law which, he says, has put the labor movement in that State "in shackles," he also admits that the people of Oregon had good reason to feel exasperated by the tactics employed by the local labor organizations. "These have to do," he said, "with violence indulged in by labor leaders against nonmembers of unions and more particularly with the large-scale attempt by rival labor organizations to make the employer the victim of their internecine quarrels."

Since Mr. Smith so clearly perceives the unhappy position in which employers are sometimes placed by factional disputes, it is surprising that he should feel so satisfied with the Wagner act in its present form and so adamant in his opposition to suggestions for its amendment. On the other hand, he is on strong ground in asserting that specialized administrative tribunals are needed to deal with labor's problems in a sympathetic fashion. It is no reflection upon the courts but merely a statement of fact to say, as he does, that "members of the courts devote a large part of their energies to thinking in terms of property rights."

That is the subject of most lawsuits which the courts adjudicate, and it undoubtedly results in a method of procedure not suited to dealing with many regulatory problems now entrusted to administrative agencies.

Good Old Standby

The weather is one of many subjects which is not clarified by discussion. Yet it is only the weather's unreliability that makes it interesting. When it promises and fails to perform the conversational gambits are numerous as raindrops. If they lead to nothing, what of it?

Being unreliable, the weather has all the charm of perpetual surprise. Thus we get the pleasing information that the snow which recently clothed the countryside in white also reduced the number of automobile fatalities. People simply couldn't get out for their Sunday drives. One might improve on the point by remarking that during the cold snap there were no drownings at Chesapeake Bay resorts because nobody cared to go swimming. It may be, also, that there are hunters who failed to pot each other because one may not shoot rabbits when there is snow on the ground.

At that we may have a mild winter. This may be deduced from the fact that Mother Nature has not put out much provender for the birds. The holly trees and the cedars are almost destitute of berries.

And in the meantime, in the astounding absence of the goosebone prophet, one has to rely on Old Prob: Tomorrow rising or falling temperature; probably wet or dry.

"The fear is expressed that the King might acquire bits of American slang upon his visit to the United States."—London paper. It takes an Englishman three years to understand American slang and seven years to learn to speak it.

We wish each person who uses the word "ideology" had to stand on one foot till he could give a clear definition of it.

An American can economize if he has to, but he figures he doesn't have to till he runs out of money and credit.

Thanks For A Swell Alibi!

Letters to the Editor

All communications must carry the writer's name and address, though pen names are permitted at the Editor's discretion. In fairness to other correspondents, brevity is requested. Letters are subject to condensation.

Information, Please!

To the Editor of The Post—Sir:
I understand that we are to have an interdepartmental committee on co-operation with the American republics, to be composed of Sumner Welles, Secretaries Ickes, Wallace, Roper and Perkins, Frank McNinch, Lowell Mellett, and a number of other high Government officials.

In view of the importance and delicacy of their task I suggest that the members of the committee be required to submit to a civil service examination designed to test their familiarity with Latin-American affairs and culture. I propose the following examination, from which Sumner Welles should be excused. It might also be given to the non-State Department members of the Pan-American delegation now on their way to Peru.

(1) Who were Jose Enrique Rodo, Charles Finlay, Carlos Gomes, Ruben Dario, Jose Toribio Medina?

(2) What is the capital of the Dominican Republic? Why?

(3) Who were Benito Juarez, Simon Bolivar, Domingo Sarmiento, Ruy Barbosa, Jose Batlle y Ordonez?

(4) What Latin-American country produces most of the following: Cotton, tin, copper, cacao, petroleum, linseed, hogs, diamonds, silver?

(5) In what Latin-American countries is the population predominantly of Indian blood?

(6) What is the most numerous foreign element in the following Latin-American cities: Sao Paulo, Porto Alegre, Antofagasta, Havana, Valdivia?

(7) What are these: "La Prensa," Chichen Itza, Scadta, Quichua, "Casa Grace," "Il Guarany," Apra?

(8) What is the meaning of these words: Vecino, voluntad, trabajo, convenio, encargado de negocios, deuda, biblioteca, libreria, hoy, cuadro, salud, hacienda, huevos fritos?

(9) Who are the following: Jose Felix Estigaribia, Diego Rivera, Arturo Alessandri, Roberto M. Ortiz, Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, Gustavo Ross, Vicente Lombardo Toledano?

(10) Leaving Mollendo, Peru, what is the farthest point to which a traveler could go by rail? The boat trip across Lake Titicaca is included in the itinerary.

Seventy is a passing grade. Veterans may add 5 points, and, if disabled 10. GRINGO.
Washington, Dec. 2.

Wants Gold Confiscated

To the Editor of The Post—Sir:
I have lived in the principal cities in every country on the globe and know what the people think of us Americans. They think we are a nation of bluffs. I am beginning to believe they are quite right. We have allowed those Japanese to insult us and chase us out of China. And now we let Mussolini and Hitler threaten us. We plead with all those countries to please pay us a little of what they owe us. Why not confiscate the gold those debtor nations sent over here for protection? Possession is nine-tenths of the law. Is America game to take what belongs to her?

I would suggest we stop quarreling among ourselves; forget all politics; chase every darn foreigner who cannot show citizenship papers back to his own country. This will give several million Americans jobs which belong to them. Disband all so-called peace organizations, and all Nazi and Fascist clubs. When this is done, perhaps we who love America can live here and call it our country again.

100 PER CENT AMERICAN.
Washington, Nov. 28.

Plea For Socialism

To the Editor of The Post—Sir:
Mr. E. K. Goldsborough claims that Utopia cannot be established through legislation. The United States has long had a Utopia for the benefit of the few and can obtain it for the many, not by subsidizing capitalism as have the New Deal and Old Deal, but by establishing a New Deck which would socialize the large aggregations of land and capital, as advocated by English, Scandinavian and American Socialists.

Fred Henderson in his book the "Case for Socialism" explains the proper procedure. Mr. Henderson has had much experience in the London County Council and the British Parliament.

When railroads, merchant marine lines and banks fail, they should be immediately socialized, instead of being subsidized at the expense of the taxpayer. Subsidization will bring on fascism in any other country, because it makes the middle class desperate by the high taxes necessary to support and regulate private ownership. Socialization would result in an eventual reduction of taxation by elimination of high unearned salaries at the top of the corporations and the bonuses often paid without reason to the few powerful officials. Bonuses caused by high production should be divided among the workers, thus increasing real purchasing power in the Nation at large.

By subsidizing profits for the few, the New Deal antagonizes the many and fails to convert the few who never did have any appreciation for Government support and subsidies, taking all favors "for granted."

It is likewise impossible for the profit system to endure and still pay permanent high wages to the workers. Mr. William Green recently stated that $4,000 annually could be given each family and still industry could pay high salaries to executives. That is only true as respects a few large monopolistic industries, or those tending toward monopoly. The many small businesses can never do that under this system. In either case all profits would have to be abolished.

S. R. RANDELL.
Washington, Nov. 24.

Bargain Taxi Fares

To the Editor of The Post—Sir:
Referring to your editorial of November 26 on Taxicab Limitations, taxis under present rates are busily engaged during rush hours and stormy weather, but at other times are largely employed in waiting or coasting about with empty cabs.

If a lower schedule of prices was authorized for that part of the day, when, under present arrangements, comparatively few fares are collected, a very substantial amount might be added to the present income of the taxis. By slight reductions in prices stores are frequently filled with customers when there would be little or nothing doing at regular prices.

By the same methods theaters are often fairly well filled before the noon hour. If slack time can be turned into profitable periods by stores and theaters why wouldn't the same methods give the taxicabs additional income? Possibly more than enough to cover the cost of compulsory liability insurance could be realized by slightly reduced fares during the duller hours of the day. H. SMITH.
Washington, Nov. 28.

Minority Of Our Own

To the Editor of The Post—Sir:
I have read in your paper the eloquent statement of the President concerning the deplorable situation of the Jew in Germany and of the ruthless oppression of the Jewish minority in that country, not to mention the destruction of property and the seizure of what they have earned.

But right here in the United States we have a similar minority problem, only differing in degree. In this country we have many Negroes who are deprived of equal opportunity to earn a livelihood commensurate with their education and capacity and experience.

We often hear the statement that American Negroes receive from the national economy in proportion to their contribution to that economy. Such an argument is vicious, for it is based on the premise that the American Negro is given equal opportunity with all others. This is not so. Everyone within their knowledge knows of instances, even in the Government service, where Negroes have been denied equal opportunity.

The American Negro has made progress and is making progress but he is denied the opportunity to reach the high estate reached by the Jew in Germany. His position in the United States today is little better than that of the Jew in Germany today. Certainly the position of the American Negro in the economic life of the United States is not to be compared with the position, let us say, of the Jewish minority in this country.

If the United States is to become the protector of minorities, then I only ask that American minorities be protected first. We have a problem right here at home that begs for solution.

GEORGE SMITHSON.
Washington, Nov. 16.

The Monroe Doctrine

To the Editor of The Post—Sir:
Much has been said and written on the Monroe Doctrine recently. Mr. Folliard's article in your issue of Sunday, November 27, is the best and most complete appraisement of the doctrine that has been set forth.

There might be added the instance in 1895 when Great Britain was preparing to appropriate a tract of land in Venezuela and Mr. Cleveland promptly gave the English to understand it was in violation of the Monroe Doctrine. In 1902 Germany sent warships and blockaded the Venezuelan coasts, and was seeking to acquire a Venezuelan coast island when President Theodore Roosevelt, after some discussion and delay on the part of the German Ambassador, gave them 24 hours for the removal of the warships. At the same time, the President ordered Admiral Dewey to assemble the Navy and equip the fleet. The German ships were removed.

Mr. Folliard might well emphasize the fact that the Monroe Doctrine has nothing whatever to do with the relations between the United States and the other countries of the Western Hemisphere. All efforts that have been or that may be exercised by the United States under the doctrine have been and will be considered by us "as dangerous to our peace and safety." This Government would not go as an ally in resisting the establishment of a foreign nation in any country on this hemisphere, but in its own behalf and in the same capacity in which we went into the World War.

J. W. THOMPSON.
Washington, Nov. 30, 1938.

The Post Impressionist

Willoughby

UNIQUE IN my experience of office boys was Willoughby. I met him while working in a Boston insurance broker's office, some years ago, and he stands forever in my memory as a genus by himself.

Willoughby was 6 feet tall and spare. He had broad, sharp shoulders, a lean razor-edged face that cut into the air when he talked, and an unruly wisp of hair from his sandy shock that stuck usually in his right eye. When he walked, it was with a backward tilt from the waist up that threw his tangent gaze far outward on the blue. This he explained was because his back was so very, very straight. "I was sent to a military academy," he said, sawing the air with that face of his, ". . . most fashionable academy in Massachusettts . . . best school in the country." We were to hear much about the military academy. In time it became the best in the world, and would not have stopped there if Willoughby had known then, as we do now, that there are military schools on other planets.

His mother had raised him, he said to be a gentleman. And Willoughby passed on to the half dozen girls in the office certain hard, uncompromising notions entertained by his mother of what it is to be a lady. He knew every quality and attribute, and we lacked them all. In the first place, a lady never—well, hardly ever—worked for a living, and so we started with two strikes against us. Willoughby's mother was herself the rare exception, but she held the ladylike position of companion to a dotard, and of course she was forced to it by reverses in the family fortune. "You see, my dad," Willoughby explained, simply enough, "ran away with a low woman." It was an ill wind, but it blew us Willoughby.

And then, he had a manner of standing when listening, or when looking at a woman, that was peculiarly his own. He would stare with his head cocked to one side, and his body, perfectly stiff, would take on a sidewise as well as a backward list. Inordinately fond of looking at women, he would often stop on street corners just to watch them passing . . . and then come back to tell us how few ladies one saw upon the streets in those evil days, especially in the business world.

He strayed far afield in his search, and sometimes wandered into the shopping district just to stand at some busy street corner and stare at the female shoppers. We learned about that from Mr. Geddys, the automobile agent next door, who stepped into the office one afternoon. "Say," he bellowed, "I just saw that boy of yours up on the corner of Boylston and Tremont streets. He was standing there lookin' kinda like he was in a trance. Does he have bats in his belfry?" "No," Albert the bookkeeper lifted his long English nose from his books to answer, "there's no room for bats. Willie's belfry is full of a military school, and a design for a lady."

Nothing, alas! could make gentlewomen of us. We were condemned by Willoughby to wander forever in the misty flats of our lowborn condition. And somehow we bore it with a beautiful stoicism. That is, we all bore up, except Francine, the bookkeeper's clerk, whom the men called Babe. The dimpled Babe had eyes that never could behave, and an even row of perfect pearls dazzled in her smile. The older men were fond of telling her there never was such another pair of dimples since Lillian Russell was in the heyday of her glory.

But what did Willoughby ever tell her? Only that her features were too blunt, a bad sign—that her hands and feet were too big—an unmistakable sign of her ungentle birth; and he therefore could entertain no doubt of the fact that her ancestors were peasants. This from Willoughby, when all the other men in the building went sighing by the open door, thrilled by the mascara that trembled on her lashes. In fact, it got so bad—but how we lost the Babe is quite another story.

I must admit that in spite of a deficient humorous philosophy, Babe was slow to anger. But once her Slavic wrath was kindled it burned with a hot and sudden flame. When one day Willoughby went so far as to call her cheap and common, dangerous flecks of light appeared in her bonny gray eyes. The word, I think that threw her finally was "trash." This was too much, even from a crackpot.

She almost leaped over the desk in her fury. "I'm gonna get the gun in the boss' desk and shoot you! and she went after it, and came tearing through the office waving the revolver in her hand, and giving us hardly time to jump behind her. She chased a blanched and distraught Willoughby round the room and out into the corridor. He ran squealing: "Don't point that thing at me. Babe, I didn't mean it. Honest. I didn't mean it; you're not cheap trash!" The phone rang, and Albert raised his quiet voice above the din: "It's J. M. (the boss); he'll be here in ten minutes. Better put that gun back in his desk, Babe!"

On one memorable and particularly warm day, J. M. was in an exasperated mood. "Where's that boy?" he shouted. "I sent him to the postoffice two hours ago. It's already 4 o'clock! What happens to him when he goes out!"

Another hour ticked itself into oblivion, and Mr. Geddys stomped into the room with a look on his face that was part wrathful indignation and the rest bafflement. He appealed to us all: "Will somebody in here tell me what is the matter with that crazy galoot of yours? He's standing way up on Copley Square staring into the faces of all the women. When they pass him he leans over and peeps under the brims of their hats." J. M. had risen and the red splotches were beginning to appear on his speeches face. "I wouldn't give two whoops in hell myself," continued Geddys, "but he did it to my lady friend, and she walloped him!"

Then it was, I am grieved to report, that we lost Willoughby.

ESTHER OBER.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

Mr. Ickes For Mayor

IN THE CURRENT "Who's Who" Harold L. Ickes gives his residence as Winnetka, Ill., but this petty technicality could hardly deter a New Dealer from running for Mayor of Chicago. The intimation that he might, coming from his office in Washington, is highly stimulating.

PEGLER

Surely the Chicago Tribune could not object on this ground, although it surely would on many others. For the Tribune itself, with a Hitleresque appetite for territory and anschluss, long ago projected a map of an imaginary realm which it calls Chicagoland, extending from a point beyond Milwaukee on the north, past Des Moines on the west and including St. Louis, Indianapolis and the outskirts of Detroit.

In the racial sense, therefore, Mr. Ickes may claim to be almost a pure Chicagoan, with just a trace of suburban blood in his veins, and certainly no less Chicagoan than Col. Robert R. McCormick, the realm leader who lives aloof in a Berchtesgaden of his own well beyond the corporate limits of the realm capital.

THE MAP of Chicagoland resembles that audacious chart of the Italian empire-to-be, which stands on a wall in Rome to inflame the ambition and historic pride of patriotic bricklayers slogging home in wet shoes in the dusk of cold winter days.

It is similar in its appeal to the maps of the great new Germany as flaunted before the eyes of muscle-conscious Heinies, maps which, incidentally, overlap Mussolini's maps of the Italian empire-to-be in certain cherished areas.

Chicagoland is vast and as yet unconquered, but great batches of Sudetens, as they might be called, in communities far from the city borders, have been heartened by propaganda on the air and in print for years to endure exile bravely until that happy day when the Colonel will rescue them from Hoosier and Hawkeye oppressers and unite them in the proud and privileged bond of Chicagoness.

OF THE POLITICAL feasibility of the Ickes candidacy I know nothing, but certainly stranger and much worse things have happened in Chicago. Mr. Ickes is a down-the-line New Dealer, and if the radical-conservative tussle in the party continues would seem to deserve the President's support, should he really want the job.

He is also ornery, disagreeable and socially billous and in a campaign for elective office would present the unique spectacle of a man snarling, not smiling, at the crowds, a man not begging for office but condescending to serve, should they summon the intelligence to choose him. He wouldn't be likely to speak of the bright intelligence apparent in their faces or of their indubitable character. It would be more like him to tell them they looked stupid and had shown a lack of character in their toleration of crime in office since the memory of no man living runneth to the contrary.

YET BY SUCH a campaign, the only sort of campaign that Mr. Ickes, with his nature, is capable of waging, he just might whip Chicago into a rage against itself for guilty submission in times past and against the whole evil procession of knaves who have robbed the city of government, and civic self-respect.

That, incidentally, was Hitler's early method. He insulted them; he called them slaves, fools and worms and rasped them with his scorn for enduring ignominy.

The people of Chicago have had so much of handshakers and robbery that there, too, just of late, have been murmurs of a yearning for not a dictator, of course, but a mean reformer, whose wrath would know no brother nor even an alderman.

MR. ICKES would be mean enough. Even pass him the time of the evening at a dinner where he stands off in a corner scowling and chewing his under lip and he will think you are trying to lobby him. Offer your hand and he will grab your wrist to see if you aren't trying to slip him $10. But he can be guaranteed not to steal, although he might sleep in the office to save room rent, and he won't let anyone else steal a dollar because he will count up in person, lock the safe and cock the trap-gun every night before turning in.

Of course, under Mr. Ickes it might be worth a man's life to try to enter a State street department store through the picket lines or ride the "L" through the showers of half-bricks from the chimneys along the line, for he wouldn't abhor a little harmless labor mischief in the general shakeing up.

But if it is reform they want in Chicago, a mayor who would clean out every seam and cranny of the flea-bag known as the city hall, Honest Harold, the house dick of the New Deal, is their man.

Copyright, 1938.

Rats Invade Town As Cats Die Like Flies

Otterville, Ill., Dec. 2 (AP).—This rural community of 94, where the first free school in Illinois was established in 1834, sent out a call today for a Pied Piper.

With the coming of cold weather, rats have invaded the town, and, to make matters worse, a mysterious epidemic of distemper has taken toll among the cats. One woman caught 50 rats in one week, using a steel trap.

Gov. La Follette Explains

The Wisconsin election was part of a deep-running national current whose intensity most observers misjudged. As far back as last winter I thought I sensed a gradual but unmistakable drift of public opinion—a drift which gathered momentum as it developed into a feeling of tired dejection. On every hand there was a very real feeling that government somehow had muffed the ball. There was a feeling that government had tried to do the right thing, but that in spite of all our relief spending, pump-priming and social legislation we were back where we started from—in the midst of the depression.

(Gov. Philip F. La Follette in The Nation.)

The Federal Diary

By Scott Hart

MUCH HAS been written here and elsewhere about The Post award to the feminine Federal employe who will be selected as "Miss Civil Service"—the ideal worker in the Government. And withal, some misapprehension exists concerning the mechanics of the campaign to find "Miss Civil Service."

Mrs. Thornton

For example, one interested person yesterday brought in a vast sheaf of documents in support of one nominee. In this instance, it had been believed that the winner would be the person who garnered the most testimonials. This, of course, was an erroneous conception of the campaign.

THE WOMAN who receives the award will be:

One who has been formally nominated in the campaign—and there is no rule against a woman nominating herself.

One who has been outstanding in her efficiency in performance of duty in the Federal Government, as the Government is confined within the District of Columbia.

One who has demonstrated a marked adaptability to surroundings afforded by Federal employment.

One who has shown a consistent diligence in her work.

One who is equipped with a fine personality.

One whose general activities have made for the well-being of her co-workers.

One who has demonstrated such qualifications generally as would single her out as a career or potentially career person in the service.

Beauty has nothing to do with the case. And the judges will definitely give little eye and ear to staged-up personalities. What the judges will seek out is a first-rate, efficient Federal worker, combining the general qualifications catalogued above. Age, obviously, is no consideration.

NOW, WHAT HAS to be done to enter oneself in the campaign. Simply this: Send or bring your nominations to The Post. Bring the nominees' pictures, if possible. If pictures are unavailable, the nominees will be photographed by Post staff photographers.

Then, at an appropriate time, the names of the judges will be publicly announced. On January 10, tentatively, the campaign will be closed, and the judges will begin their deliberation. You may be assured that the judges will make a painstaking inquiry into the merits of each nominee. They will have access to their records; they will interview persons well acquainted with the nominees.

Their choice will be announced at perhaps the first public meeting to be held in connection with National Civil Service Week, January 15-21. The winner of the award will be called to the rostrum to receive the handsome silver loving cup which The Post will offer.

AND ONE OTHER word. The field is open to all women who are employed by the Federal Government in the District of Columbia. The nominees must, of course, have civil service status. The Government Standard, official organ of the American Federation of Government Employes—the organization which sponsors National Civil Service Week—comments in part, as follows:

"A suitable award for the girl who typifies the ideals of the civil service should attract Nation-wide attention. It will be a distinct honor to the girl who is chosen, and it will add considerably to the interest in the coming Civil Service Week."

And here we again take pleasure in presenting another nominee, Henrietta B. Thornton, of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

NOTES: Recently retired from the G. P. O. were George F. von Ostermann, R. R. 4, Anacostia Station, a foreign languages editor, who has served 39 years, and Lillian A. Duncan, of Anacostia, a compositor, who served 20 years . . . St. Elizabeths Hospital employes danced last night at the Raleigh, and in charge of the event were Harry F. Rader, Carrie A. Brooks, Mabel Barrett Mary Ruth Copsey, Barbara Bishop, Myrtle Webster, Florence Harmon, Ethel Kidwell, Bette Dille, Jesse Harris, Irma Bartsuch, Irene Garvey, Ethel Donahue, Myrtle Spudis, Margaret Kennedy, Audrey King, Bessie Vanword, Mary Roccoa, Marie Dennis, Charlotte Skinner, Leona Webster, Grace Guy, Lorena Copsey, Mildred Manning, Elizabeth Martin, Nita McIntyre, Hildred Dawson, Margaret Kelly, Mary McClintic, Florence Jamesson, Elizabeth Kleiner, Thelma Farmer and Elsie Harris . . . Mrs. Mary A. Steel, director, Woman's WPA and Professional Projects for the District of Columbia, and Judge William C. Hueston, Grand Commissioner of Education for the Improved, Benevolent, Protective Order of Elks of the World, will speak for the U. G. E.'s Sunday Forum at 3 p. m. tomorrow at Shiloh Baptist Church, 1500 Ninth street northwest. The Forum's theme is "Jobs for Women and a $1,500 Minimum Annual Wage for all Regular and Emergency Employes of the Federal Service."

RRB LOCAL 13, U. F. W. A. will sponsor a dance tonight at the Gingham Club in celebration of its membership drive conclusion. Ann Coleman, radio pianist and member of the local, will entertain.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann

The Underlying Issue In France And Britain

THE REAL ISSUE in France, and also in Britain, is whether these two great empires can conduct business as usual or must put themselves on a war footing. If they are to survive the challenge of the aggressor states to their position, their territorial integrity, and their national independence, can they continue to live a normal, civilian life? For the problem is entirely unintelligible and entirely insoluble, it seems to me, if one looks at their difficulties as "ideological" and supposes that the main trouble in France or in England is a struggle between communism and fascism, or between democracy and authoritarianism, or between proletariat and capitalists.

LIPPMANN

I know that the personal testimony of a foreign observer is not conclusive. But after three months of attentive study, I am entirely certain in my own mind that the French and British working classes are not communist and that the governing classes are not fascist. It is, I believe, poisonous nonsense to say that men like M. Daladier, M. Reynaud, Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Halifax are conspiring secretly to imitate the dictatorships, and it is poisonous nonsense to say that the French or British trade unions are promoting a communist revolution.

THE TRUTH of the matter, I am persuaded, is that substantially the whole of the French and the British people are so deeply attached to their free and easy-going civilian way of life that they shrink from the sacrifices and the discipline that are indispensable if they are to defend their national interests. This, I think, can be proved.

It is, for example, the fashion of the moment to say that Mr. Chamberlain is a kind of unavowed fascist. But what is the practical issue in England between Mr. Chamberlain and his opponents? It is, to put it broadly, conscription. What do the Englishmen who denounce Munich want to do? They want to establish a compulsory national service for everyone, and they want a so-called ministry of supply which will mobilize and direct in authoritative fashion the industries of the British Isles. They want, in short, to make Britain formidable by putting Britain on a war footing.

And what has Mr. Chamberlain, with his alleged aspirations toward fascism, been doing about these proposals to centralize authority, to conscript labor and to regiment industry? He has been opposing these proposals because they will interfere with business as usual, though he is now reluctantly beginning to accept them by adopting a national registration of the adult population. And why is he so reluctant to accept the power which, were he in fact a fascist, he would eagerly seize? He is reluctant because he is a civilian and a businessman and a politician who feels that the workers and the businessmen of England hate the idea of living under war conditions.

THE SAME STATE of things exists in France. M. Daladier and M. Reynaud have just had a showdown with the French trade unions. What they fought about, however, was a program of economic recovery which is the exact opposite of that which prevails in the fascist states. The whole principle and purpose of the Reynaud plan is to induce economic recovery by relying upon the motive of private profit rather than upon government compulsion. For that reason, nothing could be further from the truth than to suppose that the Reynaud plan is a move in the direction of fascism. The essence of the plan lies in the attempt to revive French production by not adopting the exchange controls, the regimentation of capital and the conscription of labor which are practiced in fascist states.

The real question about the plan is whether the French nation can mobilize its resources and its latent power without submitting to the discipline and the sacrifices that mobilization requires. In Germany and in Italy the whole population and all their resources are permanently on a war basis. That means that labor is permanently conscripted and is forced to work long hours at low wages. It means that private capital is managed by the government; there is no such thing as freedom to invest, freedom to take capital abroad, freedom to hoard. Labor must do the work assigned to it, or starve, or go to a concentration camp, or be drafted for military forced labor. Capital is not offered inducements; nobody pays any attention to whether capitalists or bankers have "confidence;" instead of profit and confidence, there is compulsion.

IN A WORD, Germany and Italy live in time of peace under the regime which all nations have to adopt in time of war. And the question which confronts Britain and France is whether they can continue to play the game as if they were at peace and still meet the challenge of nations that are on a war basis. Nobody likes to face this question, neither Mr. Chamberlain nor the British Labor Party, neither M. Daladier nor M. Jouhaux. But it is the question, and as long as it is not faced, the actions of both democracies will be paralyzed by disputes over secondary and superficial issues.

Their action will be paralyzed because if you start from the premise that business can be conducted as usual, then every one feels justified in quarreling as usual. If France, for example, is to proceed on the assumption that she is at peace, and that she needs only to arm with her left hand, then it will be difficult to persuade labor to accept the liquidation of its reforms while capital is still free to leave France and seek profit elsewhere. A nation cannot have its cake and eat it too. It cannot have the unity, the discipline, and the sacrifices that prevail when it is fighting for its national independence, and at the same time have all the liberties and luxuries that it enjoys when it is at peace and the world is normal.

MEN SAY "Yes, this is true, all too true. But shall we surrender our liberties in order to preserve them?" The answer, I think, is that there are times when a nation must surrender its liberties if it is to preserve them, and when a nation is as gravely threatened as France is today, that may very well be the decision that has to be taken.

For there is something more fundamental than personal liberty. That something is national independence. Before a people can be free they must be independent, and once they lose their independence they lose their freedom, too. The Czechs maintained their liberties. But they lost their independence. They are now losing their liberties as well.

Therefore, a people that loves freedom and understands it, and is worthy of it, must in the final test be willing to accept discipline and sacrifice in order to maintain its independence. For while nations may be independent without being free, no people is ever free if it is not independent.

Copyright, 1938, New York Tribune, Inc.

'Inspired' Pressure

By Mark Sullivan

Where Rumors Start

FOR ILLUMINATION about an important aspect of public affairs, I quote a passage from the department called "Periscope," in the periodical, News Week. In Washington we understand that the political paragraphs in the Periscope are sponsored by Ernest K. Lindley. In Washington we know also that Mr. Lindley is especially well informed about what is sometimes called "palace politics"—that is, about the behind-the-scenes moves of the group of young men who are close to the White House, indeed much inside the White House, and who have much influence with President Roosevelt. Washington regards Mr. Lindley as sympathetic to these Presidential advisers and to the New Deal.

SULLIVAN

From this source and background, implicative of authoritativeness, comes the following:

"As has been reflected in the press, Washington is seething with rumors of a Cabinet housecleaning . . . A young Roosevelt adviser has told correspondents that there'll be a thorough shakeup, presumably involving Farley, Swanson, Perkins, Roper and Woodring . . . Other Roosevelt intimates strongly deny there'll be sweeping changes. The fact seems to be that there'll be a few more changes, but no wholesale cleanup for the simple reason that F. D. R. hates to fire anyone . . . Hopkins is likely to be switched to a Cabinet job to build him up as a 1940 Presidential possibility."

FROM ANOTHER source I quote another paragraph. This comes from Mr. Raymond Clapper. He, like Mr. Lindley, is sympathetic to the New Deal and well informed about its behind-the-scenes politics. Mr. Clapper writes:

"Justice Brandeis, a pioneer liberal on the Supreme Court, is being subjected to pressure from some of the New Dealers to retire from the bench and make way for the appointment of Professor Felix Frankfurter . . . Pressure and propaganda to induce Justice Brandeis to retire has become so strong that some intimate friends of the aged justice are incensed . . . Among the more resentful of these Brandeis admirers it is charged that the pressure originates with the Corcoran-Cohen group of New Deal advisers, proteges of Dr. Frankfurter who long have dreamed that their idol would reach the Supreme Court . . . In the Corcoran-Cohen group it is regretted that the controversy has taken such form. Nevertheless it is felt that it would be a fine thing for Justice Brandeis to retire."

Now what have we here? We have "inspired suggestions"—I quote Mr. Clapper—that the most distinguished liberal jurist in the United States should resign. And we have additional inspired suggestions that five Cabinet members, half the whole Cabinet, should resign.

"INSPIRED SUGGESTIONS" inspired by whom? By President Roosevelt? Most of Washington thinks not—certainly not directly. Indeed, the text of these inspired suggestions, as they appear in the press, convey between the lines the thought that they do not come from the President. They come from some of the little group around the President. It is these—men never elected to any office, men whose whole status depends on their closeness to the President—who put pressure on six seasoned public servants; who say to a man like Justice Brandeis, "Here's your hat—must you go?" It is these young men who subject holders of high office to the experience of reading in the newspapers that their resignations would be desirable.

These young men are not only putting pressure on five Cabinet members and a justice of the Supreme Court. They are by the same act putting pressure on the President. They try to force the President's hand. They seek to bring about that which they think the President would not himself initiate.

Some of us in Washington surmise—though here we enter the area of surmise—that this forcing of the President's hand takes place in matters other than the one here alluded to. Some of us surmise that the same sort of thing, the maneuvering of the President into positions he might not otherwise take, occurs in matters of legislation and national policy.

THIS DOES NOT seem a good way to administer government. Unofficial advisers putting pressure on official advisers, seeking to get rid of official advisers—all that savors of something other than the best administration of public affairs or the wisest method of arriving at public policy.

The remedy, if any? One sometimes wishes the President might imitate the technique of these unofficial advisers of his. One wishes he might say to his active young emissaries, "I am grateful for your services. I appreciate your ability, I value your industry, I esteem your ingenuity—but I really think you are overworking. You are attempting too much. Here's your hat, and thank you very much."

If the President is reluctant to say that, the leaders of the Democratic Party in Congress might find some way to say the same thing.

Copyright, 1938, New York Tribune, Inc.

Squeeze Play

By Barnet Nover

Mussolini, France And Tunisia

LIKE BISMARCK and Hitler, Mussolini has often acted on the theory that one of the best ways of confusing an enemy is to blurt out the truth. In this particular, Hitler's "Mein Kampf," which long ago provided an unbelieving world with a blueprint of Nazi ambitions, has a striking parallel in Mussolini's speeches.

For years the Duce said over and over again that his goal was a new Roman empire. Much else of what he has said may have been bluff and bluster; that was not. But most British and French statesmen refused to take Fascist Italy's imperial ambitions seriously.

They even refused to do so when Mussolini openly began making preparations for the invasion of Ethiopia. They refused to see his Spanish adventure as the inevitable sequel to the establishment of Italy's East African empire. And until now they have refused to draw the inevitable conclusions that were there to be drawn from this sequence of events.

MUSSOLINI'S conduct since Germany's absorption of Austria should have opened their eyes. There is little evidence that it did. They assumed that the disappearance of the Austrian buffer between German and Italian Fascist dictatorships meant the end of the Berlin-Rome axis. They are still hoping that it will mean that, even though, at every stage of the European crisis from Anschluss to the present, Italo-German co-operation has been an unmistakable fact.

Now there can be no doubt that these last months has seen a decided shift in the balance between the totalitarian partners and wholly to the advantage of Germany. Germany today is far stronger in relation to Italy than it was when the axis first came into being. Germany is now astride the Brenner. She is writing finis to Italy's old dream of commercial expansion and political domination of the lower Danube and the Balkans. She is not far from the Adriatic, which the Italians like to regard as an Italian lake.

But the conclusions drawn by wiseacres in Paris and London from this set of facts have been the very opposite of those drawn by Mussolini.

BRITISH and to a lesser extent French statesmen have assumed that because her European position has changed for the worse in view of the Third Reich's rapid rise to power, it is to Italy's advantage to join forces with Great Britain and France to restore the European balance.

This may, in the long run, prove true. Mussolini has given no indication that he believes that it is true now. On the contrary, he has revealed in the very plainest terms that he sees a much greater advantage in co-operating with a strong Germany than with the weak, uncertain and, as his press is so fond of saying, the decadent, democracies of western Europe.

Having embarked on his grandiose imperial program he is quite willing to let Hitler have his way in Europe, since there is no way of stopping the Third Reich anyway, in the hope that in so doing Hitler will help Fascist Italy achieve her ambitions in the Mediterranean.

WHEN MUSSOLINI embarked on his Ethiopian adventure he gave hostages to fortune. Ethiopia is far away and the route to it is in the hands of Great Britain.

Now, it is a significant fact that all the great empires of the present, with the exception of the Japanese and the Italian, operate and are forced to operate within the British orbit and with the tacit protection of the British fleet. That is certainly true of the Dutch, the Portuguese, the Belgian and the French.

The two exceptions happen to be precisely those powers which most decidedly resent British seapower and are doing everything possible to counteract it. That is obvious to everyone, so far as the Japanese policy is concerned. But it is equally clear, though the present British government has with steadfast stubbornness refused to see it, with respect to the Italian attitude.

RECENTLY Prime Minister Chamberlain rushed through Parliament the ratification of the Anglo-Italian agreement. Having sought to appease Hitler, he felt it incumbent to appease Mussolini as well.

Mussolini was not averse to accepting the British olive branch, particularly since it was baited with the tacit understanding that his determination to secure an insurgent victory in Spain would not be thwarted. But he took an entirely different attitude toward the French overtures for a Franco-Italian understanding.

The new French Ambassador to Rome was forced to cool his heels for days before being allowed to present his credentials, even though these contained a recognition of Victor Emmanuel III as Emperor of Ethiopia. That humiliating concession by France was no longer deemed adequate. Perhaps not even an agreement by France to recognize Franco's belligerency would, at this stage, satisfy the Duce, or satisfy him for long. But France's refusal to grant this concession caused an immediate flare-up in Rome.

A FRANCO VICTORY in Spain, by providing Italy with an ally and a possible foothold at the western outlet of the Mediterranean, would be an enormously important step in the furtherance of Mussolini's imperial designs. But he could hardly rest, even with such a triumph. The Mediterranean, like the Adriatic, must become an Italian lake.

How is that to be achieved? An insurgent victory in Spain is one step; recognition by Great Britain of Italo-British equality in the Mediterranean, now granted, another; partnership in the management of the Suez Canal, still another. But beyond all these there is the hope, harbored in Italy for decades before Mussolini appeared on the scene, of making Tunis Italian.

ITALY HAS ALWAYS felt cheated because, in 1881, France jumped the gun and seized Tunisia. That event threw the Italian kingdom into Bismarck's arms and led her to join forces with Germany and Austria-Hungary in forming the Triple Alliance. Tunisia has remained a bone of contention between Italy and France ever since.

This week the Italian Chamber of Deputies made a clamorous demand for the annexation of Tunisia—and also for the annexation of Corsica, Nice and Savoy, to which the Italian press immediately added the French Somaliland port of Jibouti at the end of the railroad from Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital.

For the time being Mussolini would no doubt be willing to compromise on Tunisia alone or even on the grant of special privileges to the Italians residing in Tunisia, plus a grant of belligerent rights to Franco. But the demonstration in the Italian chamber is an unmistakable warning to France as to what Fascist Italy demands as the price of her friendship. The voice was the voice of the Fascist deputies, the hand was the hand of Mussolini.

The warning was not a warning to France alone. It was also a warning to Great Britain. For were Italy ensconced in Tunisia, which is within a naval gunshot of Sicily, the Mediterranean would be bisected by Italy and the dream of "Mare Nostrum"—Our Sea—as the Italians call it, would be well on the way to fulfillment.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Another Interview Between Wilhelm And Adolph

Hitler—Well, Wilhelm, what do you think of me now?

Wilhelm—You amaze me, Adolf.

Hitler—That's nothing; I amaze myself.

Wilhelm—How in the world do you do it? I've been sawing wood for 20 years for being less belligerent than you.

Hitler—It's a gift.

Wilhelm—You got Austria without firing a gun and now you've won over Czecho-Slovakia without a battle. I wish I knew your secret.

Hitler—Did you see how that British Prime Minister came three times to see me?

Wilhelm—Did that really happen? I heard about it over the radio but I thought it must be a mistake. I never found the British like that. Fancy the British Prime Minister flying to Berlin to see me back in 1914!

Hitler—It was no mistake. Chamberlain flew to me three times and the third time the French Premier Daladier came along. It was quite amusing.

Wilhelm—Again I ask how did you do it? In my worst moods I was never as boastful and commanding as you.

Hitler—You've got to scare 'em.

Wilhelm—Wasn't my conduct enough to scare anybody?

Hitler—You weren't disrespectful enough. You exchanged notes instead of just giving orders.

Wilhelm—I still think I was pretty disrespectful. Maybe they scare easier now than they did in my time.

Hitler—Confidentially — and I wouldn't want this repeated around—they do scare easier. There's really nothing like it.

* * * *

Wilhelm—You don't even have to invade any territory.

Hitler—I've got a formula. It's like this: The plain truth of the matter is that England and France are so humane and intelligent that they wish to avoid a world war with its frightful loss of human life. I know this, so I act the big, merciless bully who doesn't care what happens.

Wilhelm—Are you sure it's acting?

Hitler—Say, it comes natural, if you wish. Anyhow, it works.

* * * *

Wilhelm—I should think they would get wise to you, Adolf.

Hitler—How long did it take 'em to get wise to you?

Wilhelm—Looking back, it seems they were wise to me from the start.

Hitler—I'm different.

Wilhelm (with a gaze at the woodpile)—And don't forget to bring a saw!

A New Low

Ringers have been found in the lines of people applying for gas masks in London, which is a new low for self-interest. A man who would do that would try to grab two parachutes in a leap from a two-passenger airplane.

Overheard by Seymour Sussman: "The nerve of him offering me $10 a week. What does he think I am, a college graduate?"

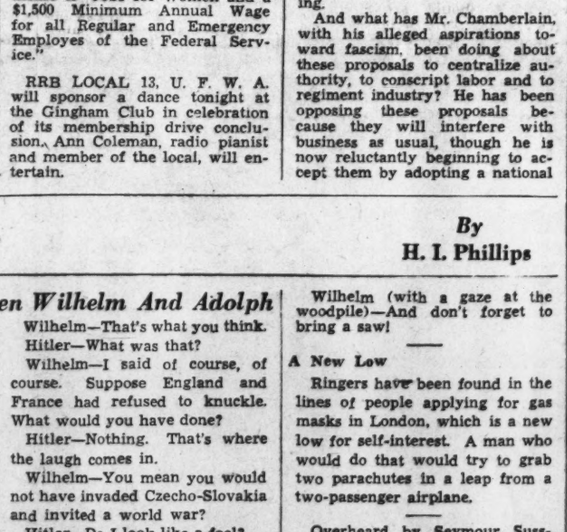
"Oakie wisecracked up to the very last minute, when everybody stepped up to kill the bride."—New York Mirror.

Hollywood never takes a thing like that seriously.

Copyright, 1938, by the Associated Newspapers.

Off the Record

By Ed Reed



"You wash today, Jeeves—it's my turn to dry!"

What will slum dwellers actually get out of the U. S. H. A. loan of $6,600,600 to the District Alley Dwelling Authority? How will the new houses look? How will they be financed? Read William Woodruff's article in Section III in Sunday's Post

On This Page

Mon.—Wed.—Fri.

Dorothy Thompson
Ernest K. Lindley

Tues.—Thurs.—Sat.

Walter Lippmann
Mark Sullivan
Barnet Nover

Daily

Westbrook Pegler

SUNDAY, SECTION III

Mark Sullivan
Ernest K. Lindley

Hotel Employes Set for Dance

An all-day culinary exhibit, followed by a dance in the evening, will mark the twenty-first anniversary of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance, Local 781, tomorrow at the Hotel Raleigh. Colored members of the union will hold their celebration at the Lincoln Colonnade Thursday, December 8.

Most of the local's 2,000 members are expected to attend the affair, which will be open to the public from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. There will be exhibits of carvings in sugar, mushroom platters, hams, fish, fowl and candies displayed by the chefs of hotels and restaurants.

The evening entertainment, which starts at 9 with dancing, will include awarding of prizes to the most attractively uniformed waiter, waitress and cook entered by Washington hotels.

C. U. Faculty Trio Will Play Tonight

The Catholic University faculty trio will give their first concert of the season at 8 o'clock tonight in Brady Hall of the Catholic Sisters College at Brookland.

The trio, composed of Dr. Carl A. Beck, violinist; the Rev. Hugh O'Neill, 'cellist, and Herbert Herzfeld, pianist, will present a program of Beethoven, Handel and Couperin.

The trio will present tonight's recital, and at least two additional concerts later in the season, as their contribution to the university's Golden Jubilee ceremonies.

Engle Asks Transfer From D. C. Committee

The only Republican member of the House sub-committee on District appropriations said yesterday he wished to be transferred to another committee. He is Representative Engle, of Michigan.

Should his request be granted by minority leaders, his successor may be Representative Dirksen (Republican), of Illinois, who is now ranking minority member of the House District Committee.

Surgeon General Will Preside Today At Health Meeting

The National Advisory Health Council will hold its semi-annual meeting here today, with Surgeon General Thomas Parran, of the United States Public Health Service, presiding. Subjects for discussion include the current venereal disease program, leprosy investigations, the proposed national health program and the production and use of yellow fever vaccine.

Dr. R. A. Vonderlehr, assistant surgeon general in charge of the division of venereal diseases, will discuss progress being made under Federal grants-in-aid to reduce syphilis and gonorrhea.

A report on yellow fever vaccine will be presented by Dr. L. R. Thompson, director of the National Institute of Health.

The council's attention will be directed to the Hagerstown, Md., studies of health among children of school age, which are being directed by Dr. Thomas B. McKneely.

Kiwanis Heads Named

Hagerstown, Dec. 2.—Roy A. Leiter, local business man, was elected president of the Hagerstown Kiwanis Club for 1939. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Aldine Lakin; directors, Dr. P. L. Russell, Raymond W. Parks, Jacob A. Hoffman and Guy S. Kidwell.

LANGUAGES Made easy By LINGUAPHONE
This amazing Method enables you, in your own home, to speak and read any of 23 foreign languages in an incredibly short time. Endorsed by leading university professors and thousands of men and women as the quickest, simplest and most thorough language method. Send for catalogue or come in for free demonstration.
BRENTANO'S BOOK STORE
1322 F St. N.W., Washington, D. C.

Relief Making Pauper Class, Expert Says

Herbert Finds Country 'Lives Beyond Means' To Support Idle

By the Associated Press.

Baltimore, Dec. 2.—An expert in Governmental research predicted today a "professional pauper" class in the United States.

Carl P. Herbert, director of the St. Paul Bureau of Municipal Research, sounding the warning during discussion of relief problems before the National Municipal League Conference, added:

"No matter how business improves, relief will continue to be the outstanding problem in this country."

"Beyond Our Means"

"We are living beyond our means so far as relief is concerned," he charged. "The total costs of the various forms of relief now approximate on the average the total tax collections for all local governmental purposes.

"It is self-evident that these costs are utterely beyond the revenue-raising ablities of the cities.

"The situation represents a challenge to every student of social processes in this country."

Herbert also asserted "the cost of relief has been obscured from the average citizen." This, he said, was partly because the cost has been deferred in many instances through borrowing and partly because of the mistaken impression that the cost of relief is not a burden upon the people when the money comes from Washington.

Geoffrey May Speaks

"The people of this country must come to a realization that the cost of relief is eventually met out of the earnings of all the people who work and produce."

The same conference heard Goeffrey May, associate director of the bureau of old age assistance, declare:

"The socially constructive and national conception of public welfare which has begun to take form within the last few years is here to stay."

WPA Guidebooks Seized by Dies as Red 'Propaganda'

By the United Press.

Galley proofs of Works Progress Administration guidebooks for New Jersey and Montana were seized yesterday by a deputy U. S. marshal under a subpena issued by the House committee investigating un-American activities.

Committee Chairman Dies (Democrat), of Texas, said the action was ordered after an unidentified employe of the Federal Writers' Project informed the committee that the WPA had been working "to take out objectionable insertions" in the books.

Dies recently put into the committee's records excerpts from the books, which he labeled as "pure Communistic propaganda."

"I ordered the seizure merely to determine if they have deleted the objectionable insertion," Dies said. "If they have, it is a commendable thing for the WPA."

Workman Asked To Share Windsor Christmas Cheer

London, Dec. 2 (U.P.).—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have invited a London working man, his wife and two children to spend Christmas at their chateau at Cap D'Antibes, the Evening Star said today.

The couple was unidentified, but they were said to have been "staggered" by the invitation. The father is an ardent trade unionist and a British Legionnaire. A daughter and son are in elementary school. The couple was instructed not to tell anyone of the invitation.

The Evening Star said the idea originated with the Duke, who is eager to spend the holiday with English working people. The Duchess wanted the children invited so she could have a children's party and Christmas tree. The couple promptly accepted.

Family Man Free After Trying to Fix Dopey's Socks

James Joseph Murphy, of the 1100 block of Morris street northeast, was out on probation today after he had battered the doors of a department store office following a vain search for Walt Disney, creator of the motion picture version of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Murphy, with a copy of an advertisement of the store featuring the seven dwarfs, in his hand, called at the store to try to persuade Disney that Dopey's socks, which in the cartoon were on backwards, should be put on properly.

Arrested by Detective Sergt. Guy Rone, Murphy was haled into Police Court on a charge of destroying private property. Judge Edward M. Curran, informed that Murphy had a wife and children to support, placed him on probation.

CIO Hits Oregon Jobless Aid Law

General Counsel Lee Pressman of the Congress of Industrial Organizations last night asked the Social Security Board to disapprove the Oregon unemployment compensation law on the grounds that it has been amended by State initiative so that it no longer meets Federal requirements.

Pressman contended that the State law was amended so that the "definition of a labor dispute" conflicts with that in the Federal social security act, and as a "result claimants for unemployment compensation benefits in Oregon will be required to accept jobs which are vacant due to a strike, lock-out, or other labor dispute as defined by the Federal law."

Beauty and Broker

LORETTA YOUNG

WILLIAM BUCKNER, self-proclaimed friend of Loretta Young, yesterday denied he used New York chorus girls in an attempt to influence legislators at Washington parties. (Story on Page 1)

Tax Advisory Unit to Weigh D.C. Testimony

Taxes

Continued from Page 1.

ington, and both of these are exempt from the proposed sales tax. The percentage accredited to food is 26.4, to housing 20.4, and to household operation 9.1.

Clothing, which would be taxed, amounts to 11.4 per cent of the budget, furnishings and equipment, which also would be affected, to 3.7 per cent.

All the rest of the cost-of-living budget of the Federal employe would escape the tax. This includes 8.1 per cent for transportation, 1.7 per cent for personal care, 4.3 per cent for medical care, 4.5 per cent for recreation, 2.1 per cent for formal education, 4.9 per cent for life insurance and 3.4 per cent for retirement.

This scale applied to a family with a $3,000 annual income would mean that the sales tax would take from $12 to $14 a year from the budget.

For a family of $2,500 income the tax would drop to around $9, whereas the family with earnings of only $1,000 would pay about $3.50. Of course, this tax might be less as the per cent of income spent for clothing and furnishings doubtless would diminish in proportion to earnings.

The question naturally arises as to how this tax would compare with a graduated personal income tax in cutting into an average family's budget.

Families with earnings of less than $2,000 doubtless would be exempt so that the income tax to them would be preferable to the sales levy. For a family with $3,000, however, there would appear to be little difference, depending of course upon the rate of the income tax and the penalty exemptions.

One expert connected with the current investigation argues that the income tax would have to go below the Federal exemption scale to raise as much money as the sales tax and probably would have to equal the Federal rate of 4 per cent.

With a $2,000 primary exemption for a married couple and $200 for a dependent, a family of three might well pay the District an income tax of $16, allowing $300 for earned income credit and $100 for miscellaneous exemptions.

The proposed non-wage, non-salary income tax admittedly is a more difficult tax to estimate in its effect on the average Washington professional or business man.

Government and corporation officials with above-average salaries obviously would have the advantage over the man whose income varies with economic fluctuations. This differential already exists, however, under the operation of the business privilege tax.

The tentative scale for this tax ranges from 2 to 7 per cent and allows a primary exemption of 15 per cent of net income, together with a flat $500. This corresponds to the $2,000 primary exemption now allowed by the business privilege levy.

The tax on net income would be 2 per cent from $500 to $1,500, 3 per cent from $1,500 to $2,500, 4 per cent from $2,500 to $3,500, 5 per cent from $3,500 to $4,500, 6 per cent from $4,500 to $5,500, and 7 per cent for all in excess of $5,500.

On a $10,000 gross income, for example, a business or professional man now would pay two-fifths of 1 per cent on $8,000, or $32, plus a $10 license fee. What he would pay under the proposed income tax obviously would depend upon how much he could charge off to operating costs, including his own salary.

332 Americans March Out of Spain As Insurgents Attempt to Bomb Them

By the Associated Press.

La Tour de Carol, France (At the Spanish Frontier), Dec. 2.—The main body of American volunteers of the Spanish government's international brigades left Spain for home today, getting out of the country just a few hundred yards ahead of an insurgent bomb attack.

Still in formation as members of the Lincoln and Washington battalions, the Americans, 332 strong but including only unwounded soldiers, marched across the border to La Tour de Carol in a well-publicized departure.

As they stood in the safety of the town's railway station, five insurgent planes dumped 18 bombs on the railway outside the Spanish border town of Alp, just a few hundred yards away.

Train Bombed Twice

The Americans, who fought in most of the war's major battles, entrained for Paris from where they will proceed within a few days to New York.

[The loyalist defense ministry announced tonight at Barcelona that the train bearing the American "volunteers" had been bombed twice by insurgent planes between Puigcerda and the French border, the United Press said.

[There were no casualties. The insurgent bombers blew up 11 miles of the railroad between Puigcerda and the loyalist base at Alp, halting traffic to Catalonia, and destroyed the Alp electric plans.—Editor's note.]

300 More to Leave

These Americans have fought on the Madrid, Belchite, Teruel, Aragon and Ebro fronts. A final group of about 300, including all wounded, will follow this unit soon, completing the repatriation of Americans under the Spanish government's policy of releasing all its foreign troops.

The group was under command of 23-year-old Maj. Milton Wolfe, tall and gaunt, reputedly the youngest field officer in the Spanish government army. He declined to disclose his home address.

The Americans included Ted Schneider, New Yorker, who left behind his physician-bride, 26-year-old Dr. Francisca Silvestre Lacruz; Benjamin Kutler, another New Yorker, who found no use for the Phi Beta Kappa key delivered to him in the trenches, and Guy Thorp, coal miner, of Frankfort, Ill., who was glad he was going straight to Frankfort because "that's where my mother lives."

2 Plead Guilty To Robberies

Pleas of guilty in two robbery cases were entered yesterday by John T. Bartholomew, 22, and Edward C. Fullam, 23, before Justice Proctor in District Court. In three other cases they pleaded not guilty.

Admitting they had taken $201 from a delicatessen and liquor store at 1824 North Capitol street and $98 from a drug store at 701 Maryland avenue northeast, they denied knowledge of the other three cases.

Sir John Ward, Figure at Court of Four Kings, Dies

Special Cable to The Post.

London, Dec. 2.—Major the Hon. Sir John Hubert Ward, one of the outstanding personalities of court life in Edwardian days and extra equerry to the present King George VI, died today at his London home. Sir John, who was 68, had been seriously ill for eight weeks.

His death was cause for deep regret to the royal family for he had long been associated with its members as a close friend and as a member of the personal entourage of four kings and one queen.

Queen Mary and the Duke of Connaught were among those who sent messages of condolence today to Lady Ward, the former Miss Jean Templeton Reid, only daughter of the late Whitelaw Reid, former United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James's, and sister of Ogden Reid, editor of the New York Herald Tribune.

George Attacks Politics in Relief

Atlanta, Dec. 2 (AP).—Senator Walter F. George (Democrat), Georgia, called upon the American people today to rid themselves "of any man who thinks he has the privilege of using our relief money to control American elections." He spoke before the Georgia Bottlers' Association.

The Senator, who won re-nomination in a primary race in which President Roosevelt urged his defeat as a conservative, declared that "control and regulation of business by Government—beyond the legitimate and proper functioning of Government to correct and prevent abuses—is despotic and opposed to democratic economy. This is true whether the despotism is benevolent or malovelent."

No 'Perennial Bachelor,' He Weds Anne Parrish

Santa Fe, N. Mex., Dec. 2 (AP).—The marriage of Anne Parrish Corloss, New York novelist, and Josiah Titzell, Santa Fe writer, to whom she dedicated her latest book, "Mr. Despondency's Daughter," was announced today.

The ceremony was performed by a police magistrate here. The couple will live in Santa Fe.

Animals Let Out, Jews Stay In for Nazi Relief Drive

Special Cable to The Post.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—Cub lions, monkeys, camels and a pack of hunting dogs will be let out of the Berlin Zoo tomorrow to help Field Marshal Gen. Goering, Dr. Goebbels and other Nazi cabinet members together with their wives, collect money in the streets of Berlin for the annual Nazi winter relief fund.

Under the "curfew" order issued early this week Jews throughout the country will be forced to wait behind the closed doors of their homes from 12 noon until 8 p. m., the period of the outdoor Nazi drive.

"Who wants to dance with his favorite movie star?" asks the Voelkischer Beobachter in a headline over an item disclosing screen favorites will take on partners, for a consideration—to be added to the fund. This extravagahza in Berlin will be duplicated on a smaller scale in provincial centers.

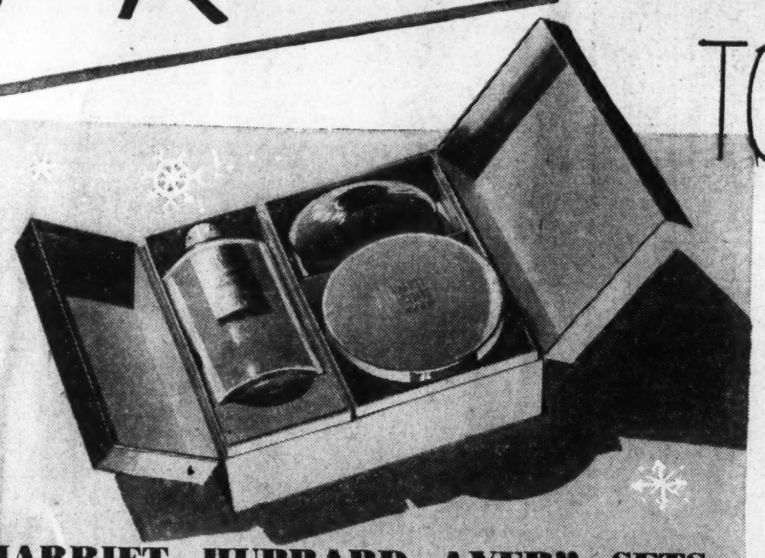
Copyright, 1938, New York Tribune, Inc.

• DIstrict 7200

Kann's "The Avenue"—7th, 8th and D Sts.

Here Are Six Popular and Very Lovely TOILETRIE Gifts

For Someone on Every Gift List



"HARRIET HUBBARD AYER" SETS

Charming Yuletide expressions for the fastidious ladies on your list! Everything to make their bath luxurious . . . water softener, soap and velvety-smooth dusting powder . . . all three available in delightful odeurs. Smartly packaged as pictured here.

$2.50

Other Sets $1.00 to $15.00

"DAGGETT & RAMSDELL" BEAUTY SETS

$2

Easy to please her with one of these famous "Beauty Maker" sets containing six items for a complete treatment! A gift for every age, from sixteen to sixty!

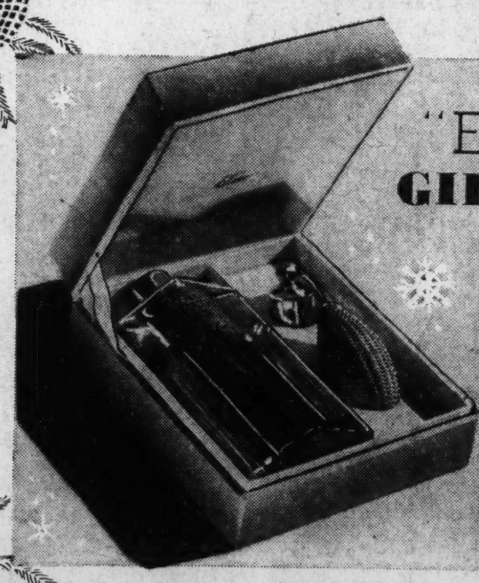
Other Sets $1 to $15

"WEMBDON" LAVENDER GIFT SETS

$1.35

Pay homage to her loveliness with one of these distinctive gift sets by "Wembdon"! They contain a bottle of cologne, talcum powder and soap . . . all in the refreshing lavender fragrance. Boxed, ready for wrapping.

Other Sets $1.00 to $15.00



"ELMO" GIFT SETS

$2

Fragrant way to wish her a "Merry Christmas!" "Elmo's" Eau de Toilette in Margo or El Patio odeurs, with a stunning atomizer.

Other Sets $1.00 to $25.00

"COTY" SHAVING SETS

$2.25

For the men in your family or "the men in your life," Coty suggests these thoroughly masculine gift sets consisting of after-shaving lotion, a spicy talcum men like, and shaving cream. Attractively boxed.

Other Sets $1.10 to $5.00

"HUDNUT" GEMEY GIFT SETS . . .

On Christmas morn, send her a gift that will thrill her luxury-loving heart! Such as "Hudnut's" Gemey Sets consisting of their very popular toilet water and face powder, smartly boxed.

$3

Other Sets $2.35 to $10.00

Kann's—Toiletries—Street Floor

Kann's—Toiletries—Street Floor

Last Day to Buy "Quinlan's" Reg. $2.50 Strawberry Cream Masque for $1.50

Mary Haworth's Mail

Girl of 20 Is Despondent Because Most of Her Friends Are Married; Shuns Social Life; Asks Advice

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 20 years old and so miserable and unhappy that sometimes I think of taking the easiest way out. Although I have a job, it cannot compensate for my lack of social life. I am considered attractive, dress nicely and must have some intelligence or I would not be able to hold my job. I have one boy friend; that's all. Two months ago I had four, but these other young men asked me to go to certain fraternity-sorority affairs where I would have had to meet crowds of strange people and the idea frightened me nearly to the point of illness, so I begged off with various excuses. I have gone to one or two such affairs and had a miserable time. I think these young men got the idea I didn't care for them or enjoy their company, but this was not the case. Anyway, they stopped calling.

I have a girl friend who double-dates with me and my boy friend. I have known her a long time and am never self-conscious or bashful around her, so we have good times together. Whenever I am in a group of strangers, however, I am miserable with shyness . . . Another thing, nearly all my friends are married. I do not want to be different from other people my age. If I cannot get married and generally live like my friends, I think I shall die. But still, I don't want to marry a man I don't love, and I am not in love now.

Please tell me how to overcome this terrible shyness; there is simply no definition for it. Perhaps if I could overcome this handicap and get in the social whirl I might find the right man I would want to marry. I would not make a good wife as I am now. This handicap is robbing me of all the good times I might be having. If I had the courage to accept all the invitations that come my way, I would have a good time; but I don't accept them and soon there will be no more invitations. I don't know what to do. Everyone else is having a good time, and if I don't do something soon I will lose my mind. Please answer soon as I am going away for a few weeks, very soon, and I may not return. P. S.: I have lived here only six months, having come from New York.

MISERABLE

Case of Ailing Health

DEAR MISERABLE: Supposing you are not indulging in exaggerated statements; supposing you are utterly sincere in what you say and have given an accurate description of your mental and emotional state as you feel it to be, then I am inclined to believe some obscure physical ailment is at the root of your distress. For instance, pronouncedly anemic persons may suffer from such morbidity as this, with its concomitant dread of meeting new persons and situations. Sometimes, a condition known to physicians as "glandular imbalance"—a condition which has to do with the faulty performance of one or more of the several glands which have a direct bearing on personality and a feeling of general well being—is responsible for such chronic and seemingly irrational despondency as this.

Nowadays, one hears and reads not a little about the intimate relationship between the individual's endocrine glands and his social fitness—mental and physical. Science has made great strides in this branch of research within the past five years or less, uncovering hitherto undreamed-of causes and cures for the fears, anxieties, worries and apprehensions which take the joy out of life for men and women. Naturally, this field of pathology is one which no layman can discuss or interpret with acceptable authority. That is the specialist's prerogative and responsibility. And I strongly advise you to place yourself in the hands of such a specialist and be guided by his recommendations.

Certainly there is nothing in your social set-up, as herewith described, which warrants your habitual feeling of depression. What more could a girl of 20 ask for than intelligence, good looks, a self-sustaining job, a tried-and-true chum, a faithful suitor, more social invitations than she cares to accept, and a talent for engaging the interest of as many as five young men at a time? When such a girl feels that life isn't worth living; that she is liable to lose her mind if things don't change for the better, then it is pretty safe to conclude that something is wrong with her health. By all means see a first-class diagnostician, at once, before going away on your trip. M. H.

Un-American Snobbery

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Apropos of the discussion of fraternities and sororities in your column of November 29, I have a few words to say. I happen to belong to a family several of whose members teach in colleges. I have heard them say that much of the finest timber that comes into college goes unrecognized by the fraternities and sororities because such men and girls are quiet and unheralded; and because gilded youth has an eye for glamour. These young aspirants, in the formative period, sensitive to the opinions of their colleagues, can easily develop an inferiority complex, an embitterment, which may hamper their careers and leave a life-long scar.

Incidentally, I doubt if it is any healthier for the young Bourbons, for obviously they get their kick in their strut across the stage, with the youngsters who are left out acting in the capacity of audience. It makes you feel so wonderful to be on the inside and to know of the wistful ones who want to be in, but cannot get in because they are not so remarkable as you and your friends!

May I recall Woodrow Wilson's fight against this custom at Princeton? We are talking a great deal nowadays of democracy. To me, this custom is a most undemocratic and artificial institution, very different from the natural attraction of friendship. Moreover, I regard it as un-American, false to the American ideal. I do not think either role—that of ignorer or ignored—is conducive to sound citizenship. ONLOOKER.

Fan Pleats Give Grace

A chic dress to clothe you in expensive looking simplicity is the rayon crepe frock shown above. It will see you successfully through all seasons of the year, from morning to night, under your fur coat now and minus it later on. The high-swathed neckline, elbow-length puffed sleeves, and softly bloused bodice are details that never go out of date. The wide self-fabric belt and fan-pleated skirt are feminine in character. An ideal dress for active living, for either business girls or butterflies. Colors are exciting, duck-egg blue, raspberry, royal and the inevitable black

The Gentler Sex

By Malvina Lindsay

Husband's Return

THE FIRST YEAR:

"Surely he ought to be here by now . . . if he left the office right at 1. If only everything can be nice and hot and not too done . . . Anyway, I bet it'll seem a lot different from grabbing something at a lunch counter. Poor darling! If only he could come home for a good balanced lunch every day instead of just on Saturday . . . and not have to eat all those awful cream puffs and greasy pies and hot dogs. To think of his putting those things in his stomach! I don't see how he ever lived through it. Is that 1:30? . . . It is! I can't see why he isn't here . . . Well maybe some extra work came up. Now if only that soup is just hot enough—without cooking too much. That's one thing you can't get downtown—really good soup.

"Well, I'll powder my nose again. It gets shiny so quick when you're cooking. I can't see why he doesn't come—I wonder if I've got on too much lipstick . . . No I won't spray that cologne until I see him—Oh I know! I'll be at the door and when he opens it I'll step behind it and he won't see me and he'll look around so puzzled, and then I'll jump out . . . Oh I do wish he'd hurry up and get here.

"I don't suppose he could have stopped to talk to anybody . . . in the office . . . or have taken anybody to lunch. Still . . . of course he might have been dragged into something . . . that Miss Starling's the kind that might—Oh no, he SAID he was coming early. I do wish he'd hurry up though . . . we get to be together so little. Well, anyway he'll be here all the rest of today . . . and tomorrow . . . until Monday.

It's really strange he doesn't come . . . I wonder if something could have happened . . . an accident . . . or anything. No, if it had, surely someone would have called . . . still . . . what if he were in an ambulance right now . . . and being taken to a hospital! Maybe I'd better call his office—that's what I'll do! I know there's something wrong—No, wait, there's somebody now . . . Oh there he is! Thank Heaven!

THE TENTH YEAR:

"Now wouldn't it be something if he came marching in here for lunch at this time of day . . . Oh surely he'll eat downtown. No man would ever stay hungry this long. And then maybe he'll go on and play golf . . . or run on to somebody and talk business . . . or do something. Anyway, there's nothing here if he does come. I'm simply NOT going to have that apple pie for tomorrow cut into. And those cup cakes have GOT to be saved for tomorrow night's supper.

Oh, I do hope he eats downtown and I won't have to have the kitchen mussed up again. I can't see why with all those restaurants and eating places on every side he always has to come running home. Well, anyway if he'd just stay away until 2 . . . or 2:30 . . . I could get a lot of things done . . . that club paper . . . and those letters home . . . and make those telephone calls. You simply can never do anything when he's in the house.

"Well, if he does come, I'm simply going to tell him he can go out to the kitchen and fix something for himself. He can get some of that lunch ham out of the refrigerator . . . and there's some cheese . . . and he can have one of those cinnamon buns that was left over from breakfast. I'm NOT going to ruin my afternoon. Men never understand how much trouble it is to fix things. They just seem to think you can just wave a wand . . .

"What time is it, anyway? . . . 2 o'clock. Now if he'll just stay away until 2:30 . . . and let me get some of my telephoning done and finish that letter to mother. It seems as if I have so little time to myself . . ."

"Maybe he'll walk home . . it's such a nice day . . . and he needs the exercise. Oh, anyway, I know he won't come now . . . at least in time to want lunch . . . Wait! There's somebody! Is that him? It is! . . . Well, you can always depend on his getting home to eat if there's half a chance . . . I guess I might as well go in the kitchen and light the fire. He'll probably want a bowl of hot soup."

They Should Be Hung

Broom holders, small hooks and screws help to keep the household cleaning equipment in good working order. Hang up brooms, mops, dusters and cleaning brushes by attaching screws to the handles.

A Woman's New York

By Alice Hughes.

New York, Nov. 2.

IN ALL this town there are 36 girls who are more looked at, talked about and admired than any other similar group—and they aren't night-spot sitters, either. They are the Rockettes, that brilliant group of precision dancers at the Radio City Music Hall—the West Point Cadets of the show business.

ALICE HUGHES.

My spouse, Brother Hall, toiled at the Music Hall in its earlier days, and finally got to know "the kids" very well—and both to like and admire them. They are a clannish, quiet, hardworking lot, very proud of being Rockettes (which means the best in the world) and they don't gallop about on the loose. And in spite of the fact that those 72 beautiful white legs are unveiled in every number the wonder-girls do, it is possible even for susceptible lads to view them almost objectively, as instruments of perfect training in the art of clockwork dancing.

In spite of their precision, which is so doll-like, "the kids" do fall in love and marry, just like any other pretty girls in their twenties. But they don't marry playboys or stage-door-Johns, as might be expected of such glamorous public figures. Nope—they marry the boy next door, or else one of the lads who works in that great theater, where hundreds of people spend most of their working hours. Constance Collier and Gerry Wright, for instance, married assistant managers, and Irene Austin, an Omaha girl, married Leif Jorgensborg, a junior executive at the place. Renee Havel, a cute blonde, made a husband of an assistant stage manager, and Grace Markham married a handsome neighbor boy named Jack Duggan, now a sergeant "on the cops."

Yes, that gorgeous line of 36 girls at the Music Hall is a-bit disillusioning. In the main, they are a quiet, dignified, hard-working, homey lot.

GIRL ABOUT TOWN—Dear old Cecelia Loftus is having another fine season with her "impersonations" on Sunday nights—an art at which she excels. She draws everybody—not only such stage stars as Libby Holman and Clifton Webb, but young society beauties like Natalie Van Vleck. Everyone is very happy for dear old Cissie—whose luck has not been too hot of late. Now, late in life, she clicks all over again . . .

Our Garbo Restaurant, named for the Stockholm Siren, has just opened a new floor show for the customers. It calls the entertainment "Swede and Hot." . . . One of our snooty eating and looking houses called Le Coq Rouge gave a big luncheon for its society clientele among the ladies, with a lucky number drawing. And guess what the prize was. Yes—a reducing machine . . .

I hear that Diana Blythe, who is John Barrymore's debutante daughter, is going to make her stage debut this winter. She's already a graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. Seeing her around town here and there, I notice that she looks a great deal more like her famous Aunt Ethel than she does like her papa.

A lovely girl from Duluth has just been given the big job of getting earth-bound New York women off the ground for the first time. Her name is Barbara Archer, and she is very pretty, and she did this sort of selling-the-air so well to women in the Northwest that she was sent to New York to try her arts on the reluctant ladies of the metropolitan area. "Women who have never flown are more jittery about the take-off and the landing than anything else," Barbara tells me . . .

Hey, song-writers! Band leaders here are complaining that so few fast rhythm numbers are being written today in comparison with slow ballads that they can't get up well-rounded programs. Get busy with that rhythm!

Eve Casanova has just started to head the theatrical department at a large Fifth Avenue emporium. Her first step was to install a row of footlights in the star dressing room, so the actress can select materials and designs under the lighting conditions in which they will be seen. Ah, but there's a practical angle for the non-actress, too. The cafe society show-off can gear her clothes for the grand sweep into the saloon of her choice. In fact, such dizzy dolls will probably crowd out the poor actresses!

Your Figure

Will Power Is Keystone Of Reducing

First 3 Days Hardest Easy to Lose 10 Pounds Bulky Foods Help

By Ida Jean Kain.

AVOIRDUPOIS puts your will power to the test, and the heavier you are the more will power it takes to reduce. It is not so hard to lose 10 pounds but it is quite an undertaking to take off 50.

Sometimes in an effort to cheer you on, I try to make reducing sound like a gay adventure. But just between you and me, I know better. Reducers have a hard row to hoe. And now that you have caught me in a weak moment I might as well confess amazement that so many of you come through as well as you do.

The firmness with which many of you stick to the straight and starchless path bears out the observation of the man who said, "The little woman has a whim of iron." And, although it is beside the point it might not be entirely amiss to tell you that most of you do much better on your diets than most men. There are exceptions, of course, but a man is apt to put reducing in the same category as any other form of physical pain. He doesn't bear up under it very well.

First Three Days Hardest

No matter how much weight you have to lose, the first three days are the ones that take fortitude. A sudden cut in calories makes eating seem like the most important thing in the world. But, as all successful reducers will tell you, reducing gradually does get easier. For the first few days the main object is to lick your appetite. Once your appetite is under control, the diet itself helps you carry on.

A balanced, low-calorie diet is largely composed of the protective foods, and, while extremely limited, in comparison with the way you have been eating, through these protective foods, it supplies all your bodily demands. You may find it difficult to believe, but this slim list of foods keeps you from being ravenously hungry.

Experiments have proved that your appetite is more easily appeased when you are getting sufficient amounts of vitamins, minerals and protein, as you do on such a diet. A tendency to overeat may be the unconscious effort to supply the body with these food elements.

Hot Beverages Consoling

A good reducing diet also takes satiety into account and contains some of the foods that stay with you—lean meat, hard-cooked eggs, cheese, bananas, etc. Bulky salads and crunchy biscuits require considerable chewing and that makes you think you are having more to eat. Hot beverages or soups are a comfort in any meal and they certainly help to round out the low-calorie menus. All these things make the diet easier to follow.

BALANCED REDUCING MENU

	CALORIES
BREAKFAST
Orange juice, ½ glass	50
Poached egg on toast	150
Coffee, clear
	200
LUNCHEON
Macaroni and cheese, ¾ cup	280
Crisp bacon, 2 strips	50
Chopped green salad (Reducers French Dressing)	25
Skim milk, 1 glass	80
	435
DINNER
Beef tenderloin, broiled (1 small steak; trim off the fat)	275
Baked potato	100
Butter, 1 pat, ¼ inch thick	50
Fresh spinach	25
Celery and raw carrot sticks	15
Fruit	100
	565
TOTAL CALORIES FOR DAY	1,200

Telephone Wires Are Similar To Human Nerve Fibers

Brain Functions as Central Exchange Poisons and Improper Food Affect Cells Vitamin B Important in Alcoholic Neuritis

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

"My Nerves" means to most of my readers, I hope, a kind of vision of a diagrammatic human with long strands running from a central spinal cord to the outskirts of its body. To a few, it means that something inside the mind doesn't like to have Jones, the butcher boy, whistle as he delivers the lamb chops to the kitchen.

This makes for a slight confusion, which I note from time to time in my correspondence; such as, "I see you recommend Vitamin B for nerves. Would it be good for my granddaughter who has what has been diagnosed as hysteria?" No, it would not be good for that, so let me attempt to explain.

The nervous system is a communication system, and it may be compared to such a communication system as your own telephone exchange. If you pick up your telephone receiver and dial it properly and fail to get a response, one of several things may have happened. The central telephone exchange may have burned down, or the wire between your phone and the exchange may have been cut.

In the comparison with the central nervous system, the central exchange represents the brain, the branch exchange the spinal cord, and the telephone wires the nerves, or nerve fibers that go out from the cord to the muscles or to the skin. A paralysis may have its seat in the brain or in the cord, but most forms are due to disease of the nerve fibers. And this is fortunate because disease of the nerves can be cured more readily than disease of the brain or spinal cord.

This is due to the ability of the nerve fiber to regenerate. I said in an earlier article this week that a nerve cell once destroyed can never be replaced. That is true, but the nerve fiber going out from it, so long as the cell itself is intact, will regenerate. The nerve cell that moves the muscle of your thumb lies in the spinal cord, in the middle of the back of your neck; from it the slender nerve fiber runs out along the arm to the thumb. If this fiber is cut or otherwise interrupted, the cell will send out a new fiber which, growing along the path of the old one, will eventually make the path intact again. Regeneration occurs in lower animals to an astonishing degree. The lobster will part company with a limb, and slowly grow an entire new one. In man this faculty of regeneration is represented only in the nerve fiber.

The causes of nerve fiber degeneration are either poisons or lack of proper food. Perhaps most of them are due to lack of proper food. We used to think that alcohol would cause neuritis; now we know that so-called alcoholic neuritis can be cured by giving the patient Vitamin B, which is a normal ingredient of a balanced diet. The alcoholic gets his neuritis from starvation; all chronic alcoholics tend to depend on the alcohol for their caloric bodily needs and neglect eating, or at least neglect eating a balanced diet.

Pastel Bed Linens

Fine muslin sheets and cases in pastel shades with wide borders in four different tones of the same color are new and distinctive. The housewife who likes color but not flagrance in her linens will want to choose several sets in each of the six exquisite basic colors.

Week-End Menus

By Alice Clayton.

SATURDAY BREAKFAST
Chilled melon slices
Savory scrambled eggs with oysters
(use yesterday's leftover fish)
Sticky pecan, cinnamon buns
Apricot honey
Hot coffee Milk for children

SATURDAY LUNCHEON
Baked codfish and vegetable pie (surplus from last night's entree
Jellied prunes
Butterscotch cookies Milk

SATURDAY DINNER
Chilled apple juice
Savory spareribs Saurkraut
Duchess potatoes
Glazed onions and carrot strips
Pumpernickle Current jelly
Hot tea with lemon
Stuffed olives
Steamed cranberry pudding
Hard sauce

Jellied Prunes

Soak 1 envelope of plain, unflavored gelatin for 5 minutes. Add 1½ cups of juice from coked prunes, which has been heated to boiling. Stir until dissolved. Add 1 tablespoon of grated lemon rind, ¼ cup of lemon juice, ½ cup of granulated sugar and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Cool until mixture begins to thicken. Add 1½ cups of quartered, pitted prunes that have already been cooked. Chill until set.

SUNDAY BREAKFAST
Mixed fresh fruits in honey
Feather light waffles
Maple sirup
Broiled pork sausage patties
Creamy scrambled eggs
Hot chocolate Milk for children

SUNDAY DINNER
Cherrystone clams on the half shell
Veal roast Browned pototoes
Savory gravy Creamed broccoli
Cranberry ice Stuffed celery
Spiced pears
Baking powder biscuits and butter
Mince meat baked in candied apples
Demi tasse

SUNDAY SUPPER
Baked acorn squash
Creamy mushroom sauce
Stuffed potato chips
Waldorf salad
Whipped cream dressing
Fig bars Hot tea with lemon

Ahh!—GRAVEL KNITS
New styles in exquisite Christmas
CRUISE COLORS

$5.95

Araby blue
Beauvais rose
Wisteria mauve
Aquamarine
Hula red
Enamel blue

The newest of our famous knits—a real color treat! Tailored to perfection, of Crown-Tested rayon—laboratory checked for colorfastness, cleanability, fabric strength. It's a frock you'll want for holiday gaiety under your winter coat. Sizes 12 to 20.

Jelleff's
1214-1220 F St.

Sports Shop Christmas Location, Third Floor.

A Jelleff Bag and Gold Stripe Silk Stockings—together they make a perfect gift!

A—Sitka Seal 12-inch envelope with double compartment, zipper pocket. Beautifully soft leather! In black, brown, $5.

B—Fa-Cile Fastened—snap it shut and it stays shut—pull it open and it says open! New flat handled envelope of calf, all tucked! In black, brown, vintage, $5

C—Soft Squashy Pouch—it holds everything! Of supple smooth calf in black, brown, navy, vintage, $5.

D—Quiet Glitter of marcasite ornaments give distinction to this dressy handle bag of dull calf in black, $5.

E—Half-and-Half, deep collar of suede contrasted with dull calf. Spacious inside and convenient side-fastened. In black, brown, vintage, $5.

F—Merry Little Bag with rosettes! Clever new rounded top with pockets right and left of the center zipper closing compartment. In brown, black, navy, vintage, calf, $5.

G—The "Globe Trotter" tailored bag of alligator grain calf. Roomy and smart! With suede lining, suede purse. In black, brown, navy, green, vintage, $5.

Her Own Monogram will greatly enhance your gift! Monocroft initials (25c each) applied in a jiffy!

SIR! You don't have to know feminine preferences if you'll let ELIZABETH BREWSTER do you Christmas Shopping. Call her! MEtropolitan 0300.

'Cave Dwellers' Out in Full Force At Party of Theodore W. Noyes

He Gives Tea for Granddaughter With Her Parents, the Hempstones; Miss Thompson Wears Blue

ELUSIVE "CAVE-DWELLERS" turned out full force for the party which Theodore W. Noyes and his son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Smith Hempstone, gave yesterday for the latter's debutante daughter, Miss Mary Dora Thompson. If there was a single diplomat there, he wasn't around long enough to be noted, which, in Washington society, is news.

The tea was a pleasant party of the old-fashioned type, with old and young mingling among the guests. Mrs. Hempstone's young son, Smith, jr., was very much on hand, obviously enjoying what was undoubtedly his first grown-up party.

Large Noyes Family Well Represented

The Noyes family is one that has extensive ramifications, and yesterday sisters, cousins, aunts and Noyes in-laws were practically all present. Miss Beth Thompson, older sister of the debutante, was among those assisting, and others connected with the family included pretty Mrs. Crosby Boyd, who served ice cream; Lady Lewis, Mrs. Laurence H. Greene and Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, jr., brother and sister-in-law of the deb.

Mr. Noyes' house on New Hampshire avenue is as large as is his family, with enormous, high-ceilinged rooms. There was dancing, to Sidney's Orchestra in the library, but most of the guests gathered in the dining room for conversation.

Mrs. Hempstone, who founded the Junior League here 25 years ago, received with her daughter in the large hall before a trellis massed with the many flowers sent the debutante. The latter wore a truly lovely gown of powder blue silk with a silver thread running through it, a panel of hand made roses and flowers down the center, and an insert of embroidered lace at the hem. Her Catherine de Medici collar was high and standing and she carried a mixed spray of pastel flowers.

Mrs. Hempstone wore the same shade of blue in lame. Her gown was made on simple lines with a tight fitting long-sleeved jacket and a corsage of orchids completed her costume. Miss Beth Thompson, who has appeared in several stage productions, and recently returned from Hollywood, was gowned in a deeper shade of blue.

Distinguished Group Assists Hostess

Pouring tea or coffee during the afternoon were Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, in a long, blue frock and a small black hat; Mrs. C. J. Peoples, Mrs. James Alexander Lyon, Mrs. Rudolph Max Kauffmann, whose long, black gown had a white bodice; Mrs. William Chapin Huntington, in black; Mrs. Leonard Proctor, Mrs. Charles DeVere Drayton, Mrs. Harold Marsh and Lady Lewis.

Assisting the debutante were a group of her young friends, including Miss Frances Drisler, of Bronxville, N. Y.; Miss Eleanor Draemel, of Annapolis; Miss Betty Meyers, Miss Jane Eustis and Miss Barbara Bolling.

Seen here and there: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Houghteling chatting with R. M. Kauffmann, Mrs. Houghteling wearing a coat of Persian lamb and a smart black hat trimmed with sapphire blue velvet; Mrs. Charles Wilson, in a blue suit and hat to match; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kauffmann greeting Theodore Noyes; George Williams chatting with Mrs. Guy Castle and Mrs. Henry Flood, the latter swathed in a mink coat; Mrs. Hiram Bingham with her pretty daughter, Miss Elise Hill, and Mrs. Buchanan Merryman, who wore a black coat trimmed with silver fox and a black hat with touches of red velvet ribbon.

Others present were Mrs. Alan Chantry with Miss Carolyn Chantry, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Beach, Gen. John Phillip Hill, Dr. Dunlap Penhallow, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rust, jr., Michael Straight, Nathan Lincoln talking things over with Miss Christine Gawne; Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Earle, Mrs. Chester Flather, Commander and Mrs. S. B. Robinson, Mrs. Sydney Graves, Justice and Mrs. Daniel O'Donoghue, Miss Ashby Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parsons Erwin, and many others.

Capt. and Mrs. Hempstone gave a dinner dance later for their daughter, the whole party adjoining to the Shoreham Blue Room. The guests included Miss Drisler, Miss Meyers, Miss Draemel, Miss Bolling, Miss Eustis, Miss Beth Thompson, and Miss Letitia Knox.

Also Charles A. McKenney, James Cobey, Frank G. Sterrett, Robert Fenn, G. Bowdoin Craighill, jr., Svend Jordan, Thomas Hardman, John Earle, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson, jr., Mr. and Mrs. I. William Hill, jr., and Lieut. and Mrs. James Charles Dempsey and Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph W. Leverton of Annapolis.

Her Debut Draws Cave-Dweller Set

Bachrach.

Miss Mary Dora Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Smith Hempstone, who was presented to society at a tea yesterday afternoon at the home of her grandfather, Theodore Noyes

Mrs. Woodring To Christen Ship Next Week

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Harry H. Woodring will leave Washington Friday for Boston, where Mrs. Woodring will Christen the S. S. Ancon next Saturday.

The Secretary will return directly to Washington from Boston, arriving here on Sunday. Mrs. Woodring will probably visit her parents, Senator and Mrs. Marcus Coolidge in Fitchburg, Mass., for a few days, returning to Washington in time for the Cabinet dinner on Tuesday, December 13.

On Tuesday evening the Secretary and Mrs. Woodring will entertain at dinner for 18 guests and on the following Thursday they will entertain a similar number at dinner.

British Envoy Sails for Home

Having remained in Washington all through a long, hot summer, the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, sailed yesterday on the Queen Mary for a combined vacation and business trip to London. He was to have sailed in the summer, but had to postpone his trip owing to work on the trade treaty recently completed between this country and England.

The Ambassador will be gone for two months. Lady Lindsay is remaining in Washington.

Also a passenger on the Queen Mary is Lady Seymour Lloyd, who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, the Assistant Naval Attache of the British Embassy and Mrs. Anthony Coleby.

Ropers Return

The Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Daniel C. Roper have returned to Washington. They were called to Hartsville, S. C., several days ago due to the death of their son-in-law, David Coker.

The Hunt Country

By Nina Carter Tabb

DR. AND MRS. Archibald C. Randolph were hosts last evening at a dinner party in honor of Miss Diana Guest. Among others present at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Talbott, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guest, Harvey Shaffer, and Mr. Ryamond Guest's sister, Miss Alice Polk of New York.

The Randolphs also entertained following the run of the Piedmont Fox Hounds which met at Atoka yesterday morning. Others giving teas and cocktail parties yesterday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guest and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White.

ORANGE COUNTY HOUNDS did not go out yesterday, so many of the members joined the Piedmont Hounds for the day's sport. Those who did so included Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Filley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winthrope, Mrs. Johnson Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, William Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, Mr. and Mrs. James Van Alen, and Miss Mary Rumsey and her house guest, Miss Ann Nicholas, of New York.

Others hunting were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guest, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, Miss Bettina Belmont, Mrs. Eva Stewart Spilman, Miss Jane Stevenson, Dr. Cary Langhorne, Harvey Shaffer, Gerry Webb, Louis Duffey and Mrs. Charles Sabin. Also Mrs. Robert Winmill, Miss Jane Wilbur and Billy Wilbur, jr.

BLUE RIDGE HUNT was represented by Mrs. George Greenhalgh, George Greenhalgh, jr., and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ruthrauff and Miss Florence Ruthrauff, of Red Bank, N. J.

Next week the most interesting sporting event of the hunt country will be the first point-to-point race meeting of the season, given by the Old Dominion Hunt. It will be held in their hunting territory and will be run over Hawthorne, estate of John T. Ramey, and Kilkenny, estate of John C. Hinckley, near Orlean, Fauquier County, and will take place on Tuesday, December 6, beginning at 11 a. m.

THERE WILL BE three races, with pieces of plate being presented by Thomas Leiter. Mrs. John C. Hinckley, Wallace D. Kenyon and Mrs. Wallace D. Kenyon. Serving on the committee are John C. Hinckley, chairman; Sterling Larrabee, John T. Ramey, Thomas Leiter and Wallace Kenyon.

Miss Mary Rumsey will entertain at a large dinner party this evening at her home near Zula.

Mrs. John C. Butler, of Rectortown, is in New York for a week of shopping and will visit her mother and brother, Mrs. William L. Lenhart and Phil Lenhart, in Nyack before returning to her home.

Christopher Greer, who has rented Old Welbourne for the season, is in New York this week.

HUNTING LOG

Today's Meets

Virginia

Old Dominion Hounds. For time and place call the Kennels, Marshall 94-F-3.

Blue Ridge Hounds. Mount Hebron, 10 a. m.

Casanova Hunt. Turkey Run Church, 11 a. m.

Middleburg Hunt. Middleburg, 10 a. m.

Warrenton Hunt. Grove, 11 a. m.

Farmington Hunt Club, Farmington, 2:30 p. m.

Deep Run Hunt Club. Libby avenue, Richmond, 3 p. m.

Cobbler Hunt (Delplane). H. M. Luttrell's, 12 noon.

Maryland

Green Spring Valley Hounds. Falls and Stringtown roads, 2 p. m.

Elkridge-Harford Hunt. Atlanta Hall Farm, 2 p. m.

Potomac Hunt. Watkins Corner, 1:45 p. m.

Redland Hunt. Redland Crossroads, 11 a. m.

Danes and Icelanders Celebrate Aniversary

The Danish Minister, Otto Wadsted, entertained at a buffet supper on Thursday evening at the legation in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the Union act between Denmark and Iceland by which the sovereignty of Iceland, in personal union with Denmark, was established.

The guests included Icelanders and persons of Icelandic ancestry in Washington and Baltimore, and the president and past presidents of the Danish Club, and members of the legation staff.

Mrs. Robert Patterson Will Entertain Today

Mrs. Robert Patterson will entertain in the Pall Mall room of the Hotel Raleigh today at a luncheon for Miss Arlene Whelan and Mrs. Scott Colton.

Mrs. Colton, formerly Miss Azadia Newman, of Washington, is Miss Whelan's hostess while she is in Washington from California.

Parents Fete Miss Macklin

Justin W. Macklin, first assistant commissioner of the Patent Office, and Mrs. Macklin entertained at dinner last evening at the Mayflower for their daughter, Miss Jean Macklin, and her fiance, John F. Pearns, of Altadeana, Calif., who will be married this evening at 8 o'clock at the Metropolitan Memorial M. E. Church by the Rev. W. A. Keese.

Guests included Miss Dorothy Highfield, maid of honor, and Miss Macklin's bridesmaids, Miss Eula Council and Miss Marjory Lynn, of Washington; Miss Marian McNiece and Miss Catherine Leuthold, of Cleveland, Ohio. Also Alfred C. Body, the best man, Allan McGraw, Frank Crotty, Daniel O'Connor and Benjamin Pollard, ushers at the wedding tonight. Others present were Mrs. Alfred C. Body, Miss Betty Coleen and West Cureton.

Barbara Henning Will Be Honored By Mrs. Woodson

Honoring Miss Barbara Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sears Henning, who made her debut Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. Eugene Woodson will entertain at a cocktail party tomorrow afternoon, from 5 to 7, at her home in Wesley Heights.

Assisting at the tea table will be Mrs. Harllee Branch, Mrs. Julian Friant, Mrs. Henning, Mrs. Edward Rhodes Stitt, Mrs. James Emlen Jones, Mrs. Eugene Sykes, Mrs. William Elliott and Mrs. Robert McNeil.

Mrs. Chapin Plans Deb Cocktail Party

Mrs. Higgins Chapin will give a cocktail party tomorrow afternoon in honor of Miss Ann Wilkinson and Miss Maisie Howard, debutantes of the season. The guests will be limited to other debutantes and their escorts.

Last evening Mrs. Chapin entertained at a small dinner at her residence on Foxhall road.

Retiring German Attache Is Feted

Mrs. Crosby Miller gave a small dinner last evening at her home in Warrenton.

Her guests included the retiring First Secretary of the German Embassy and Frau Herbert Scholz, Mr. and Mrs. Lothrop Stoddard—Mr. Stoddard spoke later at the Stuyvesant School—and Rafal Lepkowski, of the Polish Embassy.

Miss Ruth J. Curtis Wed To Henry L. Wakeham

Miss Ruth J. Curtis, of Takoma Park, Md., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark C. Curtis, of Glendale, Calif., was married last night to Henry L. Wakeham, of Takoma Park, Md., son of Dr. Glenn R. Wakeham, of Boulder, Colo., at the rectory of Trinity Lutheran Church. The Rev. H. M. Hennig officiated. Mrs. Edward Wakeham was matron of honor, and her husband was best man.

After a few days' wedding trip the couple will live in Takoma Park, Md.

French Envoy Entertains for Paul-Boncour

Nephew of Statesman Stops Here en Route To Lima Parley

The French Ambassador, Count Rene de Saint Quentin, entertained at a small luncheon yesterday for Jean Paul-Boncour, nephew of the French statesman and a member of the Diplomatic Corps. He is in Washington for a brief stay en route to attend the Pan-American Conference at Lima as observer for the French government.

The only guests present at the luncheon were the Yugoslav Minister and Mme. Fotitch, friends of M. Paul-Boncour for many years, and members of the embassy staff.

The Ambassador left by plane yesterday afternoon for Raleigh, N. C., where he delivered an address before the North Carolina Historical Society. He was accompanied by Count Gabriel de Gramont, attache of the embassy, who will return with him today.

Woodsides To Live Here

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin Woodside, who were married on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Epiphany Church, will make their home at 2900 Q street on their return from a motor trip.

The bride is the former Miss Mary Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Livingston, of Washington, and Mr. Woodside is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Bowdoin Woodside, of this city and Norfolk, Va.

The Rev. Ze Barney Phillips officiated at the wedding, which took place in a setting of white chrysanthemums and white candles. The bride wore a wine-colored woolen dress with a blue fox coat and a wine-colored hat. A corsage of orchids completed her costume. Both she and the bridegroom dispensed with attendants and left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip.

Mr., Mrs. Du Bose To Have Friends For Cocktails

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Du Bose have asked a small group of friends to drop in for a drink this afternoon at their residence in Georgetown.

Others entertaining this afternoon are Lady Lewis, who will fete Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kelleher at the cocktail hour, Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins and Donald Downs.

Sen. McNary, Wife Return for Season

Senator and Mrs. Charles McNary have returned to Washington for the season and are occupying an attractive home at 3023 P street in Georgetown.

Senator and Mrs. McNary spent most of the summer at their ranch in Oregon, visiting San Francisco for a stay en route back to the Capital.

Jane Eustis Honored At Debutante Luncheon

Miss Jane Eustis, a debutante of this season, and daughter of Mrs. H. Chotard Eustis, was guest of honor at a luncheon yesterday, given by Mrs. R. Goodwyn Rhett and her daughter, Miss Mildred Rhett.

The event took place at Mrs. Rhett's home on Kalorama road and was a small gathering of the close friends of the debutante.

About The Town

With Dudley Harmon

MRS. BUCHANAN MERRYMAN will sail from New York December 14 to spend Christmas with her famous relatives, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. The publicity hating aunt of the Duchess, who was with her all through the history-making days of the abdication crisis, will be gone for a month or six weeks. This will be the first time she has seen the couple since she returned to this country, which was before their marriage took place.

DUDLEY HARMON.

The Windsors will spend the holidays at the sumptuous Chateau de la Croe, at Antibes, on the French Riviera. They lease this house from Sir Pomeroy and Lady Burton, of England.

Thus rumors that the romantic couple will spend Christmas in a reconciliation meeting with the royal family in England are ended, like so many other reports anent their affairs.

NANCY LEITER has issued invitations to a tea on Tuesday at her home on Dupont Circle for the ladies who will be invited to serve as patronesses for the Princeton Triangle Show. The performance, the first in Washington for five years, is scheduled for December 21 at the Belasco Theater. Two Triangle songs of former years which met Nation-wide acclaim, "Love and a Dime" and "East of the Sun" will be revived in this year's show, which is titled, "Once Over Lightly."

THIRTY-FOUR husky athletes have roles in this production, so don't be surprised if the legs of the chorus girls are a bit muscular. Eleven football players, the captain of the golf team, the University heavyweight boxing champ, and participants in track, lacrosse, baseball, hockey, polo, squash, soccer and wrestling are all prepared to trip lightly over the stage.

This year is the golden anniversary of the Triangle Club, so the undergraduates are trying harder than ever. They do all the work, writing the book, the music, the lyrics, and design the sets and costumes.

Among the entertainments being planned for the 70 members of the cast is a luncheon to be given the day of the show by the Princeton Club of Washington, followed later in the afternoon by a tea dance at which Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence will be hosts.

FRANCES FARMER held a group of Washington intellectuals enthralled yesterday afternoon at a tea given under the auspices of the local League for Peace and Democracy at the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. David Cushman Coyle. The slender, blonde actress, who is appearing in "Golden Boy," mounted a chair to give a short talk against fascism to the guests, who jammed the Coyle apartment at 1719 H street.

THE ACTRESS was being kidded at having been mentioned by Representative Dies in his anti-communism investigation as one of Hollywood's reds. She said she had been interested in liberal causes ever since her days at the University of Washington, which she attended for four years, although she did not graduate. While there the actress majored in English and drama, and it was while a student that she first became seriously interested in acting. Yesterday she wore a short black frock with a red gilet, a black sports hat, and open-toed black suede pumps.

Mrs. Coyle received with her husband, the distinguished author and magazine writer. Their apartment is a fascinating old one, with high ceilings and white walls.

Note—The engagement we rumored earlier in the week as being announced on Sunday will appear in this paper on Monday instead.

Mrs. C. E. Moore Gives Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Ewing Moore, who lives at the Wardman Park with her daughter, Miss Beatrice Moore, entertained at luncheon there yesterday in the Colonial Room. The table was decorated with a floral centerpiece of pink and white snapdragons, pink and white carnations, white sweetpeas and stivia, and silver candelabra with white tapers.

Those present were Mme. Vladimir Hurban, wife of the Minister of Czecho-Slovakia; Mrs. William H. King, wife of Senator King; Mrs. J. D. Gilliam, Mrs. Charles Tilghman and her debutante daughter, Miss Catherine Tilghman; Mrs. Edward A. Keys, wife of Maj. Keys; Mrs. George Oakley Totten, jr., Mrs. Frank King and the daughter of the hostess, Miss Beatrice Moore.

Swiss Minister Host to Pianist From Geneva

The Minister of Switzerland and Mme. Marc Peter will have with them for the week-end M. and Mme. Roger Aubert, of Geneva.

M. Aubert is the famous pianist who won, a few years ago, the first prize in piano at the Conservatory of Music in Paris. He and Mme. Aubert are returning to Los Angeles, where he is teaching.

The Minister and Mme. Peter will have a few friends in for tea tomorrow afternoon to meet M. and Mme. Aubert.

Dance Is Given By Federal Unit

Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture, and Mrs. Bennett were the ranking guests at the dance given last night at the Wardman Park Hotel by the procurement and fiscal divisions of the Soil Conservation Service.

Among the guests who attended were the following officials of the department and their wives: Leland Barrows, executive assistant to Dr. Bennett, and Mrs. Barrows; Frank J. Hopkins, chief of the division of administration, and Mrs. Hopkins; Col. Samuel Goodacre, assistant chief, and Mrs. Goodacre; Shane MacCarthy, head of the procurement division, and Mrs. MacCarthy, and Gerald G. Smith, head of the fiscal division.

Mrs. Sheppard Will Leave Today

Mrs. Morris Sheppard, wife of Senator Shepperd, will leave Washington today to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Sanderson, at Texarkana, Tex.

She will return December 16 and her debutante daughter, Miss Lucile Shepperd, will be back from Wellesley on the same date.

Lieut. Coleman Returning

Lieut. Frederick W. Coleman 3d, son of Maj. Gen. Frederick W. Coleman, director of the Soldiers' Home, and Mrs. Coleman, will return to Washington on leave from his station at Fort Benning, Ga., to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents.

Notes of Society

Official and Residential

Mrs. Gilbert Hitchcock entertained at dinner last evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Carl W. Ackerman, who are visiting her. Dr. Ackerman is Dean of the Columbia University School of Journalism.

Mrs. Davenport White will continue her informal Saturday afternoons until Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sandford, of New York and Tunis, are at the Mayflower for a few days.

R. M. Deschamps is in Washington from Lyons, France, after a trip through Canada and the Middle West. M. Deschamps will be a guest at the Hotel Raleigh for several days, after which he will return to New York to sail for France.

Dr. Stanley High, of Noroton, Conn., is at the Carlton while in town on a brief visit.

Charles Mason Remey has invitations out for tea, to be followed by music, Wednesday afternoon, December 7, at his home on Massachusetts avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Pound, of Cambridge, Mass., arrived in Washington yesterday and will be at the Mayflower until late today, when they will return home. Mr. Pound delivered a lecture last night at Catholic University. Since his retirement two years ago as dean of Harvard law school, Mr. Pound held the position of university professor at Harvard.

Miss M. L. Pricleau, of Berkshire, England, is in Washington for a several days' visit, and is staying at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Mrs. E. St. Clair Thompson, of Casa del Sol, Bakersville, S. C., is in the Capital for a few days after having been in New York visiting friends, and is stopping at the Hotel Raleigh.

Dayton P. Clark, of Pittsburgh, is a guest at the Mayflower, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Judith E. Clark. They are visiting friends at the Naval Academy this afternoon and will leave for Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Miss Helen L. Butler, of Denver, Colo., is stopping at the Dodge while in the Capital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hunter will be in the Capital at the Hotel Raleigh for a few days before returning to their home in South Bend, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hunter, of Coral Gables, Fla., are guests at the Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rogers, of Richmond, Va., are at the Carlton while visiting in Washington for a few days.

Miss N. Louise Kimball, of Los Angeles, is spending a few days at the Dodge.

Julius Garfinckel & Company

THE BLACK CLOTH COAT

with

RICH DARK BLENDED MINK TRIM

A favorite coat for women and misses, assuming a dominant role for dress occasions and town wear. We have included these mink-trimmed coats in our selections, featuring many different styles of established fashion rightness and possessing the quality always associated with this store. Materials are beautiful, and lustrous mink trim achieves elegance and distinction.

F at Fourteenth. Ask for them on our third floor

Van Dyne ANTIQUE GALLERIES
2625 Connecticut Ave. Col. 6646
Christmas Sale
of authentic 18th Century furniture some suitable for the Collector and Home-maker
Many Other Pieces.
Ideal for Gifts
All inexpensively priced.
All guaranteed.
2625 Connecticut Ave.
COL. 6646

LOUNGE RIVIERA
HOTEL 2400
SIXTEENTH STREET
A Smart Cocktail Lounge for your year round enjoyment.
Open from 12 noon to 1 A. M., except Sundays. Music.
LOUNGE RIVIERA
HOTEL 2400 16th STREET
F. C. MINNICK
Manager

America's Finest Value
KIMBALL PIANOS
W. W. KIMBALL CO., 711 11th St. N.W.

Chevy Chase Women Hear Mrs. Doyle

Club Is Urged to Follow Work Now Being Pursued in Public Schools

By Jessie Ash Arndt,
The Post Club Editor.

Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, president of the Board of Education, addressed the civic section of the Woman's Club of Chevy Chase yesterday, urging the members to follow what is being done in the schools and suggesting they take particular interest in the program being undertaken for physically and mentally handicapped children.

Mrs. Doyle told of the new committee which has been formed to study the needs of these students and said she considered its formation one of the most important things which had been done recently for the improvement of the District schools.

She advised the women to watch for news of the new Dennison School for Vocational Train at Thirteenth and Upshur streets which is to be opened December 16, and to visit it when they had opportunity and see what training it was equipped to offer.

There is always need in a growing city for more teachers, new schools and improvements in old ones, she said, and an informed public aids progress.

At the close of her talk she answered questions off-the-record, and from the standpoint of a mother rather than of a board member.

She was introduced by Mrs. Edward H. Helmuth, chairman of the section, who presided also at the business meeting preceding the program. Mrs. Herbert N. Eaton, representative of the Chevy Chase Club on the board of the Montgomery County Hospital, announced $30 had been cleared on the luncheon served by club members to the Mountgomery County Federation at its meeting in the new Chevy Chase clubhouse Monday. This will go to the fund for the new nurses' home.

She also announced the tea and open house being held today at the nurses' residence in connection with the annual donation day of the hospital. Among the contributions to this will be garments given by the Red Cross through the Chevy Chase civic section.

Mrs. George F. Graham, welfare chairman, reported that the section had contributed to the Community Chest, Friendship House, was caring for a needy family and would also provide Christmas for a girl of high school age. Mrs. Orville R. Peters, chairman of student aid, said clothing and money were coming in steadily to her committee, which had provided clothes for several hundred school children this season.

About 100 members of the section attended the meeting and luncheon, arrangements for which were in charge of Mrs. George W. Lewis, chairman of hospitality, and Mrs. Joseph Proske, hostess.

Mrs. Harry Woodring To Be Luncheon Guest

Mrs. Harry H. Woodring, wife of the Secretary of War, will be the guest of honor today at luncheon of the Retired Officers and Officers Families Section of the District Branch of the Army Relief, to be held in the parish hall of St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, Connecticut avenue and Bancroft place northwest. During the afternoon a food and gift sale will be held.

In the evening the Walter Reed Branch of the Army Relief will have a benefit tea dance and carnival at Sternberg Auditorium on the grounds of the Army Medical Center. Prizes will be awarded at the shooting gallery and in the indoor golf tournament, which will be features of the function. A football autographed by all the players of the 1938 Army team also will be a game prize, it was announced.

Actress, Guest of Honor at Reception

Mrs. David Cushman Coyle (left), hostess; Herbert Lamberton and Frances Farmer at the reception given for Miss Farmer yesterday by the American League for Peace and Democracy

Regents Club Meets Today

Members of the Regents Club of the Daughters of the American Revolution of the District today will have their first social affair of the season, a luncheon at the Grafton Hotel. Although it is primarily a party, there will be informal discussion of matters scheduled to come before the meeting of the State executive committee of the D. A. R. to be held at the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. John W. Edwards, of Livingston Manor Chapter, now heads the club, which was formed more than a year ago by Miss Luella P. Chase, regent of Susan Revere Hetzel, for the purpose of bringing regents of the 60 chapters of the District D. A. R. into closer contact with each other. Its membership is comprised exclusively of active regents.

Mrs. F. Hunter Creech, regent of Potomac Chapter, will be in charge of today's luncheon, assisted by Mrs. J. Wesley Buchanan, of Judge Lynn Chapter, and Mrs. George R. Harrison, of Army and Navy Chapter.

Among others who attended the luncheon were: Mrs. Harvey B. Gram, American Eagle Chapter; Mrs. L. H. Hannah, American Liberty; Mrs. Catherine Nagle, Capitol Chapter; Miss Catherine B. Hill, Colonel James McCall; Mrs. Orie E. Gibson, Colonel James Donelson; Miss Phoebe Ann Ross, Columbia; Mrs. Stuart E. Catling, Constitution; Miss Anne B. Coons, Descendants of '76; Mrs. George C. Ober, Dorothy Hancock; Mrs. Robert Van Denbergh, Eleanor Wilson Chapter; Mrs. Joseph N. Saunders, Elizabeth Jackson; Mrs. John J. Ragan, Emily Nelson.

Mrs. Augustus F. Kempton, Eugenia Washington; Mrs. W. P. C. Coe, Federation City; Miss Viola Reese, Fort McHenry; Mrs. Russell E. Stine, Independence Bell Chapter; Mrs. B. E. Rothgeb, of Katherine Montgomery; Miss Margaret Smith, Louisa Adams; Mrs. James B. Casbarian, Manor House; Miss Ethel Martin, of Marcia Burns; Mrs. Sidney R. Jacobs, of Margaret Whetten; Mrs. Arthur F. Williams, of Mary Bartlett; Mrs. Elliott H. Haag, of Mary Washington; Mrs. Corbin Thompson, of Our Flag; Mrs. George V. Graham, Patriots' Memorial; Mrs. Allister Cochrane, Ruth Brewster Chapter; Miss Mary Helen Abraham, Sarah Franklin Chapter; Mrs. J. Edwin Lawton, of Victory Chapter, and Miss Linda Nance, of Thomas Marshall Chapter.

Madame Chairman

By Suzanne

The first of a series of alley tours to be sponsored this season by the housing committee of the department of government and economic welfare of the League of Women Voters, was held yesterday. Homer J. Smith, architect of the Alley Dwelling Authority, acted as guide, showing the league members slum sections and also the alley clearance projects. Among the places visited were St. Marys Court, Jefferson Terrace, Schotts Alley and Hopkins Court.

Mrs. Robert Randall was in charge of arrangements for the tour, and Mrs. P. W. Chappell, chairman of the department, was in the party. Others were Mrs. George B. Galloway, chairman of the housing committee; Mrs. A. F. Casgrain, Mrs. Chappell, Mrs. Harry B. Boatright, Mrs. Donald Goodchild, Mrs. A. T. Swindell, Mrs. Wendell Lund, Mrs. Edward Cleveland Sweeney, Mrs. Dean Snyder, Miss Margaret Lawson, Mrs. Gardner Jackson, Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Michael Goldberg and Mrs. G. H. Kerr.

DON'T let anybody give you the idea that the week's activities are over when Saturday comes. For example:

The Marietta College Club of the District will hold its annual dinner tonight at 6:30 in the fourth floor dining room of the Y. W. C. A., Seventeenth and K streets, with Dr. Harry K. Eversull, new president of the institution as guest of honor and speaker. Robert B. Youmans heads the alumni.

Zeta Tau Sorority members and their friends will be entertained at a luncheon, being given by Epsilon Chapter today at 1 o'clock, at the Fairfax Hotel, with Rose Melling, Epsilon's president, in charge.

The Washington Alumnae Chapteer of Phi Chi Theta, women's national professional fraternity, will honor its new members and Mrs. Vashti Burr Whittington, national president of the Women's Professional Panhellenic Association, at a luncheon at Olmstead's Grill. The new members are Miss Alice Baker, Mrs. Mildred Callaway and Mrs. Ellen Schoper. The alumnae president, Miss Tracy Strobecker, is arranging the meeting.

Not to be overlooked in the Saturday parade, University of Georgia Alumni of Washington and members of the Georgia State Society are joining in sponsoring a concert and dance at the Shoreham.

Frances Farmer Talks at Party

Frances Farmer, star of "Golden Boy," was guest of honor yesterday afternoon at a reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Cushman Coyle for the benefit of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Speaking informally to the guests, she declared she considered the work of the league "so important, I feel I almost ought to devote all of my time to it."

The affair was a benefit in preparation for the forthcoming congress of the organization to be held in Washington January 6, 7 and 8. Miss Farmer wore rayon stockings and a frock with a rose-colored blouse fastened in front with a gold zipper, a black skirt and black bolero jacket. Her costume included nothing made in Japan, Italy or Germany.

In the receiving line with her were Mr. and Mrs. Coyle and Harry C. Lamberton, president of the Washington League, and Mrs. Lumberton. About 75 guests attended.

Evelyn Cohen Betrothed To Morris Belkov

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Cohen announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Lillian Cohen, to Morris Belkov, formerly of Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Belkov is now a student at the National University. No date has been set for the wedding.

Alliance Plans Luncheon

The executive board of the Housekeepers' Alliance met yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. Frederic Newburgh, and made plans for a luncheon to be held January 20 at the home of Mrs. Mary Wright Johnson, for the benefit of the alliance. Mrs. Percy Bailey was appointed alternate to the Motion Picture Council for Mrs. William T. Bannerman.

Mrs. Dowden Devotes Most of Life to Girls

Chairman of Recreation for P.-T. A. Has Three Daughters of Her Own; Works With Scouts, Belongs to 3 Units

By Christine Sadler.

Wherever there is something to be done for girls, there you will find Mrs. William C. Dowden—who is, first of all, the mother of three daughters and after that chairman of recreation for the District Congress of Parents and Teachers, member of day camp committee of the District Girl Scouts, and a guardian in the organization of Job's Daughters.

Mrs. Dowden became interested in P.-T. A. work 11 years ago when her first daughter entered school. Today she belongs to three different units and also serves on the board of the congress. One of her daughters is at Stoddert School, one at Gordon Junior High School and one at Western High School—so she has to be a triple service mother and give her time to each impartially.

MRS. DOWDEN

In addition to being extremely fond of girls in general, Mrs. Dowden feels that they have not always received as much attention as they should have from the community. She hopes that girls' clubs soon will be as plentiful as clubs for boys, and as efficiently run.

Mrs. Dowdan has been chairman of P.-T. A. recreation work for three years. As a usual thing, her committee serves only as a clearing house for wants and needs of the various communities as expressed through recreation committees of the separate P.-T. A. units.

"We work with the community center and playgrounds departments and co-operate with the National Capital Parks. There is nothing much we need to do except to join them in their work and boost their efforts with our support. Considering the amount of money they have to work with, we think they do splendid work," she said.

When necessary, of course, the P.-T. A. "lends its support" by joining in mass appeals to Congress—as last year when it worked to prevent the old tuberculosis hospital buildings being used as a convalescent ward by Gallinger Hospital—and in working actively for some playground it considers especially needed. And any District movement knows it has a strong friend when the P.-T. A. joins it.

Mrs. Dowden is a native of Washington and an active Eastern Star worker.

Story League to Meet

The Washington Story League will have an open meeting at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A., with a program, "The Spirit of Christmas," to be given in music and story. It will be the first of a series by members of the league this month which will be given to children, and shut-ins at the Aged Women's Home, Home for Incurables, Neighborhood House, Baptist Home for the Aged, Friendship House and St. Vincent's Home and School.

White Elephant Party Planned Next Thursday

Miss Rose Royce, chairman of the women's committee of the Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, has announced next Thursday as the date for the annual white elephant party. It is to be held at the Iron Gate Inn, 1734 N street, at 8:30 o'clock.

Arrangements are being made by a committee headed by Mrs. Myrtle Lewis and including Miss Eleanor Dankmeyer, Miss Sadye Weir, Miss Anne Crawford, Miss Lou Cornwell, and Mrs. Gertrude Wick.

Breakfast Today For Daughters Of Runnemede

The National Society of the Daughters of Runnemede will have a breakfast today for members at the Club of Colonial Dames. Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, of Athens, Georgia, is the president of the society.

Among those who will be present are Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, Mrs. William Cabell Moore, Mrs. Frank R. Keefer, Mrs. George W. McIver, Mrs. W. F. Pearson, Mrs. George W. Cochen, Mrs. William Bonar Bell, Mrs. Miller Mills, Mrs. H. M. Southgate, Miss Stella Pickett Hardy, Mrs. C. T. Harris, jr., Mrs. Donald Earll, Mrs. George Lewis Stickney (daughter of founder, Mrs. Robert G. Hogan), Mrs. David D. Caldwell, Mrs. Charles J. Kappler, Mrs. T. W. Campbell, Mrs. McDowell Meek, Mrs. Albert Lee Rheinstrom, Mrs. E. W. Shirk, Mrs. A. L. Layton, Miss Minerva Culton, Mrs. W. A. Roderberg, Mrs. John E. Lane, Mrs. M. G. Cook, Mrs. J. F. Little, Mrs. Stewart Walker, Mrs. W. M. Hannay, Miss Helen E. Stout, Dr. Frances Moon Butts, Miss Caroline Sudler, Mrs. C. C. Combs, Mrs. L. M. Sanford, Mrs. Edgar Smith, Mrs. Ray Palmer, and Mrs. John Ingalls Palmer.

Wilson Alumnae Will Be Feted

Mrs. Paul F. Myers, of 102 East Melrose street, Chevy Chase, Md., will entertain today at a tea for members and friends of the Alumnae Club of Wilson College Chambersburg, Pa.

For the entertainment of her guests, she is having a silver craftsman come from Baltimore to speak on the working of silver and to give a demonstration of etching, chasing and engraving.

Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. John I. Palmer, of Bollhaven, Va.; Mrs. Katherine F. Bowman, of Warrenton; Mrs. John H. Wanner, of Arlington, and Mrs. Henry K. Willard, Mrs. Robert W. Dowdy, Miss Alice Annun, Miss Eliza R. Birnie, Miss Peggy Baldwin and Miss Sara Elder, all of Washington.

STEINWAY PIANINO
An exquisitely beautiful piano of console type and astonishing tone. See, hear, play it. $550
DROOP'S • 1300 G

Lansburgh's
SEVENTH, EIGHTH and E STREETS District 7575
For a Merrie Christmas!

Christmas Sale!
1,000 COAT SWEATERS
3.88
Regularly 5.95 to 10.95

Whom do you have on your gift list? Mother, Sis, your roommate? They're people who have a dozen uses for coat sweaters, who would be truly delighted with one or two for Christmas. And when you can get fine Shepherd sweaters like these for as little as 3.88 our advice to you is lay aside everything else and hasten to Lansburgh's.

You'll find cardigans, coat-sweaters, V-necks, long sleeves, all colors in . . .

- Imported Dolmeras
- 100% Lamoras
- Llamora Cardigans
- 100% Cashmeres
- Alpaca Cardigans
- Fine Zephyrs
- Wensley Dales
- Imported Shetland

No Telephone Orders
Lansburgh's—Sports Shop—Second Floor

Last Day!
Sale of Famous Make
PLAID BACK Winter Coats
14.99
Regularly 16.95 to 22.95

DON'T MISS THIS LAST DAY if you require a coat tailored to a turn . . . warm as a comfort of down . . . and at a minimum price! That's what these coats are, and from a maker who's known everywhere in the land for masterly cut, fine coats. They boast . . .

- Wrinkle-proof wools
- Unusual warmth from 'plaid-back' and chamois interlinings
- Full, comfortable cut
- Exclusive, rich fabrics
- No silk linings to wear

Sizes for misses, women
Lansburgh's—Daylight Coat Shop Second Floor

We will cheerfully cash your Christmas Savings Checks—Cashier's Desk, Street Floor, or Credit Office, Sixth Floor.

Julius Garfinckel & Company

Christmastime is TOYTIME

It's time, too, for little boys and girls to visit our Toy Shop, where that jolly old friend, Santa Claus, is waiting with his cheery welcome. Santa will show you our toys . . . the mechanical toy animals in most unusual selection . . . our lovely dolls, exclusive with us . . . games and books . . . soft, cuddly toys for the very young . . . toys of a scientific and educational nature . . . electric trains . . . wheeled toys . . . pictures . . . and countless other things to amuse the younger set who look forward to Santa's bounty on Christmas morning.

SIXTH FLOOR

F at Fourteenth

Bedtime Story

Thornton W. Burgess

The Rescue

His destiny none can foresee.
'Tis just as well that this should be. —Old Mother Nature.

"Where are you bound so early this morning?" asked Farmer Brown.

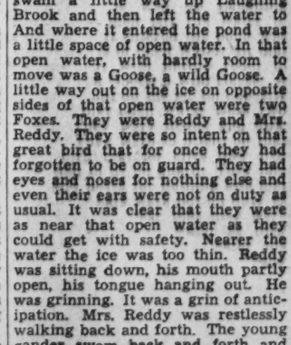
"The Beaver Pond over in the Green Forest. I haven't been over there since in the summer and I am wondering how those Beavers are fixed for the winter. It was cold enough to make ice last night and that pond must be frozen over. I want to see if they plastered their house as they did last year," replied Farmer Brown's Boy.

The air was crisp, sharp and very still. He walked silently in the way he had learned to walk that he might not warn the people of the Green Forest of his approach. He knew that he who rustled leaves and snaps twigs and rattles stones with his feet sees few, although he himself may be seen by many. As he approached the pond of Paddy the Beaver, he moved slowly and cautiously. He approached up wind. That means that he took care to approach from the opposite direction from which the faint air that was moving was coming. This was so that his scent would not be carried to any keen noses that might be around the pond. If others were at the pond that morning he wanted to see them.

Others were there. From behind a thick young spruce Farmer Brown's Boy looked the pond over and searched the shore. As he expected the pond was frozen over all but a little place where the Laughing Brook came in. The Laughing Brook being running water, was not frozen. It was not yet cold enough for that. round and round in the small space of open water but made no attempt to fly.

"Something is wrong," thought Farmer Brown's Boy. "That bird has been wounded and can't fly or it wouldn't be here; it would have gone on South long ago. Another night like last night and it will be frozen in completely and those foxes will get it. I'll have to do something about this."

He stepped out from behind the young spruce. Instantly Reddy and Mrs. Reddy saw him and made for the shore, where they vanished in the brush. Someone else saw him, and baring his teeth in a noiseless snarl, unseen and unheard, sneaked away. It was Yowler the Bobcat. Well hidden, he had been lying in wait, hoping that those Foxes would catch the young gander. They would have had to bring it ashore and he would have taken it away from them.



From behind a thick young spruce Farmer Brown's Boy looked the

The young gander had been frightened to despair by the presence of those Foxes. It hadn't seemed to him that he could be more frightened, but he was when he saw Farmer Brown's Boy. Here was one of these two-legged folk who had been the cause of his present trouble, who had shot and wounded him. Farmer Brown's Boy tested the ice. It was strong enough to hold him, excepting around the open water. He approached from the outer side. The young gander swam in toward the mouth of Laughing Brook. Farmer Brown's Boy shouted and threw a stick he had brought with him. The big bird swam a little way up Laughing Brook and then left the water to And where it entered the pond was a little space of open water. In that open water, with hardly room to move was a Goose, a wild Goose. A little way out on the ice on opposite sides of that open water were two Foxes. They were Reddy and Mrs. Reddy. They were so intent on that great bird that for once they had forgotten to be on guard. They had eyes and noses for nothing else and even their ears were not on duty as usual. It was clear that they were as near that open water as they could get with safety. Nearer the water the ice was too thin. Reddy was sitting down, his mouth partly open, his tongue hanging out. He was grinning. It was a grin of anticipation. Mrs. Reddy was restlessly walking back and forth. The young gander swam back and forth and hide among some broken-down rushes. There Farmer Brown's Boy caught him, despite a pounding from one big sound wing that made him black and blue. Bound and helpless, the young gander was taken home, there to be carefully cared for. He didn't know that he had been rescued, but he had. In another 24 hours those Foxes or Old Man Coyote or Yowler the Bobcat would have had him. Now he was safe.

Copyright, 1938, by T. W. Burgess.

New Quarters For Tubercular Clinic Pledged

Ruhland Instructed To Survey Northwest Section for Building

A new home for the District Health Department's tuberculosis clinic, Third and C streets, northwest, which will be demolished some time next spring to make way for the Municipal Center, was guaranteed yesterday by the District Commissioners.

Health Officer George C. Ruhland was instructed by the commissioners to survey the northwest area of the city for a suitable building, rent for which would be requested in the supplemental or deficiency budget.

Health officials have stated this section of the city has the largest number of tuberculosis patients and it is necessary that a clinic be maintained there. A previous proposal would have consolidated the northwest clinic with the one in the southwest section.

It was stated the new home for the clinic would be temporary, depending upon how long it takes to obtain an appropriation for a northwest health center.

The commissioners also instructed the Welfare Board to find new quarters for the Municipal Lodging House, 310 Third street northwest.

Postlude

By Ray C. B. Brown.

Friday Morning Music Club presents Wilhelmina Spanhoofd Walter, soprano; Helen Grimes, pianist; and Anita Schade, commentator, in Barker Hall. Program: Franz Schubert's song-cycle, "Die schoene Muellerin."

Deferred from last season because of the singer's illness, Schubert's lovely song-cycle, "Die schoene Muellerin," came to a hearing by members and guests of the Friday Morning Music Club yesterday in Barker Hall. Again postponement threatened, but this time Wilhelmina Spanhoofd Walter refused to capitulate to bad luck in the guise of a sore throat. Although obliged to conserve her voice, she sang the cycle with an appealing charm in both intonation and phrasing, and with a fine feeling for the emotional shades Her sympathetic collaborator at the piano was Helen Grimes. Anita Schade, president of the German Literary Society, gave an introductory talk on the cycle and summarized the content of the poems.

Next to Goethe, the poet who kindled Schubert's inspiration most readily was Wilhelm Mueller, of Dessau, a romantic enthusiast for the golden age of antiquity. However great single songs by Schubert may be, his highest sustained flights of lyricism were achieved in the two song-cycles, "Die schoene Muellerin" and "Die Winterreise," both composed to texts by Mueller. Yet for some reason difficult to ascertain, singers seldom give us either of these cycles in their entirety. Yesterday's opportunity to hear one of them was the more appreciated because of its rarity.

The score of songs in "The Fair Milleress" are set to texts taken from Mueller's "Poems from the Posthumous Papers of a Hornplayer." In the first four songs, a "wandervogel" roams highway and byway in carefree enjoyment of nature. He comes to a mill and enters its service. Ere long he is in love with the miller's daughter; his thoughts are centered upon her, and he apostrophizes the flowers and the stars to ask if his love is returned.

He sings an ambade before her window, and lays upon the sill a nosegay which shall speak for him. Believing at last that his love is reciprocated, he utters his rapture in the rhapsodic "Mein" and dreams of happiness in "Pause" and "Mit den gruenen Lautenbande." But a rival appears in the person of a huntsman, and jealousy and resentment stir turmoil in his mind. Realizing that he has been supplanted, he pines away in broken-hearted misery, his requiem the rippling of the brook that first led him to the mill.

Garden Club Elects Dr. Weiss President

Dr. Freeman Weiss, 3223 Vista street northeast, was elected president of the Woodridge Garden Club for the coming year at its annual meeting last Thursday night at Sherwood Hall, Twenty-second street and Rhode Island avenue northeast.

Other officers elected were James W. Hardey, 3311 Twenty second street northeast, vice president; Mrs. Mary S. Porter, 3118 Eighteenth street northeast, recording secretary; Mrs. John L. Bishop, 1512 Laurence street northeast, corresponding secretary; L. M. Clarke, 2440 Monroe street northeast, librarian, and George Targett, 2948 Carlton avenue northeast, treasurer.

Colket Will Speak

"The Passenger List of the Welcome" will be the subject of an address by Meredith B. Colket before the National Geneological Society tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. Building, Seventeenth and K streets northwest. The midmonth meeting of the society will be held in the same place December 17 at 8 p. m.

Rally Against Persecution

A mass meeting protesting the persecution of Jews will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. at Mount Carmel Baptist Church, Third and I streets northwest, under the auspices of the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance, with Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University as the main speaker.

Dandies Evade Canes

By the Associated Press.

American dandies are resisting any temptation to swing canes. The Census Bureau reported today that domestic production of canes, including those for cripples, amounted to only $91,430 last year.

Simons Named Leader Of Retired Firemen

Robert Simons was elected president of the Retired Firemen's Associations at the annual meeting, it was announced yesterday.

A resolution calling for hospitalization of retired firemen was adopted at the meeting, with all the newly elected officers pledged to its furtherance. These officers include E. L. Rose, vice president; C. E. Sellers, recording secretary; E. Trainor, financial secretary, and W. R. Frye, sergeant-at-arms.

Roosevelt, Georgia Agree on PWA Plan

Gov. Rivers Promises Enabling Legislation For Federal Loans

By the Associated Press.

Warm Springs, Ga., Dec. 2.—President Roosevelt announced today an informal understanding by which Georgia will share legally with other States in future Federal appropriations for public works.

The President said last week he was tired of being soft-hearted and allowing Georgia to receive PWA funds in the absence of State authority permitting it to borrow.

Talking with reporters today in the presence of Gov. Rivers, he said he and State officials were agreed on plans to surmount the borrowing limitations of the State constitution.

Rivers, who had just called at the "Little White House" with Lawrence S. Camp, the Administration's unsuccessful candidate against Senator George, and Democratic State Chairman James L. Gillis, told reporters enabling legislation was ready for submission to the State Legislature. He expected no difficulty in getting it through, he said.

The President said reporters were a month too early in seeking information about his legislative program.

He said he had not yet received a report from his committee preparing legislation to assist the railroads, but Secretary Marvin McIntyre interrupted to say the group would hold one more meeting in Washington before starting to write recommendations.

Activities Arranged For Girls' Auxiliary

Opening of a "girls' auxiliary" program at the Y. M. C. A., 1732 G street northwest, was announced yesterday by the First Ward Citizens Association, which has taken an active part in development of recreational facilities of the old First Ward area.

Participation in the program, which runs from 6:30 until 10 o'clock nightly, is open to all girls and young women of that neighborhood, according to an announcement by Carrie A. Ricker, the secretary.

Variety Show Tonight For Disabled Veterans

A variety show for the benefit of the disabled veterans at Walter Reed Hospital will be held tonight in the Red Cross Building, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

In addition to accordion and violin solos, the male quartet from McKinley High School, under the direction of Mrs. Bella B. Thompson, will be present. A play, "The Flirtation," with Jeannette Raccosin in the leading role, will follow the musical selections.

Railroads Reduce Rates for Holidays

Specially reduced railroad coach and Pullman rates will be in effect from December 15 to January 1 in the first holiday rate reduction in several years. A reduction of 16 per cent in round trip coach and Pullman fares to points north, west and southwest for the holidays is offered by the Baltimore and Ohio. The Pennsylvania reduction will be 20 per cent for coach and 10 per cent on Pullman rates to all points.

Dopey Says, "Now you can afford to remember every person on your entire Christmas list!"

CHRISTMAS CARDS or WRITING PAPER

50 CHRISTMAS CARDS—imprinted with your name

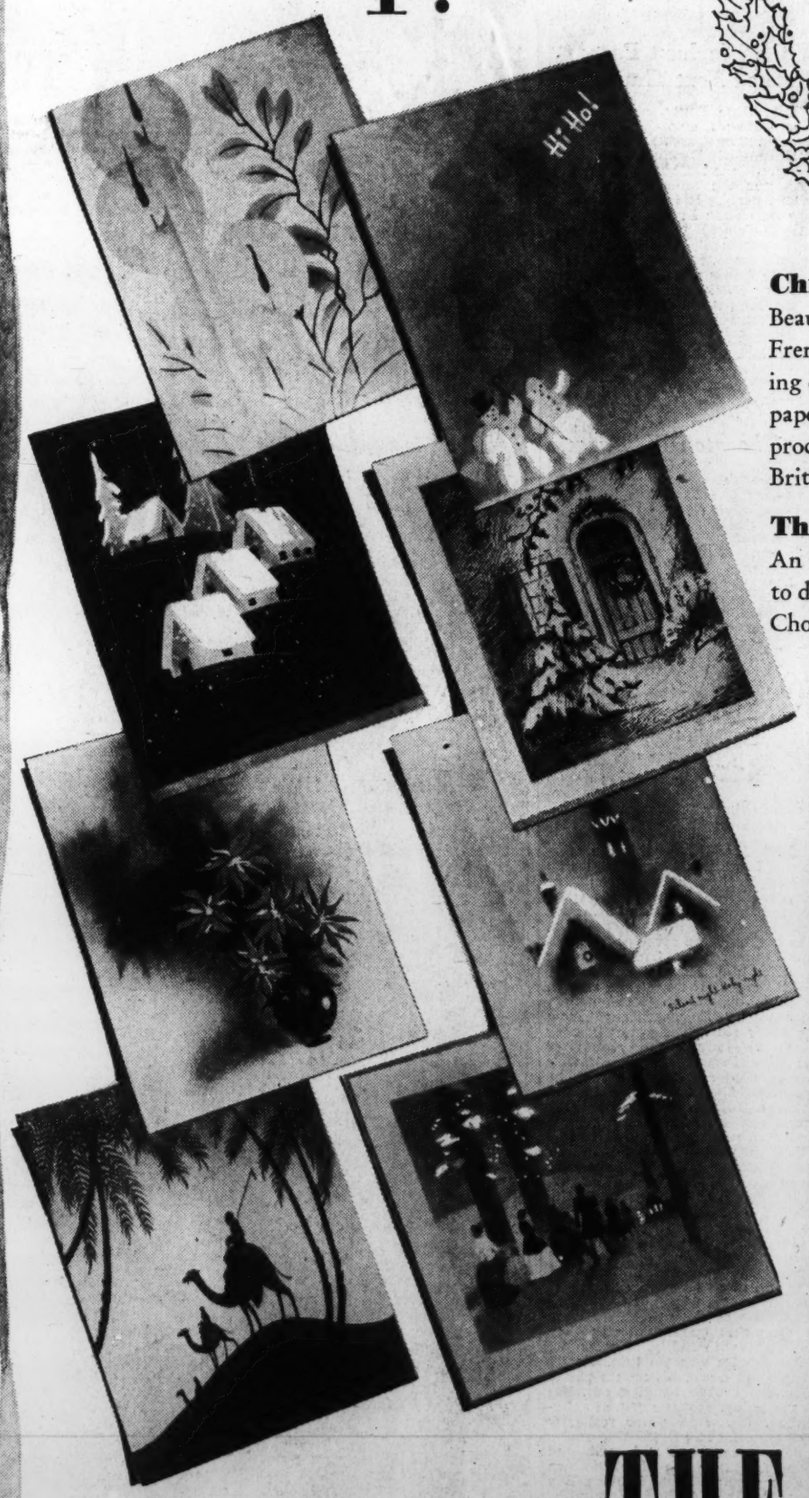
$1.00

Your Choice

$1.00

Eaton's PRINSCRIPT Personal Letter Papers

$1.00



Christmas Cards . . . 50 for $1

Beautiful Christmas cards—full four fold French folders in 4½ by 8 inch size with matching envelopes. Made of expensive looking pique paper . . . and reproduced by the new deep etch process in genuine water colors of brown, silver, British tan, blue, red, grey and black.

The Stationery . . . $1

An impressive array of Eaton stationery in types to delight both the men and women in your life! Choose from this line-up:

1. Kidskin Deckle 36 top fold notes, 36 matching envelopes. Deckle edged sheets, hand brushed border on sheets and envelopes. White—blue border, grey—white border, tan—brown border, blue—white border. Monograms in blue, white or brown.

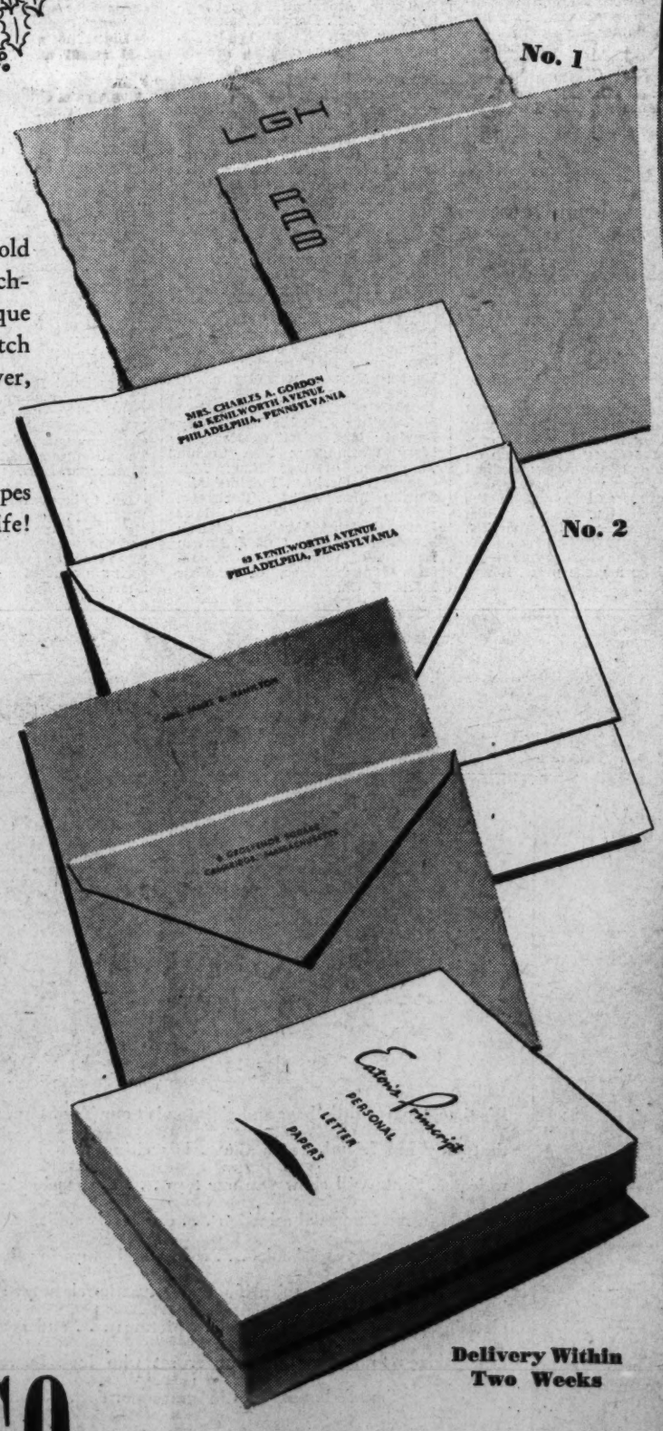
2. Prinscript Classic Laid—100 single sheets with 50 envelopes in white, ivory or grey with name and address printed in blue, black, brown, grey, green or garnet.

3. Prinscript Bordered Laid 50 hand-bordered sheets and 50 plain envelopes in ivory, white, grey, brown, buff, white with name and address in blue, black, brown, grey, green or garnet.

Double Orders of Stationery are $1.75

Sorry, No Mail, Phone or C. O. D. Orders

Main Floor—Stationery Dept.—The Hecht Co.



Delivery Within Two Weeks

If You Buy it at THE HECHT CO. It's a Welcome Gift

F STREET AT SEVENTH NATIONAL 5100

Over the Coffee

By Harlan Miller

WHITE HOUSE MOMENTS

9 A. M. The President's breakfast has just been taken into his bedroom. He has already begun to wade into the morning papers which are strewn around his bed. It's a hearty breakfast, though not as heavy as Cal Coolidge's. Gardeners' feet are crunching the gravel in the driveways to the south under his windows. The first wave of tourists is staring at the cops under the front pillars and snapping pictures.

First Lady . . . off for gallop

• • • •

10 A. M. Mr. Roosevelt has been going over his mail and his schedule for the day. Secretary McIntyre is trying to squeeze in someone for 15 minutes, and maybe squeeze someone else out. Besides Mac and Steve Early, other Presidential intimates go in and out of the bedroom; maybe Jimmy, when he's in town, or Tommy Corcoran; sometimes an unobtrusive house guest. Elsewhere fresh flowers are going into vases; Mrs. Roosevelt has been at her writing and correspondence for an hour.

• • • •

11 A. M. The President has been at his desk half an hour, getting a breath of fresh air as he traversed 50 yards of the "President's walk" south of the west wing . . . Traffic in his oval office is heavy . . . Mrs. Roosevelt is leaving in riding togs for a gallop. The anterooms have begun to fill with callers and newsmen. A few cameramen linger outside the office wing for potshots of celebrities. At the east door there's a whirlpool of tourists.

". . . First Lady off for a ride"

12 NOON. Servants have been setting the big horseshoe table in the state dining room for a dinner for 76. Lady tourists with letters from their Congressmen are peeking in at it from the main corridor. In the west wing foyer a bigshot is telling the press what he told the President, or else being inscrutable with badinage. Groceries have been arriving via the sunken driveway between the office wing and the main house. The housekeeper has discovered that she needs four more steaks.

• • • •

1 P. M. Two colored servants are wheeling Mr. Roosevelt's lunch into his office. They set two places on his desk, removing some of the clutter of papers and knicknacks. Cordell Hull can be seen crossing the narrow car-lined street between the White House and the State Department. Someone has just resigned or made a statement and the newsmen are after Steve Early to get a comment from the Chief. The officer at the west door is dissuading a lady who wants to present in person a petition in behalf of something.

". . . a swim before dinner"

2 P. M. There's a lull and a slight drowsiness as lunches are being digested. Some droll fellows are feeding peanuts to the White House squirrels through the iron fence in front and making obvious jests. In the correspondents' room a cribbage game is in progress. FDR's guest stayed a little longer for lunch than expected, and Marvin McIntyre is unsnarling the resultant congestion. Eleanor Roosevelt is receiving a delegation of ladies in the green room, their faces aglow with what they are going to tell the girls back home.

• • • •

6 P. M. After what seemed an orderly series of interruptions, the President finally got in some licks of work for a couple of hours . . . Now he is splashing around in swimming pool, where he pauses on his way home from work, off the President's Walk. In the basement kitchens an orderly pandemonium reigns; the cooks are working like demons. Mrs. Roosevelt is saying good-by to the last lingering lady, and wondering if she can dash off her column before dinner. One of the grandchildren is having supper with Diana Hopkins as her guest.

• • • •

8 P. M.—Thirty-nine glossy shirtfronts and 39 diaphanous gowns are ranged around the table in the state dining room. The Roosevelts are chatting like a squire and his lady; some of the other guests are fishing for conversation with their table neighbors. A few guests who have come 1,500 miles for this dinner are trying to memorize the details. Outside the chauffeurs in dark uniforms are lounging around the sleek limousines, grousing a little and exchanging legends about the great

Copyright, 1938, Washington Post and Publishers Syndicate.

Rockville Opens Disposal Plant Bids

Rockville, Md., Dec. 2 (Special).—The Rockville council opened bids today for a new disposal plant and F. B. Welsh, council attorney, said the contract would be awarded to the low bidder, Ligon and Ligon of Baltimore.

The concern offered to build the plant for $36,000. This was $4,000 lower than a bid submitted by the Marocco Construction Co. of Baltimore.

Beauty—and Santa Claus, Too—Reigns at Christmas Land Festivals

The Christmas season got an official start last night as the Bethesda-Chevy Chase and Columbia Heights Santa Claus lanes opened. John A. Overholt, president of the Bethesda Chamber of Commerce, is shown in left picture crowning Ruth Parks (center), beauty queen, at the Bethesda-Chevy Chase festival. Her attendants are Roberta Hammond (left) and Gladys Cecilia Powell. Beauty in the form of a movie actress, Arleen Whalen, visited the celebration arranged by the Columbia Heights Business Men's Association. William T. Gary, president of the association, is shown with the actress and Santa in right picture

Post Staff Photos.

Lawyer Urges United Front Against Fascists

Margolin Suggests Union With Soviet To Save Democracy

"The fate of the Jew is identical with that of democracy," Arnold D. Margolin, Jewish lawyer, told the Adas Israel Hebrew Congregation last night.

Although he left Russia because of dislike for the Communist regime, Margolin advocated that democracies and the Soviet Union form an alliance and become "just as united as the Fascists" He pointed out that in the event that Germany, Italy and Japan succeed in conquering Russia, a total of 9,000,000 Jews will be living under anti-Semitic rule.

Maintaining that the people of Germany and Italy were not anti-Semitic at heart, Margolin said, "not the people of a country, but the government is sometimes cruel. Democracy is the only form of government that cannot be criminal."

Margolin is a member of the bars of the District and Massachusetts, and is a well known writer and lecturer on Russian law.

"The new anti-Semitic terrorism is not alone a German-Jewish catastrophe, or a blow and humiliation to world Jewry," said Rabbi Harry Silverstone last night at Tifereth Israel Synogogue, "but a reflection on the moral state of the world."

"If the Germans and Italians wish to vent their unbelievable spite on a defenseless minority, there may be a blessing in their suffering," he asserted. "Perhaps the present Jewish agony may serve to galvanize the dormant conscience of the civilized world.

"We Jews will not fill our hearts and souls with hate, he said, and in no synagogue anywhere in the world has there been a prayer spoken which has asked for the destruction of our enemies, as we always will love all the people of the world.

Medical Society To Make Selders A Member Here

Dr. Raymond E. Selders, medical director of the Group Health Association, has been restored to good standing in the Medical Society of Harris County, Tex., where he formerly practiced, and credentials permitting him to become a member of the District Medical Society will be granted, it was learned yesterday.

When informed of the decision, Dr. Selders said: "The charges brought against me in the first place were unjust and my vindication is no more than I expected."

Charges of unethical conduct had been placed against Dr. Selders, for alleged violation of the American Medical Association's interpretation of ethical practice, at the instigation of the District Medical Society.

Dr. Selders recently was notified that charges against him had been quashed and that his $24 check for 1938 dues had been accepted.

The charges against him figured prominently in the grand jury investigation, now in its seventh week, of alleged anti-trust law violations by the medical profession.

Current Went, Meter Didn't; 2 Under Bond

Power Company Says Theater Used Its Kilowatts Too Freely

Mysterious consumption of electric current which for ten months baffled experts of the Potomac Electric Power Co., was believed solved yesterday after two men revealed how they had "fixed" a meter so that it failed to register, according to Assistant Corporation Counsel Karl Kindleberger.

Charged with unauthorized use of electric current are Benjamin Tendler, 39, of 912 Gallatin street northwest, and Julian Sisco, 21, of 1438 Columbia road northwest.

According to testimony offered at a hearing before Kindleberger, the power company's engineers last February observed a sharp drop in the consumption of electricity at the Lido Theater, in the 3200 block of M street northwest, owned by Tendler.

Investigators found nothing wrong with the meter on the first checkup, but continued low consumption puzzled technicians. Several other checks revealed that the meter had been tampered with, and once, company engineers said, they found the meter standing still despite the fact that electricity was being used.

One month the company set up an auxiliary meter outside the building on the wires leading into the theater meter, and found a discrepancy of 900 kilowatt hours between the two.

The corporation counsel's office was finally called to solve the case. At the hearing Tendler implicated Sisco, a former employe.

Kindleberger said the two men then admitted they had fooled the company experts by placing a slip of paper between the magnetos in the meter so that the theater got its current without the meter registering. The paper was removed, they revealed, for part of the month so that some consumption might be tallied. They were placed under bond.

Actors for Them, Frances Farmer Tells Chinese Here

Wearing lisle hose, blond Frances Farmer, star of "Golden Boy," yesterday assured Chinatown and its friends that the theater and screen are backing them 100 per cent in their efforts to boycott Japanese goods—principally silk.

Guests of honor at a luncheon at the China Inn, 631 H street northwest, sponsored by the Washington Boycott Committee, and attended by members of the Boycott Shopping Service, the Chinese National Salvation Association and the Chinese Women's Association, she furthered the "cause" by accepting a pair of lisle hose on behalf of the latter organization, whose president, Mrs. J. Y. Yee, made the presentation.

At the same time, on behalf of the Salvation Association, Eugene Moy presented a picture of a Chinese mother and child to Miss Farmer. Written in Chinese were the words: "The foremost star in art, defender of justice"——a tribute to the star's interest in Chinese welfare.

Pollyannas' 'Follies' Previewed For Benefit of Urban League

The Pollyannas, and the women's auxiliary of the newly organized Washington Urban League, for the benefit of that organization, staged "Footlight Follies," an extravaganza in form of a "Follies" dress rehearsal, last night at the Lincoln Theater before a capacity audience. Leonard M. Hill was master of ceremonies.

Featured in the show were George Reed, blind Howard University honor student, as pianist; Roscoe "Bud" Speller, as "Troubadour;" Norman Dunlap, as newsmonger; Pauline Braughton, as "Youth," the Langston Terrace Choral Club, directed by Irene Hooper, and various groups of dancers, including the "dolls," Harriet Clark, Josephine Anderson, Juanita Welch and Dorothy Coleman.

Capt. Dick Mansfield furnished a charcoal talk, with cartoons. A courtroom burlesque and an adagio number by the Royettes, directed by Florita Jordan Roy, together with the Ruffin family in "Alexander's Ragtime Band," were well received. The committee in charge of the presentation was headed by Mrs. Muriel Milton Alexander, general director, and Miss Adella Parks, president of the Pollyannas.

Dr. Garnet C. Wilkinson, assistant superintendent of schools, is chairman of the league organization, which has as its aim "more and better jobs," in contradistinction to unemployment relief, for colored workers. It seeks to "integrate the Negro into the economic fabric of the community, to promote, encourage, assist and engage in improvement of the industrial, economic and social conditions of colored citizens, in co-operation with existing agencies."

Bethesda Holds Yule Parade, Crowns Queen

Ruth Parks Is Chosen; 10,000 Watch Floats; Prizes Are Awarded

Capping the colorful Bethesda-Chevy Chase Christmas lane parade of floats, bands and marching units along Wisconsin avenue last night, Miss Ruth Parks was crowned Miss Bethesda-Chevy Chase by John A. Overholt, of the Bethesda Chamber of Commerce.

The parade, starting from Bradley lane at 7:30 p. m., filed through the gaily lighted business section of Bethesda past a reviewing stand at Leland street to the old Georgetown road. An estimated 10,000 people lined the avenue to applaud the 60 units entered in the procession. Groups of school children drew a noticeable amount of attention.

Miss Bethesda-Chevy Chase, with a special escort of police, led the column, followed by a company of Marine Reserves from Rockville and the Fort Stevens Post American Legion Band. The delegations of students represented Montgomery County schools, among them the Leland Junior High School, Chevy Chase Elementary School, Glen Echo-Cabin John School, Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School and the Chevy Chase High School.

Martial music was furnished by bands of the Metropolitan Police Boys Club, Jobs Daughters, Anacostia Post, No. 5; the Boy Scouts of Montgomery County, the Elks Boys unit and the Chestnut Farms Dairy.

Besides being crowned queen of the fete Miss Bethesda-Chevy Chase received a loving cup and gold wrist watch, while her two attendants, the Misses Gladys Powell and Roberta Hammond, were presented with ladies' purses.

H. S. Yohe, of Chevy Chase; Winship Green, of Silver Spring, and B. B. Sherer, of Rockville, composed the committee of judges which awarded loving cups to the best entries in the parade. These were: Chevy Chase High School, best appearing entry from Montgomery County; Chestnut Farms Dairy, best appearing float outside Montgomery County; Chevy Chase Elementary School, best juvenile unit; Jobs Daughters, best marching unit; Frank Loria Plumbing Co., most original float; Imerie's Garage, most comical entry; Fort Stevens Band, best musical unit, and the Bethesda Valet Service, most unique entry.

'Y' Men to Attend Baltimore Session

Ralph W. Foster, physical education director, and 30 others, representing various sports, will be delegates from the Central Young Men's Christian Association to the annual Interstate Physical Directors Society meeting tonight in Baltimore. The group, which will leave here today, also will attend the Interstate Key Men's Conference there tomorrow.

Besides Foster, among those from the local "Y" scheduled to attend the two conferences and the sports they represent are as follows: George T. Heckert and Karl Schlotterbeck, badminton; William R. Rodes, Lee Barbash, Lawrence Ball and Clayton Long, basketball; William S. Stanley and Donald K. Ipson, boxing; Robert Campbell and Weldon Herrington, fencing; Ernest Gaither and Howard Berger, gymnastics; Ray Nash and Dr. G. W. Engelhardt, handball; E. B. Brownell, James Murray and Harold Singer, squash; Samuel Munson and Richard Martin, swimming; Ernest P. Silva, soft ball; Anthony Latona, tennis; Andrew F. Scheer, W. R. Lansford and A. C. Pearson, volley ball; John Dulin and Satoris Pappas, weight lifting; Edwin Snow and D. W. Armstrong, wrestling; W. C. Woodward and C. Edw. Beckett, representing the interstate physical education committee; Marinus De-Gast, Paul Wilson, William E. Hutzell, E. Holt Neese, R. B. Morgan, physical staff members.

MONTMARTRE
NOCTAMBULE
It Sounds French and It Is!
A Bit of Paris on Saturday Evenings
Rendezvous des Artistes
Good Music—Songs—Slides—Skits
1100 Maryland Ave. (12th & D) S.W.
Dinner 6-10; Supper 10-12; MEt. 3606

Movie Actress Lights the Torch For Columbia Heights Yule Lane

Miss Whalen Likes Fourteenth Street Section Despite Fact Sparks Ignite Dress; Actress Presides at Dance Following

Calling Columbia Heights "the nicest section of a beautiful city," Arleen Whalen, movie actress, last night lit a torch at Fourteenth and Kenyon streets to signalize the tenth annual opening of the Northwest section's "Santa Claus Lane."

Crowds gathered to see the film star and the arrival of Santa Claus in an airplane float and watched brightly colored electric lights flash on along Fourteenth street, from Columbia road to Newton street, at the star's signal.

Sponsored by the Columbia Heights Business Men's Association, the "Lane" is opened annually during the Christmas holiday season to promote a Yuletide spirit for the Heights in general and business men in particular.

Although other sections of Washington now have started Christmas lanes, the Columbia Heights merchants claim their Santa Claus route was the first in the District, started a decade ago.

Following the opening ceremonies, Miss Whalen chatted with Santa Claus and reporters until she crossed Fourteenth street to preside at a dance and style show in the Arcade ballroom.

"I went over to Baltimore this afternoon, but I like Washington much better," the actress said. "I still like it, even after climbing all 998 steps of the Washington Monument. But the next time I usher in Santa Claus I hope it will be with an electric switch. The sparks from that torch burned my dress."

Technicians Urge Hiring Local Men On D. C. Projects

Believing that Washington engineers and architects should be given consideration in the employment of technical advisers in connection with local public works projects, the District of Columbia Council of Engineering and Architectural Societies last night approved a letter from its chairman, A. B. McDaniel, to the District Commissioners requesting them to avoid engaging out-of-town consultants when qualified local men are available.

In a special meeting at the Cosmos Club the council voted to prepare, with the assistance of its 14-member societies, a list of men in local practice qualified by education and experience to design sewage treatment plants, traffic separation facilities and other municipal improvements. This list will be transmitted to the District officials.

It was pointed out that many times in the past the District government has engaged outside consultants when qualified men were available in local practice.

Similar action has recently been taken by the Washington Building Congress and by the D. C. chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Fuel Truckers' Vote On Union Ruled Out

An election held Thursday by Grimth Consumers Co. truck drivers and helpers to determine whether a majority favored union affiliation was ruled out yesterday when it was found voting was not in accord with National Labor Relations Board regulations.

A labor board spokesman revealed a pay roll list instead of an eligibility list was used on the part of both company and union as a basis for voting. Whether or not another election is necessary was to be decided by the board today.

Girl, 14, Missing

Police yesterday were asked to look for Mary Smith, 14, of 606 Fifth street northwest, missing from her home since Wednesday. She was reported to have left home with two older women and three soldiers. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Smith.

Auto Heaters
CHOICE OF 50 MODELS
Trade In Your Old Heater
We'll pay 1 0 5 prices for your old heater regardless of its condition.
NO MONEY DOWN—EASIEST PAYMENTS
★ Arvin ★ HaDees ★ Tropic-Aire
★ Goodrich ★ Eureka ★ Atlas
Manhattan Auto & Radio Co.
1706 Seventh St. N.W.

4,000 Hear Talk By Carveth Wells About Bermuda

The first aerial photograph of Bermuda to show the entire island in a single picture, made from an altitude of 13,000 feet, featured an illustrated lecture on the British colony resort given by Carveth Wells, traveler and author, before the National Geographic Society last night at Constitution Hall.

Bermuda, one of the few remaining motorless spots in a gasoline-driven world, retains the charm of the "horse-and-buggy age" largely through the efforts of two former Presidents of the United States, Wells pointed out. Woodrow Wilson and William Howard Taft, with Mark Twain, were signers of a petition to bar automobiles from the public roads of the island.

Mrs. Taft, widow of the President, was in the audience of 4,000 members of the society who heard Wells refer to her late husband's article on Bermuda in a past issue of the National Geographic Magazine as "the most complete and accurate account of the history and government of Bermuda that ever has been written."

Potatoes now are Bermuda's leading export, yet strangely enough, said Wells, Bermudians do not eat their own potatoes, but import less expensive varieties from elsewhere.

Driver Killed In Va. Collision

A unidentified colored man, believed to be a Washington resident, was killed last night in a two-car collision at North Strafford street and Lee highway, Cherrydale, Va.

Harvey T. Hildreth, 67, of 1839 Summit place northwest, was driver of the other car. He was released by Arlington County police on his personal bond.

Rushed to the Georgetown Hospital by the Clarendon Rescue Squad, the motorist was dead on arrival. District police were trying to locate Massie Ford, 1333 T street northwest, listed as owner of the colored man's auto in order to identify the victim.

ALL WASHINGTON DROPS IN
UPTOWN
Steaks, Chops charcoal broiled
THE COCKTAIL LOUNGE OF DISTINCTION
COMPLETE DINNERS FROM 65c 5 to 9 P. M.
ENTERTAINMENT NIGHTLY 8:30 to 1:30
UPTOWN
3433 Conn. Ave.

Court to Study Law Schooling Issue Monday

Some Oppose New Rule Requiring Two Years Of Pre-Legal Study

Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat and the justices of the District Court on Monday will consider the problem of pre-legal education and a possible change of the rules on the subject to conform to the attitude of the Court of Appeals of the District.

The rule laid down by the Appellate Court in July requires that an applicant for admission to the bar who begins his study after September 1 of this year "must have successfully completed at least two full years of study in an approved college or university, or the equivalent thereof." It also requires that applicants be graduates of law schools approved by the court.

The attitude of the District Bar Association on the question will be presented by Herbert M. Bingham, former president of the organization, and Walter M. Bastain, who were named by the board of directors of the association as its representatives.

Opposition to the changes is being voiced by John Paul Earnest, chairman of the Committee on Admissions and Grievances of the District Court, who holds that applicants with four years of high school work equal the marks in law school of those who have attended college for two years.

Blaze Destroys Cruiser Here

Fire which blazed when her owner stepped aboard with a lighted lantern last night gutted the 30-foot cabin cruiser Popeye in the Airport Basin.

Clyde E. Williams, of 1130 Seventh street northwest, leaped overboard to save his life. He said he had gone aboard to pump water out of the bulge and believed accumulated gasoline fumes were ignited by his lantern.

Arlington County fire companies could not bring the blaze under control until the interior and superstructure of the boat were destroyed.

U. of Md. Stock Club Gets National Honor

Members of the University of Maryland Livestock Club were notified yesterday their organization had been voted into the national organization, Block and Bridle, a national club for promoting livestock and dairy work among schools and universities.

Jim McGregory, of Worton, Md., is president of the university organization.

MAKE SATURDAY A GALA OCCASION
By Dining At
The Smörgåsbord
1632 K N.W. NA. 1443
Among many other things we are having Norwegian meat balls for luncheon and Swedish pancakes with Lingon Berries for dinner.

Women Held Problem in Tipsy Driving

Kreml Tells Highway Board of Menace; Night Lighting Need Is Stressed

Drinking and driving is as common among women as men in proportion to the number of female drivers on the road at various times of day, Lieut. F. M. Kreml, of the Northwestern University traffic institute, reported yesterday to the Highway Research Board.

The peak age for drinking drivers is from 23 to 30, Kreml told the board at the concluding session of its eighteenth meeting, held in the National Academy of Sciences Building.

The highest percentage of accidents involving drinking drivers occur over week-ends and in the early hours of the morning, he said. Although the exact importance of drinking in the traffic problem has not been objectively established, he termed it "a self evident fact that alcohol is a major cause of automobile accidents."

Earl J. Reeder, chief traffic engineer of the National Safety Council, stressed the importance of "increasing pedestrian recognition of responsibility for his own safety, without reducing the driver's responsibility for pedestrian protection."

Pedestrian Issue

Pointing out that automobiles, because they can be maneuvered far more easily, are held primarily responsible for safety at grade intersections with railroads, he appealed for a similar attitude toward vehicular traffic on the part of pedestrians.

"We have the job of training pedestrians to consider the street a danger zone at all times, not to be entered except after making sure that it is safe to do so," he declared.

Records covering a five-year period in Connecticut, he stated, show only 47 registered drivers out of 1,231 pedestrian fatalities. A pedestrian education drive must be directed primarily at age, racial and economic groups within the population who do not understand automobile operation, he recommended.

Reeder asserted that drinking by pedestrians and promiscuous use of the streets by those afoot are major causes of accidents almost beyond the control of drivers.

Among remedial measures he proposed traffic signals indicating when pedestrians can safely cross intersections, wider use of pedestrian islands, tunnels and bridges and improved street lighting.

Lights Need Stressed

"The pedestrian too often assumes," he pointed out, "that at night the driver can see him as well as he can see the automobile headlights."

On 31 miles of specially illuminated streets in Detroit, he said pedestrian fatalities at night decreased from an average of 36 from 1934 to 1936 to 9 after installation of the new lighting system.

D. Grant Mickle, assistant director, Michigan State Highway Department, warned that "long experience in crime enforcement is no guarantee of success in traffic enforcement, and is more apt to be a detriment."

The traffic officer's job, he said, "is no longer one that can be carried out successfully by the casual police officer or the untrained novice," advocating that the position be raised to "expert and professional standing."

Realistic adjustment of highway speed limits to present capacity of highways and automobiles, with zones of lower speed for special conditions, was urged in a report by H. H. Harrison, traffic engineer of the Illinois division of highways.

"The day is past," he said, "when we can deceive the motorists and successfully apply restrictions for which the majority can see no evident need."

Roosevelt Popularity

What do the voters think about President Roosevelt since the last elections . . . his outspoken criticism of the Nazi brutalities . . . and the signing of the Anglo-American reciprocal trade treaty? You'll find the answer in the Gallup Poll—tomorrow in

The Washington Post

WASHINGTON'S HOME NEWSPAPER

'Stagecoach' Will Be Epic Of Red Dust

Rare Sites Found Hardship for Cast Tale of Old West

By Frederick C. Othman,
U. P. Hollywood Correspondent.

Hollywood, Dec. 2.—Some weary movie makers wiped the red dust of the Arizona mesas from their faces today, certain that the pioneers of the West never underwent hardships any greater than their's.

In production was Walter Wanger's "Stagecoach" and necessary was some stupendous scenery, unmarred by filling stations, concrete highways and cheeseburger stands. The landscape, in other words, had to be like it was in 1885—when stage coaches were in style—and there isn't much of it left, anymore.

Director John Ford and his camera crews finally found what they wanted in Monument Valley, Ariz., on the far edge of an Apache Indian reservation and a couple of hundred miles from the nearest railroad. There, on a terrain covered with cactus, bottle-shaped saguaro and sand, are dozens of eroded red buttes, some of them 1,200 feet high. It is such scenery as few Americans ever have seen, simply because it is too far from civilization.

A Vast Layout

There Ford took the Concord stage, around which most of the picture action occurs; his troops of soldiers, and his technical crew for some of the most beautiful shots we ever have seen on a movie screen. (We saw 'em in comfort in a projection room.)

"The layout was so vast that it all seemed to look the same," reported Otho Lovering, the editorial supervisor. "I remember that when we got all the shots we needed among the Buttes, I actually had to drive 186 miles across desert trails before the scenery began to change and we could set up our cameras again."

"Yeah," added Production Manager Daniel Keefe, "and the wind blew and blew, and all it blew was red sand and at night when we'd take off our clothes our underwear would be pink and our skins red; as red as that of the redskins who lived there. There wasn't any too much water to wash the red off with, either."

Finished in Studio

When Ford finally had obtained several thousand feet of background shots, showing the vastness of the plains through which the pioneers once were forced to fight their way, he brought the company back to United Artists studio for the rest of the production.

The plot of the picture is unusual. The stagecoach starts from Tonto, Ariz., with such passengers as Claire Trevor, a prostitute; Louise Platt, a housewife about to give birth to a baby; Donald Meek, a whisky drummer; George Bancroft, a U. S. marshal; Thomas Mitchell, a drunken doctor, and John Wayne, the Gringo Kid, an outlaw. In charge of this strangely assorted crew is Andy Devine, the stagecoach driver.

When the journey starts, everybody is angry and suspicious and unkind and sneering. When finally it ends, after the birth of the baby, battles with Apaches and whatnot, all the passengers have turned into human beings. That's all there is to the story and all there needs to be.

Coach Cost $3,500

When we arrived on Stage 4, Miss Platt had just given birth to her child in an adobe relay station. Ford had hired a real baby for the closeup shots, but while we watched the proceedings, which showed Miss Trevor holding the child and Devine admiring it, a dummy infant was in use. That's revealing no secret. It's against the rules for newly born children to work under the lights more than a few seconds at a time, so all studios are forced to make use of synthetic ones, well wrapped in blankets, for the long shots.

In front of the house stood the stage coach, which almost is the star of the production. This vehicle was built in Concord, N. H., in 1878, and so handsomely put together and decorated that it's still as good as new. And it ought to be. The original bill of sale shows that the coach cost $3,500—more than most 1939 limousines—f. o. b. Concord.

The vehicle, varnished a deep maroon and embellished with scenes of New England winters on both doors, stood on some of the most realistic dried and cracked mud we ever saw. We asked the prop man how he achieved such an effect.

"Simple," he said. "I just laid a layer of mud on the floor a month ago and left it there. As it dried, it cracked by itself."

Film Table

Loew's Capitol—"Sabu," at 10:15 a. m., 1:05, 4, 6:55 and 9:50 p. m. Midnight show, at 12:45 a. m. Stage shows at 12:15, 3:10, 6:05, 8:55 and 11:50 p. m.

Earle—"Hard to Get," at 11 a. m., 1:40, 4:25, 7:10 and 9:50 p. m. Stage shows, at 12:45, 3:30, 6:15 and 9 p. m.

RKO-Keith's—"A Man to Remember," at 11:50 a. m., 1:50, 3:50, 5:50, 7:50 and 9:50 p. m. "Ferdinand, the Bull," at 11:45 a. m., 1:45, 3:45, 5:45, 7:45 and 9:45 p. m.

Palace—"The Great Waltz," at 11:20 a. m., 1:50, 4:25, 7 and 9:35 p. m.

Metropolitan—"Men With Wings," at 11 a. m., 1:05, 3:15, 5:25, 7:35 and 9:40 p. m.

Columbia—"The Shining Hour," at 11:35 a. m., 1:35, 3:40, 5:45, 7:45 and 9:50 p. m.

Belasco — "Orage," at 2:35, 4:25, 6:15, 8:05 and 9:55 p. m.

Little Theater—"Scarface," at 11 a. m., 12:45, 2:35, 4:20, 6:10, 8 and 9:45 p. m.

Trans-Lux—Newsreel and shorts, at 10 and 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 1:45, 3, 4:15, 5:30, 6:45, 8, 9:15 and 10:45 p. m.

Tivoli—"Touchdown Army," at 2:30, 4:18, 6:31, 8:14 and 9:55 p. m.

Ambassador—"Too Hot to Handle," at 1:15, 3:20, 5:20, 7:25 and 9:30 p. m.

Uptown—"Youth Takes a Fling," at 1:35, 3:35, 5:35, 7:35 and 9:40 p. m.

All On Nickels

Although over half a million buffalo hides were shipped east of Dodge City around 1872, Warner Bros. had to try 40 places before they could assemble a dozen hides for use in "Dodge City."

Nelson B. Bell About The Showshops

'Hard to Get' is Sprightly Comedy, at the Earle Sabu Scores in 'Drums', at Loew's Capitol

Fast Action Farce
Dick Powell Sings
De Havilland Romps
Dick Foran a Hit

"HARD TO GET." Warner Brothers picturization of a story by Wally Klein and Joseph Schrank, adapted to the screen by Jerry Wald, Maurice Leo and Richard Macaulay, featuring Dick Powell and Olivia de Havilland, with Charles Winninger, Allen Jenkins, Melville Cooper, Bonita Granville, Isabel Jeans, Grady Sutton, Thurston Hall, John Ridgely, Penny Singleton, Granville Bates and Jack Mower. Directed by Ray Enright. Reviewed Friday morning. At the Earle Theater.

BELL.

It is a tumultuous sort of tomfoolery that is divulged on the screen at the Earle Theater this week in the Warner Brothers' production of "Hard to Get," featuring Dick Powell and Olivia de Havilland.

Mr. Powell is cast as a young gas station attendant and Miss de Havilland as the daughter of a Park avenue millionaire with a high penchant for boxing, wrestling, table tennis and whatnot, with his valet for partner, but no taste for further business deals than he already has to worry about. Daughter Maggie and Gasman Bill have a slight altercation over a small matter of $3.48, which she is unable to pay on the spot, and in revenge for having been set to work cleaning up the tourist cottages on the lot, Maggie gives her persecutor the open sesame to her dad's office. This is the signal to Ben Richards to turn the brash young man over, with his plans for a transcontinental string of gas stations, to John Atwater, another "hard-berled" tycoon, who delights in giving pests the gate.

Bill is tossed around like one of the elder Richards' ping-pong balls for a considerable portion of the film's footage, but finally gets a hearing as a reward for his final bit of bravado when he crashes a swank party in the Atwater home. All he has to do then is marry the girl—which he does.

Many Comic Sequences

This simple and familiar fable has been rigged up with some effective comedy sequences in its present version. One of them necessitates the lifting of the millionaires and the Richards valet to the forty-fourth story of a skyscraper—where Bill is driving rivets after having been fired from his pump job—on a steel beam. It is quite a ride they take. The dinner party at the Richards home, with the maid masquerading as the daughter and vice versa, also is not without its laughs.

During the frenzied action of the piece Dick Powell has opportunity to sing a couple of songs in fine voice, although "Hard to Get" is not a musical and the interpolated numbers have no particular place in the plot. They help, at that.

Powell, by the way, is becoming more and more facile as a light comedian and in his present assignment turns in rather the best performance he has done in this vein. Miss de Havilland, on the other hand is not the ideal comedienne—or perhaps it is only that she has been identified heretofore largely with roles of more serious import and a little greater dignity. She nevertheless makes an acceptable foil for the Powell ebullience and enters quite into the frivolous spirit of a film that must have been a mere frolic for her.

The picture is purloined with some conclusiveness by the elders in the cast, impersonating the two millionaires and the valet. These able gentlemen would be Charles Winninger, as Richards; Thurston Hall, as Atwater, and Melville Cooper, as Case. Mr. Winninger always has the time of his life in a role of this spontaneous nature. The veteran Mr. Hall has become one of the screen's reliable character men and Mr. Cooper seems to be good at anything to which he turns a hand.

Other effective, but not important, roles are played by Isabel Jeans, as Mrs. Richards; Allen Jenkins, as Bill's sidekick; Bonita Granville as the younger Richards daughter; Grady Sutton, as an ineffectual lover, and Penny Singleton, as the maid. The picture is handsomely staged and swiftly directed by Ray Enright.

Foran Sings to a Hit

Another screen star, in the person of Dick Foran, headlines the stage bill at the Earle this week and walks off with his full share of credit and applause. Mr. Foran, recently seen as a vocal young man in both "Four Daughters" and "The Sisters" on the screen, confines himself to singing on this appearance and displays an even better voice than we are accustomed to hear from him through the sound horns. Opening with "Home on the Range," he follows with "Ol' Man River" and "Little Buckaroo." His voice is a splendid barytone of resonant quality and wide range. And he is a handsome lad, too—despite his ten-gallon sombrero and those dark brown cowboy boots.

Others lined up by Production Manager Harry Anger for this week's stage diversion include the Shanghai Wing Troupe of eight Celestials, in miraculous juggling and acrobatic feats; Arren and Broderick in their grotesque "Opera in the Ruff," with the eccentric Miss Broderick "stealing" the act—all except Mr. Arren's piano solo—and the 16 Earle Roxyettes.

An added attraction yesterday afternoon was the first group of local stage aspirants in the "Secret Ambitions" talent quest. They were Buddy Phillips, barytone; Myrtle Arter, whistler, and Paul Morgan and John Tass, violin and guitar duetists. Mr. Phillips was awarded first prize, Miss Arter second and the other two third on the basis of audience applause, with Announcer Bill Cragg of N. B. C. as judge.

The Paramount News, a Grantland Rice "Sportlight" and a Merrie Melodie cartoon, "The Nightwatchman," are the diversified short subjects that round out a lively and richly varied entertainment.

Dips Pen In Incas

Bonita Granville has become so interested in her high school course on the life of the Incas that she has started writing a long essay on them.

The Hero Who Saved the Day

SABU

remembered for his work in the title role of "Elephant Boy," who this week is starred in Alexander Korda's Technicolor production of "Drums," chief screen attraction at Loew's Capitol Theater. Raymond Massey and Roger Livesey are prominently cast in support, with Valerie Hobson in the leading feminine role

In Technicolor
Massey in Cast
Story of India
Nice Stage Show

"DRUMS." London Films Technicolor picturization for United Artists release of the story by A. E. W. Mason, adapted to the screen by Lajos Biro, Arthur Wimperis, Patrick Kirwin and Hugh Gray, starring Sabu, with Raymond Massey, Roger Livesey, Valerie Hobson, David Tree, Desmond Tester, Francis L. Sullivan, Archibald Batty, Ronald Adam, Frederick Culley, Edward Lexy and Amid Taftazani. Directed by Zoltan Korda. Reviewed Friday afternoon. At Loew's Capitol Theater.

Going far afield for the scene of his melodramatic pageant, Alexander Korda has brought to the screen a vivid mosaic of beauty, romance, intrigue, suspense and thrills in his London Films production of the long-awaited "Drums," presented publicly in Washington for the first time yesterday as chief feature of the new week's bill at Loew's Capitol Theater.

"Drums" is an heroic story of garrison life in the rugged mountain country of northwest India and by the very grandeur of its natural setting affords a fine subject for the utilization of Technicolor's natural color photography. While this may not be looked upon as the foremost demonstration of Technicolor's value to violent celluloid drama, it nevertheless is a picture that gains immeasurably by the application of tints to scenes requiring the flash of brilliant hues to lend the utmost in realism.

The pictured drama, of course, is primarily aimed at the emphasis of such valiant heroism as has carried the flag of the British empire to the most remote corners of the earth. It pits a pitifully small garrison of English soldiers against the formidable savagery of hordes of natives under the leadership of a crafty and a brutal Eastern prince. The presence of the bride of an English officer among the potential victims of the cunning potentate adds to the sinister implications of the play and vastly magnifies its insistent element of suspense. The presence of two youthful players in the cast has a similar effect of contributing additional thrills to tense and ominous situations. The title is not ill-founded, since drums beat out the signal that it is time to strike.

Sabu Scores Again

This episode of the drums is approached with a keen sense of dramatic values and the cumulative effect of gradual approach to the drama's climax. The two youngsters in the cast are vital factors in the development of this facet of a many-sided and not always too clear movement of plot. They are Sabu, the 14-year-old prodigy of the Indian jungles, in the role of Prince Azim, and Desmond Tester, the freckled British drummer boy, who inducts him into the intricacies of the long-roll. These youths are by no means the least efficient members of an ensemble of principals that rates high in merit.

Sabu seems less a miracle now than when he made his first appearance on the American screen in "Elephant Boy," but no less an ingratiating and competent juvenile actor. There is a wholesomeness and warmth about the personality of this lad that immediately attracts an audience. As a sort of British Mickey Rooney, Desmond Tester acquits himself with equal favor. From him and an older member of the enlisted corps springs much of the comedy needed as an antidote for the grim cruelty of the mountain tribes intent on wiping out the English and freeing themselves from encumbrances they resent.

The native duplicity is epitomized in the character of Prince Ghul, arch conspirator, played with his customary zest for this sort of thing by Raymond Massey, who here offers a characterization in pointed contrast with the superb performance he brought to Washington's earlier season in the title role of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." Mr. Massey's versatility is of unique expansiveness.

Another in the cast who gives an excellent account of himself is Roger Livesey, remembered by Capital theatergoers as the young reporter in the original stage production of "Storm Over Patsy." Augmenting the romantic interest, with him, is Valerie Hobson, a young actress of considerable emotional fervor, whose befriending of Prince Azim paves the way for his later rescue of her. Those in minor roles are entirely adequate to the demands made upon them by a play of majestic proportions and impressive setting.

Flippen Stars on Stage

The stage bill at the Capitol this week is a variegated offering, with Jay C. Flippen, one of Broadway's more persuasive wags, as master of ceremonies and headline entertainer. Mr. Flippen has a way with him in putting over either a song or a jest. He is assisted in his individual contribution to the bill by a helpful comedian and a trig young woman.

Among those the flip Master Flippen introduces are Vox and Walters in their familiar ventriloquial act, with Miss Walters still doing her crying bit and Mr. Vox his voice-throwing through glasses of wine and clouds of cigarette smoke; Paul Gordon, a trick bicyclist, whose stunts hark back to the heyday of the "wheel" in those gay 90's; Deane Janis, an effective torch singer, and Norma Gallo, an unusually clever acrobatic dancer, whose solo work adds new interest to the dance routines of the 16 Rhythm Rockets.

Another feature of the new bill is the three-part overture conducted by D'Artega, making a guest appearance on the podium. D'Artega is a volatile and brilliant young man who leads his musicians without use of a baton but solely through the medium of remarkably expressive hands and well-judged athleticism. His overture consists of his own special arrangements—and extremely able arrangements they are—of "Dinah," "Reverie" and the descriptive "Boulevard of Broken Dreams," the last named vaguely suggestive of "1812," despite its swing treatment. All were thunderously applauded.

The Fox Movietone News completes a program of unusual dimensions.

Carol Ann Absent

"Stand up and Fight," costarring Wallace Beery and Robert Taylor, is the first picture in two years on which Carol Ann Beery has not been a daily visitor. School duties now take up the youngster's time.

The New Yorker

By Leonard Lyons

New York, Dec. 2.

F. D. R.: Mayor LaGuardia now has on his desk a resolution to be presented to the city council prohibiting any of the municipal departments from purchasing German-made goods . . . Jimmy Hines: One of your Democratic colleagues in the Bronx now is unavailable to callers. Dewey's office discovered a graft link to him among the papers left by Senator Berg, who committed suicide. The payoff was made in New York County . . . Mrs. Cordell Hull: Mrs. Jim Farley was anxious to accompany you on the trip to Peru. She changed her mind because she was afraid of the traditional hazing at the equator.

JIMMY DURANTE: Ethel Merman, with whom you'll be co-starred, exhibited her broken fingernail to Beatrice Lillie, who asked: "How'd you break it?" . . . "I broke it opening my bracelet," Ethel explained . . . "Is it bad?" asked Bea, solicitously . . . "Bad?" replied Miss Merman, fingering the huge diamond bracelet. "It ain't tin! After all my mother once had her chin caught in a wash-ringer!"

MABEL BOLL: Judge Louis Brodsky is sailing for South America to inspect a diamond mine there, for possible purchase . . . Elsa Maxwell: There'll be hell to pay at one of the swanky shops today . . . all because Adrienne Ames, Mrs. Orson Munn and Mrs. Angie Biddle Duke arrived at El Morocco yesterday and discovered they all were wearing exactly the same gowns . . . Nelson Rockefeller: The next revue at the International Casino will be produced by Leon Leonidoff and Russell Markert, who have been producing the shows at your Music Hall.

SAMMY BAUGH: The collegiate backfield for the Herald Tribune All-Star game, to be held September 9, 1939, already has been selected. The players will be Luckman of Columbia, Osmansky of Holy Cross, MacLeod of Dartmouth and Goldberg of Pitt. Goldberg will get $1,000, and the others $150 each . . . Eddie Cantor: Wm. Paley, head of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and Mrs. Paley have adopted a boy from Chicago's Cradle. He's been named Geoffrey Paley . . . Alexander Woollcott: The Elbow Room, which you started, has a new managing head. He's Harry Miller, husband of novelist Alice Duer Miller.

WILL HAYS: Mickey Rooney started to dance with Martha Raye at the Trocadero, but was asked to leave the floor, because in California youngsters under 18 mustn't dance in public places. This, despite the fact that the law provides that Mickey's old enough to drive a car—as recklessly as he's been doing . . . Wm. Powell: Dashiell Hammett, who originated your "Thin Man," has switched publishers—from Knopf to Random House . . . Jack Dempsey: Art Shaw, the fighter who posed for the illustration in the current Collier's—posed as the kayoed pug in Jimmy Cannon's article, "My fighters lose"—received $10 for agreeing to be photographed that way.

EQUITY: Only a few days ago Mary Martin, daughter of a Federal judge in Texas, received front-page publicity because the critics lauded her first appearance on a Broadway stage—as the ingenue in the Spewack musical, "Leave It to Me" . . . "Overnight," they reported, "Miss Martin has become a first-rate trouper" . . . Mary, who leaped to fame so quickly, completed the gamut of Broadway last night, when she learned that her father is near death in Texas . . . Vinton Freedley, producer of the hit show, convinced her to remain in New York—the first test of a trouper.

LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI: Better take care of Greta. The doctors call it "undernourishment." She calls it "dieting" . . . Eddy Duchin: James F. Victor, who supplies the music at Luna Park, is adding a new touch in the orchestra business. He's assembling an all-girl band, with male vocalists . . . Clifton Fadiman: Your "Information Please" program is most entertaining when Oscar Levant appears as one of your guest experts . . . Ernest Hemingway: The newspapers announced that you returned from Spain last week. But some of your friends insist they saw you here one month ago.

Little

Racketeering has developed a smoother technique and a more skillful public relations committee in the past six years. Such, at least, is one of the many reactions to the notable revival of "Scarface," the latest offering of the International Cinema Festival at the Little Theater.

When Howard Hughes produced this film in 1932 there was considerable trepidation as to just how many States would permit it to be shown. To many it was a shocking revelation of racketeering conditions and underworld-politico alliances. Not only in his foreword, but also in a bitter scene in the plot itself, Mr. Hughes tells the American people that they, through their government, are responsible for ruthless racketeering and machine-gun street warfare.

Chicago and Al Capone are the setting and central figure of this tornado of steel and bullets. In the role of "Scarface" is Paul Muni, making one of his first notable film appearances. When he swaggers across the screen, gunning those who stand in his way; when the cars of a rival gang whistle down the streets with machine guns at every window, one wonders if this could ever have been. For racketeering is not so coarse now; Chicago has no such wholesale mowings-down these days.

George Raft, still flipping the coin just as he has all these years in one's memory, is an outstanding figure. Karen Morley is superb as the moll, far better than one might have considered her in 1932. Ann Dvorak's work in the tragic role of Scarface's sister is spotty—good in the paper doll scene with Raft, clumsy in early shots. The appearance of the late Osgood Perkins as Lovo demonstrates what a fine actor he was.

The Festival has already shown us a Robin Hood of Slovakia, a brilliant French satire, and a simple story of the British Isles. While it may seem unhappily striking that the first American film to be shown should be of racketeering, it must be remembered that the film was made not only to entertain but to bring an unpleasant truth to the fore. That it should have succeeded so well as entertainment, and as a stirrup to public opinion, reveals again the understanding integrity of Howard Hughes and the discerning acting of Paul Muni. R. L. C.

Man Bites Dog

Pat Knowles, British actor, ate his first hot dog during the shooting of "Torchy Blane in Chinatown."

Eurhythmic Debut

Luise Rainer introduces eurhythmic dancing on the screen in "Dramatic School."

In Hollywood

With Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Calif., Dec. 2.—Gracie Fields, England's young Marie Dressler, the gal who went from rags to riches because she has an earthy quality no one can resist, has arrived here for a three week visit—not only to get some of our Americano and our slanguage—she'll get plenty of that from her great friend, Fannie Brice—but because she loves to be in Hollywood where not a soul recognizes her.

HEDDA HOPPER

"Here I can go anywhere I like," Gracie says, "do what I please. No one knows, no one cares and I've heard people say, 'Who's that awful looking woman?'"

And that, my friends, is the highest paid actress in the world! After we see her next picture, "Keep Smiling" she should be as well known here as she is at home.

Nancy Kelly arrived in New York just at the time Richard Greene was lost and his studio couldn't find him, and the only question asked her was: Did she know where they could locate Richard Greene? And all she could answer was that he was still carrying the torch for Arleen Whelan.

Twentieth-Century-Fox was so surprised at the wires and phone calls from Canada wanting more information about Alexander Graham Bell. Seems he spent most of his life up there, and consequently they want the first break on art and information. As you know, Don Ameche will play Bell.

While lunching with Jack Benny the other day, who was making a bid for sympathy because of a three-day cold, Jack spent the entire time talking about Ameche—which is refreshing to say the least.

Note to Eugenia Leonovitch: Both Loretta Young and Binnie Barnes are raving about your hubby, Gregory Ratoff, and his skill as a director.

If Mrs. Eddie Robinson isn't careful, her world travels will be cut down to a few minor countries. Her interviews with Trotsky and Kerensky have already barred her from three counties. But you've got to admire her spunk—she goes merrily on her way.

Tia Lachmann, Chinese wife of Director Harry, had to make several trips to Ellis Island before she left for France to make sure she could get back into our country.

Frank Capra returns soon to Washington to observe more Capitol life—wants to get chummy with the old Washingtonians, called "Cliff Dwellers"—who don't care who's in the White House so long as the daughters and the grandchildren meet the right people, parties are up to par, and they don't have to part with their dog collars.

As you know, Frank's next will be "Mr. Deeds from Montana."

Some people certainly have gall. A Wisconsin woman wrote Lucile Ball asking for one of her dresses, saying that she had a better right to it than Hollywood charities—because she once lived in Lucile's home town! "And would Lucile please send a white formal by air—she had a heavy date and wanted plenty of time for alterations!"

Before long we're liable to see Eddie Cantor as a man who can fly—just by flapping his arms. Eddie bought the rights to "The Flying Yorkshireman," that hilarious novel by Eric Knight, for $15,000. But from the author, who sold picture rights for a tenth that amount. Two producers had already profited by it.

They needed a dog to act with Charlie Ruggles in "Two Weeks Without Pay." And Charlie sent out to his ranch to get one of his own seventy-five dogs. When the canine was brought onto the set he forthwith bit his master. Charlie had never been introduced to that one!

I wonder if you'll like having Fred Astaire die in "The Castles?" You'll love the old songs—"Oh, You Beautiful Doll," "Waiting For the Robert E. Lee," "Sunbonnet Sue," "Tipperary," and "Shine On, Harvest Moon." When I think of the miles I've danced to those!

Copyright, 1938.

Hot Idea

Margaret Lindsay is having her living room fireplace built so it can be opened from the outside and used as a lawn barbecue, too.

AMUSEMENTS

Warner Bros.• 25c to Noon

NOW EARLE

ON THE SCREEN "HARD TO GET" A Warner Bros. Comedy With DICK POWELL OLIVIA De HAVILLAND

ON THE STAGE DICK FORAN IN PERSON Extra Added "SECRET AMBITIONS" Something New With BILL CRAGO of N.B.C.

"Hard To Get" Can Also Be Seen Tomorrow, Mon. Tues. and Wed. at Ambassador. Don't Forget Daily Matinees at 1 p. m.

METROPOLITAN

Now—2nd Week Downtown "MEN WITH WINGS" A Paramount TECHNICOLOR Hit with FRED MacMURRAY RAY MILLAND

25c to 5:30 p. m.

25c to 12 Noon • 1000 Seats Every Night 40c

Loew's CAPITOL F-AT 14th DOORS OPEN 10:45

NOW Thrilling TECHNICOLOR Adventure DRUMS with SABU (Elephant Boy) RAYMOND MASSEY Cast of thousands Stage JAY C. FLIPPEN 16 ROCKETS Others D'ARTEGA conducting gay overture

Loew's PALACE F-AT 13th DOORS OPEN 11 A.M.

Now "The Great Waltz" Luise RAINER • Fernand GRAVET Miliza KORJUS Next Week "The CITADEL" A Great novel becomes a GREATER SCREEN DRAMA Robt DONAT • Rosalind RUSSELL

Loew's COLUMBIA DOORS OPEN 11 A.M.

NOW Joan CRAWFORD • Margaret SULLAVAN Melvyn DOUGLAS • Robert YOUNG "The SHINING HOUR" and a NEW DICK TRACY thrill!

AMUSEMENTS

Calling ALL JITTERBUGS CASH PRIZES! $400 Grand Award! the first of the SAT. Nite JITTERBUG Contests Starts at Midnite TONIGHT Last complete STAGE and Screen Show starts inside at 11:30 P. M. ..... !!! NO EXTRA PRICES

Loew's CAPITOL F-AT 14th

AMUSEMENTS.

RKO KEITH'S 15c to 6 P.M. A WASHINGTON INSTITUTION

Everybody . . . says it's great "A MAN to REMEMBER" EDWARD ELLIS • ANNE SHIRLEY And . . HELD OVER Walt Disney's FERDINAND the BULL Coming LITTLE TOUGH GUYS in SOCIETY"

NATIONAL AMERICA'S FIRST THEATRE

TODAY AT 2:30 NIGHT AT 8:30

A GROUP THEATRE PRODUCTION GOLDEN BOY by CLIFFORD ODETS with GROUP THEATRE ACTING COMPANY and FRANCES FARMER

EVES.: Orch., $2.75; 2nd Bal., 85c MATS.: Orch., $2.20; 2nd Bal., 85c

NEXT WEEK, BEG. MON. EVE. Matinees Wed. and Sat. —SEAT SALE NOW— America's Smash Hit! ROLLICKING MUSICAL REVUE PINS AND NEEDLES

NIGHTS: 55c to $2.75 Mats. Wed.-Sat.: 55c to $2.20 (Incl. tax)

Constitution Hall, Tomor. Aft., 4 P.M.

Gigli NOTED ITALIAN TENOR—IN RECITAL

With arias from Boheme, Pagliacci, Maria, Rigoletto. $2.20, $2.75 Mrs. Dorsey's 1300 G St.

Constitution Hall, Sun. Aft., Dec. 11th The Celebrated Don COSSACK RUSSIAN MALE CHORUS Serge Jaroff, Conductor

Seats: $1.65, $2.20. Mrs. Dorsey's 1300 G St. (Droop's). NA. 7151.

Held Over—Second Week Charles BOYER in "Orage" (Tempest)

"A film of unlagging action . . . tremendously refreshing."—POST.

Cont. today from 2 P. M.—35c to 6

Belasco THEATRE Now Playing NAtional 0149 Opp. the White House

25¢ to 5:30 LITTLE INTERNATIONAL CINEMA FESTIVAL NINTH at F

To-day MUNI in SCARFACE

Sun. Mon. Tues. Adventures of CHICO ETERNAL MASK

"One of the Greatest Pictures Ever Made" Sidney Skolsky GRAND ILLUSION BORO

Sun., Mon., Tues., Wed. Bethesda, Md.

GAYETY 9th St. at E ME. 8661-8662

TRAVELING BURLESQUE MIDNITE SHOW TONITE 12 P.M.

Opening Tomor. DIANA LOGAN BOOTS BURNS

TRANS-LUX THEATRE 14th & H Sts. N.W.

Nazi Spies Guilty—Pacific Plane Crash—Hawaii Army-Navy—Duke-Pitt

SPECIALLY SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS 25¢

In event of busy signal call REpublic 0800. For additional information phone theaters direct.

WARNER BROS. THEATERS

Today's NEIGHBORHOOD Movies

MOTION PICTURES ARE YOUR BEST ENTERTAINMENT $250,000 Movie Quiz Contest Booklets Now Available in All Warner Theaters Pictures Marked X Are Quiz Contest Pictures.

Matinees All Theaters

AMBASSADOR 18th & Col. Rd. 1 P.M. CO. 5595 (X) Clark Gable, Myrna Loy in "Too Hot to Handle." At 1:15, 3:20, 5:20, 7:25, 9:30. Walt Disney Cartoon.

APOLLO 624 H Street N.E. Mat. 1 P. M. LI. 3375 Jack Oakie in "Affairs of Annabel." At 1:10, 4, 6:55, 9:50. (X) Joe Penner in "Mr. Doodle Kicks Off." At 2:45, 5:40, 9:35. Also Cartoon.

AVALON 5612 Conn. Ave. N.W. Mat 1 P. M. CL. 2600 (X) George O'Brien in "Painted Desert." At 1:40, 3:20, 5, 6:35, 8:15, 9:55. Also Cartoon and Comedy.

AVE. GRAND 645 Pa. Ave. S.E. Mat. 1 p.m. LI. 2406 Sally Eilers in "Tarnished Angel." At 1, 3:30, 6, 8:40. (X) "Broadway Musketeers" with Margaret Lindsay, Ann Sheridan, Marie Wilson, Janet Chapman, John Litel. At 2:15, 4:45, 7:20, 9:45. Also Cartoon.

CALVERT 2324 Wisc. Ave. N.W. Mat. 1 P.M. WO. 2345 Dionne Quintuplets in "Five of a Kind." At 1, 3:15, 5:30, 7:35, 9:45.

CENTRAL 425 9th St. N.W. Open 11 A.M. ME. 2841 Lloyd Nolan in "King of Alcatraz." At 11, 1:45, 4:30, 7:15, 10. (X) Marx Bros. in "Room Service." At 12:25, 3:15, 6, 8:45. Walt Disney Cartoon.

COLONY 4935 Ga. Ave. N.W. Mat. 1 P. M. GE. 6500 (X) Dorothy Lamour, George Raft in "Spawn of the North." At 1, 3:20, 5:35, 7:35, 9:40. Disney Cartoon.

HOME 1230 C St. N.E. Mat. 1 P. M. AT. 8188 Richard Dix, Chester Morris in "Sky Giant." At 1, 4, 7, 10. June Lang in "Meet the Girls." At 2:40, 5:40, 8:40. Walt Disney Cartoon.

PENN 650 Pa. Ave. S.E. Mat. 1 P. M. LI. 2179 Dionne Quintuplets in "Five of a Kind." At 1:15, 3:20, 5:40, 7:45, 9:45.

SAVOY 3030 14th St. N.W. Mat. 1 P. M. CO. 4968 Eleanore Whitney, Betty Grable in "Campus Confession." At 1, 2:45, 4:30, 6:15, 8, 9:50. Gibbons short.

SECO 8244 Ga. Ave. Silver Spring Mat. 1 P. M. SHep. 2540 Parking Space (X) John Howard, Heather Angel in "Bulldog Drummond in Africa." At 1:20, 4:15, 7:05, 10. William Boyd in "Bar 20 Justice." At 2:25, 5:20, 8:15. Mickey Mouse Cartoon.

SHERIDAN Ga. Ave. & Sheridan Mat. 1 P. M. RA. 2400 (X) Joel McCrea, Andrea Leeds in "Youth Takes a Fling." At 1:45, 3:30, 6, 7:55, 9:50. Also short subject.

SILVER Ga. Ave. & Colesville Pk. Mat. 1 P.M. SHep. 5500 Parking Space. (X) "Garden of the Moon" with Pat O'Brien, John Payne, Margaret Lindsay. At 1, 3:15, 5:20, 7:30, 9:40.

TAKOMA 4th & Butternut Sts. Mat. 1 P. M. GE. 4312 Parking Space (X) Joe E. Brown in "The Gladiator." At 1, 4:05, 7:10, 10. Leo Carrillo, Edith Fellows in "City Streets." At 2:45, 5:55, 8:40. Cartoon.

TIVOLI 14th & Park Rd. N.W. Mat. 1 P.M. CO. 1800 (X) Mary Carlisle, John Howard in "Touchdown Army." At 2:30, 4:15, 6:30, 8:10, 9:55. Dick Tracy Returns, No. 1.

UPTOWN Conn. Ave. & Newark Mat. 1 P.M. CL. 5400 (X) Joel McCrea, Andrea Leeds in "Youth Takes a Fling." At 1:35, 3:35, 5:40, 7:40, 9:40. Also short.

YORK Ga. Ave. & Quebec Pl. N.W. Mat. 1 p. m. RAnd. 4400 Richard Dix, Chester Morris in "Sky Giant." At 1:35, 3:35, 5:35, 7:35, 9:35.

ACADEMY Of Perfect Sound Photoplay 8th at G S.E. Jones Family, Jed Prouty "LOVE ON A BUDGET." Also 3 Mesquiteers, Bob Livingston "RIDERS OF THE BLACK HILLS."

ATLAS 1331 H St. N.E. AT. 8300 11 A. M.—11 P. M. Jean Parker, Eric Linden "ROMANCE OF THE LIMBERLOST." Margaret Lindsay, Anne Sheridan. "BROADWAY MUSKETEERS."

CIRCLE Home of "Microphonic Sound" Penna. Ave. at 21st N.W. Jane Withers "ALWAYS IN TROUBLE." Comedies.

CONGRESS 2931 Nichols Ave. S.E. Air-Conditioned "THREE LOVES HAS NANCY."

FAIRLAWN ANACOSTIA, D. C. Bill Boyd, "PRIDE OF THE WEST."

PRINCESS 1119 H St. N.E. Double Feature "FORBIDDEN VALLEY" Noah Berry, Jr., Frances Robinson. "THE CHASER" Dennis O'Keefe, Ann Morriss.

STANTON 6th and C Sts. N.E. Finest Sound Equipment "BULLDOG DRUMMOND IN AFRICA." John Howard, Heather Angel. Also "OUTLAW EXPRESS."

STATE-BETHESDA 6970 WIS. AVE. BETHESDA, MD. Tenth Anniversary. Sonja Henie in "MY LUCKY STAR" at 1:20, 3:50, 7:40, 9:30. Skippy Cartoon, News.

FALLS CHURCH, VA.

STATE No Parking Worries LEE Wallace Beery, Mickey Rooney "STABLEMATES." "SMASHING THE RACKETS" and Tim McCoy, "ACES ON EIGHTS."

ARLINGTON, VA.

WILSON 1720 Wilson Blvd. Opp. Colonial Village Bing Crosby, Fred MacMurray "SING YOU SINNERS."

ASHTON 3166 Wilson Blvd. Phone Oxford 1139 Lloyd Nolan "KING OF ALCATRAZ."

JESSE THEATER 18th & Irving Sts. N.E. Double Feature "SMASHING THE RACKETS" Chester Morris, Frances Mercer. "BORDER G-MEN" George O'Brien. Mat at 1 P. M.

SYLVAN 1st and R. I. Ave. N.W. Double Feature "THE GLADIATOR" Joe E. Brown. "BAR 20 JUSTICE" William Boyd. Mat at 1 P. M.

PALM THEATER DEL. RAY, VA. Double Feature "GIVE ME A SAILOR" Martha Ray, Bob Hope.

NEWTON 12th and Newton Sts. N.E. Double Feature "CAMPUS CONFESSIONS" Eleanore Whitney, "KING KONG" Fay Wray, Bruce Cabot. Mat at 1 P. M.

BORO 7101 Wisconsin Avenue Bethesda, Md. Double Feature "TORCHY GETS HER MAN." "WILD HORSE RODEO."

HIPPODROME K Near 9th Cont. 2-11 Norma Shearer, "MARIE ANTOINETTE"

CAMEO MT. RAINIER, MD. Double Feature "MYSTERIOUS MR. MOTO." "Rex," "KING OF THE SIERRAS."

ARCADE Hyattsville, Md. Double Feature Jane Withers, "ALWAYS IN TROUBLE" Colin Tapley, "BOOLOO."

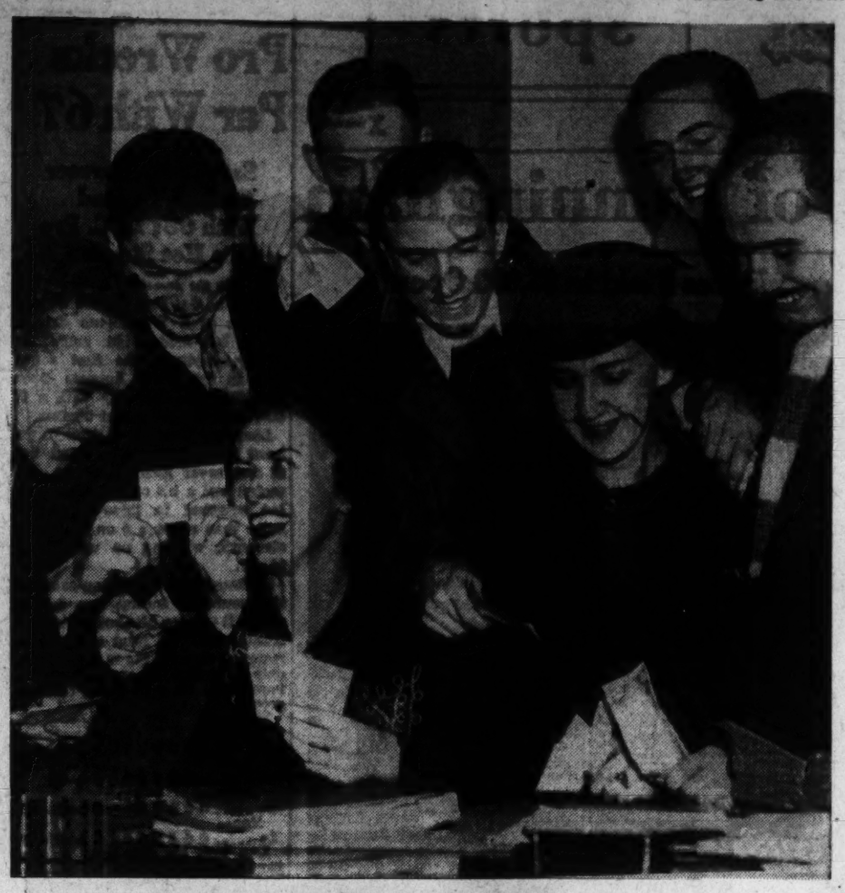
RICHMOND ALEXANDRIA, VA. Today "JUST AROUND THE CORNER."

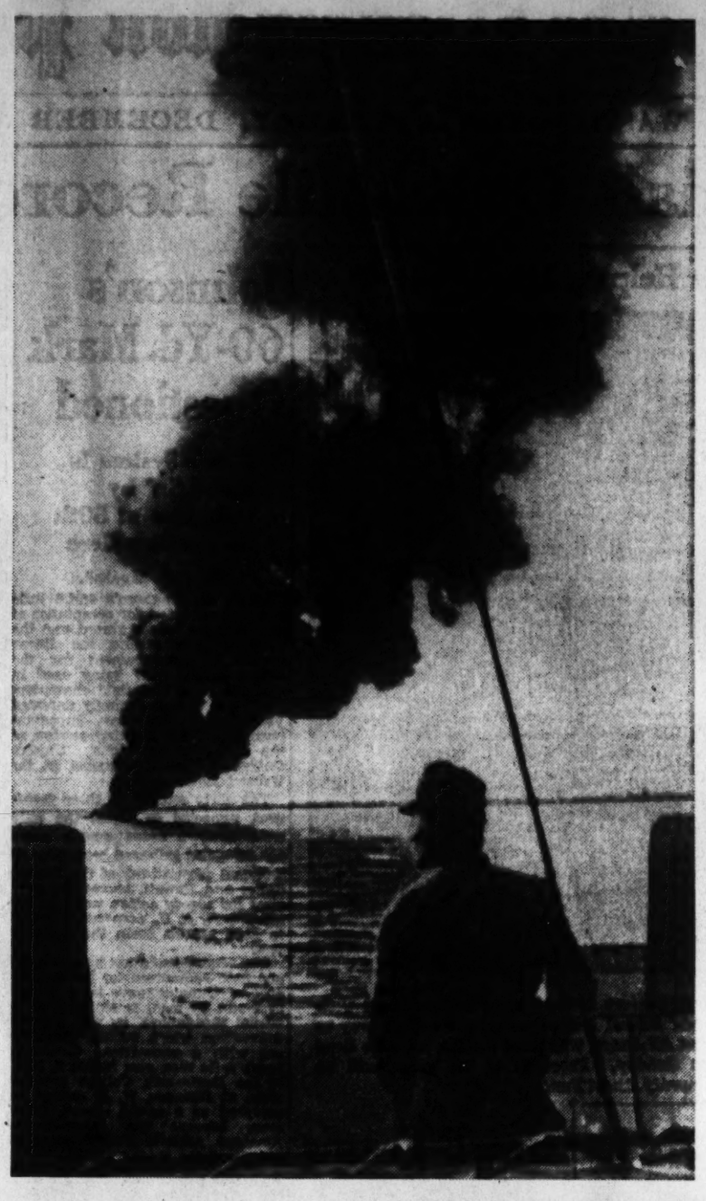
REED Alexandria, Va. Alex. 3443 Today F. MacMurray "MEN WITH WINGS." Free Parking Space—800 Cars.

MARLBORO Upper Marlboro, Md. Double Feature "YOU'RE ONLY YOUNG

Police Seek Abduction Clews—Deer Hunters Bag 18 Bucks

The Post is the only daily morning paper in Washington with A. P. WIREPHOTO Service.





Wide World Photo.

Japanese Sink Tanker

At left—A Chinese oil transport boat of the Chinese army sends up a gigantic column of smoke as it burns on the upper reaches of the Yangtze River. A Japanese watches the burning ship from the gunboat which brought about the destruction.

Post Staff Photo.

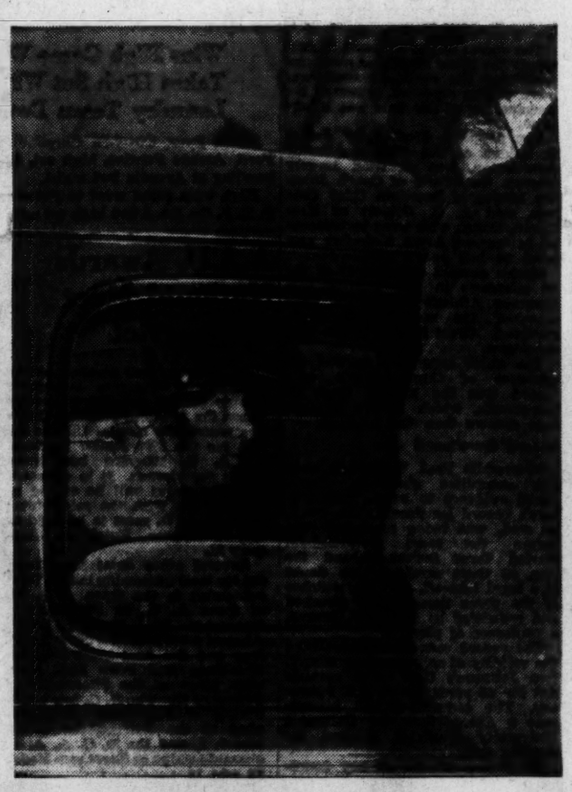
Successful Hunters

G. E. Bowen (left), of Solomons Island, and Grover Naylor, jr., of Washington, pose with deer they killed on an expedition in Lycoming County, Pa. They were with 16 other hunters from this area, each of whom returned with a deer weighing about 120 pounds.

Associated Press Photo.

The Ticket Siege

Marjory Burns and Elizabeth McCartney appear besieged by Columbus University students, all with folding money in their hands, seeking tickets for the Junior Prom tonight at the Raleigh.



Keeping Up With Her Home Work

Mrs. Leon Henderson, wife of the WPA economist who is executive secretary of the monopoly committee, was on hand early yesterday with her knitting as the committee held its second day's hearing.

Associated Press Photos.

Police Survey Kidnaping Scene for New Clews

Terrell Roberts, 15-year-old Oxon Hill schoolboy, told police he was loitering on the Box Road Bridge (above) Wednesday when Mary Brown and her sister Lucy walked by. He said he saw no panel truck, but a black-bodied sedan came down the road a few minutes later. The bridge is near the kidnaping scene. At left—Maj. E. F. Munshower (in car), Maryland police superintendent, is heading the investigation.

Post Staff Photo.

Christmas Seals Help Children to Clinics

Part of the fight against tuberculosis in Montgomery County is to provide transportation for children unable to come to county chest clinics. Christmas seal sales helped to pay for the truck. The adults are Mrs. Hermine Badenhoop (left), health department advisory nurse, and Mrs. E. R. Brosius, of the Public Health Lay Council.

Associated Press Photo.

Microphones for Monopoly Spectators

So that monopoly hearing spectators who pack the large hearing room may hear testimony, loudspeakers and microphones are used. Senator Borah (left), and Senator King are shown in front of one of the many "mikes."

Post Staff Photo

Marionettes Stage Broadcast for Children

This was the scene as marionettes at the Marionette Studio, 1630 Rhode Island avenue northwest, presented a "broadcast" for children of the Christ Child Settlement House. James Boucher, Miss Woolley and Leroy Girlach operated the figures under the direction of Mrs. M. H. Rust, director of the studio.

Leo Walper Leads $5,000 Augusta Open

Sports | The Washington Post | Sports

20 WASHINGTON SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1938 X*

A. A. U. Officials O. K. Mile Record of Cunningham

This Morning

With Shirley Povich

Battles Again!

New York, Dec. 2.—The name of Cliff Battles has not appeared in this space for at least 24 hours, so your correspondent was thinking (Aw right, cut it!) that it might not be remiss to select him as a topic again.

Coming upon Mr. Battles in the gymnasium on the Columbia University campus, it was a slightly incongruous situation that met the eye. Here was a lean, lithe fellow, the greatest ball toter ever to wear a Redskin uniform, and with the Redskins-Giants game only two days away what was he doing? Don't tell me. I know. He was dressed in a faded pair of yellow panties, low cut whoopee socks and tennis shoes, and he was playing—of all things—handball!

POVICH.

Patently, Mr. Battles was not practicing for the Redskins-Giants game. In suburban Long Island, 30 miles away, the Redskins were practicing, but not Battles. The fellow who made three 80-yard runs against the Giants last year is no longer a part of the Redskin scheme or Redskin scenery. But that is not saying he wouldn't like to be.

He's Lonesome!

In fact there was more than a faint trace of nostalgia in his words when he dropkicked the little rubber handball into a corner of the court and said, "I'm not going to know how to act up there in the grandstands when that opening whistle blows. Being a spectator isn't my dish. I'd like nothing better than to be out there in the Redskins' backfield Sunday and hear my number called.

"Ya know," said Battles, "I think I could stagger around pretty good for 40 or 50 minutes in any ball game. I've been keeping in pretty good shape coaching at Columbia. It was a crazy idea, of course, but I've been hoping Mr. Marshall might have asked me to play with the Redskins in this game. There was no rule to prevent it."

Speaking of coaching at Columbia University, Battles appears to have done very well with his backfield duties under Lou Little. In only one game this season did Columbia fail to score. Apparently there is nothing like personal instruction by a back who knows how to run the ball. Battles said he did very little running for the benefit of the Columbia boys, but that is not exactly the truth. Mr. Garry Schumacher, of the New York Journal, advises your correspondent that Head Coach Little turned Battles loose in one scrimmage and that Battles romped through the Columbia first team for touchdowns no less than six times.

No Good Deal

I also understand that our old friend Battles has been drafted by the National Collegiate Coaches Association as one of the feature speakers at the annual coaches' meeting this month and is programmed, very fittingly, to talk on the subject: "The Science of Broken Field Running."

But getting back to our professional football, Cliff Battles says that he will not be on the Redskins' bench on Sunday only because he has not been invited to sit on the Redskins' bench. In fact, there is some iciness between Battles and the Redskins' bosses. "I'd still be playing football for the Redskins if they had given me what I thought was a satisfactory deal!" he said.

Battles denied a radio report that he was assisting Steve Owen with the coaching of the Giants for the Redskins game. "I don't know how that report started except that I am a friend of Owen's and have been sitting on the Giants' bench several times this season. He's been very kind to me."

"But a fellow can't play with the Redskins for six years, and then sit on the Giants bench when they come up to their big game. All of the Redskin players are my friends, and if I can't sit with the Redskins, certainly won't be with the Giants. I'll be up in the stands."

No, Battles wouldn't say that he thought the Redskins would beat the Giants on Sunday. He couldn't conscientiously pick the Redskins to win, he said. The Giants were too tough an outfit. But when that opening whistle blew, he said he knew where his sentiments would be—with the Redskins.

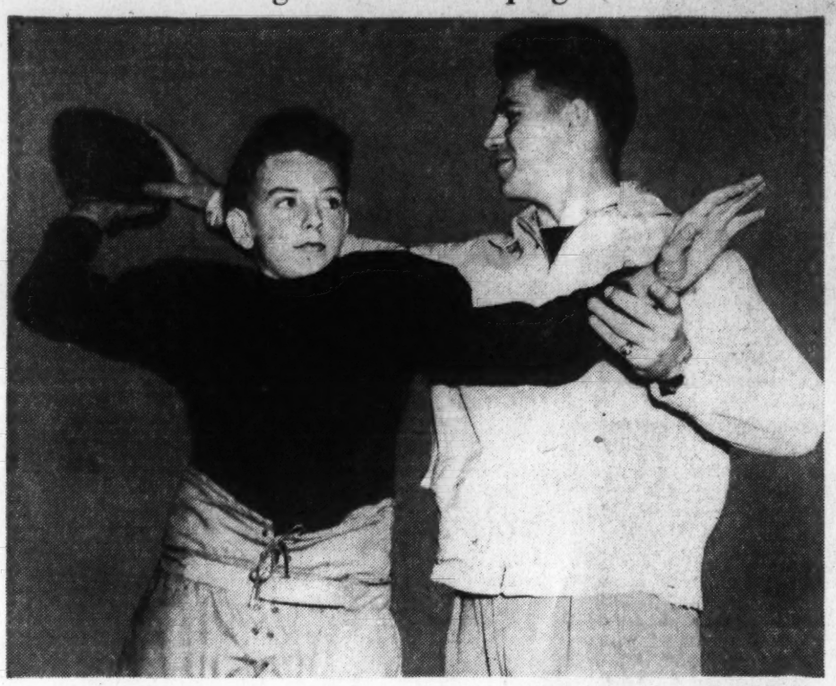
"The one time I saw Washington play this season was against Brooklyn, in Brooklyn. They weren't impressive in that game, although I understand it was one of their worst of the season. As long as Sammy Baugh is out there throwing, though, the Redskins always have a chance—a swell chance.

"Until I talked to some Washington people, I couldn't understand why Baugh hadn't been running the ball more this season. Then I found out it was on account of his injuries. But here's something I want to say: When Baugh finished the season with us last year, he was the best off-tackle runner on our ball club. I'll be surprised if he doesn't run that ball on Sunday.

Those Redskins will have to watch Tuffy Leemans, too. And Ed Danowski. They make the Giants a tough club. And Ward Cuff is more of a threat than Riley Smith or Tillie Manton with his place-kicking because he boots 'em longer. I think what happens in the first quarter will decide Sunday's game. The team that gets out in front will probably take it. But I don't think I'm going to enjoy that game. I'm going to be up there in the stands doing a little private suffering.

"It's the old fire horse in me!"

Weidinger Lends a Helping Hand



Post Staff Photo

Charley Weidinger (right), one of the best forward passers in the history of Maryland University football, shows Cotton Smith, of the Friends' School football team, the correct way to hurl a pass. Smith is playing with the Northwest All-Stars, who meet the No. 4 Police Boys Club team in a charity game at Griffith Stadium Sunday. Proceeds of the game will be turned over to the Community Chest Fund

Johnson's 60-Yd. Mark Questioned

Metric System Is Voted 'In' by Delegates at 50th Convention Here

By Jack Munhall.

Glenn Cunningham's 4:04.4 mile was recommended for acceptance as an American indoor record and the proposal to substitute the linear system of measurement for the metric system now being used in national track and field championships was overwhelmingly defeated yesterday in the most important business of the opening session of the Amateur Athletic Union's Golden Jubilee Convention at the Willard Hotel.

The early settling of these measures, expected to inject the only unharmonious notes among some 400 delegates gathered here from 39 sectional associations of the United States and Hawaii, leaves the path clear for speedy action today as the general A. A. U. convention meets to hear reports from the committees.

The recommendation by the track and field committee for the acceptance of Cunningham's mile, fastest ever run by man, is tantamount to official recognition by the general convention which seldom takes issue with a committee. Cunningham's mile race, run March 3, 1938, in the Dartmouth College gymnasium, at Hanover, N. J., cannot be accepted as a world record, however, because the International Amateur Athletic Federation does not recognize indoor marks.

Two Seconds Faster

Cunningham's time was two seconds better than the present world record of 4:06.4 established by Sydney Wooderson, of England.

The defeat of the proposal to substitute the linear system of measurement for the metric system was more or less expected, although the decisiveness of the vote was a surprise.

The proposal, drafted by James E. Snider of the Middle Atlantic Association, was defeated largely through the efforts of Coach Johnny Magee of Bowdoin (Me.) College, and A. C. Gilbert of New Haven, Conn., who were instrumental in turning down a similar proposal at last year's convention.

Magee pointed out that 47 of the 48 members in the International Amateur Athletic Federation have accepted the metric system as standard. Great Britain is the lone exception.

The chief argument against acceptance of Cunningham's mile record was the six-lap track at Dartmouth, which is two to four laps shorter than the average.

Record Questioned

Meanwhile Paul R. Jordan, record committee chairman, introduced evidence to prove Cunningham's record legitimate. The track, he said, was twice measured just before the race; Cunningham started three inches behind the line, so there would be no doubt of a legal take-off, and the watches of the three timers were checked and regulated by Leslie F. Murcs, a professor of physics.

The record committee questioned the validity of only one new record. Ben Johnson's time of 6 seconds flat for 60 yards, made last February. The committee will investigate a charge that the Columbia University speedster jumped the starting gun.

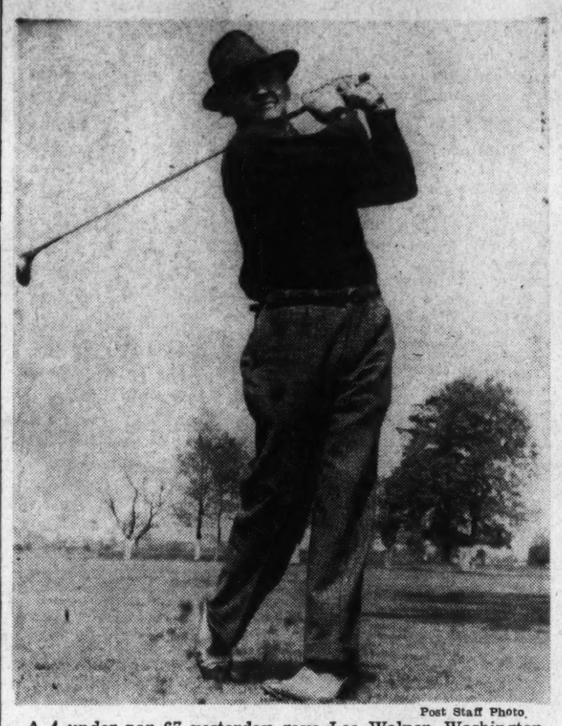
Only two debates of any consequence developed in the committee meetings. The restricting committee deliberated for several hours before it decided to recommend the formation of a new Iowa association to include all of the State except a two-mile strip along the western State boundary line. That strip as well as Nebraska and South Dakota will remain under the jurisdiction of the Midwestern association.

Delegates from the Pacific Coast and New England argued over the award of the 1939 boxing championships, until the question was put to a vote and the tournament given to the Pacific Coast, for the first time, by a count of 21 to 9.

The University of Nebraska at Lincoln was awarded the men's outdoor track and field meet and

See A. A. U., Page 22, Column 2.

Paces Field in $5,000 Open



Post Staff Photo.

A 4 under par 67 yesterday gave Leo Walper, Washington golf pro, the lead in the $5,000 Augusta open. Walper holds a one-stroke lead in the star-studded field. Sam Byrd, former baseball star, is second with a 68 on the first day of play

Washington Pro Wrecks Par With 67

Sam Byrd, Former Yankee, Second With 68; D. C. Pro Hits Hot Streak

By the Associated Press.

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 2.—Leo Walper, maestro at a Washington driving range but seldom in golf's big money, captured the first round lead in the $5,000 Augusta Open Golf Tournament today with a 67 that shamed par by four strokes.

Larrupin' Leo sizzled through the front nine in 33, batting out five 3s and never going over par. He cooled just a bit on the back side, but whacked in three birdies to more than offset a 6 on the par 4 eleventh, winding up with a 33, 34—67.

Although Walper's non-competitive source of income is a driving range, it was a white-hot putter that boosted him out front today as he marched through the 18 greens with only 29 putts and marked up the impressive total of eight one-putt greens.

His card:

Walper—
Out ...	4	5	3	3	5	3	3	4	—33
Par—
Out ...	4	5	4	3	5	4	3	4	4—36
Walper—
In	4	6	3	2	3	4	3	5	4—34—67
Par—
In	4	4	4	3	4	4	3	5	4—35—71

Leo took his first solid poke at par on the third when he canned a 10-footer for his first birdie. A 6-footer on the sixth gave him another and a 15-footer on the par 4 eighth brought his third birdie.

Sensational Shots

Sound, if not sensational, his woods and irons kept him from going over regulation figures on the first nine. He held even on the tenth, but on the eleventh he missed the green with his second, then three-putted for 6 on the par 4 hole, putting him above the standard for the first time and all but wiping out his three-stroke edge over par.

Unfeazed by this turn, he bounced back by sinking a 5-foot shot on the twelfth and followed up with an 8-foot putt that gave him another birdie 2 on the short thirteenth, gaining him back those two strokes. He capped the show by dropping a 15-footer on the fourteenth to make it three birds in a row and he marched the rest of the way in even par.

Walper has been trailing along with golf's currency calvacade for about four years. He has been in and out of the money, but has yet to take a tournament of this caliber.

Faces Tough Field

He'll have to keep swinging tomorrow and in Sunday's grand finale, because, in addition to the bumper crop of par breakers and par matchers there were plenty of formidable blue chip experts only a stroke or two away who might move in at any stage.

Included in these were such seasoned campaigners as Dick Metz, Chicago; Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa.; Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del.; Felix Serafin, Scranton, Pa.; Ky Laffon, Chicago, and Tommy Armour, Chicago, and Tony Manero, Salem, Mass., all grouped at par with such dangerous campaigners as Shute, Salem, Mass., only a stroke away at 73.

Although Walper's 67 tied the Forest Hills tournament record set two years ago by Ralph Guldahl, he wound up far from a comfortable lead as 20 "big shots" and "unknowns" shelled par from all angles.

Sam Byrd, who abandoned fence-busting for par-busting, ended the first heat of the 72-hole test with a 35, 33—68, that gave the Philadelphia pro and former Yankee outfielder second place.

Only a stroke behind the runner-up at 69 were Phil Perkins, Willoughby, Ohio; Jimmy Hines, Great Neck, Long Island; Mike Turnesa, Fairview, N. J., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Oak Park, Ill.

Sam Snead Bags a 70

Also good for better than par were Sam Snead, the big money winner from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., who turned in 70's. Although the gently rolling course protected par, despite near-perfect weather, until more than a fourth of the 131 starters had finished, the old man had a tough time when they found the range and an even dozen scored 71's.

Bobby Dunkelberger, small but mighty amateur from Greensboro, N. C., and Jennings Gordon, of Rome, Ga., tied for the lead among the amateurs with 73's.

Gene Sarazen, the squire of Brookfield Center, Conn., and Lawson Little, onetime bull of the woods among the amateurs, were among those who found the going tough and could do no better than 77's.

The untrimmed field goes another 18 tomorrow and the low 60 and ties will finish up with 36 holes Sunday.

The leading scorers:

Leo Walper, Washington, D. C.	33	34—67
Sam Byrd, Philadelphia	35	33—68
Phil Perkins, Willoughby, Ohio	34	35—69
Jimmy Hines, Great Neck, L. I.	34	35—69
Mike Turnesa, Fairview, N. Y.	33	36—69
E. J. Harrison, Oak Park, Ill.	32	37—69
S. Snead, Wh. Sul. Spgs., W. Va.	37	32—70
L. Dodson, Springfield, Mo.	35	35—70
Horton Smith, Augusta, Ga.	36	35—71
Stanley Horne, Ottawa, Canada	34	37—71
Tony Penna, Dayton, Ohio	36	35—71
Ed Dudley, Augusta, Ga.	34	37—71
Harold McSpaden, Boston	37	34—71
Henry Poe, Durham, N. C.	37	34—71
J. Thomson, Sh.-on-Del., Pa.	38	33—71
Eddie Bush, Norway, Me.	34	37—71
Craig Wood, Winged Foot, N. Y.	36	35—71
J. Turnesa, St. Petersburg, Fla.	36	35—71
Ralph Williamson, Fort Wayne,	36	35—71
G. Yansick, Tuxedo Park, N. Y.	36	35—71

Big Ten Fails to Act On Rose Bowl Tie-Up

'Monopoly' Thoroughly Discussed, but Officials Adjourn Without Deciding On Proposed Plan for Big Games

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Western Conference faculty committeemen and athletic directors informally discussed tonight a proposal to make the annual Rose Bowl football game a strictly Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference affair, but adjourned without saying whether they were for it or against it.

Members of both the faculty and director groups said the question of annually pitting the coast champion against the Big Ten title winner was given a thorough going over. A hint that the plan might be formally presented at a meeting tomorrow morning, was as close as they came to giving an indication of the trend of feeling.

Talk that the two big conferences might enter into such an arrangement has been plentiful since they started a series of inter-conference track and field meets in 1937.

It was pointed out that the Big Ten would have to alter its rule against post-season football games to make such a game possible. The faculty committee which makes the rules, has shown no inclination in the past, to make such a change.

A proposal to establish a modified "training table" for athletes was not discussed. However, it was said the proposal would be acted upon formally at tomorrow's meeting. The training table plan, suggested to assure athletes at least one substantial feeding a day, was approved last spring, but did not become effective because of technicalities involved in changing conference rules.

The table was proposed because many athletes, particularly football players, have been unable to reach fraternity houses or boarding places in time for the evening meal due to practice schedules.

A suggestion that "B" football teams arrange regular schedules of Friday night games, also was discussed and may be presented for action tomorrow.

Cal's Valet Tops Southeast Basketball Loop

Cal's Valet basketball team stepped into the lead of the Southeast Community Center League last night by winning over the O'Donnell cagers, 48 to 36. It was the third straight league victory for the Valets. They have also won one game outside the league.

In the other game last night, Treasury bowed to United Clay, 51 to 16.

Treasury.	G	FG	P	Unit. Clay.	G	FG	P
Elam,f.....	0	1	1	Silverstein,f..	4	1	9
Martin,f....	0	0	0	Lockovitz,f..	2	0	4
Tufts,f.....	3	0	6	Cohen,f.....	0	0	0
Paciane,f..	0	0	0	Ryon,f.....	0	0	0
Mewshaw,c..	0	0	0	Fishbein,c....	5	0	10
Arnett,c....	2	0	4	George,c.....	0	0	0
Keville,lg....	0	0	0	Bailey,lg.....	4	1	9
Zorinik,lg....	0	0	0	Shaffer,lg....	2	0	4
Conway,rg....	2	1	5	Clohessy,rg...	5	0	10
Kline'burg,rg	0	0	0	Schmidt,rg....	0	0	0
Totals.....	7	2	16	Totals.....	24	3	51

Referee—Cohen.

Cal's Valet.	G	FG	P	O'Donnell's.	G	FG	P
Black,lf.....	5	2	12	Corn'son,lf....	1	2	4
Karas,lf.....	1	0	2	Donaldson,lf..	7	0	14
Smith,rf.....	4	0	8	Ate...c.....	2	1	5
Fillah,rf.....	1	0	2	Gerber,lg.....	2	3	7
Moulton,c....	2	0	4	Lverly,lg.....	0	0	0
Pooley,c.....	0	0	0	Julian,rg.....	2	2	6
Much,lg.....	4	0	8
Walsh,lg.....	2	2	6	Totals.....	14	8	36
Swift,rg.....	1	2	4
Calvagna,rg..	1	0	2
Totals.....	21	6	48

Referee—Cohen.

Times of Grid Games

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—Starting times (Eastern standard) of tomorrow's major football games:

Florida-Temple, 2:30 p. m.

Tennessee-Mississippi, 3 p. m.

Oklahoma-Washington State, 3 p. m.

Rice-S. M. U., 3:30 p. m.

Southern California-Notre Dame, 5 p. m.

Victory Post Beaten in Indoor Ball

Playing sensational ball behind the fine pitching of "Bump" Simonds, the Community Center All-Stars last night upset the highly-rated Victory Post team in the Community Center Indoor Softball League, 2-1, in Tech High's gym.

The fielding of Al Graef and Toddy Lagos and the batting of Carvel Diller and Alvin Oremland proved the combination which knocked Victory Post out of the second-half lead.

Victory Post.	AB	R	H	All-Stars.	AB	R	H
Long,rf.....	4	1	3	Lagos,ss.....	3	0	0
Axt,2b.....	4	0	1	N.Simonds,c.	2	0	0
Aquilino,c...	3	0	0	Edwards,1b..	2	0	0
Jarrell,ss....	4	0	1	Jenkins,3b...	2	0	1
Mandes,3b...	4	0	1	R.Simonds,p.	3	0	1
Bealle,1b....	1	0	0	Eiseman,2b..	3	1	0
Steppes,lf...	2	0	0	Graef,rf.....	3	0	0
Gill,cf.....	3	0	1	Cremland,cf..	3	1	2
Webb,p.....	3	0	0	Diller,lf.....	2	0	1
Totals...	28	1	7	Totals....	23	2	5

Victory Post	1	0	0	0	0	0	0		1
Community All-Stars...	0	1	0	1	0	0	0		2

Two-base hit—Diller. First base on balls—Off Simonds, 2; off Webb, 3. Struck out—By Simonds, 3; by Webb, 2. Umpire—Mitchell.

Scott to Battle With Davey Day

Howard "Cowboy" Scott, veteran Washington ring campaigner, will meet Davey Day in the Marigold Gardens at Chicago on December 12, his manager, Gabe Menende, said last night.

Scott's most recent fight was one with former champion Tony Canzoneri in which the Washington boy gave a good account of himself, though losing. The event drew 12,000 fans to the Bronx Coliseum in New York.

'Bowl' Teams Eye Trophy

Sportsmanship Cup Is Donated by The Rotary Club

A fresh incentive to play their hardest and cleanest football was given No. 4 Police Boys Club and the Northwest All-Stars yesterday. The two 100-pound grid aggregations, which will clash tomorrow at Griffith Stadium in the District's first "Charity Bowl" game for the benefit of the Community Chest, will be working for more than the honor of playing and the possibility of winning. They will fight for the possession of a huge silver trophy, to be presented by the Rotary Club of Washington to the team which, in the opinion of a committee, has displayed the best sportsmanship and the finest all-round football.

The judging committee will consist of the four officials designated Wednesday by Harry O'Meara, District of Columbia Commissioner of Football Officials, to work the game, as well as three other men to be selected by O'Meara with the approv. of the coaches of the teams.

A near certainty that the Charity Bowl clash will be an annual fixture was felt when the trophy was announced as for competition in the years to come. The team winning it this year may keep it one year, and three legs on it gives a team permanent possession. The victories do not necessarily have to be in succession.

A. F. E. Horn, president of the Rotary Club, said that the primary purpose of the trophy was to stress the importance of instructing youngsters in good sportsmanship and sound football technique. The fact that it will be on the block each year should start a strong rivalry among the 14-year-olds for possession.

From the All-Star camp, meanwhile, seeped additional praises of its prize linesman, Buster Mrstik. In the line-up as a tackle, Mrstik faced the possibility of being moved to the backfield. The brilliance of his blocking was felt by Coach Larry Conant to be lost on the line, where good blockers are far from rare. One or two new plays, centering around Mrstik as a blocking back, may be developed in the Star's final workout today.

No. 4, the sandlot club which went through its 1938 schedule without the loss of a game, also

See STARS, Page 22, Column 1.

Helen Byer Leads In Arcadia Bowling

Wins High Game With 131; Pauline Ford Takes High Set With 336; Morningside Laundry Team Bowlers Advance

Helen Byer, Coast-In Corporation, won high game, 131, and Pauline Ford, Arcade Pontiac, high set, 336, in the Ladies' Independent League bowling at Arcadia last night.

High team game went to Potomac Electric Power Co. No. 1, 525, while P. E. P. Co. No. 2 had high set with 1,492.

Morningside Laundry took over fourth place last night in the Independent League at Silver Spring alleys by sweeping a three-game set from Indian Spring Service Station. Dick Masceri won high set with 342.

L. C. Smith captured three games from Godfrey's Service Station, as "Pop" Carleton lead the way with a 337 set.

Mrs. K's Toll House annexed three games from Mascotti Shoe Repair.

Marcus Jahn took high individual game with 152, and high set with 371.

A.A.U. Awards National Meet To District

Washington was assured one of the banner juvenile swimming events of the country yesterday when the Amateu. Athletic Union designated the Capital City as the site for the 1939 Junior National A. A. U. 100-yard backstroke event for women. It is expected that the event will be staged in conjunction with the mid-winter open A. A. U. meet to be held at the Shoreham Hotel on January 21.

Several other dates have been set for local swimming meets. First scheduled is the Open A. A. U. at Penn A. C., in Philadelphia, December 16. Central High's Alumni meet is set for New Year's Day and the dual meet between Shoreham and Penn Hall is to take place at the Shoreham on February 18. The D. C. low board diving championship is scheduled at the Ambassador Hotel, March 1, and the D. C. A. A. U. championships at Shoreham March 17 and 18.

St. Albans Faces 16-Game Schedule

The St. Albans basketball team, coached by Mickey Schonfeld, faces a difficult 16-game court schedule this year. The team is a member of the Academic Athletic Association League, which includes teams from the District, Delaware and Maryland.

January 6. Alumni; 10. Fairfax High; 13. Rockville High; 18. Episcopal High; 21. Gilman School; 24. Landon; 27. Georgetown Prep; 31. Friends School.

February 2. Baltimore Friends, at Baltimore; 4. St. Andrews, there; 7. Woodward Prep; 10. Rockville High, there; 15. Friends, there; 17. St. Paul's; 23. Landon School, there; 25. St. James School.

Congressional Loses Three Games to Manor

Two leagues rolled at Lucky Strike. In Country League matches "Babe" Darling's brilliant game of 141 and set of 372 were of no avail as Congressional No. 1 dropped three games to Manor No. 3.

The league-leading Indian Spring rolled high team game of 1,846 but lost two games to Congressional No. 2.

In the Navy Yard League, Brunner, of C. & R., rolled a set of 348 as his team took three games from Miscellaneous No. 1. Kozee, with a set of 337, and Burdette, with a game of 145 and a set of 382, paced B. N. No. 1.

Upsets Mark Night In College Park

Two upsets marked play in the College Park League at University alleys. The cellar-dwelling Animal Husbandry team reared up to take three games from the league-leading Duke's Grill, and Varsity Grill surprised by winning three games from College Park Barbecue.

General Land Office Leader Is Beaten

Records No. 1, leader of the General Land Office League, dropped two games to the seventh-place Administrative team at Georgetown Recreation Center. The winners were led by Earl Thomas, who posted a high game of 129.

Barlund Signed For Gotham Fight

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—Gunnar Barlund, Finnish heavyweight, and Roscoe Toles, of Detroit, today were signed for a 10-round bout at the Hippodrome, December 9. The fight replaces the Glen Lee-Cal Cagni bout, which was called off yesterday when Cagni developed a bad cold.

Junior Basketball Meeting Is Slated

An important meeting of all junior clubs that are members of the Jewish Community Center will be held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p. m., at the Jewish Community Center to organize a basketball league. The following representative clubs are requested to be on hand:

A. Z. A. Jr., Sigma Alpha Kappa Jr., Olympian Jr., Cardozo, Troop 46 Boy Scouts, Troop 73 Boy Scouts, Jewish War Veterans Jr., and Nye House.

1,500 Redskin Tickets Available

About 1,500 upper grandstand seats are still available for the Redskins-Giants game, in New York Sunday, at the Redskins' offices, 739 Ninth street northwest. These tickets will be available until 4 p. m. today only, as unsold tickets must be returned to New York tonight.

A special excursion is being run by the Pennsylvania Railroad leaving here tomorrow morning and returning tomorrow night.

Rose Bowl Has the Color But Sugar Bowl Will Have the Football, Says Sammy Baugh

By "Slingin' Sammy" Baugh

Forward Passing Champion National Football League.

The Rose Bowl will get the most publicity and draw the largest crowd, but I look for the best football game of the New Year's classics to be played in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

SAMMY BAUGH.

As a spectacle, the Rose Bowl with its parades and ceremonies is tops, but as a contest the Texas Christian-Carnegie Tech affair at New Orleans will probably overshadow the game at Pasadena where Southern California meets Duke.

Duke, despite its remarkable record of being neither beaten, tied nor scored on this season, can hardly lay claim to any national championship. The Blue Devils' schedule did not compare to those of other top-ranking teams.

And there is a chance that Duke may be opposing a Rose Bowl team that has been beaten three times this season. Southern California has already lost to Alabama and the University of Washington, and the Trojans may also take it on the chin from Notre Dame today. I can't remember the last time that a Rose Bowl team went into the game with three defeats, if ever.

But at New Orleans, the Sugar Bowl will be occupied by two teams that are actually outstanding in their records. T. C. U.'s record is well known. The Texans, with the brilliant Davey O'Brien pitching his passes, have not been tied or beaten, and they have scored more than two touchdowns in all but one of their games this year to compile one of the greatest scoring records in football.

When T. C. U. lines up against Carnegie Tech, that figures to be a football game. Carnegie, on the day it licked Pitt, was one of the greatest teams in all football history, I firmly believe. Carnegie has lost only one game—the 7-0 affair with Notre Dame, which certainly was no disgrace. Carnegie people are saying the Tartans didn't lose that game to Notre Dame, but that they lost it to Referee Getchell, whose "boner" on the number of downs caused Carnegie to lose the ball in midfield instead of punting.

If anything happens to Notre Dame against Southern California tolay, then I believe T. C. U. will be in a position to establish itself as the real national champion. The only drawback to T. C. U.'s record this year is that it has beaten only teams from the Southwest, but if it adds Carnegie to its list then it will have beaten one of the outstanding teams in the Nation—and not another Southwest club.

You'll notice I said, "if anything happens to Notre Dame against Southern California." I do not believe that anything will. I'm not picking anybody to beat the Irish after watching them beat Minnesota. I had my doubts about Notre Dame up to that point and picked Minnesota to beat them, but they showed me a lot of football that day. I think Southern California will be a thrice-beaten team when it finally gets to the Rose Bowl.

Down In Front

By Richards Vidmer

Son of Two Cities

New York, Dec. 2.—Sunday afternoon on the frozen field of the Polo Grounds two football teams will meet for the Eastern championship of the National Professional League. They will represent two cities, and there will be a sturdy young fellow among the players who is a hero in both.

VIDMER.

Here in New York we have come to call Tuffy Leemans one of our own. Ever since he came to the Giants, in his first year as a professional football player, he has captured the fancy of the fans. Their awe and admiration for his prowess on the playing field has mounted steadily and reached something approaching hysteria through the last few weeks of the current campaign, during which he carried the Giants up to the top of the Eastern section.

And down in Washington they sing his praises just as loudly, hold him in just as high esteem, for Washington knew him long before New York.

They told us about what a fine football player Tuffy Leemans was when he was a sophomore at George Washington University. And most of us paid no attention. They began hailing him as an All-American when he was a junior, and most of us smiled condescendingly. And in his senior year they made a concentrated effort to make the sphere of sports recognize Tuffy Leemans for what he was.

They sent out broadsides of publicity about the young man. They urged the metropolitan observers to come to Washington and see for themselves. They sent emissaries to Manhattan to sing his praises and detail his exploits. But New Yorkers shrugged their shoulders.

All but one.

Boy Scout

That one was a slender young fellow still in his 'teens. He didn't look like a football player himself, nor was he one. But he followed football as closely as anyone in the country. And one day he told his father he was going to Washington to see a game.

"What game?" asked his fond father in surprise.

"George Washington and Wake Forest," the youngster replied.

LEEMANS

"What do you want to see them for? I never heard of either?" the father protested.

"I want to see a player named Leemans," explained the boy.

"I never heard of him either," chuckled the father, "but go ahead if you want."

So young Wellington Mara went to Washington, and when he came back he told his father, Tim Mara, that he had seen the greatest football player he ever watched. Like the rest of us, Tim laughed. But all fall, Wellington, who naturally enough is known as Duke, kept talking about Tuffy Leemans, and the next year his enthuiasm increased.

Parental Permission

One night he was sitting at home with his mother, a far-off look in his eyes.

"What's the matter, son?" she asked.

"I was just wishing we had Tuffy Leemans for the Giants next year," he sighed.

"Well, why don't you go down to Washington and get him, then?" came the surprising suggestion.

Tim Mara was away at the time, and so the Duke jumped on a train, went to Washington and came back with an agreement from Tuffy to play with the Giants.

There was no professional football team in Washington then or his task probably wouldn't have been so simple. Washington would probably have passed a special act of Congress to prevent Tuffy playing for anybody else. As it was they were glad to see him go to the Giants, for they could continue to cheer him along his way.

They're still cheering him as a matter of fact, and the thousands of Washingtonians who are coming up to see their Redskins and the Giants play for the Eastern title will be pulling for Tuffy as strongly as ever. Only with reservations. They want Tuffy to do well, but they want their Redskins to do better.

Although Tuffy plays for New York, he makes his home in Washington. When he first got out of college he went to work as a playgrounds director. The next fall when there was balloting for the players to play in the All-Star games, the boys under his charge stuffed the boxes with votes for Tuffy Leemans.

So tomorrow's visitors from the Capital will come to town knowing they can't lose. If the Redskins win there will be joy and jubilation. If the Giants win—well, they'll be glad for Tuffy anyway.

Copyright, 1938, New York Tribune, Inc.

Giants 17-to-10 Favorites Over Redskins

Pinckert Definitely Out of Game

Odds on Game May Shift When D. C. Money Arrives in New York

By Shirley Povich.
A Staff Correspondent.

Garden City, Long Island, N. Y.—Odds of 17 to 10 against the Washington Redskins are being offered by New York's professional betting men, with few takers, as Sunday's game at the Polo Grounds nears.

Even as last year, the Giants reign as heavy favorites to beat the Redskins, but the current odds may undergo a sharp revision downward when the advance guard of Washington fans arrives for the game. The scarcity of Washington money, as much as any other factor, accounts for the overwhelming favoritism of the Giants.

One prominent Wall street betting commissioner today explained the wagering situation as follows:

"Seventeen to ten against the Redskins might appear to be overlaying the game, but virtually all of our customers want to bet on the Giants. After all, it's the public that makes the prices. If the bets from Washington start pouring in, in any great quantity, I look for the odds to drop to 7 to 5.

They Remember Last Year

"New York bookmakers are still feeling the beating they took last year, when they offered 9 to 5 against the Redskins and then saw them win. But they must be guided by the trend of the betting, and at this time we can only balance our books by making the Giants 17 to 10. By that we are hoping to encourage some Washington betting, but if the betting comes too thick and fast the odds may be cut to 7 to 5 or 13 to 10 by game time."

At Garden City, Long Island, where the Redskins are in seclusion until game time, the Washington athletes read latest newspaper reports quoting the Giants as 17 to 10 favorites, and were unimpressed. One report was that betting commissioners would concede Washington 14 points and lay 4 to 5.

"I don't believe any bookmaker would give the Redskins 14 points against the Giants at any kind of odds," said a regular Washington end. "But if the league didn't have a rule that prevents players from betting, I'd like to bet a few hundred at those 17 to 10 odds. As far as I'm concerned, the Redskins should be the favorites in this game—not the Giants. What have they done?"

Giants Hit Stride

What the Giants have done, chiefly, is to win six and tie one of their last seven games in a streak that included an early season victory over the Redskins and an impressive triumph over the Green Bay Packers, then the Western division leaders.

In New York the Giants are regarded as having reached the peak of their form, particularly Tuffy Leemans and Ed Danowski, their chief scoring threats. Leemans, an in-and-outer last year and a slow starter this season, has been a dazzling fellow in recent games and Danowski is the league's leading forward passer.

Another factor which undoubtedly is influencing the odds is the absence of Cliff Battles from the Redskin line-up this season. As far as New Yorkers are concerned, it was Battles who whipped the Giants 49 to 14 last year.

Pinckert Definitely Out

Coach Ray Flaherty received a setback today when doctors informed him that Ernie Pinckert, the Redskins' best blocking back, was suffering from a neck injury and it would not be advisable for him to play Sunday. Pinckert suffered a chipped vertebra in the Pittsburgh game last week, but did not complain at the time. The injury is not deemed serious and Pinckert is eager to play, but Flaherty announced tonight that he would not be in the Redskins' line-up.

With special guards surrounding the field, the Redskins practiced today in semisecrecy at nearby St. Paul's School. The morning workout was canceled when frigid blasts from Long Island Sound sent the thermometer down to 15 degrees, but the afternoon was milder and the squad romped through a two-hour passing and punting drill. Tonight they held another of the nightly blackboard drills in their hotel.

Dis-and-Data . . . the Redskins hotel is reputed to be the oldest hostelry on Long Island . . . In fact, it is famous—famous for the fact that George Washington never has been supposed to have slept here . . . The Redskins want no part of a tie in the game on Sunday . . . Inasmuch as a tie will give the Giants the Eastern championship . . . So at the slightest excuse Tillie Manton and Riley Smith will attempt field goals if the score is close . . . The attendance at the game Sunday will be governed almost entirely by the weather . . . If it is fair, a capacity crowd of 58,000 is anticipated . . . If it is a dreary day, the crowd may not exceed 35,000 . . . If it is indeed a capacity house, then Mr. George Marshall will take back a check that may go as high as $40,000 in exchange for his Redskins' services for 60 playing minutes . . . If Ed Danowski throws no passes Sunday, Sammy Baugh can tie him for the league lead by completing eight out of nine throws . . . Which would be quite a trick . . . The Texans on the Redskins—Baugh, Malone, Roy Young and Manton—were having swell fun in a snowball fight until an errant heave conked Coach Flaherty on the back of the neck . . . Flaherty did not interpret it as funny and the fun stopped . . . If the Polo Grounds is still crusted with ice on Sunday, the Redskins will wear rubber-soled basketball shoes instead of cleats.

Badgers Win First

Madison, Wis., Dec. 2 (AP).—The University of Wisconsin basketball team opened its 1938-39 season tonight with a 41-to-26 victory over Beloit (Wis.) College.

Irish-Trojan Game Tops Today's Gridiron Program

Seven Tough Problems for Giants Sunday in Game With Redskins

Associated Press Photo.

Washington's Redskins are bending every effort to be in the greatest of shape when they meet the New York Giants for the Eastern professional title Sunday at the Polo Grounds. The winner of this game will meet the champions of the Western division for the national championship. Here are the seven linemen who will start against the Giants Sunday. They are shown working in the snow at Garden City, Long Island. Left to right, Charley Malone, Jim Barber, Jim Karcher, Sam Parks, Bill Young, Churck Bond and Wayne Millner. Coach Ray Flaherty will start his regular backs behind this first line of defense

FBI Five Wins, 43-39

Beats Hot Shoppe Quintet in Heurich League Game

A last ditch stand enabled a thoroughly aroused Federal Bureau of Investigation combination to defeat Hot Shoppe's unexpectedly strong representative in Heurich Amateur Basketball League play in the Heurich gymnasium last night, 43 to 39.

Hot Shoppe, strengthened by the acquisition of Maury Nee and Tommy Keating, enjoyed a 22-to-20 lead at halfway and was menacing throughout.

Dapper Dan turned in something of an upset by trouncing Regal Clothiers in a second-half comeback, 36 to 32. Regal Clothiers were leading at intermission, 19 to 16.

Trans-Lux Hour Glass won the opening game from PWA, 41 to 35.

Trans-L. Hour Glass	G.	F.	P.	PWA	G.	F.	P.
Ey, f	10	2	22	Heller, f	2	3	7
Holloran, f	3	0	6	Kolpka, f	1	0	2
Hickey, c	1	1	3	Garrison, f	3	0	6
Palmer, c	2	0	4	Hobson, c	2	0	4
Hoyle, g	1	0	2	Wilbur, g	0	0	0
Anderson, g	2	0	4	Bitonti, g	2	3	7
				Wright, g	4	1	9
	19	3	41	Lenhart, g	0	0	0
					14	7	35

Referee—Lieb. Score at half—Trans-Lux, 25-16.

Dapper Dan.	G.	F.	P.	Regal Clothiers.	G.	F.	P.
Tipton, f	3	3	9	Lombardy, f	2	2	6
Ishin, f	1	4	6	McVean, f	3	1	7
McCarthy, f	3	0	6	Graves, f	0	0	0
Danzig, f	0	0	0	Poole, c	0	4	4
Stanton, c	0	2	2	Beach, c	0	0	0
Mitchell, g	3	3	9	Maters, g	0	0	0
Scheele, g	2	0	4	Hollidge, g	3	7	13
Edelin, g	0	0	0	Colton, g	1	0	2
Baronio, g	0	0	0
	12	12	36		9	14	32

Referee—Adkins. Score at half—Regal, 19-16.

F. B. I.	G.	F.	P.	Hot Shoppe.	G.	F.	P.
Waters, f	0	0	0	Doering, f	1	0	2
Robinson, f	5	0	10	H. Brown, f	1	0	2
Burgess, f	4	2	10	Lund, f	1	0	2
Noone, c	2	2	6	Marriott, c	1	0	2
Jones, g	1	2	4	Keating, g	4	2	10
Lynch, g	5	2	12	Patterson, g	6	2	14
Dean, g	0	1	1	Nee, g	0	0	0
				Frasher, g	2	3	7
	17	9	43		16	7	39

Referee—Adkins. Score at half—Hot Shoppe, 22-20.

W. L. King's 67 Tops Field at Pinehurst

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Pinehurst, N. C., Dec. 2.—William L. King, registering a net of 67, took the first day's lead in the three-day handicap tournament being played here in which 25 members of Congressional Country Club, Washington, D. C., are competing.

Today's round was played over the No. 3 course. Tomorrow's will be over the championship No. 2 course.

Alfred Paul, with 95-26—69, and Dave Bethune, with 87-18—69, finished in a tie for second low net. Harry Randel, 87-17—70, and Harvey Cobb, 87-17—70, finished deadlocked for third position. Low grass honors for the day went to Dr. A. B. Keilty with a 78 and professional Wiffy Cox with a 71.

W. L. King	85	18—67
Alfred Paul	95	25—69
Dave Bethune	87	16—69
H. L. Cobb	84	14—70
Harry Randel	87	17—70
Wiffy Cox	71	0—71
Dr. A. A. Keilty	78	7—71
Ted Grape	92	19—73
F. Johnson	89	14—75
William Osgood	95	20—75
Louis A. Spiess	88	13—75
F. M. Davidson	91	15—76
Dr. O. U. Singer	93	17—76
C. H. McClain	94	17—77
Howard Smith	82	5—77
Walter Moyle	97	20—77
Leo F. Mullin	97	18—79
B. Foley	134	54—80
George A. Ford	101	20—81
Edward Plack	109	26—83
Clarence Grosner	119	30—89

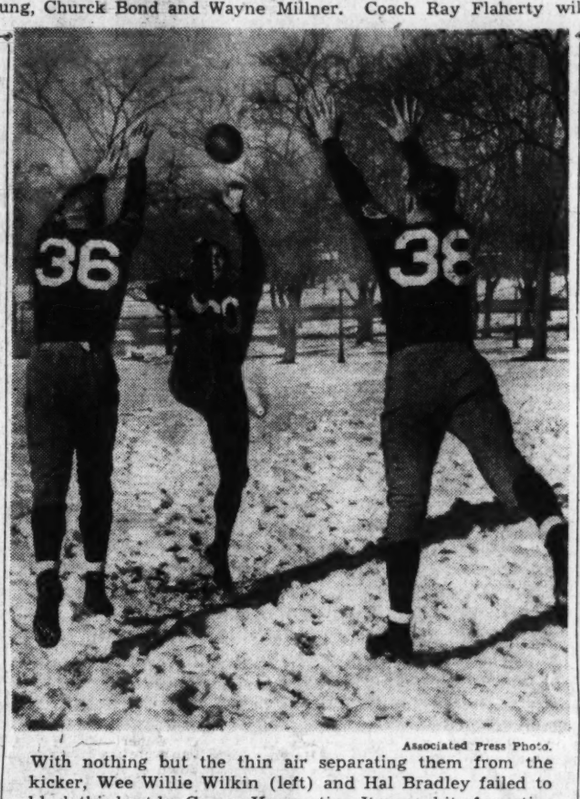
Finals of C. C. Tourney Are Slated Tonight

The Community Center Department of the public schools is sponsoring a touch football tournament in which eight of its boys' clubs competed.

The finals in both the junior and senior competition are scheduled for Tech High gymnasium tonight. The junior game will begin at 7 p. m., with the other following as soon as possible.

Fencing Classes

The Jewish Community Center is forming a class in fencing and a small group of members are working out three times a week at the center. All Jewish Community Center members desiring to join this class may call Jim McNamara, Decatur 1671, for further information.



Associated Press Photo.

With nothing but the thin air separating them from the kicker, Wee Willie Wilkin (left) and Hal Bradley failed to block this boot by George Karamatic. It was a bit of practice (needed, if this picture is a sample) by the Redskins

O'Brien Voted Nation's Outstanding Grid Player

Texas Christian Star Gets Total of 519 Points To Goldberg's 294 for Heisman Trophy

By the Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 2.—Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian University quarterback, received a total of 519 points in the voting for the 1938 Heisman Trophy award as the outstanding football player of the season. The final tobulation of the vote by sports writers, announced today by the Downtown A. C., showed Marshall Goldberg, of Pittsburgh, second with 294 points.

O'Brien received the greatest number of votes in every section of the country with Goldberg either second or third in each. Other points in the final tabulation were: Sid Luckman, Columbia, 154; Bob MacLeod, Dartmouth, 78; Vic Bottari, California, 67; Howie Weiss, Wisconsin, 60; George Cafego, Tennessee, 55; Ki Aldrich, Texas Christian, 48; Ed Beinor, Notre Dame, 47; Dan Hill, jr., Duke, 38.

Bill Price, chairman of the club's Heisman Trophy committee, also announced that O'Brien and a group of 11 others, including Davey's mother, Lieut. Gov. Wood of Texas, Amon Cartor, of Fort Worth, and T. C. U. officials, coaches and players, would leave Fort Worth by airplane early Monday morning, reaching New York that afternoon.

The trophy will be presented to O'Brien at a dinner Tuesday after an official welcome by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

D. C. Elks to Bowl Annapolis Foes

The Washington Elks will play host tonight to the Annapolis Elks Bowlers, continuing their annual bowling rivalry. The match will be rolled at the Recreation Bowling Alleys at 8 o'clock between two ten-man teams picked from the Elk leagues.

Charlie Tucker, leader of the Elks Bowlers, promises to bring two busloads of rooters.

Falls Church High Defeats Herndon

The Jefferson High School basketball team, of Falls Church, defeated the Herndon High School quintet, 46-14, last night in their first league game at Herndon.

Edward Dixon, forward, and Rubin McNab, forward, of the Falls Church team, led the scorers.

The Jefferson High girls defeated the Herndon girls, 19-17, in a preliminary.

HARRISON RADIATORS
SALES & SERVICE
CREEL BROTHERS

Duke Hope Trojans Beat Irish Today

Durham, N. C., Dec. 2 (U.P.).—Unbeaten Notre Dame and the University of Southern California meet tomorrow some 1,600 miles due west of here in a game that had the restless Duke University Blue Devils on edge tonight.

The Blue Devils, round-shouldered from much campus backpatting during the past week, couldn't be more interested in the Los Angeles game tomorrow if they were playing one or both teams.

To a man they are rooting for the U. S. C. Trojans, hoping against hope the team they meet in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, January 2, will emerge victorious from the game with Notre Dame, a team that has dusted off eight opponents.

Community Center To Form League

Strong unlimited basketball teams looking for league affiliations are invited to have representatives at Central High School Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., for an organization meeting of the Community Center's major basketball league.

The league, which will play in Tech High Gym on Tuesday and to Harry C. English, supervisor of boys activities for the Community Center department, be even faster than last year when it was one of the two best leagues in the District.

Champions of the league are F. B. I., "Flying G-Men," who copped the crown after a great play-off series with Senate Beer.

Record Crowd Sees Miami Beat Georgia

23,367 Fans Watch Hurricane Win, 13-7, on Two 50-Yard Marches in Second Half In Night Game in Orange Bowl

By the Associated Press.

Miami, Fla., Dec. 2.—The University of Miami nullified Jim Fordham's 76-yard touchdown run by two crushing 50-yard marches in the second half to conquer Georgia's Bulldogs, 13 to 7, tonight before 23,367 persons, a record football crowd for the State of Florida.

The first Miami touchdown surge began midway of the third period, the Hurricanes moving across from midfield in eight plays. Carl Jones, Miami halfback, circled end from the 1 yard line after a surprise play had set up the touchdown. Johnny Noppenberg, battering ram of the Miami attack, had broken through tackle, ran 15 yards and flipped a lateral to Bob Grimes, who dashed to the Georgia 9. Hayward converted the point by placement.

Early in the fourth, Chuck Gulmento, Miami guard, intercepted one of Billy Mims' passes on the 50-yard stripe and the Miamians were on their way again. Live stabs were effective with Noppenberg finally crashing over center from the 3-yard line. Hayward's placekick was blocked.

For a time it appeared that one electrifying Georgia play had won the ball game. Early in the second quarter the Bulldogs sent Fordham through a wide hole and the fleet back shot 76 yards for a touchdown. Billy Mims place-kicked the point.

Miami rolled up 20 first downs to Georgia's 8, 329 yards rushing to Georgia's 167 and had a net total gain of 374 to the Bulldog's 180.

Miami.	Position.	Georgia.
Paskewich	L. E.	Thomas
Raski	L. T.	Badgett
Guimento	L. G.	Hodgson
Dixon	Center	Lumpkin
Snowden	R. G.	Johnson
Borek	R. T.	Williams
Kichefski	R. E.	Eldredge
Casky	Q. B.	Salisbury
Dunn	L. H.	Stevens
Jones	R. H.	Cate
Fox	F. B.	Fordham

Miami	0	0	7	6—13
Georgia	0	7	0	0— 7

Miami scoring: Touchdowns—Jones, Noppenberg. Point after touchdown—Hayward (sub for Snowden) (placekick). Georgia scoring: Touchdown—Fordham. Point after touchdown—Mims (sub for Hise) (placekick). Referee—L. L. McMasters (Chicago). Umpire—Pete Buarkhalter (Auburn). Head linesman—M. M. O'Sullivan (Atlanta A. C.). Field judge—Wilbur Worley (Michigan Normal).

Fifth Battalion Shooters Score

The small bore rifle team of the Fifth Battalion, Marine Corps Reserve, won easily from the Old Dominion Rifle Club, of Richmond, Va., in a postal rifle match at Roosevelt High School.

Old Dominion R. C.

Name	Pr.	Kn.	St.	Total
Baird	100	74	82	256
Seitzinger	96	79	80	255
West	99	68	86	253
Moyers	96	80	76	252
Dillon	98	80	69	247
Team total				1,263

Fifth Battalion, M. C. R.

Name	Pr.	Kn.	St.	Total
Fondahl	100	96	86	282
Payne	100	93	87	280
Piggott	98	95	86	279
McMahill	97	95	86	278
Stille	97	95	85	277
Team total				1,396

Company 'F' Will Open Court Season Tomorrow

Company "F," of the Maryland National Guard, will open its basketball season tomorrow, meeting Cal's Valet at the armory in Hyattsville, Md.

Any teams desiring games with Company "F," phone Hyattsville 378 or Hyattsville 232 between 8 and 11 p. m. any evening and ask for Johnny Devlin.

Barons Sign Center

Cleveland, Dec. 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Barons of the International American Hockey League purchased Harry Currie, veteran right wing and center, from the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Have you tried NATIONAL Bohemian BEER
The most expensive 10¢ bottle of beer on the market
Spend a dime for it today and taste the value--
Brewed by THE NATIONAL BREWING CO., Baltimore, Md.
Washington Branch • Phone WEst 2600

Eagles Face Tough Slate

American U. Quintet Will Play 17-Game Schedule

Headed by its lone senior, Capt. Bartlett, a squad of 20 American University Eagles faces the stiffest competition in a dozen years of hardwood competition, it was announced yesterday as a 17-game schedule was released.

Games with Manhattan, Bucknell and Georgetown in the first month of the season are enough to grow gray hairs on the head of young "Pop" Cassell, Eagle coach who, a couple of years ago, was "one of the boys."

Along with Bartlett, Cassell will have one junior, George Brown, and three sophomores, Rifenbary, Webb and Schulze, around whom to build his team. Schulze formerly was star at Western High School and was named on the second All-District team last year, although he was only a first year man. The only other veterans are Gewehr and Trowbridge, who were numeral winners last year.

The complete schedule follows:

December 13, Western Maryland College, away; 15, Georgetown University, home; 20, Seton Hall, South Orange, N. J., away; 21, Manhattan College, New York City, home.

January 12, Hampden-Sydney College, away; 14, Bucknell University, home; 28, Western Maryland College, away.

February 4, Randolph Macon College, home; 10, Virginia Medical College, away; 11, Gallaudet College, home; 17, Randolph Macon College, away; 18, Hampden-Sydney College, home; 22, Johns Hopkins University, away; 24, Bridgewater College, home; 25, Juanita College, away.

March 4, Virginia Medical College, home; 11, Alumni Night, away.

Contest Can Make, Break Rose Bowl

Tennessee Meets Ole Miss in Another Of Nation's Top Football Games

By the United Press.

New York, Dec. 2.—Three of the Nation's five unbeaten and untied football teams face their final opposition of the season tomorrow and riding with them will be the prestige of two January bowl games.

At Los Angeles, Southern California can make the Rose Bowl the No. 1 affair of the country by halting Notre Dame's unbeaten Irish. Tennessee and Oklahoma, who meet in the Orange Bowl, can give the Miami game the only pair of post-season unbeaten opponents by winning their closing assignments tomorrow.

Tennessee, which already has clinched the Southeastern Conference title, meets a tough Mississippi team at Memphis, while Oklahoma, champions of the Big Six, plays Washington State at Norman, Okla.

Victories by the unbeaten trio would round out a "Big Five" for 1938 because Duke, which meets U. S. C. in the Rose Bowl, and Texas Christian, which tackles Carnegie Tech in the Sugar Bowl, already have completed perfect seasons.

Southern California, beaten by Alabama and Washington, will have to beat Notre Dame if the Rose Bowl is to maintain its prestige of former years. Should U. S. C. lose, it would be the first time in years that the Western representative had such a poor record.

Notre Dame, winner of eight straight games in a "suicide schedule" that contained such giants as Northwestern, Minnesota, Carnegie Tech and Army, is an 8 to 5 favorite to win and the dope is that the Irish aren't going to pull any punches. They hope to win—and by the largest possible score.

Of the three unbeaten teams, Tennessee stands the best chance of being knocked over. Mississippi lost only to Vanderbilt in the last minute of play and has an all-America halfback named Parker Hall who is about the best in the country.

Tennessee still will be Southeastern champion whether it wins or loses, but Mississippi can rise into a three-way tie for second along

See IRISH, Page 22, Column 8.

Additional Sports On Next Page

Here at Beckers, we're all set to celebrate our sixty-third old-fashioned Christmas. You'll find this gift store literally brimming over with new and bright gift ideas. Come in and see why "A Gift From Beckers Means More."
BECKERS
1314 F Street N.W.

OURISMAN - CHEVROLET
CHOICE OF 25 TRUCKS
FORMERLY PROPERTY OF U.S.GOV'T.
★ GOVERNMENT CARE
★ EXCELLENT CONDITION
YOUR CHOICE $99
(5) 1931 FORD CANOPY EXPRESS BODY TRUCKS
1935 Ford Panel Delivery $199
1934 Chevrolet 1½-Ton Dump $259
1936 Ford Suburban Station Wagon $299
1937 Ford 157" Chassis and Cab ... $379
1936 Chevrolet ½-Ton Panel $359
1936 Chevrolet Sedan Delivery $349
OURISMAN
625 H ST. N.E. CHEVROLET
"The House That Service Built"

Bill Bennings

At the Post

Selections at Charles Town.

Dear Al:

I believe an effort will be made to move disqualified horses back a position instead of throwing them out entirely. This is the rule in California and it has proven popular. Despite the fact that the ruling on Thursday's race cost me a winner, I believe the stewards were right in disqualifying Tommy Rose and in giving the win position to Bargain Boy. However, the third horse was so far back that giving second money to him was a joke.

I understand Bowie will be given the four days it missed this year in 1939. Under present plans Bowie will open early and make up for the lost time.

Al Howard, of Washington, is giving a three-day party up here for a group of Capital turf customers and rooters. Sonny Workman is one of the group to take in two days of racing and to make the nearby Blue Ridge Rod and Gun Club its headquarters. In the party are Al Howard, Henry Rodier, John H. Davis, Powell Browning, Logan Hopkins, Dorie Gruver, Charlie German, James Fitzgerald, Manning Hoffman, John McInnery, Martin McInnery, Sonny Workman, Clem Parker, Que Bradley, Jack Brown, Jack Snow, Bert Nye, John Manfuso, Judy Heron, Edward McAuliffille, Ed Brooke, Chet Towners, Lloyd Gaine, Bill Davis and Henry Bronson.

Six mules dragged the starting gate from point to point. There was enough frost on the track yesterday to keep the mud down and the riders liked it better than on opening day.

Jockey Sammy Palumbo did not accept mounts yesterday, due to being hit in the eyes by clods of mud. He had a beautiful shiner on his right eye.

Manny Berg took a day off to celebrate the arrival of his new son and will resume saddle action today. Beverly Broun, head of the West Virginia Racing Commission, is visiting the track.

BILL.

First race—The Bond entry of Sure Miss and Barraca seems to have this purse at its mercy. Sure Miss has the top assignment among the eligibles and likes the track. Barraca can come from behind. Lady Timarole did well on the milers. Bob Junior is a money possibility if in action.

Second race—Edith Walker has been fairly consistent at this track in the past and is reported fit and ready. I'm going to string along. Miss Demie has a little class and is due some respect. Naynay has worked good over the track.

Third race—Baldy is a veteran with plenty of foot and seems capable of turning back a field of this sort. Night Ends has a fair record and should be in the thick of contention. Cautious Bo will like the going and could take it all.

Fourth race—Sea Dove comes from a stable of fit horses and is first on the also eligible list. Seems headed for the chief brackets. Little Wackie gives a good account of himself on most occasions and is dangerous. Elsie J. is a possible surprise.

Fifth race—Unheralded was right up there in a finish with the best at Bowie and needs only the right ride. Royal Business knows her way around this track and won here opening day. The Runner won in the snow at Bowie.

Sixth race—Tempting Witch won here opening day and, although moving up, I'm forced to go back for more. Washoe Valley has class and speed but I'll wait until this one shows a race. Royal Veil for the show end.

Seventh race—A. O'Connell should go kindly in the tough going here. He gets in with steadying weight and I'm going to string along. Braving Danger should be a keen contender if not the winner. Erada turned in a nice effort here opening day.

Eighth race—(Substitute)—Sun Sweep won here last out in a good fashion. Picks up some weight but is as fit as hands make horses. More Pep might have won at Bowie with better handling. Prettylass to take care of the others.

Best bet—Sun Sweep.

Touch Footballers Meet Tonight

Eastern High School Community Center Boys Club, which won the Community Center Department's touch football championship last year, will try to make it two in a row in Tech High Gym tonight at 7 o'clock.

Coached by Albert (Doc) Nathanson, the Easterners again have representatives in both the junior and senior classes. Last year the little team defeated Langley, while the older team downed Roosevelt.

Tonight, their junior game opponent will be Charles W. "Pop" Wannan's Woodrow Wilson team, while their senior foes will be George Jenkins-Langley Boys Club. Eight Community Center Clubs competed in the elimination tournament.

Bob Feller's Driving License Suspended

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 2 (AP).—The State Motor Vehicle Department today suspended the driver's license of Bob Feller, American League pitching star, for 90 days.

The suspension followed recommendation yesterday of the municipal judge who fined Feller $100 on a reckless driving charge brought by two highway patrolmen who said they clocked the young ball player driving 87 miles an hour through Ankeny, Iowa, en route here November 14.

Stars

Continued from Page 20.

sang the praises of several brilliant players. McDermott, the mite of a quarterback who marshaled the team to the outstanding season, received laurels, along with Halfback Simpson and Fullback Laycock. Coaches Hart and Hall of the junior policemen drilled at length yesterday, winding up by stating that No. 4 "seemed to be a cinch for victory."

French Trap, Paying $8.20, Wins Feature at Charles Town

Flying Vim, $49.60 Shot, Takes Sixth

Mantados, Paying $35, Scores in Finale; Double Brings $43.20

By Walter Haight.

A Staff Correspondent.

Charles Town, W. Va., Dec. 2.—French Trap, a 7-year-old filly and the senior member of a field of five, won the Doc Webb Purse, today's feature race here in the Upper Shenandoah Valley. Under a bold ride by Jockey Lou Machado, the daughter of The Satrip, showed her hoofs to Gaurisankar and Surprise Box while racing in the yellow and black of W. Kirkley. French Trap was lukewarm in the wagering and paid an $8.20 mutuel.

While the weather was colder than the opening day, the clubhouse and betting ring fires served the 3,500 customers in good stead.

Machado gave French Trap a commendable front-running ride. Gaurisanker was closest to the pace throughout and made a gallant, but futile, bid for honors in midstretch. Surprise Box proved a dull-running favorite, much to the disgust of the majority of bettors.

Double Pays $43

After opening day's $403 daily double, the twin wager got down to normalcy today with a $43.20 payoff on the combination of Depinard in the second race and Miss Epe in the third.

Grumpy, owned by Capt. E. Johnston, showed a return to form by taking the fourth race. Lou Machado also rode this winner, which paid a $9 mutuel.

One of the day's best finishes was recorded in the first race. Sister Reigh and Welsh Star hooked up with a quarter to go, and first one and then the other took command. Sister Reigh, under Jockey M. Sarno's guidance, had the most punch and took down the verdict to bring her backers a $6.40 payoff.

Two Long Shots Pay

Flying Vim, with a record that made the customers frown on him, surprised by taking the sixth race at a $49.60 mutuel. Last Scamp and Schley Nurse followed the winner to the wire.

Long shots won the last two races. Mantados, ridden by Jockey C. Watters, who had a spill yesterday, rewarded his scattered backers with a $35 payoff in the day's finale, winning by a scant neck over Prince Khayyam. Zippy was third in the field of eight.

AP Announces All-Pacific Coast Eleven

San Francisco, Dec. 2 (AP).—The Associated Press' fourteenth annual All-Pacific Coast football team, announced today, combines a big, extremely mobile line and a backfield embracing both speed and tremendous power.

It averages 203 pounds on the line and 184 pounds in the backfield.

Dave Anderson, California's fullback, was the only player to win All-Coast recognition for the second successive year. Ends, Jay McDowell, Washington, soph, Oak Park, Ill., and Joe Wendlick, Oregon State, junior, Portland, Oreg.; tackles, Dave de Varona, California, senior, San Diego, and Alvord Wolff, Santa Clara, senior, San Francisco; guards, Harry Smith, U. S. C., junior, Ontario, Calif., and Art Means, Washington, senior, Seattle; center, John Ryland, U. C. L. A., senior, Van Nuys, Calif.; backs, Grenville Lansdell, U. S. C., junior, Pasadena, Calif.; Vic Bottari, California, senior, Vallejo, Calif.; Ken Washington, U. C. L. A., junior, Los Angeles; Dave Anderson, California, senior, Los Gatos, Calif.

A. A. U.

Continued from Page 20.

the New York Metropolitan Association the indoor. Fresno (Calif.) State College was among the bidders for the outdoor event.

The women's outdoor track and field championships were awarded the Connecticut Association, to be staged the first week in September.

The penthalon was given to the Ozark Association, St. Louis, and the decathlon to the Northeastern Ohio Association, Cleveland.

Officially opening the convention yesterday, Melvin C. Hazen, president of the board of commissioners; Maj. Ernest W. Brown, chief of the Metropolitan Police, and Assistant Secretary of Commerce Richard C. Patterson spoke briefly at a luncheon at the Willard.

Welcomes Delegates

Voicing welcome to the delegates on behalf of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, Hazen said, "This is your city as well as ours. Some day when you retire, perhaps you will come back here to live and help pay the taxes."

Each of the trio, all of whom were star athletes in their youth and have since been prominent in the promotion and furtherance of amateur athletics, expressed his interest in the work of the A. A. U. Hazen recalled the days when he was captain and manager of his college baseball team, Maj. Brown touched on his affiliation with the boys' clubs sponsored by the police department and Patterson reminisced of his experiences as president of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association.

Patterson later appeared before the A. A. U. swimming committee to propose establishment of an international trophy in this sport.

Toastmaster for the luncheon was A. Earle Weeks, president of the District of Columbia Association of the A. A. U. Weeks introduced Judge Samuel E. Hoyt, president of the union, as well as four former presidents, Judge Jeremiah T. Mahoney, Judge Murray Hulbert, both of New York; Avery Brundage, of Chicago, and Alfred J. Lill, jr., of New York.

CHARLES TOWN CHARTS

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1938.

(Compiled by Walter Haight.)

WEATHER, CLOUDY. TRACK, HEAVY.

FIRST RACE—About 4½ furlongs. Purse, $400; claiming. For 2-year-olds. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place same. Went to post 1:34. Off 1:35½. Winner, Mrs. B. H. Jackson's blk. f. (2), by Neddie—Dark Convent. Trained by H. W. Jackson. Value to winner, $300; second, $60; third, $30; fourth, $10. Time, 0:55 2-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	Start	¼	Stretch	Finish	Straight
SISTER REIGH	(Sarno)	112	1	3	2½	1h	1½	$2.20
WELSH STAR	(Bernhardt)	108	4	5	1½	2½	2½	10.80
GENERAL HAY	(Faust)	115	2	2	3½	3½	3h	2.60
ARTIST	(Ward)	114	7	6	6h	4h	4h	4.80
LYCOONNA	(Rose)	107½	3	4	4h	5h	5½	12.40
DEAR GRACIE	(Balducci)	106	5	7	7	6h	6h	22.80
HAIL AMERICA	(Militello)	102	6	1	5h	7	7	4.50

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SISTER REIGH, $6.40, $4.00, $2.80; WELSH STAR, $6.20, $3.60; GENERAL HAY, $2.80.

SISTER REIGH raced on inside of WELSH STAR, lost lead in opening furlong, but rallied to intermittent punishment to be up in closing stages. WELSH STAR had good speed from break, went to front, but just failed to last. GENERAL HAY was in thick of contention from break and showed good effort. ARTIST closed full of run from slow beginning. LYCOONNA weakened gradually. DEAR GRACIE lacked speed. HAIL AMERICA broke down.

SECOND RACE—About 4½ furlongs. Purse, $400; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place same. Went to post 2:05½. Off 2:07½. Winner, R. Callahan's b. g. (5), by Epinard—Damoris. Trained by T. Callahan. Value to winner, $300; second, $60; third, $30; fourth, $10. Time, 0:55 3-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	Start	¼	Stretch	Finish	Straight
DEPINARD	(Balducci)	117	1	3	1h	1h	1h	$5.70
FREDRICK	(Faust)	117	2	5	2½	2h½	2h	.80
VERITAS	(Sylvester)	114	6	2	6h	5½	3h½	7.30
PERFECT LIAR	(Miller)	117	7	4	4h	4h	4h	11.80
CANROCK	(Kirk)	117	3	6	3h½	3h	5½	7.95
MY GRAND	(Munos)	114	8	1	5h	8h	8h	37.60
FRED ALMY	(Kenny)	117	5	8	7h	7h	7h	15.90
WITCH LAD	(Horn)	117	4	7	8	6	6	44.80

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DEPINARD, $13.40, $3.40, $2.40; FREDRICK, $2.80, $2.40; VERITAS, $2.80.

DEPINARD, off in first flight, came to front in opening furlong on inside, swung out entering stretch and hung on courageously in final test. FREDRICK was rated close to pace, moved up menacingly in midstretch, but hung in final 16 yards. VERITAS closed gamely. PERFECT LIAR went evenly. CANROCK weakened. The others were outrun.

THIRD RACE—About 7 furlongs. Purse, $400; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place same. Went to post 2:37. Off 2:38. Winner, Mrs. G. Hutchinson's ch. f. (4), by Sea Rock—London Charm. Trained by J. McKenzie. Value to winner, $300; second, $60; third, $30; fourth, $10. Time, 1:38.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Straight
MISS EPE	(West)	111	8	1	1h	1h	1h	1h	$1.70
TEPIN	(Dufford)	111	1	3	2h	2h	2h	2h½	8.70
LEW DUNLIN	(Machado)	112	5	5	3½	3½	3½	3½	37.80
LANVOILA	(Watters)	115	6	7	5½	5h	4½	4h	10.60
CHICANNA	(Ward)	111	2	4	4h	4h	5h	5h	2.80
KEYED UP	(Kirk)	114	7	2	7h	7h	6h	6h	19.30
WHIPSNAKE	(Militello)	116	3	6	6h	8h	7h	7h	5.40
JINNEAL	(Garrett)	111	4	8	8	5	8	8	16.40

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MISS EPE, $5.40, $4.60, $2.60; TEPIN, $8.60, $5.40; LEW DUNLIN, $7.80.

MISS EPE, rushed up on outside to take command going to first turn, drew out, but had to be placed to punishment through stretch to hold TEPIN safe. TEPIN was closest to pace from start and closed gamely under pressure. LEW DUNLIN went evenly. CHICANNA had no excuses. The others were outrun.

Daily Double, Depinard and Miss Epe, Paid $43.20.

FOURTH RACE—Charles Town course. Purse, $400; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place same. Went to post 3:04½. Off 3:07. Winner, E. Johnston's b. g. (3), by Stimulus—Spearlaid. Trained by O. F. Kent. Value to winner, $300; second, $60; third, $30; fourth, $10. Time, 1:25.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Straight
GRUMPY	(Machado)	114	6	4	5½	5½	3d	1d	$3.50
SALLY QUICK	(Kirk)	108	4	1	2h	2h	2h	2h½	8.20
INACTIVE	(West)	106	1	3	1d	1d	1d	3d	4.30
SCHLEY GOREE	(Ward)	106	2	6	6d	6h	5h½	4d	11.70
MAN AT ARMS	(Snyder)	106	5	8	7d	7h	7d	5h	5.30
JANSTAR	(Garrett)	105	8	7	8	8	8	6h	49.80
ROLL JORDAN	(Klein)	112	3	2	3½	3½	6h	7d	3.80
BELIEVER	(Jackson)	118	7	5	4d	4½	4½	8	5.80

Two-dollar mutuels paid—GRUMPY, $9.00, $5.00, $4.20; SALLY QUICK, $7.40, $3.60; INACTIVE, $4.00.

GRUMPY, forced to be pulled up entering backstretch, saved ground thereafter to close with rush on inside and won going away. SALLY QUICK, closest to pace of INACTIVE, wore down latter in stretch, but could not resist winner. INACTIVE set good pace, but weakened suddenly. SCHLEY GOREE closed some ground. ROLL JORDAN stopped. JANSTAR closed full of run.

FIFTH RACE—About 7 furlongs. Purse, $500. The Dock Webb. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won easily; place same. Went to post 3:31. Off 3:31½. Winner, W. Kirkley's ch. m. (7), by The Savage—Trieste de Coeour. Trained by J. Ryan. Value to winner, $350; second, $75; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 1:32 1-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Straight
FRENCH TRAP	(Machado)	109	2	2	1h	1h	1h	1h	$17.10
GAURISANKAR	(Mills)	107	5	1	3h	2h	2h	2h	1.60
SURPRISE BOX	(Sarno)	112	3	5	5	5	3h	3h	1.50
COMBATANT	(Militello)	111	1	4	4h½	4h	4h	4h	12.90
SANTER	(Kirk)	107	4	3	2h½	3h	5	5	44.10

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FRENCH TRAP, $8.20, $3.60, $2.20; GAURISANKAR, $2.60, $2.20; SURPRISE BOX, $2.20.

FRENCH TRAP went to front at once, drew out gradually, saved ground entering stretch and won easily while opening gap. GAURISANKAR, closer than usual in early stages, was hard ridden, but was no match for winner. SURPRISE BOX could not keep up and closed some ground in late stages. COMBATANT stumbled in early stages and finished laboring. SANTER had early speed and stopped badly.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $500; claiming. The Charles B. Lister. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won easily; place driving. Went to post 4:00. Off 4:03½. Winner, J. White's blk. g. (4), by Flying Ebony—Virmar. Trained by E. Williams. Value to winner, $350; second, $75; third, $50; fourth, $28. Time, 1:50 1-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
FLYING VIM	(Kirk)	110	4	3	2d	2h½	2h½	1h	1h	$21.60
LAST SCAMP	(Ward)	108½	1	1	1h	1h	1h	1h	2h	6.10
SCHLEY NURSE	(Snyder)	107	7	7	7	7	6d	5d	3hd	2.60
CHANNING	(Fowler)	113	5	6	6d	3h	3h	3h	4h½	13.90
CHATTERESS	(Machado)	108½	4	5	2h½	5h	4½	4	5h	47.40
PLAYING DAN	(West)	114	8	2	4hk	5d	5d	6d	6h	1.30
MATCH POINT	(Garrett)	120	2	3	4h½	8h½	7	7	7	5.50

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FLYING VIM, $49.60, $21.80, $5.80; LAST SCAMP, $9.00, $4.80; SCHLEY NURSE, $4.20.

FLYING VIM, well handled, was closest to pace of LAST SCAMP after opening quarter, came to inside and under intermittent punishment won going away. LAST SCAMP set good pace from start and held on gamely. SCHLEY NURSE closed with good energy. CHANNING weakened. CHATTERESS was squeezed back after a half and weakened. PLAYING DAN tired. MATCH POINT stopped.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $400; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place same. Went to post 4:30. Off 4:32. Winner, M. H. Powellson's b. g. (6), by Rockman—Iristados. Trained by R. Heinen. Value to winner, $300; second, $60; third, $30; fourth, $10. Time, 2:07 2-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
MANTADOS	(Watters)	112	2	1	3d	2d	1½	1½	1hk	$16.50
PRINCE KHAYYAM	(Machado)	118	8	3	2hd	3hd	2d	2d	2½	4.40
ZIPPY	(Kirk)	114	7	8	8h	8½	4d	4d	3h	5.30
EL BAILARINO	(Atkinson)	114½	4	5	4½	6d	5h½	5d	4d	1.60
MERIGA	(Ward)	109	1	4	7½	7h	7d	6d	5½	12.20
CARL'S CHOICE	(Terhune)	112	3	2	1h	1h	2h	3½	6d	5.30
DOCTOR'S GIFT	(West)	107	5	6	6d	4h	6h	7h½	7½	27.80
FAMOUS CLAYTON	(Militello)	111	6	7	8	8	8	8	8	12.60

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MANTADOS, $35.00, $10.60, $7.00; PRINCE KHAYYAM, $7.00, $3.20; ZIPPY, $2.20.

MANTADOS ran CARL'S CHOICE into defeat after a half to take command, but had to be kept to drive to stave off closing bid of PRINCE KHAYYAM. ZIPPY gained gradually and closed with good courage. EL BAILARINO could not threaten. The others were outrun.

Fair Grounds Entries

By the Associated Press.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

7	*All Lady	102	1	*Din. Jacket	103
8	*Sadie F	107	2	*Gold. Nugget	105
9	*Sanctity	113	3	*Ona Boy	113
10	*Larry S	103	4	Maleman	108
11	*Good Omen	109	5	Lucky Star	103
12	*Legion	113	6	Adolf	112

SECOND RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds.

9	Imper. Jean	108	1	Stormy Sea	108
10	*Brattle	100	2	*Scarlet O	104
11	*Gr. Country	103	3	*Alpenglow	100
12	*Mich. Miss	104	4	*Sir Gal	104
13	*Goldkin	102	5	Eddie Gardner	111
14	Powers G'and	112	6	*Stingo	101
15	Let's Win	107	7	Jane W	102
16	*Smil. Prince	101	8	Oncave	102

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

10	*Forceful	111	1	Spaycrest	109
11	Frost Bite	106	2	*Belton	104
12	Courtaway	107	3	*Firm Hand	101
13	*In Chancery	104	4	*Zatso	102
14	*Noma F	104	5	Hueu	109
15	*John Bane	107	6	*Wild Blonde	104
16	Blazing Sun	112	7	Idolatry	104
17	*Catchall	107	8	*Polante Seth	104
18	Francine C	99	9	*Nedrow	104

FOURTH RACE—One and one-fourth miles; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

6	Manhunt	107	1	*Butter Beans	104
7	Merne	104	2	Sun Fighter	112
8	Rhimeda	104	3	*Golden Price	107
9	Lowry	112	4	*Paul T	100
10	Skipsea	102	5	*Laura Kiev	101
11	*Chehalis	100

FIFTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards; the June Pressler; purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

9	*Miss Ap'hend	105	1	*Prince Sador	104
6	Woodlander	109	2	*Glasby	110
7	*Swift Spot	96	3	*Mor. Griner	107
8	Pokeaway	112	4	*Ozark	105

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs; the Biloxi Handicap; purse, $1,500; for 2-year-olds.

6	*High Place	108	1	Joli T	109
7	Ling. Awhile	100	2	Torch Stick	115
8	Mich. Flyer	117	3	Bright Arrow	107
9	Street Arab	106	4	Hope D'mond	100
10	Sherry B	102	5	Patrol Scout	108

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; pure, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

10	*Our Sammy	110	1	*Rocky Prince	106
11	*Osterrop	103	2	*Bright Dawn	107
12	Cross Ruff	111	3	*Bushy	106
13	*Silver Palm	106	4	*Lester P	106
14	Caw Caw	115	5	Fair Mole	111
15	*Hasty Wave	103	6	Miss Adams	108
16	*Unlawful	110	7	*Iga	101
17	Arachne	103	8	Justa Flight	111
18	*Mr. Quick	110	9	*Gawaine	110

EIGHTH RACE (substitute)—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

10	*Par Queen	104	1	Grey Squaw	106
11	Lucre Lude	107	2	*Encircle	104
12	Ducmiss	106	3	*Blind Star	104
13	*Birds Eye	107	4	*Dance Time	99
14	Born Lucky	109	5	Black Anna	106
15	*Modern Boy	102	6	*Celtic Legend	108
16	*Almarine	101	7	Cavour	109
17	Lucky Child	109	8	*Molsson	104
18	Dan Skilling	109	9	*Notation	102

*Apprentice allowance claimed.

Weather, cloudy; track, fast.

FAIR GROUNDS SELECTIONS (Fast)

1—Maleman, Dinner Jacket, Good Omen.
2—Powers, Gouraud, Alpenglow, Big Gay.
3—Huen, Nedrow, Catchall.
4—Sun Fighter, Merne, Paul T.
5—Miss Apprehend, Morris Griner, Woodlander.
6—Michigan Flyer, Hope Diamond, Patrol Scout.
7—Cross Ruff, Otterrop, Bushy.
8—Encircle, Blind Star, Par Queen.

Best bet—Sun Fighter.

Tanforan Entries

By the Associated Press.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs (chute); purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

7	Jockwell	109	1	Crystal Str'k	103
8	Sextus	109	3	Pr. Heather	110
9	Glad Wings	106	3	*Patou Bow	107
10	Didutellus	103	4	Ben's Hope	109
11	*Oddesa Lass	103	5	The Flower	109
12	*My Mint	104	6	*Hadase	104

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs (chute); purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

6	Golden Ivy	106	1	Kent	109
7	Sky Shoot	112	2	Gamelon	103
8	*Border R'an	106	3	Shasta Buddy	106
9	Valdina	109	4	*Nicasio	104
10	*Boniluna	104	5	Model Dame	106

THIRD RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

7	Geo. Renfroe	112	1	Barbadoes	112
8	*Thistle Air	107	2	Pompete	112
9	*Rey Oro	107	3	*Do It	110
10	Edgar Boy	118	4	Mollify	109
11	Alice Byrd	109	5	Shasta Lark	109
12	*Sw. Mystery	110	6	*Santa Monica	104

FOURTH RACE—One mile and 70 yards; purse, $700; claiming; for 3-year-olds.

5	Star Stepper	103	2	Miss Loan	106
6	Sitting Bull	112	3	One Mile	103
7	Hadnogal	113	4	Master Jean	110
8	Green Jade	118

FIFTH RACE—One and one-quarter miles; purse, $700; allowances; for 3-year-olds and upward.

5	Blue Hour	111	1	Transbird	111
6	Bois Beau	109	2	Bik. Toreador	112
7	Golden Nut	111	3	Tonas	109
8	Yes Polly	108	4	Bummer Bill	111

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs (chute); purse, $800; allowances; for 3-year-olds and upward.

5	Amneris	108	2	Cloudy W'ther	115
6	Bunny Martin	110	3	Burst. Manor	112
7	Honey Car	110	4	Denbish	111
1	Midwick	108

SEVENTH RACE—Six furlongs (chute); the Golden Gate Handicap; purse, $1,200 added; for all ages.

5	*Advocator	114	2	†Indiantown	109
6	Olympo	115	3	Lavengro	117
1	High Vote	104	4	Polvo's Prince	102

†A. C. Howard entry.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $800; handicap; Class D; for 3-year-olds and upward.

5	Monsweep	118	1	†Below Zero	106
6	†Onus	112	2	Count Pan	110
7	Wing and W'z	111	3	Cue Ball	105
8	Pala Chief	110	4	Sky Glare	110

†C. C. Patmon entry.

*Apprentice allowance claimed.

Weather, clear; track, heavy.

The Post's Consensus at Charles Town

Bennings (Washington Post)

First race.	Second race.	Third race.	Fourth race.	Fifth race.	Sixth race.	Seventh race.	Eighth race.
Bond Entry	Edith Walker	Baldy	Sea Dove	Unheralded	Tempting Witch	A. O'Connell	Sun Sweep
Lady Timarole	Miss Demie	Nights End	Little Wackie	Royal Business	Washoe Valley	Braving Danger	More Pep
Bob Junior	Nay Nay	Cautious Bo	Elsie J.	The Runner	Royal Veil	Erada	Prettylass

Best bet—Sun Sweep.

Clocker Mike (Washington Post)

Engles Lad	Pegadette	Cautious Bo	Little Wackie	The Runner	Royal Veil	Never Idol	More Pep
Sure Miss	Nay Nay	Baldy	Gaylass	Ocean Roll	Tempting Witch	Erada	Lucky Turn
Lady Timarole	Wanted	Canteret	Stepee	Holluschickie	Washoe Valley	Braving Danger	Sun Sweep

Best bet—Pegadette.

By the Louisville Times

Barraca	Proteus	Crossing Over	Little Wackie	Holluschickie	Happy Host	Braving Danger	Ross
Home Hunter	Pegadette	Bungalow	Stepee	The Runner	Foggy Morn	Strophe	Dark Tyrant
Fern Brake	Wanted	Nights End	Machilla	Landlubber	Justify	El Ballarine	Steel Dust

Best bet—Holluschickie.

Consensus of Leading Handicappers

Bond entry (23), M. De Mie (21), Baldy (19), Sea Dove (24), Unheralded (22), W. Valley (21), B. Danger (20), Sun Sweep (18), Easign Up (14), E. Walker (18), Nights End (12), Lit. Wackie (16), Ocean Roll (14), She Knows (13), A. O'Con'll (17), More Pep (17), Bob Junior (9), Proteus (9), Ch'ce Goods (8), Judge G. (11), The Runner (9), T. Witch (10), Erada (11), L. Dunlin (10).

Charles Town Entries With Marvel Ratings

FIRST RACE—About four and a half furlongs; purse, $400; for 2-year-olds.

No.	Horse	Jockey	Wt.	Odds	Rate
8	†Barracs (Garrett)		106	1-1	306
9	†Kissin Kid (Sarno)		109	6-1
10	†Sure Miss (Berg)		118	1-1	316
11	†Home Hunter (Palumbo)		112	6-1	304
12	Lady Timarole (Kirk)		106	4-1	307
13	Daisy Petal (Snyder)		106	12-1	302
14	Flying Heart (Coffman)		109	12-1
1	Engles Lad (Machado)		109	12-1	308
2	Fern Brake (Munos)		106	15-1
3	Vendors Lien (Kirk)		112	8-1	302
4	Bob Junior (Terhune)		109	8-1	312
5	Hasten Up (Mills)		118	3-1	318
6	Goldun (Machado)		109	20-1	294
7	Col. Scott (Faust)		112	20-1	312

†Mrs. M. H. Bond and B. Bond entry.

‡Mrs. I. C. and I. K. Mourar entry.

SECOND RACE—Charles Town course (120 feet farther than six furlongs); purse, $500; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.

8	Wanted (Terhune)		107	30-1	303
9	Spanish Maid (Kenney)		111	8-1	314
10	Phillsal (Berg)		113	15-1	313
11	Pesadette (Machado)		116	6-1	302
12	Edith Walker (Palumbo)		116	3-1	315
13	Miss De Mie (Lauch)		110	3-1	318
14	Nay Nay (Machado)		114	6-1	313
1	*Proteus (Peck)		114	4-1	315
2	*Penway (West)		114	4-1	318
3	Summer Hall (Law)		107	20-1	308
4	*Wendover (Mills)		109	20-1

Freight Traffic Holds Above A Year Ago

Drop in Nov. 26 Week Due to Thanksgiving Total 562,084 Cars

Loading of revenue freight for the week ended November 26 totaled 562,084 cars, the Association of American Railroads announced yesterday. This was an increase of 6,322 cars or 1.1 per cent above the corresponding week in 1937 but a decrease of 217,668 cars or 27.9 per cent below the same week in 1930. Loading of revenue freight for the week of November 26 was a decrease of 95,393 cars or 14.5 per cent below the preceding week due to observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Miscellaneous freight loading totaled 224,180 cars, a decrease of 43,014 cars below the preceding week but an increase of 10,427 above the corresponding week in 1937.

Loading of merchandise less than carload lot freight totaled 129,890 cars, a decrease of 24,097 cars below the preceding week, and a decrease of 4,646 cars below the corresponding week in 1937.

Coal loading amounted to 120,403 cars, a decrease of 13,244 cars below the preceding week, and a decrease of 1,035 cars below the corresponding week in 1937.

Grain and grain products loading totaled 29,159 cars, a decrease of 6,963 cars below the preceding week, and a decrease of 3,377 cars below the corresponding week in 1937. In the Western districts alone, grain and grain products loading for the week of November 26 totaled 18,308 cars, a decrease of 4,535 cars below the preceding week, and a decrease of 1,796 cars below the corresponding week in 1937.

Livestock Lower

Livestock loading amounted to 13,769 cars, a decrease of 4,288 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 1,421 cars above the corresponding week in 1937. In the Western districts alone, loading of livestock for the week of November 26 totaled 10,430 cars, a decrease of 3,083 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 869 cars above the corresponding week in 1937.

Forest products loading totaled 25,588 cars, a decrease of 2,948 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 613 cars above the corresponding week in 1937.

Ore loading amounted to 12,337 cars, a decrease of 512 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 2,981 cars above the corresponding week in 1937.

Coke loading amounted to 6,758 cars, a decrease of 327 cars below the preceding week, and a decrease of 62 cars below the corresponding week in 1937.

Five districts—Allegheny, Pocahontas, Southern, Northwestern and Central Western—reported increases compared with the corresponding week in 1937. The Eastern and Southwestern districts reported decreases. All districts, however, reported decreases compared with the corresponding week in 1930.

Security Averages

Stocks	50 Ind.	20 RR's.	20 Util.	90 T'tl.
Yesterday	123.6	29.6	63.0	99.1
Previous day	124.8	30.2	63.7	100.1
Week ago	126.8	30.6	65.0	101.8
Month ago	129.7	31.7	68.2	104.5
Year ago	109.1	34.3	64.0	90.1
2 years ago	162.8	57.9	97.4	135.3
High, 1937	180.3	67.5	104.7	146.3
Low, 1937	96.9	29.8	55.9	80.7
High, 1936	169.6	64.0	102.0	140.5
Low, 1936	126.2	44.0	80.3	106.4
Bonds	20 Ind.	20 RR's.	20 Util.	60 T'tl.
Yesterday	86.2	58.2	99.0	81.1
Previous day	86.3	58.5	99.3	81.4
Week ago	87.0	59.4	99.5	82.0
Month ago	87.3	60.2	99.0	82.1
Year ago	82.0	72.9	94.3	83.1
2 years ago	94.7	99.6	106.0	100.1
High, 1937	95.0	101.2	108.0	100.7
Low, 1937	80.1	69.3	92.3	81.1
High, 1936	94.8	100.4	106.2	100.2
Low, 1936	90.0	84.7	103.5	93.3

(1926 averages equal 100.)

Copyright, 1938, by Standard Statistics Co., Inc.

New Financing

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—New financing for the week ended December 1 increased more than 40 per cent over the previous week and was 500 per cent greater than the corresponding week of 1937, Poor's Publishing Co. reported today. Of the new financing, 94 per cent was for refunding purposes.

Local Stocks

Sale—After Call:
Capital Traction 5s, $500 at 83½.

Bonds
Public Utilities

	Bid.	Asked.
Anacostia & Pot 5s	86	88
Ana & Pot guar 5s	109½	.....
Cap Traction R R 5s	82	86
Chief & Suburban 5s	85¾	88
Georgetown Gas 1st 5s	116	.....
Pot Elec Pow 3¼s	106½	.....
Wash Gas 5s 1958	104½	.....
Washington Gas 5 1960	130¾	.....
Wash Ry & Elec 4s	107	108½
Miscellaneous
Chevy Chase Club 1st 4¼s	104	.....
Col Country Club 1st 4½s	103	.....
Wash Ry & Elec Corp 1st 4½s	103	.....
Stocks
Public Utilities
Amer Tel & Tel (9)	148½	.....
Capital Transit Co	8	9
R & S W Steamboat (4)	58	70
Pot Elec Pwr 6% pfd (6)	114½	.....
Pot Elec Pow 5½% pf (5.50)	114½	.....
Wash Gas Lt new (1.20)	24	27
Wash Gas pfd (4.50)	104½	105
Wash Ry & El com (g) (36)	630	.....
Wash Ry & E pfd (5)	114	.....
National Banks
Capital (4)	128	.....
Liberty (6)	167	200
Lincoln (f) (5)	200	.....
Riggs (e) (8)	270	285
Riggs pfd (5)	101	.....
Washington (6)	128	.....
Trust Companies
Amer Sec & Tr (e) (8)	248	260
Nat'l Say & Tr	203	212
Prince Geo Bk & Tr (.60)	17	22
Wash Loan & Tr (e) (8)	225	240
Savings Banks
Bank of Bethesda (75)	25	30
Com & Savings (e) (10)	230	.....
Fire Insurance
Americus † (6)	121	.....
Firemen's (1.20)	28	.....
National Union (.75)	15	.....
Title Insurance
Columbia Title (k) (30)	12	.....
Real Estate (m) (6)	160	.....
Miscellaneous
Carpel Corp †(2.00)	25	.....
Easton Monotype	54	62
Lincoln Serv com (h) (1.00)	•10	24
Lincoln Service pr pf (3.50)	•.....	51
Mergenthaler Lino (9)	24	26
Peoples Drug S com (†(1.00)	•27	31
Peoples Drug S pfd (6.50)	•111½	.....
Real Est M & G pfd (.50)	.....	4½
Security Storage (5)	112	125
Ter Ref & Wh Corp (3)	60	68
Wdwd & Loth com †(1.50)	54	58
Wdwd & Lothrop pfd (7)	118	.....

(a) Dividend.
†Plus extras.
(e) 2% extra.
(f) 2½% extra.
(g) 114 extra paid November 30, 1937.
(h) 75 cents extra.
(k) 50 cents extra.
(m) $3 extra.
(p) 50 cents paid September 30, 1938.

The Day's Movements In Leading Markets

Stocks

	Fri.	Thurs.
Advances	146	266
Declines	458	321
Unchanged	173	189
Total issues	807	776

Closing rally partially offsets decline; volume, 817,390.

Bonds
Treasury issues advance; transfers, $6,594,300.

Curb
Generally lower; turnover, 148,000.

Commodities
Wheat and cotton lower; sugar higher; coffee lower.

Exchange
Higher; Great Britain, $4.68⅜; France, 2.63½ cents.

Cotton Drops; December 8.55

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—Cotton futures broke away from the recent deadlock with a drop of 12 to 17 points today under increased Southern selling and liquidation. March eased from 8.43 to 8.29 and finished at 8.30.

Easier Liverpool cables were partly offset by trade and local buying in early trading. Aside from fairly active trade price fixing in near months on a sacle down the market lacked support and prices gave way later under hedging and New Orleans selling. Pressure increased during the afternoon as tired longs liquidated.

Futures Price Range

	High.	Low.	Last.
December	8.66	8.54	8.55
January	8.48	8.34	*8.35
March	8.43	8.29	8.30
May	8.22	8.09	8.10
July	7.99	7.85	7.86
October	7.65	7.52	7.53

*Nominal.
Spot nominal; middling basis, 8.75.

Cottonseed Oil
Cottonseed oil was easier today under commission house liquidation, promoted by action of allied markets and the disappointing cash trade. Final prices were 2 to 5 points net lower. Sales, 87 contracts. Crude oil was 6¾ cents bid in the Southeast and the valley and 6¼ in Texas. December closed 7.42, January, 7.46; March, 7.61; May, 7.71; July, 7.78.

National Savings Increases Surplus

H. Prescott Gatley, president of the National Savings & Trust Co., announced yesterday that the surplus account of the company has been increased to $1,500,000 by the transfer of $500,000 from the undivided profits account, which latter account still shows a balance in excess of $500,000.

The bank is approaching a record of three-quarters of a century of business in the District of Columbia.

Exchange Seat $71,000, Decline of $1,000

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—A New York Stock Exchange seat was arranged for sale today at $71,000, a drop of $1,000 from the previous transfer.

Although seat prices have been declining lately the current price remains well above the 20-year low mark of $51,000 recorded in June. The year's high price for a membership is $85,000 registered in July.

Rise Continues Vigorous, Says Big N. Y. Bank

33% Up From May Low Future Not So Clear Capital Goods Vital

By the Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 2.—Industrial operations are expected to be "well maintained" this month, the National City Bank of New York reported today in its monthly review of economic conditions.

Pointing out that the rise in productive activity was "as vigorous in its sixth month (November) as when it started," and that industrial operations since the low point last May may have climbed about 33 per cent, "which is greater than any previously known in a like time," the bank said:

"December is usually expected to bring some decline in industrial activity, partly for seasonal reasons, and after a rise to the extent described a leveling off may be the next development. However, predictions that operations will be well maintained, allowing for the seasonal factor, are being generally accepted, due to the orders the industries have on on hand."

Progress Needed

The bank added, however, that "no one would say the doubts as to the extent and duration of the recovery have been wholly thrown off, or that the way is clear for a snap revival of new enterprise."

"The chief need now, if business is to keep shoving ahead, is improvement in capital goods industries, it was pointed out.

"The essence of the situation is that automobiles, apparel, household equipment, and consumer goods industries and services generally are in a circle where each is providing better business for the others; residential building and public works have joined in the improvement; and all these together are giving support to the producers of steel and other metals.

If the capital goods industries can be brought into the circle, the limit of the rise is far from reached. Conversely, it is recognized that a flattening out will be inevitable unless they are included."

Current Steel Prices Are Reaffirmed

Pittsburgh, Dec. 2 (AP).—Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, largest subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation and traditional pacemaker for the industry, reaffirmed today existing prices for the first quarter of 1939.

The only price which had been announced previously for the first quarter was on tin plate, which on November 11 was reduced $7 a ton. Tin plate, however, had not been affected by price changes earlier in the year when prices of major steel products were reduced. In the main, the current prices reaffirmed were those instituted in June and later months.

Associated Gas Output

New York, Dec. 2.—For the week ended November 25, Associated Gas Electric System reports net electric output of 91,498,965 units. This is an increase of 7,023,162 units or 8.3 per cent above production of 84,475,803 units a year ago.

The Market

By C. Norman Stabler,
A Special Correspondent.

Stocks Decline as Trading Volume Shrinks Steels, Motors, Coppers Reactionary Government Bonds in Demand

New York, Dec. 2.—Security markets gave another mediocre performance today with brokers attributing continuance of the creeping decline in prices to tax selling and possibly some speculative nervousness over latest bickerings in Europe. Offerings were not large in any particular group and stock exchange dealings amounted to only 817,390 shares.

The lower drift, however, was well defined except in the cases of oils, utilities and some of the high-priced manufacturing issues. Losses outnumbered advances on the big board in the proportion of nearly four to one. The 100 stocks ended 0.40 point lower, with rail equipments, coppers, motors, steels and stores most reactionary groups of the day.

Sterling and French francs put on a moderate recovery against dollar exchange, but the Belgian unit sold off on news of the cabinet rift. Most active commodities were down, although most of the declines were narrow. Cotton was an exception, futures in the New York market breaking 60 to 85 cents a bale in light trade. Wheat was unchanged to ⅜ off. Wool tops, cottonseed oil, coffee, cocoa, copper, rubber and silk all lost a little. The bid on straits tin contracts was lowered 45 cents a ton, but no sales were reported at that level.

Washington Aspect

The antimonopoly activities in Washington also may be a disturbing factor in the immediate outlook, although nothing drastic is looked for from that quarter. The Administration is too interested in nursing along the incipient recovery. Monopoly investigations of specific industries, however, may well discourage the more cautious of investors and timid speculators.

Recent weakness in foreign exchanges, it is evident, has aroused a good deal of concern about the domestic commodity price situation. The bureau of labor's commodity price index is at the lowest levels of the year and any further weakness might well cause business to restrict commitments. Economists point out that should any marked decline in sterling be resumed, commodity prices in this country would be subject to pressure and, if protracted, almost certainly would result in reduced productive activities.

Traders accepted news of strikes in several automobile and automotive parts plants as of more importance than a further bulge in assemblies to a new high for the move. Chrysler dropped 1½ points on announcement that one of its plants had been closed because of a union drive for membership dues. General Motors lost ¾ as a labor disturbance broke out at one of its plants.

Continental Motors added about 30 per cent to its market value and led the list in activity as Wall Street learned it had made the engine used in the recent nonstop midget airplane flight from the Pacific Coast.

Coppers Lower

Coppers reacted to another turn for the worse in metal dealings. Export prices for copper were off about 10 points and dealings amounted to only 420 tons against 2,000 tons and 3,700 tons respectively on the two previous days. Observers expressed the view that domestic producers may be unable to maintain the 11.25-cent United States price unless foreign demand improves promptly.

Retail shares may have been affected by appearance of analyses indicating that grocery companies, both wholesale and retail, are suffering from overcompetition. Austin Nichols has announced that, with the exception of a few lines, it is going out of groceries and will concentrate on liquor. Previously, Charles & Co., one of the oldest of New York retail grocery concerns, decided to liquidate.

Rail shares met some support after pronounced weakness in the early part of the session, but most of them ended on the minus side. Carloadings for the Thanksgiving Day week reflected holiday influences, being 95,393 under the preceding week but the total was 6,322 cars better than the like 1937 period. Chesapeake & Ohio, one of the few active issues in the rail division, declined 1¼ points, while Atchison, Pennsylvania and New York Central gave up large fractions. Johns-Manville went under 100 for a loss of 2 points. Westinghouse, Bethlehem Steel and Allied Chemical were others to lose a point or more.

Treasury Bonds Firm

United States Treasury issues were firm today but other sections of the listed bond market remained dull and inclined to seek lower levels. The Treasury list advance was due to the careful calculations of the new offering, which is apt to prove less heavy on the market than was thought likely for a time. Speculative bonds were slowly liquidated, save for a few special situations. Turnover in all issues was $6,570,000.

Advances in long term Treasury bonds ranged from 1-32 to 6-32 points, and the guaranteed issues of the Farm and Home Corporations were similarly firm. Offering of 2 per cent bonds in exchange for the March notes proved the interesting departure in the Treasury announcement. Both short notes and long bonds also will be available in the exchange, but banks will take the 2 per cents for their own portfolios. The new money part of the announcement contained no surprises.

Highest rated corporate issues were quiet and steady. Speculative railroad bonds declined slowly, but almost without exception. Holding company issues were soft, and industrial convertibles followed the trend of related equities. Communications bonds again were weak, and the commodity issues also lost ground. The local traction group suffered a general setback, apparently because of the speculative positions built up of late.

Philippine Railway 4s slipped lower on the disclosure of action against the leading member of a protective committee. Other foreigns were irregular. German and other European default obligations receded, while the Latin-American disregarded pledges were irregular. Japanese bonds improved, but Italians were dull. Best grade foreigns did not vary greatly.

15 Most Active Stocks

Special Dispatch to The Post.

New York, Dec. 2.—The 15 most active stock exchange issues today were:

	Vol.	Close.	Net Ch.
Cont. Motor	59,200	2¾	+ ¾
Schulte Ret	26,100	⅝	— ⅛
Gen. Motors	14,600	48⅜	— ⅝
Greyhound	13,300	20¼	+ ⅜
U. S. Steel	12,600	42⅝	— ⅛
Ches. & Ohio	12,500	33¼	—1¼
Commonw & So	9,900	1⅛	.....
Gen. Electric	9,900	41	— ⅜
Republic Steel	9,700	22½	— ⅜
Chrysler	9,200	78¾	—1½
Anaconda	9,000	32⅝	— ⅛
Beth. Steel	8,800	70½	—1
United Airc.	8,100	37	—1
Radio	7,700	7⅜	— ¼

Volume, 15 stocks, 219,600 shares.
Ratio to total volume, 26.8 per cent.

Wheat Rally Is Wiped Out In Closings

World Supply Large Foreign Competition Corn Prices Lower

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—An advancing tendency shown at times in the Chicago wheat market today failed to hold well, and slight net losses were witnessed at the last

More or less selling resulted from talk of excessive world supplies and of approaching competition from the southern hemisphere's new crops. On the other hand, transient upturns of prices were largely associated with reports that Canadian stocks held by the government wheat board at Fort William appeared to be inadequate for the board's sales during December.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to ⅜ cent lower, compared with yesterday's finish; December, 62⅞@63; May, 66⅛@66¼. Corn, ⅜ to ⅛ cent down; December, 47⅛; May, 50¾@50⅞. Oats, unchanged to ⅜ cent; rye, ⅛ cent higher, and provisions varying from 7 cents setback to a gain of 2 cents.

Futures Price Range

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
December	62¾	63¼	62⅝	63
March	63	63	63	63
May	66⅛	66¾	66	66¼
July	66¼	66¾	66	66¼
Corn—
December	47⅜	47⅞	47	47⅞
March	50⅛	50⅝	49¾	49¾
May	51⅛	51⅛	50¾	50¾
July	52¼	52⅜	51¾	51⅞
Oats—
December	25⅞	26⅜	25⅞	26⅛
May	27⅛	27⅝	27⅛	27⅜
July	27⅛	27⅛	27⅛	27⅛
Soy Beans—
December	76⅝	76⅝	76	76
May	79⅛	79⅛	78	78
July	80¼	80¼	78½	78½
Rye—
December	40	40¾	40	40¾
May	44	44¾	44	44¾
July	45¼	45¾	45	45¼
Lard—
December	6.77	6.77	6.72	6.77
January	6.87	6.92	6.87	6.92
March	7.40	7.45	7.40	7.45
May	7.62	7.65	7.57	7.60

Cash Grain Prices

WHEAT—No. 3 hard, 63½.
CORN—No. 1 mixed, 51¼; No. 1 yellow, 49@49½; No. 1 white, 52½; sample, 46.
OATS—No. 2 white, 29@29¼; sample, 24¼.
BARLEY—Illinois, 34@67, nominal; Michigan and Wisconsin, 44@68, nominal.
SOY BEANS—No. 2 Yellow, 78¼.
TIMOTHY SEED, 2.95@3.15; red clover seed, 13.00@16.00; red top, 8.75@9.25.

Flour Export Subsidy Withdrawn by U. S.

By the Associated Press.

The Agriculture Department disclosed yesterday that it had agreed to withdraw its offer to subsidize exports of flour to Great Britain, because of recent transactions involving the sale of 20,000,000 bushels of unprocessed wheat to British millers.

Since early in September, the Government has been paying an export subsidy on all flour sold for export. The rate averaged about 59 cents a barrel between September and November 15 and stood at 95 cents a barrel today on shipments from Eastern seaboard ports.

Officials said that in return for the agreement of British millers to purchase surplus American wheat, the United States would no longer offer the subsidy on flour sold to the United Kingdom. The wheat sales to British millers were announced yesterday.

Richmond Markets

Richmond, Va., Dec. 2 (AP).—(U. S. Department of Agriculture.)—FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Receipts moderate and mark.t unchanged. No. 1 white potatoes in 100-lb. sack lots, 1.50; sweet potatoes in sacks, 90 bushel, basket lots, 1.00 bushel; onions, 1.25 per 50-lb. sack; cabbage, 50-lb. sacks, 75. Virginia apples—Receipts, moderate; market steady, unchanged. No. 1 graded stock, bushel basket packs, Yorks, 1.00@1.20; Staymans, 1.25@1.50; Delicious, 1.50@2.00; oranges and grapefruits, standard box packs, 1.75@2.00 per box; lettuce, standard crates, choice, 5.00; celery, standard crates, choice, 3.00; tomatoes, in 28-lb. standard lug packs, choice, 2.50@3.00.

BUTTER—Receipts moderate; market steady. Virginia creamery butter in 30-lb. case packs, pound cartons, solid prints, 30; quartered, 31.

EGGS—Receipts, moderate; market likely unchanged. Nearby run, mixed colors; and sizes, 30@32; hennery whites and browns, straight cases, 35; pullets, 25; graded eggs net f. o. b. to shippers at Richmond, paying for large extras, 36; large standards, 33; medium extras standards, 28.

POULTRY—Receipts fairly liberal; indications fairly good week-end trade in sight; prices unchanged; turkeys, young toms, 25@27; young toms, as to weight, 21@23. Other poultry: Leghorn hens, 11@12; choice Reds and Rocks, 18; chickens, all weights, good and choice Leghorns, 15@16; Reds, 17@18, mostly 18; Rocks, 19@20, mostly 20; roasters, 19@22.

LIVESTOCK—Hogs, light run; steady, unchanged; trading fairly active. Quoting 160-250 pound run good and choice silts and barrows, 7.75 top; 140-160 pounds, 6.75@7.45; 120-140 pounds, 6.85; 250-300 pounds, 7.50; sows, under 350 pounds, to 6.25, over 350 pounds, to 6.00. Cattle, receipts very light; veelers steady and unchanged, with practical top at 11.00 for choice offerings; cows, steady, mostly from 3.50@5.50, as to quality; a few grain-fed cows, to 6.00, extreme top; bulls, steady, ranging, as to weight and condition, from 4.00@6.00; steers, steady, common and medium run grassy steers with some light grain feeding, 5.50@7.50; good steers, with weight and fairly heavy grain finished, 8.00@8.50; near choice kinds, with heavy grain finish, to 9.00, the top so far this week. Sheep, receipts practically absent so far this week. Quoting nearby eastern Virginia lambs, 8.00@9.00, extreme top; slaughter ewes, as to weight and condition, 2.00@3.00.

Short Term Securities

(Reported by Robert C. Jones & Co., Inc.)

	Bid.	Asked.
American T & T 5½ 1943	112¼	112⅝
Baldw Loco 5 1940	100⅝	...
Baltimore & Ohio 4½ 1939	44	46
Commil Credit 2¾ 1942	102¾	102⅞
Ches & Ohio Rwy 5 1939	101⅜	102
Del & Hudson 4 1943	56¾	57
Edison El Illum 4 1939	100	...
Houston Oil 4½ 1940	101	101⅜
Illinois Steel 4½ 1940	106½	106
Internat Tel & Tel 4½ 1939	100¼	100¼
Lac G L Coll Tr 6%N P'42	43	46
Lehigh Val Term Ry 5 1941	58	66
Louis & Nash 4 1940	100	100⅛
Mich Cen 4 1940	.....	94¾
N Y Tel Co 4½ 1939	103¾	103⅞
Penn R R Co 4 1943	106¾	111
Phil Balt & Wash 4 1943	107¾	108⅛
Union Oil Calif 4 1942	116	117
Warner Bros 6 1939	90	91

Treasury Certificates

(Reported by Smith, Barney & Co.)

Rate	Maturity	Bid.	Offered.
1¼	Dec. 15, 1938	.100	.....
1½	Mar. 15, 1939	.101 21-32	101 23-32
2¼	June 15, 1939	.102	102 2-32
1¾	Sept. 15, 1939	.101 31-32	102 1-32
1¾	Dec. 15, 1939	.102	102 2-32
1¾	Mar. 15, 1940	.102 11-32	102 13-32
1¾	June 15, 1940	.102 13-32	102 15-32
1½	Dec. 15, 1940	.102 26-32	102 28-32
1½	Mar. 15, 1941	.102 27-32	102 29-32
1¾	June 15, 1941	.102 20-32	102 22-32
1¼	Dec. 15, 1941	.102 15-32	102 17-32
1¾	Mar. 15, 1941	.103 25-32	103 27-32
2	Sept. 15, 1942	.104 26-32	104 28-32
1¾	Dec. 15, 1942	.103 26-32	103 28-32
1½	June 15, 1943	.101 5-32	101 7-32

Reichsbank Statement

Berlin, Dec. 2 (AP).—The Reichsbank statement as of December 1 (in thousands of reichsmarks): Notes in circulation 7,743,700, increase 750,900; gold 70,700, unchanged; foreign currency reserves 8,000, decrease 200; other bills of exchange and checks 7,513,000, decrease 902,000; other daily maturing obligations 1,141,400, increase 99,000; advances, 47,500, increase 21,800; investments 846,300, unchanged; ratio of gold and foreign currency to notes 0.99 per cent; rate of discount 4 per cent.

Half Billion to Go Into Holiday Gifts

Half a billion dollars will be spent for Christmas presents in department and specialty stores of the United States in the next few weeks, Life Magazine said in its issue published yesterday.

"From Thanksgiving to Christmas, department stores do 16 per cent of their annual business," the article reports. "Most of this is concentrated in the departments which, in December, do more than 20 per cent of their annual business. Toy departments do 68 per cent of their business in December; men's gloves, 57 per cent; men's bathrobes, 51 per cent; leather goods, 46 per cent; men's handkerchiefs, 40 per cent; women's negligees, 37 per cent; men's neckwear, 34 per cent; ladies' handkerchiefs, 30 per cent.

Standard Oil Dividends Less

New York, Dec. 2.—Cash dividend payments by the companies of the Standard Oil group for the year 1938 are estimated at $200,917,805, a decrease of approximately 27 per cent from the total of $273,735,561 distributed by these companies in 1937, according to figures compiled by the New York Stock Exchange firm of Carl H. Pforzheimer & Co.

In addition to the cash payments this year, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey on December 15 is distributing a stock dividend of 393,372 shares of capital stock, having a current market value of approximately $20,250,000 and which, if added to cash payments, would bring the total of 1938 to $221,167,805.

Aggregate disbursements of the group for the fourth quarter of 1938 are estimated at $71,315,026. This does not include the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey stock dividend and compares with the total of $121,317,075 in the final quarter of 1937.

Lorillard '50 Cents

P. Lorillard Co., tobacco concern, today declared a final dividend of 50 cents on the common stock, payable December 24 to stock of record December 10. Company paid 30 cents in recent quarters. Principal plans are at Jersey City, N. J., and Middletown, Ohio.

Steel Employment Continues to Gain

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—October payrolls of the steel industry totaled $56,176,000, the largest for any month since November last year, the American Iron & Steel Institute announced today. Payrolls in September aggregated $52,365,000, and in October, 1937, they were $76,191,000.

Employment, in a third consecutive monthly rise, expanded in October to 436,000 workers, an increase of 5,000 over September and compared with 587,000 in October last year.

Montgomery Ward Votes 25 Cents Extra

Chicago, Dec. 2 (AP).—Directors of Montgomery Ward & Co., today voted an extra dividend of 25 cents on the common stock in addition to a quarterly of 25 cents, both payable January 14 to stock of record December 16.

They also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the class "A" stock, payable January 3 to stock of record December 16.

Month's Cotton Trading 3,454,000 Bales

The Commodity Exchange Administration reported yesterday that trading in futures contracts on the Nation's cotton exchanges totaled 3,454,000 bales of cotton during November. Trading in October totaled 3,853,000 bales.

A total of 2,863,500 bales was traded on the New York Cotton Exchange; 582,050 bales on the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, and 8,540 on the Chicago Board of Trade.

U. S. Treasury Receipts

By the Associated Press.

The position of the Treasury on November 30:

Receipts, $8,926,988.01; expenditures, $37,715,965.94; net balance, $2,447,348,522, including $1,827,541,803.53 working balance; customs receipts for the month, $27,337,663.46.

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,222,791,416.64; expenditures, $3,658,928,181.99, including $1,206,470,760.13 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $1,436,136,765.35; gross debt, 138,603,351,360.66, an increase of $10,963,931.23 above the previous day; gold assets, $14,311,863,950.14.

Boston Wool Market

Boston, Dec. 2 (AP). (United States Department of Agriculture) — Scattered transactions involving small quantities of fine territory wools in original bags were being closed at steady prices today on the Boston wool market, compared with sales earlier in the week. Graded domestic wools were very slow, with nominal quotations mostly steady to slightly easier than last week. Graded medium bright combing fleeces were quoted nominally at 32@33 cents, in the grease, for three-eighths blood and at 31@32 cents for quarter-bloods. Several buyers who were not taking any wool were making inquiries of Boston houses regarding wools being offered and prices asked.

Life Insurance Funds Total 27.5 Billions

Investment Held Safe 56.1% in Securities 20% in Mortgages

By the Associated Press.

New York, Dec. 2.—T. A. Phillips, president of the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Co. of St. Paul, asserted today that the Nation's life insurance funds were "soundly and safely invested."

Addressing the thirty-second annual meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, Phillips said that the Nation's life insurance companies had accumulated about $27,500,000,000, one-fourth the face value of $110,000,000,000 written on American lives.

"The record of these companies," he said, "in the management of such enormous sums, during the several unpredictable years just past, is proof of the basic soundness of their plan of doing business, the sagacity of their management, and their honesty in stewardship."

American companies divided their investments during 1937, he said, as follows: 20 per cent in mortgages; 56.1 per cent in stocks and bonds; 12.8 per cent in policy loans and premium notes; 8.1 per cent in real estate; 2.8 per cent in cash; one-fifth of 1 per cent in ledger assets.

Warning on Supervision

Frank M. Julian, of Montgomery, Ala., president of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, warned the 500 delegates:

"Insurance supervision may be at the crossroads. Shall it be a continuation of conservative State supervision as upheld by the highest courts in the land, or shall it be Federal supervision with all of its multiplicities of rules, regulations, civil service employes and interference where least expected:

"In my opinion, our present system, which has so strikingly proved its value, should continue. It is our responsibility, and yours, to see that insurance supervision remains on its present high level of effectiveness and that it maintains its present intimate contact with the problems that arise."

About 68 per cent of the world's life insurance is held in the United States and Canada, which together have only 17 per cent of the world's population, according to a report to the convention of John A. Stevenson, executive vice president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia. He said that at the end of 1936, the world total for life insurance was $164,000,000,000, of which North America held $111,839,650,000 and the United States alone held $104,667,206,000.

N. Y. Stock Values Dip in November

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—The New York Stock Exchange reported today a total of 1,244 issues listed in the exchange as of November 30 had a market value of $46,081,192,347, and an average value per share of $32.30. This compared with 1,245 issues with a market value of $47,001,767,212 and an average value of $32.96 on October 31.

Members' collateral borrowings as of November 30 totaled $619,955,270, an increase of $39,213,633 over the total a month earlier of $859,168,903.

Bank Stocks

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—(Investment Bankers Conference, Incorporated.)

Bank and Trust

	Bid.	Asked.
Bk Am NTS (BP) (2.40)	38½	40½
Bankers Tr (2)	42	44
Bklyn Tr (4)	78	80
Chase Nat (1.40)	29¼	31⅝
Chem Bk & Tr (1.80)	43	45
Commercial (8)	139	145
Corn Ex Bk & T (3)	47½	48½
Empire Tr (.60)	14	15
First Nat (Bos) (2)	37½	39½
First Nat (100)	1595	1635
Guaranty Tr (.60)	230	235
Natl City (1)	22½	24
Insurance
Aetna Fire (.160)	43½	45½
Globe & Rep (⅓)	12¼	13⅝
Globe & Rut	27	30
Gt Amer Ins (1a)	23	24½
Hanover (1.60)	29	30½
Hartford Fire (2)	74	77
Home Fire Sec	2	3
Home Ins (1a)	28	29½
Homestead (1)	16¾	18¾
Knickerbocker (⅓)	9¾	10¾
Lincoln Fire	2½	2⅞
Maryland Cas	3½	4½
Mass Bond (3½)	80½	83
Mere Ins Pr	4	5
Natl Fire (2)	60¾	62¾
Natl Liberty (.20a)	7½	8½
N Hampshire (1.60)	44½	46½
N Y Fire (70c)	17	18
Nor River (1)	23½	25
Phoenix (2a)	77½	81½
Prov Wash (1)	33	36
Reserve (Pa) Ins (1.20a)	22¾	24½
Rh Isl Ins	4½	5½
Rossia Ins	5	6
St. Paul Fire (8)	222	228
Springfield (4½a)	97	103
Sun Life (15)	420	470
Travelers (16)	448	458
U S Fid & G	17½	18¾
U S Fire (2)	50½	52½
Westchester (1.20a)	31	33

(a) Also extra or extras.
(e) Declared or paid so far this year.
(c) Paid last year.

WE SELL, BUY OR EXCHANGE
OFFICE FURNITURE
Desks — Steel Files
Tables — Steel Cabinets
Chairs — Safes
BAUM'S OFFICE FURNITURE
1416 Eye St. N.W. (Next to Postoffice)
NA. 2184 No Branch Stores

LAIDLAW & CO.
28 Broadway—New York
Established 1842
Washington Office
727 15th St. N.W.
Telephone Di. 2255
Other Offices
Montreal Boston, Mass. Toronto
Providence, R. I. Oil City, Pa. Rutland, Vt.
252 Park Avenue, New York
Members
New York Stock Exchange
New York Curb Exchange
Boston Stock Exchange
Chicago Board of Trade
Facilities reach leading security and commodity markets

Transactions on N. Y. Bond Market

Complete Transactions Yesterday on New York Stock Exchange

By the Associated Press.

Total sales yesterday, 817,390 shares; previous day, 861,610; week ago, 808,680; year ago, 1,556,980; two years ago, 2,149,960; January 1 to date, 271,583,580; year ago, 384,225,670; two years ago, 456,073,345.

1938 High	1938 Low	Name and Dividend Rate	Sales Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
		A
52	28	Acme Stl (1)	1	46	46	46
12¾	6¼	Adams Exp (.10e)	5	10½	10⅜	10⅜	— ⅛
67⅞	40	Air Reduction (1a)	5	61	60	60	— ¼
13⅜	8¾	Alaska Juneau (.60a)	11	65	63	65	+ 1¾
1⅝	⅝	Alleghany Corp	5	1	1	1
17⅜	5½	Alleghany pf xw	1	11¼	11¼	11¼
17¾	6¼	Alleghany pf $30 ww	3	11¾	11⅝	11⅝	— ⅛
21½	7¾	Alleghany pr pf	3	12½	12¼	12½	— ⅛
29⅞	14⅜	Allegheny-Lud Stl	18	23	23⅛	23⅛	— ⅛
197	124	Air Chem & Dye (6)	3	183½	182	182	— 3
14⅞	8⅝	Allied Mills (⅝e)	6	12⅞	12⅝	12⅞	+ ⅛
13⅜	4½	Allied Strs	6	11⅞	11⅝	11⅞	— ⅛
35¾	34¼	Allis-Ch Mfg (1½)	36	11½	11⅜	11¼	— ⅛
20	11¼	Alpha P Cem (1)	21	46¾	46	46	— ⅛
3⅜	1¼	Amal Leather	2	18	17¾	17¾	— 1
23½	10	Am Bank Note (.70e)	5	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	— ⅛
14⅜	6¾	Am Bosch	5	17⅜	17	17	— ⅛
52	23	Am Brake Shoe (¾e)	12	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
105⅛	70¾	Am Can (4)	6	46	45	45	— 3
176½	160¼	Am Can pf (3)	14	97½	96½	97	— ⅛
34⅝	12⅝	Am Car & Fdy	8	173	173	173	— 2
67¾	27	Am Car & F pf (2½e)	1	48⅞	28¼	28¾	+ ⅛
27¾	9¼	Am Ch & Cable (.70e)	4	21¼	48⅛	48⅛	+ ⅛
125	88½	Am Chicle (4a)	1	122	20½	20½	— ⅛
15	9	Am Comml Alco	2	12½	122	122
16¾	8¼	Am Crystal Sug	2	12¼	12¼	12½	— ⅛
6¾	2¼	Am Encaus Tiling	1	11	11	11	— ⅛
5¼	1¼	Am & For Pow	2	3⅛	4⅜	4½
25½	13⅛	Am & F P $7 pf	1	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	— ⅛
12¾	5⅛	Am & F P 2 pf	1	16½	16½	16½	— ⅛
5⅞	2	Am Hide & Leather	7	8	7⅞	8	— ⅛
36	12	Am Hi & L pf (3¢k)	7	4¾	4⅝	4¾
44¾	30¾	Am Home Pr (2.40)	1	44	30¼	30¼	+ ¼
20¼	13⅛	Am Ice pf	1	44	44	44	+ ¼
8¾	4⅛	Am International	2	13⅞	13⅞	13⅞
29⅝	12⅜	Am Locomotive	6	6¾	6¾	6¾	— ⅛
79	44	Am Locomot pf	6	24½	24¼	24½	— ⅛
17⅜	10	Am M & Fdy (.80)	1	68	68	68	— 1½
5¼	2⅜	Am M & Met	3	4	4	4	— ⅛
45	23	Am Metal (1e)	2	38½	38½	38½
7½	3¼	Am Pow & Lt	9	5⅜	5⅜	5½	— ⅛
47⅜	19	Am P & L $6 pf (3k)	1	34¼	34¼	34¼
41½	16⅛	Am P&L $5 pf (2½k)	1	39	38⅜	38⅞	— ⅛
19½	9	Am Rad & St S	45	16¾	16½	16½	— ⅛
80¾	58	Am Roll Mill	32	20⅝	20⅛	20⅛	— ⅛
20¾	14¾	Am Roll Mill pf	7	71¾	71	71	— 1
23⅛	7	Am Safety Razor (1.60)	1	16¼	16⅛	16⅛
35½	22¾	Am Seating	2	19½	19½	19½	— ⅛
58¾	28⅛	Am Ship Bldg (2a)	30	32	32	32	— ⅛
140	103	Am Smelt & R (2¼e)	31	51¼	50¼	51⅛	— ⅛
38	15⅜	Am Smelt & R pf (7)	3	140	140	140	+ ⅛
11⅜	6⅛	Am Stores	6	32⅜	31¼	32	— ⅛
31	20	Am Sugar Ref	1	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	— ⅛
20½	12⅝	Am Sumat Tob (1a)	1	19⅜	19⅜	19⅜	— ⅛
150	111	Am Tel & Tel (9)	8	148⅜	148¼	148⅛	— ⅛
88¼	58	Am Tobacco	6	83⅜	82¾	83	— ⅛
91⅝	58¾	Am Tob B (5)	6	83⅜	82¾	83	— ⅛
9⅞	3⅞	Am Type Fdrs	1	6	6	6	— ⅛
16⅛	6	Am Wat Wks	1	32	12¼	11⅞	12	— ⅛
9⅜	4¾	Am Zinc L & S	8	7⅛	6⅞	7	— ⅛
42½	21	Anaconda	1	90	33⅜	32⅜	32¾	— 1
64¾	29	Anacon W & C	2	54	54	54	— 1
47⅜	22¼	Anchor Hock Gl (.45e)	2	18	17¾	17¾	— ⅛
113½	97	†Anch Hock Gl pf(6½)	.20	112½	112½	112½	— ⅛
31½	20	Arch-Diet-Johns (3)	.21	46¾	46	46	— ⅛
32	8¾	Armour Del pf (7)	1	28	28	28	— ⅛
	3⅜	Arm Ill	4	102⅞	102½	102½	— ⅛
53¼	24¼	Armstrong Cork (¾e)	6	51	50	51	— ⅛
8¾	2⅛	Artloom Corp	4	7¾	7½	7½
12⅜	4	Assd Dry Goods	8	10	9⅞	9⅞	— ⅛
44¾	22¼	Atch T & S F	8	97½	96½	97	— ⅛
72	40	Atch T & S F pf (3½e)	22	38	37¼	37⅜	— ⅛
27⅜	14	Atl Coast Line (1½e)	3	63	63	63	— ⅛
27⅜	17⅜	Atl Refining (1)	3	26⅛	25½	25½	— ⅛
109½	101⅞	Atl Refining pf (4)	1	109	22⅜	22	22⅜	+ ⅛
9	5¾	Atlas Corp (.10e)	1	108⅞	108⅞	108⅞	+ ⅛
68	36	Atlas Pow (2¼e)	12	75	74	74	— ⅛
31	12½	Auburn Auto	1	63	65	65	+ 2
4	2	Aviat Nichols	2	4	4	4
31	12¼	Aust Nlch pr A	1	90	31	29	31	+ ⅛
7⅝	2½	Aviation Corp (.18⅛e)	38	7	6¾	6⅞	+ ⅛
		B
15¼	5	Bald Loco ct	13	12⅜	12⅜	12⅜	— ⅛
14⅞	5½	Balt & Ohio	7	6⅞	6⅝	6⅝	— ⅛
13¾	8	Balt & Ohio pf	7	8	8	8	— ⅛
23¾	86	†Bangor & Ar pf (5)	.10	91	91	91	+ 1
1⅛	12⅜	Barber Asph	6	19⅜	18⅝	18⅝	— ⅛
21	5	Barker Bros	1	17¼	17¼	17¼
19¼	19	Barnsdall Oil (1)	13	17¼	16⅞	17	— ⅛
25⅝	11⅜	Basyuk Ctcar (¾a)	5	18⅜	18¼	18⅜	— ⅛
56	8⅜	Beatrice Cream (1a)	4	18⅜	17¼	18⅛	— ⅛
77⅝	39¾	Bendix Aviat	29	22¼	21¾	22	— ⅛
18⅛	12¾	Benef Ind Ln (1½e)	3	20¾	20	20	— ⅛
114⅞	75	Best & Co (2.32½e)	1	88	87¾	88	— ⅛
29⅜	17⅜	Beth Steel	3	51¾	51¼	51¾
88¼	52¾	Beth Steel 5c pf (1)	88	71¼	69¾	70	— ⅛
117⅜	75	Beth Steel 7 pf (7)	20	17	16⅜	16⅜	— ⅛
29¾	17⅜	Bigelow-Sanf	2	112	111	111	— ⅛
41½	16⅛	Black & Decker (½e)	1	22½	22½	22½	— 1
19⅜	10⅛	Blaw-Knox	4	22	22	22	— ⅛
35½	19	Boeing Airplane	3	16⅛	16⅛	16¼
30½	15⅜	Bohn Al & Brass (½e)	51	31½	30¼	30⅜	— ⅛
100	82	Bon Ami A (4a)	5	26	25¾	25¾	— ⅛
14¼	9	Bond Stores	1	104	104	104	— 1
19⅜	15	Borden Co (1.40e) XD	21	17	16⅝	16⅝	— ⅛
36⅜	16½	Borg-Warner (¾e)	10	30½	29¾	30¼	— ⅛
28	2	Boston & Maine	1	3	3	3
8¾	4	Bower Roll Bear (1e)	2	25	25	25	— ⅛
14½	5¾	Brewing Corp Am (¾e)	2	6	5⅞	5⅞	— ⅛
37⅜	12¾	Bridgeport Brass	10	12⅞	12⅝	12⅝	— ⅛
42¾	28	Briggs Mfg (½e)	19	29½	28¾	28¾	— ⅛
12	3⅝	Bristol-Myers (2.40)	3	42	42	42
14¾	5¾	Bklyn & Qu Trans	4	11¾	11¾	11¾	— ⅛
46⅛	16¾	Bklyn & Q Trans pf	1	10⅞	10⅞	10⅞	— ⅛
10⅝	3⅜	Bklyn-Man Tr	1	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	— ⅛
14⅞	6¼	Bklyn-M Tr pf	14	13⅜	13⅛	13⅛	— ⅛
14½	10⅛	Bklyn Un Gas	13	44⅛	42¾	44	— 1
5¾	2⅝	Brunswick-Balke (1e)	3	12⅝	12⅜	12⅜	— ⅛
7½	3¼	Bucyrus-Erie	10	10⅝	10¼	10¼	— ⅛
54⅞	25	†Budd Mfg	16	6¼	6¼	6¼	— ⅛
54⅞	3	Budd Wheel	7	45⅛	45	45	— 1
25¾	13⅜	Bullard Co	7	48	47¾	47¾	— ⅛
80¾	15⅝	Bulova Watch (3e)	5	34	22¾	22¾	— 1
16⅜	6¾	Burdine Mills (1)	6	14¼	13⅜	13⅜	— ⅛
3½	1½	Burl Add Mach (½e)	7	18⅜	18⅛	18⅜	— ⅛
10	5	Bush Terminal	3	2¼	2¼	2¼	— ⅛
28	16⅜	Butler Bros	6	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜	— ⅛
5	2¾	Butler Bros pf (1½)	1	20½	20¼	20¼	— ⅛
8¾	4	Butler Cop & Zinc	2	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
22	13	Byron Jackson (1¼e)	2	18	17¾	17¾	— ⅛
		C
24½	15⅛	Calif Packing (1¼a)	4	20¾	20¼	20¼	— ⅛
2½		Callahan Z-Lead	5	1¾	1¾	1¾
11⅝	5¼	Calumet & Hec (¼e)	1	8	7¾	7¾	— ⅛
20½	8¾	Campbell Wyant	3	16½	16⅛	16⅛	— ⅛
8⅛	5	Canad Pacific	125	19¼	17⅝	18⅛	+ 1¼
42	21	Cannon Mills (1½e)	9	53¾	52¾	53¾
86	63½	Caro C & O (5)	1	81¼	81¼	81¼	— ⅛
102½	62½	Case J I (5e)	2	81¼	81¼	81¼	— ⅛
58⅜	29⅜	Caterpil Tractor (2)	17	87	86½	86½	— ⅛
96	46	Celanese Corp	10	46⅜	45½	46
29⅜	12⅜	Celanese pr pf (7)	1	21¾	21¼	21⅜	— ⅛
28	19⅛	Celotex Corp	14	23¾	23¼	23⅜	— ⅛
5	2	Cent Aguirre	4	13¾	12⅝	13¼	— ⅛
111¼	99¾	Cent Foundry	4	21	20¾	21	— ⅛
14	2	Cent Ill Lt pf (4½)	30	111¼	111	111	— ⅛
8¼	4	Cent R R N J	3	7¾	7¼	7¼	— ⅛
59¼	26¼	Cerro de Pas (4)	1	63⅜	63⅜	63⅜	— ⅛
46	4½	Certain-teed Prod	4	46	45¾	45¾	— ⅛
33¼	18	Champ Pap & F	4	30¼	29½	30	— ⅛
106	94	†Champ Pap & F pf (6)	30	102	101⅞	102	— 2
38½	22	Ches & Ohio (2e)	27	34	33¾	33¾	— 1¼
70	48⅛	Ches & Oh pf (4)	27	74	73¾	73¾	— ⅛
88¾	27½	Ches Corp (4.70e)	1	88¾	88¾	88¾	— ⅛
1¾		Chi & N West	5	2¾	2¾	2¾	— ⅛
5¼	2¼	Chi Grt W pf	1	23¾	23¾	23¾
1⅞	¾	Chi M St P & P	1	2¾	2¾	2¾	— ⅛
19	¾	Chi M St P & P pf	1	4	4	4	— ⅛
11¼	6⅞	Chi Pneu Tool	5	16	15⅝	16	— ⅛
2½	1	Chi R I & Pac	1	1¾	1¾	1¾	— ⅛
5	1	C R I & Pac 6% pf	1	1¾	1¾	1¾	— ⅛
12¾	8	Chi R I & Pac 7% pf	1	2¾	2¾	2¾	— ⅛
19¼	12	Chi Rail Csh (1)	1	9¼	9¼	9¼	— ⅛
114⅞	75	Chickasha Cot Oil (¾e)	1	13¾	13¾	13¾	— ⅛
88¼	35⅜	Childs Co	1	10⅞	10⅞	10⅞	— ⅛
113⅜	58¾	Chrysler Corp (2e)	92	73⅜	70¼	73	— ⅛
27⅛	10⅛	City Ice & Fuel (1.40e)	8	10	9½	9⅝	— ⅛
76	51⅝	City Invest pf (6½)	10	74	74	74	— ⅛
5½	2	City Stores	2	4¼	4¼	4¼	— ⅛
27½	10½	Clark Equip (.40e)	2	41¾	41¾	41¾	— ⅛
20½	12	Clev Graph Br (¾e)	5	19¾	19½	19¾	— ⅛
60½	32	Climax Molyb (.90e)	18	56¾	55¾	56¼	— ⅛
142¾	105½	Coca-Cola (4)e	1	129	129	129	— ⅛
17	7½	Colgate-Palm-P	1	12¾	12¾	12¾	— ⅛
39¾	13¼	Collins & Alk (1¼e)	1	32	32	32	— ⅛
8¾	3½	†Col & South	10	5¼	5¼	5¼	— ⅛
11¾	4¾	Col & South 1st pf	20	7	6¾	6¾	— ⅛
23¾	9¼	Col Fuel & Iron	3	25	25	25	— ⅛
22¾	13½	Colum Breast	3	19½	19	19	— ⅛
23¾	13¼	Colum Breast B (1¼e)	2	16¾	16¾	16¾	— ⅛
24	8¼	Colum G & E	40	6¾	6¾	6¾	— ⅛
83	57	Col G&E pf A (6)	2	77½	77	77	— ⅛
70	50	†Col G&E 5% pf B	3	69	69	69	— ⅛
19	9	Colum Pict vtc (2½e)	1	16	16	16	— ⅛
98½	83¾	Colum Carbon (4)	2	96½	96½	96½	— ⅛
64	31½	Comml Credit (4)	14	57⅛	56¾	56¾	— 1
71¾	57¾	Comml Invest Tr (4)	28	62	60¾	60¾	— 1
25¾	2¼	Comml Solvents	10	10	9⅞	9⅞	— ⅛
55¾	25	Comw & South pf (3)	4	97½	96¾	97	— ⅛
28	22⅛	Commw'lth Edis (1.60)	15	47½	46¼	47¼	— ⅛
29	15	Conde Nast	1	7¼	7¼	7¼
26¾	15	Congoleum-Nairn (¾e)	3	26¼	26¼	26¾	— ⅛
110¾	41½	Consol Aircr (1e)	34	25¾	25¼	25¾	— ⅛
86⅞	71	Consol Cigar (½e)	2	84½	83¾	84½	— ⅛
34¼	17	†Con Cir Pr pf (6½)	.60	82	81¾	81¾	— ⅛
104	88⅞	Cons Edison (2)	42	29¾	29¼	29½	— ⅛
2¾		Consol Film Ind	2	2	2	2
12¼	4½	Con Film Ind pf (1k) XD	6	12	11¾	11¾	— ⅛
7¾	2⅞	Cons Laundries	2	11¾	11½	11½	— ⅛
10¾	7	Consol Oil (.80)	31	8⅞	8⅝	8⅝	— ⅛
7⅛	2½	Consol R R Cuba pf	1	8¾	8¾	8¾	— ⅛
17¾	9¾	Container Corp	1	31½	31½	31½	— ⅛
26⅞	8⅝	Cont Bak	20	20¾	20¼	20¾	— ⅛
2¾	1¼	Cont Bak B	13	2	2	2
103½	25½	Cont Bak pf (8)	5	100½	99¾	100½	— ⅛
49	36½	Cont Can (2e)	1	103	103	103	— ⅛
11⅞	6	Cont Diam Fib	1	16	37¾	37¾	— ⅛
36½	21¼	Cont Ins (1.60a)	1	93	91	91	— ⅛
37⅞	7	Cont Motors	5	92	34¾	34¾	— ⅛
35¾	21¼	Cont Oil Del (1)	29	28	28	28	— ⅛
29½	10	Cont Steel (1e)	2	24¼	24¼	24¼	— ⅛
56	40	†Corn Exchange (3)	1.10	48	47¼	48	— ⅛
96	63	Corn Products (3)	3	63	62¾	62¾	— ⅛
42½	19	Crane Co	6	43¾	43¼	43¾	— ⅛
29⅜	12⅜	Cream of Wh (2)	27	37¾	35½	36	— 1¼
43¾	22¼	Crown Cork & S	12	37¾	35¾	35¾	— ⅛
92¾	58	Crown Zellerbach	4	13	12¾	12¾	— ⅛
44⅜	19¼	Crown Zeller pf (5)	1.50	90¾	88¾	88¾	— 1¼
9⅜	7½	Crucible Steel	5	37	37	37	— ⅛
13½		Cuba Co	1	1	1	1
8¼	5½	Cuba R R pf	.60	6¼	6¼	6¼	— ⅛
87	58¼	†Cuban-Am S pf	7	57	57	57	— ⅛
21⅝	12	Cudahy Pack	.50	74½	74	74	— 1
13¾	3	Curtis Publishg	7	6	5¾	6	— ⅛
56	25	Curtis Pub pf	1	45¾	45¼	45¾	— ⅛
7⅛	3¼	Curtis-Wright	47	6¾	6½	6⅝	— ⅛
28¼	12¾	Curtis-Wr A (1e)	1	26	25¾	25¾	— ⅛
29¼	13¼	Cutler-Hammer	1	23½	23¼	23½	— ⅛
		D
25⅛	13⅜	Deere & Co (1.35e)	12	19½	19½	19½	— ⅛
25	19¾	Deere & Co pf (1.40)	5	20	19¾	19¾	— ⅛
17	9	Deisel-Wem-Gil (¾e)	1	16¾	16¾	16¾	— ⅛
24⅝	7½	Del & Hudson	13	21	20½	20½	— 1¼
4⅜	2	Del Lack & West	0	6¾	6¾	6¾	— ⅛
7	¾	Den & Rio G W pf	2	6	6	6	— ⅛
118	76	Detroit Edison (6e)	4	111½	110	111½	— ⅛
40¼	25	†Devoe & Ray A (1)	.80	33½	32½	33	— ⅛
30⅝	20¾	Diamond Match (1¼a)	2	28¼	27¾	27¾	— ⅛
11⅜	8¼	Diam Match pf (1¼a)	6	41¾	41¾	41¾	— ⅛
11	5	Diam T Motor	2	9½	9¾	9¾	— ⅛
23½	11	Distil Corp-Seag (2)	9	21¼	21¼	21⅜	— ⅛
91⅜	65¾	Dist Corp-S pr ww (5)	2	90¼	90	90	— ⅛
23⅛	12	Doehler Die Cas	2	19¼	19	19	— ⅛
34⅜	27¼	Dome Mines (1e)	5	31¾	31¼	31¾	+ ⅛
8¾	4½	Dominion Stores	3	8¾	8½	8½	— ⅛
70⅝	31	Douglas Aircraft (3e)	47	69¼	67⅝	68¼	— ⅛
140¼	87⅝	Dow Chemical (3)	7	133	132	133	— 1
24½	15	Dresser Mfg A (1½e)	1	18½	18½	18½	+ 1
17½	1¾	Dunhill Int	22	16	15½	16	— ⅛

Dow-Jones Averages

By the United Press.

New York, Dec. 2.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Net ch.
30 industrials	148.17	148.50	146.68	147.57	—1.06
20 rails	29.52	29.61	29.21	29.33	—0.45
15 utilities	21.88	22.05	21.69	21.93	—0.17
65 stocks	48.55	48.70	48.07	48.37	—0.42

Transactions in stocks used in averages today:

Industrials	168,600
Rails	37,400
Utilities	29,600
Total	175,600

Commodities Range

	Yesterday.	Prev. day.	Week ago.	Month ago.	Year ago.
Cotton, N. Y. (Dec.)	8.55	8.67	8.68	8.54	7.90
Wheat, Chicago (Dec.)	62⅞	62⅞	61½	63¾	94
Corn, Chicago (Dec.)	47⅛	47⅝	47⅝	44⅜	52
Oats, Chicago (Dec.)	26¼	25⅞	25⅝	25	31⅜
Cattle, choice steers, Balto	9.50	9.50	9.25	9.00	9.75
Hogs, choice, Balto	8.40	8.40	8.55	8.35	9.15
Lambs, choice, Balto	11.00	10.75	10.75	8.95	10.65
Eggs, special, N. Y	43.00	42.00	41.00	44.00	33.50
Butter, N. Y. creamery	30.75	30.75	28.25	26.50	40.25
Flour, N. Y.	4.75	4.75	4.65	4.90	5.85
Coffee, N. Y.	4.45	4.45	8.00	7.75	8.85
Raw sugar, N. Y.	3.00	3.00	3.00	3.05	3.30
Steel, Pittsburgh bar	2.25	2.25	2.25	2.25	2.45
Pig iron	16.05	16.03	15.90	16.79	15.03
Tin	21.00	21.00	21.00	21.00	24.00
Copper, electrolytic	45.85	46.25	46.15	46.10	43.50
Bar gold, London ($)	11.25	11.25	11.25	11.25	10.00
Bar silver, N. Y.	34.76	34.77	34.78	34.77	34.92
Zinc, East St. Louis	4.25	4.25	4.25	4.25	4.75
Lead, N. Y.	5.00	5.00	5.10	5.10	5.05

1938 High	1938 Low	Name and Dividend Rate	Sales Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
151¾	90½	du Pont de N (3¼e)	31	145½	143¾	144½	— 1
120¼	109½	du Pont pf (4½)	2	120	120	120
118⅞	111¾	†Duq Light 1 pf (5)	1.70	118¼	118⅛	118⅛	+ ⅛
		E
15⅛	13¾	Eastern Air L	13	14⅞	14⅝	14⅝	— ⅛
8¼	3¼	Eastern Roll Mill	1	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	— ⅛
187	121½	Eastman Kodak (6)	2	179	178½	178½	— ⅛
171	157	†East Kodak pf (6)	.60	170½	170	170	— ⅛
23⅜	10½	Eaton Mfg	2	20¾	20⅝	20⅝	— ⅛
5⅜	2	Eitingon Schild	3	3¼	3	3
4	2¼	El & Mus Ind (.09e)	11	2⅝	2½	2½	— ⅛
35¾	13¼	El Auto Lite (½e)	50	34⅛	33¾	34	— ⅛
12¼	6	Elec Boat (.60e)	2	11	11	11	— ⅛
64⅜	41	El Power & Lt	18	10⅜	10⅛	10⅛	— ⅛
44¾	16	El Pow & Lt $6 pf	2	32	32	32	— 1
46½	22½	El Pow & Lt pf	2	32	32	32	— 1
35	21¾	El Storage Bat (2)	2	36½	35¾	36½	— 1
2¾	½	Elk Horn Coal	2	32½	32	32
27	17	El Paso Nat Gas (2)	4	29½	29¾	29½	— ⅛
45⅛	33	†Endicott-John (3)	1	42	42	42	— ⅛
72	40	Eng P S $5½ pf (5½)	11	8¼	8	8¼	— ⅛
9⅞	4⅝	Erie R R	6	7¾	7⅝	7⅝	— ⅛
17⅜	8¼	Erie 1 pf	3	12¾	12¾	12¾	— ⅛
7½	2	Erie 2 pf	1	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	— ⅛
16	5¼	Evans Products	1	2	2	2
21½	8	Ex-Cell-O (.60e)	15	12⅜	11½	11½	— ⅛
24	14	Exchange Buffet	2	2	2	2
		F
11¼	3¼	†Fairbanks Co pf	.20	6⅝	6⅛	6½	+ ⅛
40⅜	19½	Fairbanks Morse	4	34½	34¼	34½	— ⅛
16½	6⅛	Fed Lt & Traction	2	14	14	14
5⅜	2¼	Fed Mot Truck	2	4¾	4⅝	4⅝	— ⅛
11⅜	5½	Fed Screw Works	1	11¼	11¼	11¼
2⅛	1	Fed Wat Svc A	1	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
90⅛	67	Fed P Fire Ins (1.60a)	1	86	86	86
36½	22½	Fid P Fire Ins (1.60a)	1	34¾	34¾	34¾	— ⅛
36⅜	16¼	Firestone T & R (1¼e)	2	23¼	23¼	23¼	— ⅛
100	76	First T & R pf (6)	1	95⅞	95⅞	95⅞	— ⅛
43¼	24½	First Nat Strs (2½)	1	47¼	47	47¼	— ⅛
30	10⅞	†Flintkote (.60e)	3	41¾	41¼	41⅜	— ⅛
37¼

Auto-Railers Granted Permit To Enter D.C.

Virginia Company Must Pick Up Fares Only at Terminal

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday granted the Arlington & Fairfax Auto Railroad Co. permission to extend service into the District but denied them the privilege of "pick-up and delivery service" within the District except at the terminal, Fourth and Constitution avenue northwest.

The commission, however, attached a proviso to the order stating the company must "comply with existing law." In its order the commission cited legal questions raised by the Capital Transit Co. and the Virginia & Maryland Coach Co., but did not give final rulings on these issues.

This was taken to mean that, while the commission has approved a route, and is prepared to approve schedules for bus operations, the entrance of the "auto-railer" in the District service still may be subject to a legal contest.

One of the legal questions presented when the petition was subject of a public hearing referred to the merger act of January 14, 1933, which contains the following provision:

"No competitive street railway or bus line, that is, bus or railway line for the transportation of passengers of the character which runs over a given route on a fixed schedule, shall be established without the prior issuance of a certificate by the Public Utilities Commission of the District of Columbia to the effect that the competitive line is necessary for the convenience of the public."

The fight on the part of the "auto-railer" company to bring its service into the District has been waged since 1936. Last year the company carried its request to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Before that time, the company had fought the contest with a joint board representing the PUC, the ICC and the Virginia Corporation Commission.

Steamer Ablaze At Boston Pier

Boston, Dec. 2 (AP).—Fire started tonight in a hold of the cotton-laden steamship South Lure of the Moore-McCormack Lines and fear of an explosion resulted in an order that all craft stay clear of her dock.

Four alarms brought scores of pieces of land apparatus and two fireboats to the Hoosac Docks in the Charlestown district, which was covered with a greasy smoke cloud.

The fireboats were ordered to stand clear of the smoldering steamer because of the danger of explosion, and hoselines from the land apparatus were focused on the vessel from a dozen vantage points.

The South Lure arrived today from Texas.

16 Are Arrested In Speakeasy Raids

Sixteen men and women were arrested and three of them charged with selling liquor without a license in two speakeasy raids by vice squad detectives led by Sergt. George Daly last night.

The men charged are Frank Paxton, 35, arrested in a raid of a drinking establishment at 608 Tenth street southwest; Harry Robinson, 30, and Seabury Holman, 34, both colored, who were taken into custody in a raid at 1910 Fourteenth street northwest.

Police were questioning the others arrested with a view to charging them with disorderly conduct.

Tooth Decay in Eek Blamed on Hard Tack

Eskimo children of Eek, a community in the Kuskokwim district of Alaska, suffer a fairly large amount of tooth decay. Youthful Eskimos of Kepnuk, in the same district, suffer little, say Technology Review. Kepnuk's younger generation is fed upon the traditional Eskimo fare—fish, heat, fat, with some berries and greens in the summer—a diet low in carbohydrates. The rising generation of Eek, however, ekes out this diet with the addition of flour and sugar, which replace parts of the ancestral menu.

Eek's greater tooth trouble must not be attributed to the flour and sugar alone, for in an orphanage in the district, Eskimo children who ate even more flour and sugar had better teeth than those of Eek. The children of Eek delight in hard crackers, known variously as pilot biscuit, pilot bread, hardtack, and it is to the fact that they eat much of these that their dental difficulties must be attributed.

Nice Recesses Hearing On Dorchester Slayer

Annapolis, Dec. 2 (AP).—Gov. Harry W. Nice today said he had recessed the hearing on the petition of Fred L. Brown for commutation of his death sentence until December 15.

Brown, under sentence of death from Dorchester County for a "plowshare murder," was allowed the additional time for his counsel to present new evidence, Nice said.

8 Killed as Airliner Crashes at Mexico City

Mexico City, Dec. 2 (AP).—Five passengers and the crew of three were killed today when a Compania Mexicana de Aviacion airliner crashed against a hill soon after leaving Mexico City for Merida, Yucatan.

Two of the passengers were women. Airline officials said all the victims were Mexican citizens.

Col. McCormick in Va. For Blue Ridge Hunt

Winchester, Va., Dec. 2 (AP).—Col. Robert McCormick, Chicago newspaper publisher, joined friends of the Blue Ridge Hunt Club in Clarke County today for a month's fox hunting, following his arrival in his private plane late yesterday. Col. and Mrs. McCormick have leased a colonial mansion for the hunting season.

National Park College Entertains

Post Staff Photo.

Officials of the University of Maryland and of three District and Maryland high schools were guests of National Park College last night at a dinner dance. Shown are Elise Gray (left), of St. Louis, and Errol MacAdam, of Long Island City, with Dr. Harry C. Byrd, Maryland U. president

Lethal Gas Kills 2 Felons; 1 Lives For 15 Minutes

San Quentin, Calif., Dec. 2 (AP). The lethal gas chamber, operated by disapproving prison officials, was used in California for the first time today to execute two of five convicts sentenced to death for murder in attempting to escape from Folsom prison.

Albert Kessell, 29, and Robert L. Cannon, 30, walked composedly into the chamber after smoking cigars and taking "shots" of whisky. They were bound to metal chairs and enveloped in a thick cloud of extremely poisonous gas for more than 15 minutes.

Dr. L. L. Stanley, prison physician, said Cannon died 12 minutes after his first inhalation of the gas, and Kessell in 15½ minutes.

"Hanging," said the veteran prison physician, "is simpler and quicker."

New President Releases Many Czech Prisoners

Prague, Dec. 2 (AP).—President Emil Hacha signed an amnesty order today under which several thousand political prisoners will be released.

A small number of German-speaking Czecho-Slovak citizens were included under the amnesty, which covered mostly prisoners sentenced or awaiting trial for minor offenses such as distribution of leaflets during the September crisis.

Bulgarian Kills Self As 100th Birthday Nears

Because he did not want to be a centenarian, Dingo Singuleff killed himself in Strashimirovo, North Bulgaria, within two weeks of his 100th birthday anniversary. Although he was in good health and was active for his age, Singuleff complained that all his friends had died and he was lonely.

Several times in recent years he declared he was tired of life and wanted to die. Discouraged because he saw no natural end of life in sight he hanged himself in a stable.

'A Good Night For Murder,' Says Maniac; Tries It

Marion, Ind., Dec. 3 (U.P.).—An escaped insane asylum patient armed with a rifle and an ice pick, tonight forced a taxi driver to take him to a busy downtown corner where he killed himself after shooting at the driver and a detective.

A victim of dementia praecox, Leanard Fritz, 27, escaped last night from the bakery of the Logansport State Asylum. Tonight he called Taxi Driver Chester Quinn to a Peru home and leaped into the taxi, brandishing the rifle and ice pick.

"It's a good night for murder, and I've sure got a nice little job to do," Quinn said Fritz told him.

When a red light forced Quinn to stop in the heart of the Marion business district, 30 miles from Peru, the driver leaped from the machine and fled across the courthouse lawn. Fritz raced after him, firing as he ran.

Detective Lester Andrews, attracted by the gunfire, chased after Fritz and Fritz turned on the detective, fired at him then ran back to the taxi where he shot himself.

7th Forum Slated By Universalists

"The Ideologies of Nazism, Fascism, Communism and Democracy" will be discussed on the basis of source material in which he has done research by Dr. Rudolf A. Clemen, formerly president of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., now visiting professor at American University, in the seventn of the Forum Series on International Relations being conducted by the Universalist National Memorial Church at 10 a. m. tomorrow. The series will be concluded next Sunday.

"Overcoming the World" will be the subject of Dr. Frederic W. Perkins' sermon at the service in the church at 11. It is one of a group of advent sermons on "Jesus in the Life of Today."

Dr. Seth Brooks Accepts Call To Universalist Church Here

Massachusetts Pastor Will Assume New Duties About Jan. 15

Dr. Seth Rogers Brooks, of Malden, Mass., yesterday accepted a call to the pulpit of the Universalist National Memorial Church, Sixteenth and S streets northwest, succeeding Dr. Frederick W. Perkins. He will assume his new duties about January 15.

Dr. Perkins, who plans to go to Boston to engage in general convention work, tendered his resignation last spring, to take effect October 1, but remained until his successor was appointed.

One of the best known of the younger ministers throughout New England, Dr. Brooks has served as pastor at Malden for ten years. He was active there in Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. work, director of the Boston Lend-a-Hand Society, and vice president of the Bethany Union Home for Working Girls.

Born in New York

Active in the general denomination affairs of the Universalist Church, he served for several years as chairman of the International Church Extension Board and for a time as chairman of the Unitarian-Universalist Student Work Commission.

Born in New York City June 21, 1901, he received his early education in the public schools there, later attending St. Lawrence University, where he was graduated with the degree of bachelor of science in 1922. In 1924 the Canton Theological Seminary of St. Lawrence University conferred on him the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, and in 1936 his achievements as parish minister, administrator and public speaker were recognized when his alma mater conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

DR. S. R. BROOKS

Trustee of Alma Mater

After graduation from theological school, Dr. Brooks became pastor of St. Paul's Universalist Church, of Little Falls, N. Y. He served from 1924 to 1928, when he was called to assume the Malden pastorate.

Dr. Brooks is at present a trustee of his alma mater and has served his fraternity, Beta Theta Pi, in various posts.

Mrs. Brooks is one of the outstanding younger leaders in Universalist Church work, having served as secretary of the Women's National Missionary Association, and is now vice president of the organization.

Board Rescinds Zoning Motion In Montgomery

Action Comes as Civic Leaders Plan Mass Protest on Action

The Montgomery County board of commissioners yesterday rescinded its previous recommendation to legalize all non-conforming zoning uses.

A special meeting of the board in Rockville also took steps to secure a $200,000 allotment of Federal park funds by authorizing the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission to issue bonds guaranteeing payment of the allocation, one-third of which is a gift and the remainder a loan without interest for eight years.

The motion rescinding the non-conforming zoning use ratification came as a group of civic leaders planned a mass protest to the park and planning commission for yesterday noon.

The original recommendation was adopted ten days ago when the three Democratic board members, Richard H. Lansdale, Clay Plummer and Robert D. Hagner, voted in its favor over the opposition of the two Republican commissioners, Frank H. Karn and Paul M. Coughlan. Yesterday the three Democrats joined with Karn in voting to reverse the board's stand. Coughlan was not present at the meeting.

Plummer's Statement

After the vote, Plummer issued the following statement regarding the position of the Democratic board members:

"We are advised that commitments had been received which assure the $200,000 for the completion of Section Three of Rock Creek Park from Connecticut avenue past Kensington toward Rockville, and the construction of roads and recreational facilities in that important continuation of Rock Creek Park, and that the Montgomery County litigation over non-conforming uses will no longer be a possible barrier to Prince Georges County receiving $300,000 for the purchase of the important parkway now planned in the valley of the Anacostia River, and it was our opinion that the Montgomery County officials should not let Montgomery County litigation stand in the way of the creation of this great park in Prince Georges County.

"As a result we have reconsidered our resolution of November 22 and voted today to rescind that action."

Innkeeper Filed Suit

The litigation referred to was filed more than a year ago by Peter Fritz, operator of an inn on residential property, who challenged the constitutionality of the act creating county zoning when he was threatened with arrest for non-conforming use.

A warrant for arrest of Fritz was issued but a temporary injunction halted prosecuting pending the disposition of the counter-suit was granted by the County Circuit Court.

Civic leaders have charged that the litigation was not a bar to receipt by the county of the Federal funds and declared the Fritz suit was called off on October 12, which would automatically have released the funds.

Smith Not Sympathetic

Just what procedure will be followed with regard to pressing the warrant against Fritz as a result of yesterday's reaffirmation of county zoning has not yet been determined. Chairman Karn said he planned to consult F. Barnard Welsh, counsel to the board.

J. Bond Smith, general counsel to the park and planning commission, said he never had been in sympathy with the proposal to legalize violations.

"I was not consulted with respect to the zoning action of the board of county commissioners which was taken without my knowledge, approval or acquiescense," Smith declared.

"Neither has it been referred to me by my commission for an opinion. If and when it is so referred, I apprehend that I shall have little difficulty in passing upon it expeditiously."

Fay Wray, Child Leave Virginia

Charlottesville, Va., Dec. 2 (AP).—Film Actress Fay Wray left here today for New York to witness rehearsals for the play "Angela Is Twenty-Two," which she co-authored with Sinclair Lewis.

Her writer husband, John Monk Saunders, who has been a patient in the University of Virginia Hospital for several weeks, has leased a house in Alabemarle County and will remain here to complete a novel interrupted by his recent illness.

Miss Wray carried their baby, Susan Cary Saunders, to New York with her.

Maori's Homely Plea May Win a New House

"If your pants had no seat would not that be a special circumstance for a new pair? Well, sir, I have no roof to my old tent house. So God bless you and keep you—long enough to send me a new house." Thus ran part of a letter written by a Maori applying for a government house on North Island of New Zealand. The letter opened "May the warm rays of the approaching summer thaw the cold blood stream that courses through the hearts of those in authority."

110 of 386 Gas Pumps 'Deficient' in Augusta

Staunton, Va., Dec. 2.—Of 386 gasoline pumps in Augusta County checked by W. R. Thompson, of the Virginia division of markets, State Department of Agriculture, 110 were found to be incorrect or failed to meet standard requirements. All such pumps were marked with a label denoting "inaccuracy," and the defects must be corrected before they are given standard rating.

Rites Tomorrow For Mrs. St. Clair, Wife of Author

Mrs. Harriet Easley St. Clair, wife of David St. Clair, author, died yesterday at her home, 1868 Ingleside terrace northwest.

A native of Chester Springs, Va., Mrs. St. Clair was educated at the Averett Junior College, Danville, Va. Following her graduation she took up educational work and was for more than 30 years a teacher in Virginia schools.

After coming to Washington in 1936, Mrs. St. Clair became active in the women's organizations of the St. Stephen and the Incarnation Episcopal Church. She also was a member of the Hillary H. Herbert Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Besides her husband, Mrs. St. Clair leaves a daughter, Miss Rebecca Campbell St. Clair, an executive of George Washington University. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. at the St. Stephen and Incarnation Church. Burial will be in Boston, Va.

Honest Janitor Saves Rent as Baby Dies in Cold

Special Dispatch to The Post.

New York, Dec. 2.—Peter Murphy, janitor of a tenement, saw his newborn son die in his wife's arms today as they lay in his cold three-room flat on the ground floor of the building.

There was neither food nor heat in the apartment. In Murphy's pocket was $43, which he had collected in rent, but it was somebody else's money and Murphy has made a lifetime habit of honesty.

In his six years Murphy estimated he had collected about $24,000. He's been on relief four years. He has three children, aged 7 to 18.

It was learned last night his honesty habit did not cost his child's life when the medical examiner said the baby's death was the result of a cardiac deformity.

Blast Scares 50 At Salem College; Janitor Injured

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Salem, W. Va., Dec. 2.—Okey W. Davis, 57, veteran janitor, was gravely injured when a gas furnace exploded today at Salem College and frightened some 50 students.

College spokesmen said Davis was found in front of the wrecked furnace. The administration building which houses the furnace room in the basement was shaken by the explosion. Frightened students rushed out of the library and 20 others in class recitation were shaken.

Fire Chief Arley Sigley said the blast evidently resulted from an accumulation of gas from a leak in the furnace line. Slight property damage resulted.

2 D. C. Merchants Robbed of $130

Two armed bandits robbed two Washington merchants of $100 in holdups last night.

Fred J. Kohlman, clerk of a haberdashery at 922 Ninth street northwest, was robbed of $25 when a white man forced him at gunpoint to turn over the contents of the cash register, police said.

Albert Lawrence, 1922 N street northwest, told officers a young colored man forced him to surrender $105 in pocket money and cash from the till after threatening him with a revolver.

Maryland Hunter Guilty in Shooting

By the Associated Press.

Hagerstown, Md., Dec. 2.—A jury convicted James Repp, 45, on charges today of shooting his neighbor, Frank Mills, 32.

He was tried on an indictment charging he fired shotgun charges which struck Mills in a leg on September 11.

The State contended Mills was shot as a result of a dispute over hunting squirrels on his farm.

$10,000 Verdict Won Against Spy Fugitive

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—A $10,000 judgment was returned today against Dr. Ignatz T. Griebl, fugitive from the espionage indictment on which four codefendants were sentenced to prison. Samuel Taube won the judgment in supreme court in a suit in which he sought $100,000 for injuries sustained February 2, 1930, when he was struck by Griebl's automobile. Griebl, who fled to Germany last May 10, and his wife, a codefendant, were represented by a New York attorney.

What's Going On And Where

Luncheons
United States Flag Association, Carlton Hotel, 1 p. m.
National Lawyers Guild, Carlton Hotel, 1 p. m.
Banquet
District of Columbia Bar Association, Mayflower Hotel, 7 p. m.
Dinner
Kappa Sigma Fraternity, Carlton Hotel, 7 p. m.
Meetings
National Association of Retired Federal Employes, Natural History Building, National Museum, 2 p. m.
Citizens Associations
Federation, District Building, 8 p. m.
Dances
Fort Stevens Post No. 32, Stansbury Hall, 9 p. m.
North Carolina Democratic Club, Wardman Park Hotel, 9 p. m.
Beta Sigma Sorority, Carlton Hotel, 10 p. m.
The Washington Club of Printing House Craftsmen, dinner dance, Wardman Park Hotel, 7:30 p. m.

Ship Movements

At New York
Arrived Yesterday
Hamburg, from Hamburg.
Scanmail, from Gdynia.
Arrive Today
Columbus, from Bremen.
Arrive Tomorrow
American Importer, from Liverpool.
Bergenfjord, from Oslo.
Conte di Savoia, from Naples.
Gerolstein, from Antwerp.
President Roosevelt, from Hamburg.
Sailing Today
American Banker, for Plymouth.
Black Falcon, for Antwerp.
Exeter, for Naples.
Lundby, for Lisbon.
Sailing Tomorrow
No sailings scheduled.

Daily Cross Word Puzzle

ACROSS.

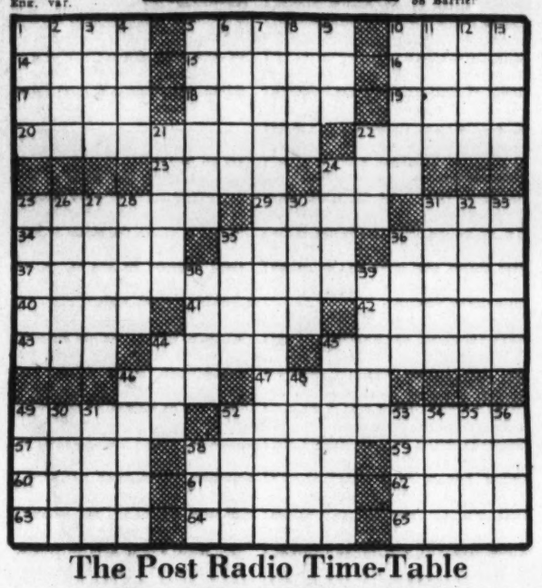
1 Become satiated
5 Sea basin off Scotland
10 Engrave with acid
14 Money exchange premium
15 Formed a curve
16 Uncommon
17 A gazelle
18 Fastened with strings
19 Snatch
20 Brother of Menelaus
22 Dismissal: Fr.
23 Metrical composition
24 Portion
25 Flexible stem of an African palm
29 Increased by
31 Roman household god
34 Pertaining to the ilium
35 Wolf-hound
36 Underground gun emplacement: French
37 Invalids
40 Egyptian solar disk
41 Chance
42 Spirited attack
43 Gaelic god of the sea
44 Footway
45 Vipers
46 Daughter of Loki
47 Smooth: Epic. var.
49 Small swamp tree
52 Muse of tragic poetry
57 To drudge
58 Receiver of a gift
59 Mental conception
60 To fashion
61 Place of sacrifice
62 God of war
63 An Arabian seaport
64 Intervening
65 To send forth

DOWN.

1 South American rodent
2 Eager
3 Italian coin
4 Earthy mixture of sand and clay
5 Fish
6 Bird
7 Outstanding abilities
8 Point of a hammerhead opposite the face
9 Increase
10 Disease of wheat
11 Mountain lake
12 Steep rugged rock
13 Goddess of youth
21 Difference between solar and lunar year
22 Variety of lettuce
24 Goddess of the moon
25 Adversary
26 Winglike
27 Doorkeeper of a lodge
28 The one contrasted with the other: Scot.
30 Spare
31 Rent
32 Biblical general slain by Joab
33 Corrodes
35 Mine entrance
36 Obey
38 Russian mountain range
39 Cattle round-up
44 Br
45 Unit of electric current
46 Wife of Menelaus
48 Town in southwest New York
49 Spiritual mother
50 Burden
51 Breakwater
52 Long pier
53 An actor
54 Dutch city
55 Medieval political faction in Italy
56 Point of the compass
58 Barrier

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER.

A	M	B	I	T		R	A	T	A		S	P	A	R
R	O	U	S	E		O	Y	I	D		W	A	L	E
M	A	R	L	S		W	I	T	H		A	C	T	A
S	T	R	A	T	H		S	H	E	A	T	H	E	D
			M	E	A	D		E	S	C	H	A	R	S
S	T	A	I	R	W	A	Y		I	R	E
W	A	F	T	S		L	E	A	V	E		H	I	D
A	L	E	E		P	L	A	N	E		C	O	T	E
P	E	R		T	R	Y	S	T		C	A	M	E	L
		S	H	A		T	I	R	E	S	O	M	E
P	O	R	T	E	N	D		C	A	R	E
S	P	O	R	A	D	I	C		W	A	M	A	R	A
H	I	R	E		I	N	I	A		M	A	G	O	G
A	N	I	S		A	G	O	G		I	T	A	L	A
W	E	D	S		L	O	N	E		C	E	R	E	S



The Post Radio Time-Table

Saturday, Dec. 3 — Washington — Eastern Standard Time.

	WMAL 476M—630KC	WRC 316M—950KC	WOL 229M—1,230KC	WJSV 206M—1,460KC
6:00	...	Doll House	Art Brown	...	6:00
6:15	...	" "	" "	...	6:15
6:30	Today's Prelude	" "	News	...	6:30
6:45	" "	" "	Art Brown	...	6:45
7:00	" "	" "	" "	Arthur Godfrey	7:00
7:15	" "	" "	" "		7:15
7:30	Station PDS	" "	News	" "	7:30
7:45	Presents	" "	Art Brown	" "	7:45
8:00	" "	News	" "	News	8:00
8:15	" "	Doll House	" "	Arthur Godfrey	8:15
8:30	Earl Godwin	" "	News		8:30
8:45	Calling All Stars	" "	Art Brown	" "	8:45
9:00	News	News	" "	" "	9:00
9:15	Breakfast Club	Music	" "	S. Munchmore	9:15
9:30	" "	Natl. Children's Frolic	Waltz Themes	Civic Forum	9:30
9:45	Gospel Singer		News, Police Fl.	" "	9:45
10:00	Ranch Boys	Ed McConnell	Marriage Clinic	Abram Simon	10:00
10:15	Amanda Snow	Morning Club	" "	Hillbillies	10:15
10:30	Child Grows Up	Charioteers	Musical Potpourri	Four Corners Theater	10:30
10:45	Swing Serenade	Florence Hale	Raoul Nadeau		10:45
11:00	No School Today	Aunt Sue's Quiz Party	Oberlin Woodwind Ensemble	Cincinnati Conservatory of Music	11:00
11:15	" "				11:15
11:30	Our Barn	School of Music	United States Army Band	Program	11:30
11:45	" "	" "			11:45

AFTERNOON PROGRAMS.

12:00	American Educational Forum	News, Music	Wonderful World	News	12:00
12:15		" "	News	Melodies	12:15
12:30	National Farm and Home Hour	Devotions	Luncheon Music	Beethoven Chorus	12:30
12:45		Gypsy Trails	Shirley Howard		12:45
1:00	" "	America Presents	Schnickelfritz Band	All Hands on Deck	1:00
1:15	" "	" "			1:15
1:30	Ray Kinney's Orchestra	Campus Capers	Tony Wakeman	Buffalo Presents	1:30
1:45		Metropolitan	" "	Vocational Assn.	1:45
2:00	Bill Krenz' Orchestra	Opera Company, "Otello"	" "	Pomany Trail	2:00
2:15			" "	Tonic Tunes	2:15
2:30	" "	" "	" "	Souvenirs	2:30
2:45	" "	" "	" "	Mississippi	2:45
3:00	Rakov's Orch	" "	News	Tennessee Football Game	3:00
3:15	Four of Us	" "	Tony Wakeman		3:15
3:30	Model World Conference	" "	" "		3:30
3:45		" "	" "	" "	3:45
4:00	Club Matinee	" "	" "	" "	4:00
4:15	" "	" "	" "	" "	4:15
4:30	News	" "	" "	" "	4:30
4:45	Notre Dame	" "	Notre Dame	Notre Dame vs.	4:45
5:00	Southern California Football Game	" "	vs. Southern California	Southern California	5:00
5:15		Stamp Program			5:15
5:30		Tropical Tunes	" "	" "	5:30
5:45	" "	Al Roth's Orch	" "	" "	5:45

EVENING PROGRAMS.

6:00	" "	News, Music	Tony Wakeman	" "	6:00
6:15	" "	Home Folks Frolic	Variety Program	" "	6:15
6:30	" "	Ga. Glee Club	Walter Compton	" "	6:30
6:45	" "	Goodwill Mission	Notre Dame	News, Music	6:45
7:00	" "	Avalon Time	vs. Southern California	Arch McDonald	7:00
7:15	" "	" "		Labor News	7:15
7:30	Intermezzo	Ensemble	Student Assembly	Joe E. Brown	7:30
7:45	Dixie Harmonies	Great Men		" "	7:45
8:00	Message of Israel	Quaker Party	Press Time	Johnny Presents	8:00
8:15		" "			8:15
8:30	The Road to Freedom	Fred Waring	Central Union Mission	Professor Quiz	8:30
8:45		" "			8:45
9:00	Natl. Barn Dance	Vox Pop	News	Men Against Death	9:00
9:15		" "	Hawaii Calls		9:15
9:30	" "	Hall of Fun	Hollyw'd Whisp.	Saturday Serenade	9:30
9:45	" "	" "	The Squires		9:45
10:00	Symphony Orchestra	A. A. U.'s 50th Anniversary	Concert	Your Hit Parade	10:00
10:15			FHA Program		10:15
10:30	" "	Phil Spitalny's Orchestra	Merriwether's Minstrels		10:30
10:45	" "			Monopoly Com.	10:45
11:00	" "	News, Music	News	News, Music	11:00
11:15	" "	Modern Music	T. Dorsey's Orchestra	Swing Party	11:15
11:30	News			" "	11:30
11:45	Night Watchman	Masters	Little's Orchestra	" "	11:45
12:00	(Until 2 a. m.)	Jan Savitt's Orchestra	Benny Goodman's Orchestra	" "	12:00
12:15				" "	12:15
12:30		Les Brown's Orchestra	Jan Garber's Orchestra	" "	12:30
12:45				" "	12:45
1:00		Sign Off	Shep Field's Orchestra	" "	1:00
1:15				W'ther Forecast	1:15
1:30			Wayne King's Orchestra	Sign Off	1:30
1:45					1:45
2:00			Sign Off		2:00

Band Concert

SOLDIERS' HOME BAND ORCHESTRA
Stanley Hall, 5:30 p. m.
Program.

March, "The King's Hussars" ..... Leonard
Overture, "Halka" ..... Moniuszko
Barcarolle—
"Souvenir de Concert" ..... Rubinstein
Bella Mazurka ..... Waldteufel
Melange, "Gems of Stephen Foster" ..... Toban
Popular numbers—
"Out of a Clear Sky" ..... Arlen
"Old Plantation Blues" ..... Klickman
Valse Intermezzo—
"Soupire d'Amour" (Smiles of Love) ..... Wendling
Finale, "Skippy" ..... Conrad
"The Star-Spangled Banner"

For Better
RADIO SERVICE
Phone District 4700
STAR RADIO CO.
4 Stores to Serve You

Vital Statistics

Deaths

Frank Brook, 82, 1736 North Capitol st.
Chas. R Alsop, 79, 1313 Southern ave. se.
Rosalie Spicknall, 74, 519 Lebaum st. se.
Jennie Elizabeth Cole, 71, 1320 E st. ne.
Moses Rambar, 67, Emergency Hospital.
John Jos. Hynes, 66, 16th and K sts. nw.
Celia Sperling, 62, Georgetown Hospital.
Daisy M. Wilkerson, 59, 732 5th st. ne.
Ernest T. Wallace, 45, 5726 Conn. ave.
Predetta V. Day, 28, Emergency Hospital.
William Gilmore, 79, Freedmen's Hosp.
Cliff Hervey, 77, Gallinger Hospital.
Maggie Williams, 70, 123 F st. nw.
Mary Jane Riley, 61, 3101 South st. nw.
Rena Johnson, 60, 607 O st. nw.
Oscar Wilson, 59, 1344 27th st. nw.
Bessie Kelly Emmons, 52, 2711 Ga. ave.
Nathaniel Belton, 45, 1237 4th st. nw.

Births

Richard and Winifred Hamilton, boy.
Maurice and Catherine Green, girl.
Henry and Helen Walker, boy.
William and Elizabeth Irvin, boy.
Alexander and Priscilla Liggett, boy.
Clifton and Helen Jett, boy.
Solomon and Kate Neishuler, boy.
Charles and Marian Magruder, boy.
James and Mary Renshaw, girl.
Floyd and Dorothy Greene, girl.
Ware and Helen Langrall, girl.
Frederic and Kathryn Kirgis, boy.
George and Frances Bradley, girl.
Wallace and Mildred Etten, boy.
Harvie and Jeanne Wilson, boy.
William and Ellen DerTarn, boy.
Harry and Rose Berkowich, boy.
Nelson and Ella Davis, boy.
Leonard and Joan Price, girl.
Albert and Lillian Spector, girl.
Frank and Frances Walter, girl.
Alexander and Antoinette Bartnovsky, boy
Carrol and Elizabeth Lenyer, girl.
Frank and Edith West, girl.
James and Angie Lyles, girl.
Ernest and Daisy Jones, boy.
Alfred and Sadie Parker, boy.
Gadden and Elizabeth Durham, girl.
James and Ida Young, girl.

Licensed to Marry

Steve John Bodolay, 24, 1320 New Hampshire avenue northwest, and Audrey Elizabeth Rucker, 20, 1003 Twenty-second street northwest. The Rev. Niles T. Welch.

John Dee German, 24, Pocahontas, Va., to Velberg Harriet Quall, 24, Clintonville, Wis. The Rev. G. E. Lenski.

Jams Percy Weisiger, 29, 1114 Monroe street northwest, to Germaine Rose Duval, 22, Manchester, N. H. The Rev. B. E. Mahan.

Thomas W. Fitzgerald, 38, Jacksonville, Fla., to Eva B. Fitzgerald, 45, Takoma Park, Md. The Rev. Grace Patch.

Alvin T. Brown, 23, 3839 Massachusetts avenue, to Peggy Stein, 18, 1348 Madison street northwest. The Rev. Abram Simon.

Carl W. Becker, 24, 4016 Eighteenth street northwest, to Avice Arbutus Shaw, 24, 606 B street northeast. The Rev. Glen B. Fawcett.

Horace Newton, 29, 1211 Q street northwest, to Eunice Jones, 27, 3115 Thirty-fourth street northwest. The Rev. J. Campbell Beckett.

Everett Lytle, 22, 1334 T street, to Ethel Mae Jackson, 22, 4620 Forty-sixth street northeast. The Rev. Earl L. Harrison.

Benjamin S. Brooks, 26, 900 Twelfth street northeast, to Haseline Moore, 27, 230 Parker street northeast. The Rev. Paul L. Moore.

Marriage licenses issued in Alexandria yesterday included:

Howard David Faison and Vivian Earle Somner, both of Baltimore, Md.

Philip Bonn, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mary E. Miller, Dorchester, Mass.

Arthur W. Jackson, jr., and Helen Blackmon, Washington.

William Rorie and Louise Young, both of Washington.

Bruce Lennard Bryan and Vira Marion Holler, both of Washington.

Transfers

Army

BRIGADIER GENERALS
William E. Shedd, jr., C. A. C., Fort Monroe, Va., to Fort McPherson, Ga.
Daniel I. Sultan, C. of E., Fort Logan, Colo., to New York, N. Y.

COLONELS
James M. Churchill, Inf., Fort Wayne, Mich., to Manchester, N. H.
Harry B. Crea, Inf., St. Augustine, Fla., to Jefferson Barracks, Mo.
Lee S. Tillotson, J. A. G. D., Boston, Mass., to home (retired).

MAJOR
Heywood S. Dodd, Cav., Fort Brown, Tex., to Philippine Department.

CATAINS
Paul A. Ridge, Cav., Philippine Department, to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt.
Adel C. Harden, F. D., Philippine Department to Langley Field, Va.
Charles R. Mize, F. D., Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., to Philippine Department.

FIRST LIEUTENANT
Carl B. Herndon, Inf., Fort Adams, R. I., to Panama Canal Department.

NAVY

BUREAU OF NAVIGATION
LIEUTENANT COMMANDERS
Neil K. Dietrich, det. aide & flag lt. on staff, Cdr. Battle Force; to staff, Cdr. Battle Force, as aide and flag secy.
James J. Hughes, on disch. trtmt. Nav. Hosp., Wash., D. C.; to duty 3d Nav. Dist., New York, N. Y.
Charles R. Pratt, det. Nav. Operations, Navy Dept., about January 3; to c. f. c. U. S. S. Wichita and on bd. as nav. officer when commissioned.

LIEUTENANT
Charles H. K. Miller, det. 1st Nav. Dist., in February; to U. S. S. Bushnell as nav. officer.

JUNIOR LIEUTENANTS
Maurice B. Brown, det. U. S. S. Louisville about February 1; to U. S. S. Cummings.
Wendell H. Frolins, det. U. S. S. New Mexico about February 1; to instn. Nav. Air Sta., Pensacola, Fla.

SUPPLY CORPS
LIEUTENANT COMMANDER
Charles E. Leavitt (S. C.) Ors. November 15 revoked. Continue duty Norfolk Navy Yard, Portsmouth, Va.

LIEUTENANT
Philip White (S. C.), det. Nav. Trng. Sta., Norfolk, Va., about November 30; to duty as commissary officer, Nav. Trng. Sta. and Receiving Station, Norfolk, Va.

Civil Engineer Corps
COMMANDER
John N. Laycock (C.E.C.), det. Nav. Hosp., Portsmouth, N. H.; to Bu. Y. and D., Navy Dept.

Warrant Officers
CHIEF GUNNER
Augustus E. Goffe, det. U. S. S. Idaho, about December 31; to continue treatment Nav. Hosp., San Diego. On disch. treatment, to home, relieved all active duty.

CHIEF MACHINISTS
Herman Miller, det. Navy Yard, Pearl Harbor, T. H., about December 10; to U. S. S. Minneapolis.
Charles W. Warner, det. Asst. Inspr. of Nav. Matl., Phila. Dist., Phila., Pa., about February 1; to home, relieved all active duty.

CHIEF RADIO ELECTRICIAN
William H. Reekstek, orders November 15 modified; to U. S. S. Houston, instead U. S. S. Louisville.

CHIEF ELECTRICIAN
George L. Nasi, det. asst. Nav. inspr. of Machy. Bath Iron Works Corp., Bath, Me., about December 20; to U. S. S. New York.

CHIEF PHARMACIST
Glenn F. Lyon, det. Hosp. Corps School, Norfolk Nav. Hosp., Portsmouth, Va., about February 5; to Nav. Trng. Sta., Norfolk, Va.
Maurice W. Throckmorton, det. Nav. Hosp., Brooklyn, N. Y., about February 5; to Asiatic Station.

CHIEF PAY CLERK
Lawrence B. Greason, det. U. S. S. Melville in December; to home; relieved all active duty.
Rufus J. Harrell, det. Receiving Sta., Norfolk, Va., in December; to U. S. S. Sirius.
Romaine Hathaway, det. U. S. S. Honolulu on January 3; to home, relieved all active duty.
Raymond J. Kilton, det. U. S. S. Sirius, about December 15; to Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.
Ernest W. Rogers, det. Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., in December; to c. f. o. U. S. S. St. Louis and on bd. when commissioned.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO LAST YEAR'S
Neediest Families
With The Post renewing its yearly Christmas Fund to help the District's neediest families, many persons are wondering what happened to last year's neediest cases. Christine Sadler takes some of the case stories of last year and shows you what a little help at the right time did toward restoring these needy families to a position where some of them are now actually helping this year's needy families.

The Post Offers Lowest Sunday Want Ad Rate in the City—NA. 4200

Funeral Services Monday for Mrs. Guilford

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary C. Guilford, 60, retired employe of the National Electrical Supply Company, will be held in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Monday, at 9 a. m. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Mrs. Guilford died of a heart attack Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Arthur Simpson, 1706 Upshur street northwest.

A lifelong resident of Washington, Mrs. Guilford was the widow of Eugene K. Guilford, who formerly held several important posts with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Her brother, the late John A. Dugan, was a sports writer for The Washington Post.

Mrs. Guilford was a member of the auxiliary of the Knights of Saint John. Besides her daughter, she is survived by a brother, Leo T. Dugan, and a sister, Miss Jeanette F. Dugan, both of this city, and six grandchildren.

The Weather

Today's Sun and Tide Table

(Furnished by United States Department of Commerce, Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

	A.M.	P.M.
Sun rises	7:09
Sun sets		4:46
High tide	4:11	4:44
Low tide	10:50	11:39

Weather Conditions

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, Friday, Dec. 2, 7:30 p. m.

Forecast for the District of Columbia—Probably light rain with rising temperature Saturday; occasional rain and warmer Sunday; moderate winds, mostly easterly.

For Maryland—Probably light freezing rain turning to rain with rising temperature Saturday; occasional rain and warmer Sunday.

For Virginia—Cloudy and slightly warmer, occasional light rain in west and north portions Saturday and by night in southeast portion; occasional rain and warmer Sunday.

Conditions

The storm that was centered over Newfoundland Thursday evening has continued to move east-northeastward. S. S. Caledonia, 29.09 inches, while a disturbance is moving northeastward over the Central Valleys, Springfield, Mo., 29.76 inches. Pressure is low over Hudson Bay, Nottingham Island, 29.32 inches, while a disturbance is moving inland over British Columbia, Bellingham, Wash., 29.38 inches.

Local Weather Report

Temperature—Midnight, 32; 2 a. m., 34; 4 a. m., 31; 6 a. m., 30; 8 a. m., 29; 10 a. m., 29; noon, 31; 2 p. m., 32; 4 p. m., 32; 6 p. m., 32; 8 p. m., 32; 10 p. m., 33. Highest, 34. Lowest, 28.

Relative humidity—7:30 a. m., 60; 1:30 p. m., 39; 7:30 p. m., 67. Rainfall (7:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.), none. Hours of sunshine, none.

Departures From Normal

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1938, 888 degrees.

Deficiency of temperature since December 1, 1938, 21 degrees.

Accumulated deficiency of precipitation since January 1, 1938, 6.61 inches.

Deficiency of precipitation since December 1, 1938, .17 inch.

Temperatures and Precipitation

Temperatures and precipitation for 24 hours ended Friday, Dec. 2, 7:30 p. m.

	High.	Low. Thur. 7:30 p.m.	Fri. night.	Rainfall.
Washington, D. C.	32	29	32	....
Asheville, N. C.	48	28	42	....
Atlanta, Ga.	58	34	48	....
Atlantic City, N. J.	36	24	30	0.03
Baltimore, Md.	32	26	30	....
Birmingham, Ala.	66	48	58	....
Bismarck, N. Dak.	44	24	38	....
Boston, Mass.	36	12	24	....
Buffalo, N. Y.	34	20	34	....
Cheyenne, Wyo.	38	28	32	....
Chicago, Ill.	50	36	48	0.01
Cincinnati, Ohio	62	40	58	....
Cleveland, Ohio	38	32	38	0.11
Dallas, Tex.	74	62	68	0.06
Davenport, Iowa	46	36	46	0.11
Denver, Colo.	44	32	40	0.15
Des Moines, Iowa	40	36	38	0.21
Detroit, Mich.	36	32	36	0.13
Duluth, Minn.	28	22	28	0.01
El Paso, Tex.	58	42	56	....
Galveston, Tex.	70	64	68	....
Helena, Mont.	42	32	40	....
Huron, S. Dak.	50	26	42	....
Indianapolis, Ind.	54	42	54	0.03
Jacksonville, Fla.	68	42	58	....
Kansas City, Mo.	54	48	46	0.35
Little Rock, Ark.	66	60	64	....
Los Angeles, Calif.	76	54	68	....
Louisville, Ky.	60	50	54	....
Marquette, Mich.	34	26	34	....
Memphis, Tenn.	70	56	66	0.01
Miami, Fla.	76	58	72	....
Minneapolis, St. Paul	36	32	34	0.01
Mobile, Ala.	70	38	62	....
New Orleans, La.	72	52	62	....
New York, N. Y.	34	18	32	....
North Platte, Nebr.	54	26	44	....
Omaha, Nebr.	42	32	34	....
Philadelphia, Pa.	42	32	34	....
Phoenix, Ariz.	70	48	60	....
Pittsburgh, Pa.	36	28	36	....
Portland, Me.	26	12	24	....
Portland, Oreg.	54	44	50	1.19
Rapid City, S. Dak.	48	34	38	....
St. Louis, Mo.	60	51	54	0.09
Salt Lake City, Utah	40	26	40	....
San Antonio, Tex.	78	64	74	....
San Diego, Calif.	70	50	66	....
San Francisco, Calif.	62	56	58	0.02
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	42	26	36	....
Savannah, Ga.	66	42	56	....
Seattle, Wash.	52	44	48	0.57
Springfield, Ill.	54	42	40	0.44
Tampa, Fla.	74	52	68	....
Vicksburg, Miss.	70	56	66	....

The Washington Post

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
LOCAL RATES

For Washington and Points Within 50 Miles of the District of Columbia.

The following rates are for consecutive insertions:

1 time.....19c per line.
3 times.....18c per line.
7 times.....15c per line.
15 times.....13c per line.

The one-time rate applies on skip ads or irregular insertions.

OUT-OF-TOWN RATES.

Ads from points more than 50 miles from the District of Columbia are: 1 time, 21c per line; 3 times, 20c per line; 7 times, within 30 days, 17c per line.

When computing the cost of an ad kindly estimate 5½ average words to a line.

Rates for special classification and yearly contracts furnished upon request.

The Washington Post reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any classified advertising.

Misclassification of 'ads not permitted.

The Washington Post will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion on any order.

Kill Orders or Corrections before insertions (excepting Death Notices) cannot be ~~~ unless ordered before 6 p. m. daily or 4 p. m. Saturday for Sunday.

The Washington Post strives at all times to prevent insertion of fraudulent or misleading advertisements.

Information concerning any ad that proves misleading or fraudulent will be appreciated.

Phone NAtional 4200
Ask for an Ad-Writer

THESE DRUG STORES WILL TAKE YOUR WANT AD, DAY AND NIGHT.

Alaska Ave. Pharmacy, 7806 Alaska Ave.
Chevy Chase Pharmacy, 5510 Connecticut Ave.
Garfield Park Drug Store, 311 15th St. S.E.
Hailstork Pharmacy, 732 2nd St. S.W.
Imperial Pharmacy, 2624 P St. N.W.
Johnson Pharmacy, 600 3rd St. S.W.
Jolson Pharmacy, 5000 First St. N.W.
Matthews Pharmacy, 1257 South Capitol Street.
Modern Drug, 1300 11th St. N.W.
Novelty Store, 1601 11th St. N.W.
O'Donnell's Drug Store, Wisconsin Ave. and P Street.
Park View Pharmacy, Georgia Ave. and Park Road.
Paul's Drug Store, 901 Fourth St. S.W.
Smoot Pharmacy, 1548 N. J. Ave. N.W.
Standard Drug, 1748 7th St. N.W.
Suter's Drug Store, 1841 Columbia Road.
Williams Pharmacy, 501 First St. S.W.

Mrs. Mary E. Childress, Here 50 Yrs., Dies at 75

Mrs. Mary E. Childress, 75, a resident of Washington for 50 years and a native of Caroline County, Va., died yesterday at her home, 1931 Summit place northeast. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the residence. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

DIED.

ASHCOM, HENRIETTA MORGAN. On Friday, December 2, 1938, at Sibley Hospital, HENRIETTA MORGAN ASHCOM, of 2911 Cathedral ave. nw., mother of Mrs. Frank Whitehead. Remains resting at the S. H. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., until 10 p. m., Saturday, December 3. Funeral services and interment Everett, Pa.

BARRETT, SUSIE V. On Friday, December 2, 1938, at her residence, 404 Elerslia ave., Capitol Heights, Md., SUSIE V. BARRETT, the beloved wife of John W. Barrett and mother of R. D., William B., James D., John O. and Gordon A. Barrett. Funeral services at the Congregational Church, Capitol Heights, Md., on Monday, December 5, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in Addison Chapel Cemetery. Services by the W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast funeral home.

BERGGREN, OTTO E. On Friday, December 2, 1938, at Providence Hospital, OTTO E. BERGGREN, brother of Einar Berggren, of Washington, D. C. He also is survived by brothers and sisters in Sweden. Friends are invited to call at Gawler's 1756 Pa. ave. nw. Services at Gawler's chapel, 1750 Pa. ave. nw., on Saturday, December 3, at 3 p. m. Interment Prospect Hill Cemetery.

BROOKE, FRANK. On Wednesday, November 30, 1938, at his residence, 1706 North Capitol st., FRANK BROOKE, beloved husband of Cora Lee Brooke, father of R. W. Brooke. Remains resting at the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw. Funeral services at Fort Myer Chapel, Fort Myer, Va., on Saturday, December 3, at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Arlington National Cemetery.

BURGESS, CORA. On Thursday, December 1, 1938, at Homeopathic Hospital, CORA BURGESS. She is survived by one son, Livingston Burgess, and a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Godas, of New York; a sister, Mrs. Ella Tucker, and one brother, Capt. Frederick Posey. Services, on Monday, December 5, at 2 p. m., at Hysong's funeral home, 1300 N st. nw. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery.

CHILDRESS, MARY E. On Friday, December 2, 1938, at her residence, 1931 Summit pl. nw., MARY E. CHILDRESS, beloved wife of D. C. Childress and mother of Mrs. Eva De-Broske and Elmer T. Childress. Services at the above residence on Monday, December 5, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Glenwood Cemetery.

COLE, JENNIE ELIZABETH. On Wednesday, November 30, 1938, at her residence, 1320 E st. ne., JENNIE ELIZABETH COLE (nee Hartzell), the wife of the late George C. Cole, beloved mother of Mrs. Margarette W. English and Mrs. Mait E. Schott and Mr. Roger L. Flather and grandmother of Harry Cole English and Mary Jane Schott Anthony and Roger L. Flather, jr. Funeral services at the above residence on Saturday, December 3, at 9:30 a. m.; thence to St. James' Episcopal Church, 5th and E sts. ne., where mass will be said at 10 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Congressional Cemetery. Services by the W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast funeral home.

GARNER, LULA E. On Wednesday, November 30, 1938, at the National Homeopathic Hospital, LULA E. GARNER, beloved mother of Edward J. and William D. Goodwin. Funeral from her late residence, 901 I st. nw., on Saturday, December 3, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery. Arrangements by the Wm. H. Sardo & Co.

GILLIS, LESLIE. On Wednesday, November 30, 1938, at his residence, 1511 Meridian pl. nw., LESLIE GILLIS, beloved husband of Lillie N. Gillis and father of Leslie Gillis, jr. Services at the S. H. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., on Saturday, December 3, at 1 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery.

GREEN, ZOLA C. On Thursday, December 1, 1938, at Chicago, Ill., ZOLA C. GREEN, husband of Helen M. Green and son of the late George Forrest and Maria Devereux Green. Services in Chicago on Saturday, December 3. Interment in Holy Rood Cemetery, on Monday, December 5.

GREEN, LESLIE. On Friday, December 2, 1938, at his residence, 101 Cedar st., Alexandria, Va., LESLIE GREEN, aged 89 years, son of the late Thomas and Jane Leslie Green, of Portsmouth, Va. He is survived by three nieces. Miss Winnie and Miss Jane Leslie Cox, of Alexandria, Va., and Miss Mabel Dobbins, of Richmond, Va., a nephew, Mr. Hugh Seabrook Dobbins, of Richmond, Va. Funeral services at the Wheatley Funeral home, Alexandria, Va., on Saturday, December 3, at 1:30 p. m. Interment Ivy Hill Cemetery.

GUILFORD, MARY C. Suddenly, on Thursday, December 1, 1938, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Wilford Arthur Simpson, 1706 Upshur st. nw., MARY C. GUILFORD (nee Dugan), wife of the late Eugene K. Guilford. Funeral from the above residence on Monday, December 5, at 10:30 a. m.; thence to Sacred Heart Church, 16th st. and Park rd. nw., where requiem mass will be offered at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery.

HUGHES, JAMES FRANCIS. On Thursday, December 1, 1938, at Otsego, N. C., JAMES FRANCIS HUGHES, beloved husband of Katherine M. Hughes (nee Marsden). Notice of funeral later. Arrangements by P. A. Taltavull.

KERR, FRANK A. Suddenly, on Thursday, December 1, 1938, at 2:30 p. m., at his residence, 2665 36th pl. nw., FRANK A. KERR, the beloved husband of Marie L. Kerr (nee Sherwood) and father of Mrs. James J. Murphy, of Danbury, Conn. Funeral from the above residence on Monday, December 5, at 8:30 a. m.; thence to Holy Trinity Church, where mass will be said at 9 a. m. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery. Relatives and friends invited.

LINK, ANNA S. On Friday, December 2, 1938, at the residence of her son, 3713 Evans st., Brentwood, Md., ANNA S. LINK, beloved wife of the late Oscar M. Link. Funeral from the above residence on Monday, December 5, at 2 p. m. Interment Prospect Hill Cemetery. Relatives and friends invited. (Baltimore papers, please copy.)

FUNERAL DESIGNS.

Funeral Sprays $3 up

SINCE 1855 Smalls FLOWERS

Dupont Circle, Dupont 7000

GUDE BROS. CO., Florists
1212 F St. NAtional 4276.

GEO. C. SHAFFER 909 14th St. N.W. Phone NA. 0106. Expressive Floral Tributes. Moderate Prices. Open evenings and Sunday.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

J. WILLIAM LEE'S SONS CO. FUNERAL DIRECTORS
CREMATORIUM
4th and Mass. Ave. N.E. LI. 5200.

IN CASE OF DEATH CALL Chambers ONE OF THE LARGEST UNDERTAKERS IN THE WORLD

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

A Washington Institution since 1850

The Gawlers Make This Task Easier

THERE is no greater aid to overwrought nerves and mind than the genuine personal interest we take in helping those who call us to simplify the duties of bereavement. In countless ways we lighten the burden, and serve as a trusted friend.

◆ Above all, this record of 1,000 consecutive services, as selected by past patrons, is our pledge of a beautiful final tribute at a cost satisfactory to you:

75 services less than	$150
132 services between	$151 and $250
225 services between	$251 and $350
267 services between	$351 and $500
140 services between	$501 and $600
127 services between	$601 and $900
34 services more than	$900

Joseph GAWLER'S Sons

Cremations • Lady Assistant (Reg. Nurse)
1750-58 Penn. Ave. N.W. NAtional 5512
Just West of the White House
Alfred B. Gawler, Walter A. Gawler
Joseph H. Gawler, William A. Gawler

You Are Invited to Have the Services Here, Without Extra Charge

DIED.

WARDER, JOSEPH F. Suddenly, on Thursday, December 1, 1938, at his home, 314 East Bellefont ave., Alexandria, Va., JOSEPH F. WARDER, husband of Mary B. Warder and son of the late Benjamin Franklin and Nellie Warder, and sister of Mrs. Susie W. Lash, Arlington Ridge. Funeral, Saturday, December 3, at 3 p. m., from the Demaine funeral home, 817 King st., Alexandria, Va. Interment Methodist Protestant Cemetery, Alexandria, Va.

—Deaths—

Services by Chambers

Deceased	Undertaker
Cole, Jennie E.	W. W. Chambers Co.
Brooke, Frank	W. W. Chambers Co.
Morris, Mary E.	W. W. Chambers Co.
Staal, Julia M.	W. W. Chambers Co.
St. Clair, Harriet	W. W. Chambers Co.
Barrett, Susie V.	W. W. Chambers Co.

Legal Notices

CROMELIN, TOWNSEND, BROOKE and KIRKLAND, Attorneys. National Press Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54177, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Susan Dorman, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 21ST DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 21st day of November, 1938. SUSIE V. RIORDON, 4420 Kansas avenue northwest. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia. Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

JOHN F. HILLYARD, Attorney, 631 Pennsylvania Avenue Northwest.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54183, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Margaret Virginia Bean, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 23RD DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 23rd day of November, 1938. ROBERT W. McCULLOUGH, 808 H street northeast. (Seal.) Attest: THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

FEELLE, LESH, DRAIN & BARNARD, Attorneys, 1422 F St. N.W.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding a Probate Court, Estate of Eidson E. Harrison, deceased. No. 52166. Administration Docket 112. Application having been made herein for probate of the last will and testament of said deceased, and for letters testamentary on said estate by Ellis B. Harrison, it is ordered this 12th day of November, A. D. 1938, that Philip H. Harrison and John E. Harrison, infants, and their custodian, Virginia Harrison, now Virginia Williams, and all others concerned appear in said Court on TUESDAY, the 27TH DAY OF DECEMBER, A. D. 1938, at 10 a. m., to show cause why such application should not be granted. Let notice hereof be published in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post once in each of three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. Witness, the HONORABLE ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice of said Court, this 12th day of November A. D. 1938. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 19.26.3

LEO A. WALSHE, Attorney, 1107 Eye St. N.W.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54199, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters of administration on the estate of William A. Canty, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 28TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 28th day of November, 1938. A. CANTY, 521 H street northeast. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 3.10.17.

RALPH POTTS, Attorney, 617 11th St. N.E.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54124, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of Margaret Virginia Bean, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 23RD DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 23rd day of November, 1938. ROBERT W. McCULLOUGH, 808 H street northeast. (Seal.) Attest: THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 3.10.17.

JAMES A. CROOKS, Attorney, McGill Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding a Probate Court, Estate of Edward O'Brien, deceased. No. 54181. Administration Docket 116. Application having been made herein for probate of the last will and testament of said deceased, and for letters testamentary, on said estate, by Posey V. Hall and Horace R. Wood, it is ordered this 1st day of December, A. D. 1938, that Lillie Frey, Joseph Regan and the unknown heirs at law and next of kin of Edward O'Brien, deceased, and all others concerned, appear in said Court on TUESDAY, the 10th day of January, A. D. 1939, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause why such application should not be granted. Let notice hereof be published in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post once in each of three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. Witness, the honorable ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice of said Court, this 1st day of December, A. D. 1938. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 3.10.17

EDWARD J. REAMER, Attorney, 414 Evans Bldg.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54169, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of Isadore Kohlen, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 29TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 28th day of November, 1938. GORDON KOHLEN, 423 Randolph street northwest. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 3.10.17.

WHITEFORD, MARSHALL, HART & CARMODY, Attorneys for Executor, 815 Fifteenth Street Northwest.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. In re Estate of John C. Weedon, deceased. Adm. No. 49529. Order nisi on report of private sale. Simon Bube, executor of the estate of John C. Weedon, deceased, having reported to the court a private offer of Leroy L. Sawyer, jr., to purchase certain real estate belonging to the estate of said decedent, namely, Lots 73 and 74 in Square 882, improved by premises 630-632 M street southeast, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, for the sum of $13,000.00, all cash, subject to broker's commission of $490.00 and customary adjustments, it is, by the court, this 25th day of November, 1938, ordered, that the offer aforesaid be and hereby is approved unless cause to the contrary be shown on or before the 15TH DAY OF DECEMBER, 1938; provided a copy of this order be published once in the Washington Law Reporter and three times in The Washington Post at least ten days before said day. JESSIE C. ADKINS, Justice. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 1.2.3

Legal Notices

NORMAN FISCHER, Attorney, Edmonds Bldg.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54151, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscribers, of the District of Columbia, have obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of H. Mitchell Pfeffer, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscribers, on or before the 14TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under our hands this 14th day of November, 1938. KATHERINE L. PFEFFER, 3001 Davenport street northwest; NORMAN FISCHER, Edmonds Building. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

FEELLE, LESH, DRAIN & BARNARD, Attorneys, 1422 F St. N.W.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding a Probate Court. Estate of Eidson E. Harrison, deceased. No. 52166. Administration Docket 112. Application having been made herein for probate of the last will and testament of said deceased, and for letters testamentary on said estate by Ellis B. Harrison, it is ordered this 12th day of November, A. D. 1938, that Philip H. Harrison and John E. Harrison, infants, and their custodian, Virginia Harrison, now Virginia Williams, and all others concerned appear in said Court on TUESDAY, the 27TH DAY OF DECEMBER, A. D. 1938, at 10 a. m., to show cause why such application should not be granted. Let notice hereof be published in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post once in each of three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. Witness, the HONORABLE ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice of said Court, this 12th day of November A. D. 1938. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

MILTON WHITNEY, Attorney.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 53675, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Maryland, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of James A. Dixon, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 16TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 16th day of November, 1938. WALTER B. DIXON, Brandywine, Maryland. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

CROMELIN, TOWNSEND, BROOKE AND KIRKLAND, Attorneys. National Press Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54179, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of New Jersey, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Elisabeth Hulings Garwood, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 16TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 18th day of November, 1938. JAMES GARWOOD O'KEEFFE, Sr., 7 Mountain road, Verona, N. J. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

HAMILTON & HAMILTON, Attorneys.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54133, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters of administration on the estate of Kate Donohue, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 4TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under its hand this 17th day of November, 1938. UNION TRUST COMPANY OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, By CLARD A. McGRAW, Assistant Secretary. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 19.26-de3

AGNES M. FABER, Attorney, National Savings & Trust Bldg.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 53866, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Massachusetts, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Lucy Townsend Penrose, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 10TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 10th day of November, 1938. JULIAN T. CROMELIN, 1366 National Press Building. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia. Clerk of the Probate Court. 19.26-de3

BRUCE BAIRD, Attorney.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 53348, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of G. Berkeley Griffith, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 17TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under its hand this 22nd day of November, 1938. NATIONAL SAVINGS & TRUST CO., by H. PRESCOTT GATLEY, president. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10.

FRANK E. SCRIVENER, Attorney, 914 G ST. N.W.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54186, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Massachusetts, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters of administration on the estate of Sarah Frances Brown, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 21ST DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 21st day of November, 1938. MABEL CISCLE MARSH, 106 E. Emerson st., Melrose, Mass. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10.

Legal Notices

WILLIAM B. HANBACK, Attorney, 1912 H St. N.W.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the District of Columbia, holding a Probate Court. In re Estate of Annie E. Fergusson, deceased. Administration No. 53880. Order of publication. Application having been made herein for probate of the last will and testament of said deceased, and for letters of administration, c. t. a. on said estate by Dora R. Lambert, it is ordered this 21st day of November, A. D. 1938, that Roy L. Kyger, Elkton, Virginia; Margaret R. Hodges, 624 Berkshire avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; John F. Fairbanks, jr., San Diego, California, and all others concerned appear in said court on TUESDAY, THE 3RD DAY OF JANUARY, A. D. 1939, at ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why such application should not be granted. Let notice hereof be published in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post once in each of three successive weeks before the return day herein mentioned, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before said return day. Witness, the HONORABLE ALFRED A. WHEAT, Chief Justice of said Court, this 21st day of November, A. D. 1938. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

BRUCE BAIRD, Attorney.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 53866, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Massachusetts, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Lucy Townsend Penrose, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 10TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 10th day of November, 1938. JULIAN T. CROMELIN, 1366 National Press Building. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia. Clerk of the Probate Court. 19.26-de3

BRUCE BAIRD, Attorney.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 53348, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of G. Berkeley Griffith, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 17TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under its hand this 18th day of November, 1938. JAMES GARWOOD O'KEEFFE, Sr., 7 Mountain road, Verona, N. J. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 26.3.10

CHAPIN B. BAUMAN, Attorney. 600 F St. N.W.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54122. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of Carl Schafer, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 14TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1939; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 14th day of November, 1938. CHRISTINA SCHAFER, 5600 Arkansas avenue northwest. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 19.26.3.

CROMELIN, TOWNSEND, BROOKE & KIRKLAND, Attorneys, National Press Bldg.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 54134, Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters of administration c. t. a. on the estate of John S. Barker, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same,

Put Your Room on a Paying Basis—Rent It With a Post Want Ad

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Help—Male 12

Continued From Preceding Page

BARBER—First class, for Saturday. Guarantee and commission. Reliable Barber Shop, Third and Kennedy sts. nw

EXPERIENCED young colored neat houseman; references. NOrth 9129.

MAN (white) may earn room, part-time work or secure board and room for $4.75 wkly. Co-Operative Club, 1607 Kye st. nw.

PAPERHANGERS (2) WANTED—A-1 mechanics. Apply 1235 12th st. nw.

SALESMAN—CONTRACTORS EQUIPMENT Practical experience and sales background necessary; no other need apply. Apply by letter only. General Supply and Equipment Co., Inc., 530 E. 25th st., Baltimore, Md.

SPECIALTY salesman with automobile to demonstrate a nationally known woodworking and metal cutting machine throughout Maryland on a very attractive basis. A splendid opportunity for a good man. Box M-285, Washington Post.

SPLENDID opportunity for Advertising calendar and novelty man in protected territory. Complete new line available in about week's time with a commission and bonus plan that offers unusual income. Experience not essential but helpful. Write District Sales Manager, Box 394, Easton, Md.

WANTED—First-class Auto Painter; either salary or piece work; steady job with plenty of work. Apply immediately to Mr. Goodrum, HAMMOND MOTORS, 6900 Wisconsin avenue, (Bethesda.)

WANTED—Experienced used car salesman. Ample floor periods; attractive compensation basis. This is your opportunity to join old reliable concern selling finest products. Apply to Mr. Wellborn, 1321 14th st. nw. H. B. Leary, Jr., & Bros.

MEN—(THREE)
For special Christmas sales work. Nice proposition. Commission and bonus guaranteed. 1317 F st. nw., Room 301.

Employment Agencies 14

RUPHER'S Employment Agency can furnish colored domestic help; ref. DE. 3551.

Situations—Female 16

GIRL (colored) desires any kind of work; no cooking; refs. 1443 Duncan st. ne.

GIRL (colored) desires days work, Tuesday and Wednesday or part time morning work; no Sunday. Call DI. 4485.

COLORED WOMAN—Day or part time; willing worker; honest; not afraid of any work. 411 21st st. nw. RE. 8509.

COLORED GIRL wishes work, maid or waitress. Reference. LI. 6516-J.

Situations—Male 17

NEWSPAPERMAN dreams of getting another job on pay roll; mature, versatile, highly recom'd. A. S. Beane. COl. 8597.

YOUNG MAN (colored) wants job as porter, driver or janitor; refs. 828 24th nw.

YOUNG MAN would like to exchange part-time services for room and board. References. AD. 2267.

Instructions 19

GREGG SHORTHAND, touch typing, Eng., arith., speed dict.; begin. and review. Indiv. inst. 1836 Conn. ave. DE. 3284.

SHORTHAND, touch typing, bookkeeping, spelling, let. writ., calculating mach. Position. BOYD SCHOOL, 1333 F. NA. 2340.

LEARN BEAUTY CULTURE.
WARFLYNN BEAUTY COLLEGE.
1018 Vermont Ave. DI. 1762.

Learn Diesel Engines
(HEMPHILL DIESEL SCHOOLS.)
For men who qualify. Write Registrar, Mr. Miller, 921 Emerson st. nw.

Money-to-Loan 26

CHATTEL and 2d trust notes purchased. 1-day service. Mr. Purcell, MEt. 4814.

ON diamonds, watches, jewelry, silverware, etc., no adv. arrangements necs., lowest int. rates. Rosslyn Loan Co., Rosslyn, Va.

Real Estate Loans 27

MONEY AVAILABLE at prevailing rates for first mortgage loans. Louis P. Shoemaker, 1719 K st. nw. NA. 1166.

LOANS TO HOME OWNERS.
No delay. Low rates. Easy terms. We also purchase collateral and indorse notes. SECURITY FINANCE CORPORATION. 838 Investment Bldg. District 8672.

Rooms—Furnished 30

A ST. SE., 327—Modern pvt. home, well furn. rooms; $22.50 single, $35 double.

A BRIGHT STUDIO ROOM, fireplace, service; reasonable. 1733 N st. nw.

ALTURAS (1509 16th st. nw.)—Comfortable rms., nr. showers; fireproof bldg.; daily maid and 24-hr. el. ser.; $4 wk. up.

AMERICAN UNIV. PARK—Well furnished room, semiprivate bath, shower; gentlemen; $18 single; $25 double. EM. 6223.

ARIZONA HOTEL (310 C st. nw., 1 square off Pa. ave.)—Neatly furn. rooms; lobby; plenty baths, showers and hot water; $3.50 wk. up; transients, 50c and 75c.

AT D ST., 401 16th ne.—Large front rm., southern exp.; double or twin beds; Beautyrest mattress; new home; $25. LI. 7927.

ATTRACTIVELY furn., large double; sunny, spotless. 1336 N. H. ave. (Dupont Cir.)

ATTRACTIVE, large room, one $24, two $26; double or twin beds; near bath, shower. 2326 19th st. nw. DU. 3628.

ATTRACTIVE, outside, southern-exposure bed-living room, semiprivate bath; priv. entrance; $20; convenient cars, bus. 3601 13th st. nw. COl. 3732-W.

ATTRACTIVELY decorated, new maple furniture; front; bath; private; reas. 1215 5th st. ne.

BEAUT., attrac., lg. rm.; heat; pvt. show.; bus stop; owner's home; gentleman only. $25 mo. (Cleveland Pk.) 3405 Lowell nw.

BELMONT ST. NW., 1443—Large 1st floor front rm., southern exp.; nr. semiprivate bath; ½ blk. transp.; gentleman; reas.

BETHESDA, MD., master bedrm., private shower; 1 blk. Wisc. ave. and Rockville pike; sing., $5; dble., $7. WI. 2849-W.

BRIGHTWOOD, 315 Peabody nw.—Bed-living rm, private shower; $25. GE. 7366.

CALVERT ST. NW., 1824 (18th and Col. Rd.)—Desir., well-kept rm. for 1; bright, attractive; nr. bath; priv. home; reas.

CATHEDRAL vicinity, corner, detached private home; well furnished room, private bath, inclosed sleeping porch. Every comfort. Garage. Gentleman, WO. 6263.

CHAPIN ST. NW., 1431—Well-furn., quiet, conv.; unlim. phone. Gentleman.

CHEVY CHASE, 3931 Jennifer St., large single rm., priv. bath, immense closet, newly furn.; on bus line; $25. EM. 8498.

CHEVY CHASE—Large attractive room with sleeping porch; quiet, det. home; 2 exposures; semipriv. bath, $25; 3715 Military rd., nr. Conn. ave. EM. 0696.

CHEVY CHASE, 5330 41st st.—Sgle. or dble. Priv. lavatory; nr. bus. $20-$30. WO.0797

CHEVY CHASE, D. C., near Circle—Well-furnished room, adj. bath, shower; free auto transportation; $20. WO. 3509.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.—Single front rm., ½ blk. Conn. ave.; Gentile; $20. EM. 5043.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.—Master bedrm.; pvt. shower; twin beds; $17.50 ea. EM. 0192.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C., just off Conn. ave. Front bedrm. and den; priv. shower; modernistically furn. in white; Venetian blinds; 2 empl. adults; $50. EM. 6580.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.—Just off Conn. ave., cheery room, beautifully furnished; a real home; $20; breakfast, garage, if desired. EM. 4105.

CHILLUM HEIGHTS, 112 Ingraham nw. Master bedrm., priv. shower, twin beds; ½ blk. bus; men; $17.50 ea. RA. 5280.

CLEAN single rm., nr. bath; priv. home; $3.50 wk. 1310 Spring rd. nw. CO. 4888-R.

COLUMBIA RD., 1707, Apt. 105. The Chatham—Nicely furn. front room, twin beds, innerspring mattresses; $17.50 each.

COLUMBIA rd. section (2325 20th)—Bright, cheerful, cozy; car. bus, reas. PO. 3206.

COLUMBIA RD., 1834—$3 wk., clean, outside rms.; 4 baths; men. AD. 10213.

COMFORT, rm., facing Lincoln Park; use phone; every conv.; gentleman. LI. 8005.

CONDUIT rd. nw., 4511—Nr. Georgetown U. bus to downtown. $16 mo WO. 8718.

DOWNTOWN, 1025 15th st. nw., Apt. 505. Clean, bright, warm room, twin beds; settled ladies or couple. DI. 0967.

DOWNTOWN, 1336 MASS. AVE., apt. 2 over drug store. Large front; 1 or 2; nr. bath.

DUPONT CIRCLE, 1622 19TH ST. N.W.—Cozy basement rm., private entrance, private bath; fireplace. NO. 0064-J.

EUCLID NW., 1218—Attractive room, next bath; priv. Christian home; man; $18.

EUCLID ST. NW., 1359—Well-furnished attractive twin bedrooms; southern exps. Near bath; transp. at door. $3.50 ea.

FOR refined girl; attractive room; well-appointed home; $25 mo.; ref. required. 1715 Riggs pl. nw., vicinity 18th and R.

GALLATIN ST. NW., 317—1 warm rm., near bath; kitchen priv. if desired.

GENTLEMAN, 1225 11th St. N.W.—Warm large bed-sitting room; 5 windows; large closet; sdf. tile bath; c. h. w. Quiet priv. home. Suitable 1 or 2. MEt. 4347.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Rooms—Furnished 30

GENTLEMEN, nice warm room at 1760 Kenyon nw.; garage. AD. 4613.

GLOVER PARK, 3725 W St. N.W.—Well furnished room, semi-pvt. bath, shower; $16 mo. Em. 8592 after 5 p. m.

GRAFTON HOTEL (1129 Conn. Ave.)—Offers beautiful surroundings and personal comfort to each guest. Single rooms, $7.50-$8.75 week up; $30.50 month up. Double rooms, $4.50-$5.00 week up per person; $35.50 month up.

IRVING ST. NW., 1475—Large, warm, well-furn. room, semiprivate bath, shower; $5 single; $6 double. ADams 0181.

IRVING ST. NW., 1356—Lovely, bright single or dble. rms., newly furn.; maid serv. Everything to make you comf. AD. 6395.

LANIER PL. NW., 1767, nr. 18th and Columbia rd.—Comfortable south rms.; oil heat; owner's detached home; gentlemen; $15-$20 mo. CO. 1526. 4 to 6 p. m.

M ST. N.W., 1329 (Tho. Cir.)—Single rm. front, $15 mo. Also other rooms.

MARYLAND INN (1024 17th st. nw.)—Attractive front room, near bath, c. h. w. Twin beds. Ample closet space.

MASS. AVE. N.W., 3527—Cozy, attractively furnished room for gentleman; $25 mo.; convenient cars and bus. Woodley 0542.

NEAR 18TH, Columbia rd. (1857 Mintwood pl. nw.)—Large room, nicely furnished, $6.50 week. COl. 9415.

NEAR CAPITOL, 122 4th st. se.—Small, comfortable room; private family; employed gentleman; $15.

NEW HAMPSHIRE AVE. NW., 1800—Newly furn. rooms; all modern; $16 month.

N. H. NW., 1241—2-room suites, semipriv. bath; 3 boys, $12.50 month each.

O ST. NW., 2119—Gentleman; warm, convenient; $3.75 week.

ONTARIO PL. NW., 1824—Attractive room, next bath, Beautyrest mattress; privileges; lady; $20. AD. 8352-W.

PETWORTH, 4023 Illinois ave.—Nice front room, $20 per month; oil heat, phone.

PETWORTH, 812 Emerson st. nw.—South room, next bath; good private home; 2 in family; gentleman; $16.

QUINCY ST. NW., 1319—Large front rm., adj. bath; express bus. RAndolph 2489.

SINGLE ROOM, semiprivate bath; near buses. WOodley 4740.

THE WESTMINSTER, 1607 17th nw. Warm, comfort. rms. with running water; singles, $4.50 up; doubles, $6 up; with bath, $8; plenty hot water, showers; elevator.

UPTON ST. NW., 2969, nr. Bureau of Standards—Newly furnished single or double room; gentlemen pref. EM. 8126.

5TH ST. NW., 4126—Single or double room in private home, $3-$7.

10TH ST. NW., 3512—Newly furnished studio rm., $6 wk.

11TH ST. NW., 1112—Nice double room, $5 weekly.

13TH ST. NW., 3215—Large, attrac. front room, $20; $25 for 2. COl. 4865.

13TH ST. NW., 1114 (downtown)—Newly furnished and dec. rms., $3.50 wk. up.

13TH ST. NW., 3412—Near Park rd. Single or double room; maple furniture, $20 up.

14TH ST. NE., 513—Cozy room for employed gentleman, $10 mo. Priv. family.

15TH ST. NE., 31—Comfortably furnished front rm., near bath; private home; conv. transp. Gentleman, $15 mo. AT. 1606.

16TH ST. NW., 1846—Well-furnished rm., next bath; c.h.w.; gentleman. $18 mo.

16TH ST. N.W., 1730—For lady, single rm., south and west exposures; h.-w. h., semi-private bath. Reasonable.

16TH ST. NW., 1842, Apt. 2—Large front room, next bath and shower; $25 a month. PO. 3597.

16TH ST. N.W.—Large room, twin beds, in modern apt. with private family; references exchange. Phone COl. 5294.

16TH ST. N.W., 1730—For lady, single rm., south and west exposures; h.-w. h., semi-private bath. Reasonable.

18TH NW., 1724—Attractive rm., 2d flr., 1 or 2 ladies; also young lady share rm., twin beds. Innersprings. DE. 4683.

19TH ST. NW., 2017—Attractive corner rm., adj. bath; running water; gentleman. DE. 4703.

32ND ST. N.W., 3002—Lovely neighborhood near Shoreham; 2d floor, large single room adjoining semipriv. bath, shower; near bus. Gentleman. CLeveland 1527.

1743 Q ST. NW.—Large, bright, warm room, twin beds; also single; $25 up.

"2029 F"
A permanent address for gentlemen.

THE VIVIAN
1723 G st. nw. 100 newly furnished rooms, innerspring mattresses; singles, $6.50 up; doubles, $8.50 up. Modernistic furnishings; elevator, maid service; near showers; right downtown.

COLORED—1423 Swann st. nw.; nicely furnished double room. NO. 0290.

Housekeeping Suites 30A

ANACOSTIA RD. NE., 35—2 lge. rm., adj. bath, $28 mo. inc. elec., heat, gas, a.m.i.

TRINIDAD AVE. NE., 1104—Partly furn 2 rms.; elec., heat, gas incl. LIn. 5302-W.

7TH ST. NE., 15—Two rooms; porch, semi-private bath; l. h. k., gas, light, heat, c.h.w. incl.; reasonable.

8TH ST. NW., 4219—1 rm., kit., sink; conv. store, cars and bus; $35 mo. AD. 1621.

Rooms—Unfurnished 32

BROOKLAND, 3716 12th st. ne., 2 rooms, light, water and gas included; $15 mo.

2327 PA. AVE. S.E. (over Penn. Fruit Shop)—5 rms., elec. $25 mo. Before 6 p. m.

Suburban Rooms 33

ARLINGTON—New home; single or double rm., priv. bath; 10c bus line; good home-cooked meals; gentlemen. WAlnut 6871.

ARLINGTON, 1901 N. 16th st.—Comft. warm rm., employed couple. WA. 6348.

Room and Board 34

A BOARDING CLUB downtown, excellent for Govt. clerks and business people, exceptional meals; $35 up. 1124 12th st. nw.

ARLINGTON—New home; double room, twin beds, private bath; 10c bus line; meals optional; gentlemen. WA. 6871.

ATTRACTIVE private home. Single, or double rm. Meals opt. 3360 16th st. nw.

BRIGHTWOOD, 6109 5th st. nw.—Newly furn. warm room; for 1 or 2; c. h. w.; priv. home; bus at door; $35-$40. GE. 7414

COUPLE BOARDED in private estate; excellent meals; $90 month. WA. 6576.

DUPONT CIRCLE—French family; sunny room; corner home; good neighborhood; walking distance; $40 up. DU. 0458.

DUP. CIRCLE, 1322 19th St.—Newly dec. rm.; family style meals; private home.

HARVARD ST. NW., 1424—Comfortably furn. rm. for 2; near bath; excel. food; bus at door; priv.; refined surroundings.

INGRAHAM ST. NW., 1401—Master bedrm., twin beds; congenial home for young people; fireplace, recreation rm., laundry; best food; transp. at door; $35-$42.50.

K ST. NW., 1623—Front room, twin beds; c. h. w.; good meals; $35 ea. ME. 1393.

KENNEDY ST. NW., 1438 (off 16th)—Detached guest home for refined young people; single beds; oil heat. Good food.

MD. AVE. NE., 659—Warm front room for 1 or 2; family style meals.

MD. AVE. N.E., 326—Warm front room; family-served meals; $7 wk. AT. 5235.

MASSACHUSETTS AVE. N. W., 1776—A distinctive home for young people in an unsurpassed location. Reasonable.

MT. PLEASANT, 1801 Kenyon st. nw.—Warm corner rms. Southern exp. Transp. at door; home priv.; $32.50. up. AD. 4453.

N ST. NW., 1728—Lovely large front; twin studio beds; running water; fireplace; $36.50, including exceptional meals.

NEAR Capitol, 105 4th st. ne.—Attractively furn. rm., 3 windows, twin beds; 1 block transp.; home cooking; $35 ea. AT. 1880.

NEAR 14th and Park rd., 3323 Holmead pl. Warm, comfortable single room; good meals, family style; $8.50 wk. AD. 10151.

PETWORTH—Lovely outside room, private home; board opt.; reas. RA. 2514.

T ST. NW., 52—Nicely furnished front room; twin beds; c. h. w.; $30 each.

WIDOW'S refined guest home; excellent meals; single or double; reasonable rates. 1458 Ogden st. nw., CO. 10269.

16TH NE., 302—Vacancy; young lady; twin beds; new home; every conv. AT. 7647.

1020 16TH ST. N.W.—Attractive rooms for young ladies; walking distance. Excellent meals. Reasonably priced.

1822-24 LAMONT ST.—Exceptionally pleasant home for particular young people; reputation good food; $30 up.

1931 19TH ST. NW.—Beautiful colonial hom., opposite park; large 2d fl. single-double; twin beds; balanced meals; accessible.

THE BLUE WILLOW INN.
912a Georgia ave.; newly furnished, large, bright, single or double room; excellent meals; on busline; $35 up. SH. 5735.

FLETCHER ARMS
1726 N. H. AVE. N.W.
Single rooms, room with private bath. Switchboard service. Rates from $40 to $55. Excellent meals.

NAPOLEON AND UNCLE ELBY

By Clifford McBride

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Children Boarded 35

VACANCY for school-age girl; private suburban home; all conveniences; large yard; 10c zone; $5 week. GR. 3523-W.

Apartments—Furnished 45

A NICELY furn. 2-rm. apt.; Frigid., sink, gas, elec.; adults; $32.50. 1009 Mass. ne.

A SPACIOUS room; downtown; ideal for studio apt.; l.b.k. facilities if desired; other privileges. AT. 1108, mornings.

AN unusually large liv. rm., bedrm., hall, kit., din. alcove, bath, porch; open expos.; $85. Upper 16th st. AD. 3279-J after 6.

ATTRACTIVE 3-room furnished apt. Southwest exposure. See resident manager, Sedgwick Gardens, 3726 Conn. ave. nw.

ATTRACTIVE 1st floor, completely furn.; large liv. rm., bedrm., twin beds; priv. bath; classed dinette, modern furn.; kit. pantry; linens, phone, garage; conv. to Capitol, Navy Yard, Pa. ave. cars; suit. 2 adults; ref. exchanged; inspect by appointment. Sat., Dec. 3, "36-May 1. '39. LI. 3109-M. 1435 Potomac ave. se.

AT WARDMAN Park Hotel—Neat apt. Address of distinction. 2 r., k. & b.; share with busi. woman. Box 58, Wash. Post.

BACHELOR APT.—Bedrm., sitting rm., bath. G. E. 1661 Crescent pl. AD. 9610.

CHAPIN ST. NW., 1470—2d flr. front, attractive studio liv. rm., 2 bedrms., din., kit., Frig.; c.h.w.; $55. Adults. AD. 5420.

CHINESE ATMOSPHERE—Artistically furn. 2 rooms, bath, improvised kitchenette. Frigid., 2 large closets. $47.50. Maison D'Art, 1741 R. I. ave. (off Conn. at M.)

CLEAN 1-2 rms., kit.; Frigid., gas, elec. $5, $8, $12 wk. 2544 14th st. nw. Janitor.

CLIFTON NW., 1474—Cheerful 1-rm. kit. apt.; refg., gas, elec.; Gentile adults; $35.

CLIFTON ST. NW., 1425—Front 2 room apt., complete for l.h.k.; next bath; reas.; also sleeping rooms; garage available.

COMPLETELY furn. 3-rm. apt.; priv. home; refg., gas; $10 wk. 227 12th se. LI. 5638.

CONGENIAL widow will share home with couple or person. Arrangements to suit. Refs. DE. 6266, Br. 73; eve., DE. 6069-W.

CORNER studio apt., 1 rm., kit., priv. bath; Frigid.; adults; nr. Capitol. 25 5th se.

EAST, WEST, SOUTH exposure, 2 spacious rooms (liv. room, 26x16, with fireplace), dressing rm., kit., frigid., bath suitable for 2 or 3; $68.50. Maison d'Art, 1741 R. I. Ave. (off Conn. at M.)

EUCLID ST. NW., 1200—Delightful, 2 rooms, kitchen, bath; a. m. i.; corner home; convenient transp. ADams 1208.

F ST. NW., 2316, Apt. 103—1 room, kitchen, bath. Front apt., 1st floor. $35.

FRANCIS SCOTT KEY APT. HOTEL (20th and F sts. nw.)—1 rm., kitchen, dinette, private bath; day, $2.50; week, $15; mo., $50; full service; Frigidaire; good furniture. NA. 5425.

GIBRALTAR, 2305 18th ST. NW.—2 and 3-room units; light, gas, linens; janitor service; $10.50 per week up.

IRVING ST. NW., 1348—1st fl., 1 rm., kit., bath; refg., gas, c.h.w.; empl. couple; $40.

K ST. NE., 1121—Newly dec. 2 nice rms., kit.; Frigid. Adults only. $9 week.

MD. AVE. NE., 618—1 room, kitchenette apt., nicely furn., semi-bath; reas.

MASS. AVE. SE., 1612—Entire 2nd flr.; 3 rms., kit., bath; garage; excellently furn. Adults. LIncoln 5625-J.

N. J. AVE. S.E., 429—Mod. 3-rm. apt.; refrig., gas, elec., adults; $40. AT. 2317.

PARK RD. NW., 1355—Living room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen, dinette and bath, $65 per month. Completely furnished; heat, light and electric refrigeration included. Must be seen to be appreciated. Apply Mrs. Sweeney, second floor.

PARK RD. NW., 1654—Attr. 2 rms., bath apt.; private entrance; well lighted.

PARK RD. NW., 1322—Best location. 2 large A-1 rooms with kit., din., refg., sink, gas, elec. Adults, $45. COl. 1762.

PARKWELL, 3500 13th st.—Excel. location; 1, 2 large rms., kit., large din.; Frigid.; elev.; superior furnishings; $40-$65.

S ST. NW., 75—2 rooms, completely furn., including Frigidaire. Rent reasonable.

STONELEIGH COURT—2 rooms, bath, kitchenette; handsomely furnished; short or long lease. National 2266, Apt. 410A.

YOUNG professional man or junior executive share handsomely furn. 5-rm. apt.; close in; meals. Call MEt. 5998, 7 to 8.

11TH ST. SW., 323—2 rms., light-housekeeping apt.; $25 mo. Before 6 p. m.

13TH ST. NW., 3112—Entire fl.; warm, cheerful; one room, lg. kitchen, bath, c. h. w., gas, Frigid., lights furnished.

16TH ST. NW., 1825—Large airy, 1 room; kitchen apt.; fireplace; also attractive basement apt.; frigidaires; reasonable.

Furn. or Unfurn. 46

CLIFTON MANOR (2514 14th St. NW.)—1 room, kit., tile bath with shower; parquet floors; 24-hour elevator, switchboard serv.; Frigidaire; $35-$55. Avail Dec. 1.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

ALEXANDRIA, VA.—Building and completing 32 more outside corner sunny apts. 2 and 3 rooms, kitchen, bath with tub and shower; $45 to $50 mo., including heat; city water, hot water, janitor service; gar.; several now avail. See these before you decide. RAYMOND, DeWitt and Duncan aves. Phone TEmple 3190; open eves.; closed Sundays.

BEAUTIFULLY attrac. redecorated apt.; near Navy Yard; a. m. i.; dinette, kit.; hardwood floors; reas. 512 6th st. se.

BRIGHTWOOD—New det. corner home; beautiful, 1 room, kitchen, private bath; refrigeration; Venetian blinds; gas, elec.; unlimited phone; employed adults; references. GEorgia 6030.

CALIFORNIA ST. NW., 2151—Attractive apartment, 2 bedrooms, bath, combination living room and dining room, large kitchen and pantry, rear porch; gas and electricity included; $85. MR. MILLS, District 1015. WILLIAM H. SAUNDERS CO., INC., 1519 K st. nw.

CAPITOL HEIGHTS (5811 Southern ave. se.)—3 large rooms, kit., bath, hot water, elec.; conv. stores, bus, school; large porch. Open. Apt 6. $30.50. Hillside 0135-W.

DOWNTOWN—Near Library; 2 rooms, kit., bath, porch; $32.50. NA. 6680.

EYE ST. S.E., 1205—Two rooms, private bath; $5 week.

F ST. SW., 480—3 rooms, bath and back porch. $30 per month.

FAIRMONT ST. NW., 1452—2 rooms, kit., priv. bath; refrigerator; unlim. phone.

GEORGIA AVE., 5603—1 and 2 bedrooms, spacious living rm., kit., dinette, bath; new bldg. Apply 5601 Ga. ave. GE. 0420.

K ST. NE., 15—3 rms., private bath; gas, elec., heat included. Reas. Adults.

MONROE ST. N.W., 1635—First floor, 3 rooms, kitchen, bath, sleeping porch; oil heat.

ONE, TWO ROOMS, kitchen, dinette and bath; completely modern apartments. 930 Randolph st. nw.

PARKWELL, 3500 13th st.—Excellent location, 1, 2, 4- large rms., kit., large din., huge closets; Frigid.; elev. $35-$66.

PENN ST. NE., 1266—2 rooms, kit., bath, porch, frigid.; pvt. ent.; heat, gas, light, c. h. w. included. $40. LIn. 4061-J.

RAVENAL, 1610 16th nw.—1 rm., dinette, kit., $45-$47.50; 2 rms., k., $62.50 to $65; 2 rms., large foyer, dinette, kit., $75. Furn. apts. at higher rentals. DE. 3460.

RHODE IS. AVE. NW.—Two rooms, kit., bath, Frigidaire; newly renovated; beautifully arranged; $47.50. DEcatur 3020.

R. I. AVE. N.E., 2213, APT. 2—2 rooms, kit., bath, elec. refrig., Venetian blinds; in excellent condition. Apply 2209 R. I. ave. ne. NO. 9749.

SEVERAL attractive apartments in desirable location for rent. AMERICAN SECURITY & TRUST CO., NAtl. 4815.

SEVERAL desirable apartments available. RANDALL H. HAGNER & CO., INC. 1321 Conn. Ave. DEcatur 3600.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

UNUSUALLY well equipped 2 rooms, kitchen, bath; studio room and bath; suitable for artist or office.
HARRIET HOLTHER, Agent.
1734 K St. N.W.

3D ST. NE., 122—3 rooms, kitchen and bath; electricity, gas, Frigidaire; heat; near Capitol. Library, Supreme Court.

10TH ST. NW., 3512—4 rms., bath; heat, light, gas; Frigidaire; $50 month.

23D ST. SE., 1529—2 rooms, kitchenette, bath; Frigidaire, heat; $47.50. LI. 9013-J.

1401 TUCKERMAN ST. N.W.
1 room, dinette, kit., bath, foyer...$47.50
2 rooms, dinette, kitchen, bath.....$55.00

$47.50 (Woodridge), 2 rms, kit. b. priv. ent., redec., l. gas, heat, refrig. inc. DU. 2892.

3622 11TH N.W.—5 rms., bath, gas, elec., oil heat; $35. Davis, Agt., 733 12th nw.

818 22D ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, bath, oil heat...$37.50
JOSEPH P. SMITH. REp. 3309.

$55—5410 8th st. nw. Entire private second floor; tile bath, shower, heat, hot water, gas, elec. refrigeration; adults.

1329 10TH ST. N.W.
3 rooms, kit., bath; heat furnished; excellent condition; rent reduced. MEt. 5400.

220 DOUGLAS ST. NE., Apt. 2—Beautiful corner apt., 2 rooms, kitchen and bath, dining alcove, screened porch; oil heat and hot water included; redecorated; rent reasonable. DI. 2434. STEUART BROS., INC.

1830 R ST. N.W.
½ Block Conn. Ave.—Downtown.
2 large rooms, kitchen and bath....$57.50
Resident Manager, NO. 0983.
MT. VERNON MTGE. CORP.
Second Floor, Machinist Bldg. NA. 5536.

FREE RENT TO DECEMBER 1ST
1815 A st. se. Modern, 2 rooms, kitchen, reception hall and bath; refrigerator; $40; near Eastern High School; see janitor

COMPLETELY furn. 3-rm. apt.; priv. home; refs., gas; $10 wk. 227 12th se. LI. 5638.

RENT REDUCED TO $32.50.
NEAR LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath; newly decorated; electricity, gas, hot-water heat; heat furnished. Inspect 122 D st. se.
A. HUMPHRIES
808 No. Capitol. Realtor. NA. 6731.

$62.50.
1628 COLUMBIA RD. N.W.
"THE CAVENDISH."
Double View—Parquet Floors.
3 Rooms, Kitchen, Bath.
Inspect Today—or Call
807 15th. AMERICAN CO. NA. 8032.

1208 EVARTS ST. N.E.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath.....$40.00
Resident Manager, DUpont 7320.
MT. VERNON MTGE. CORP.
Second Floor, Machinist Bldg. NA. 5536.

$50.00 for
3 BIG rooms, kitchen, tile bath. Parquet floors. FREE REFRIGERATION. See this NOW
1444 W St. N.W.
"SEMINOLE."
AGENTS.
THE AMERICAN CO.
807 15th. NA. 8032.

2200 PROUT ST. S.E.
3 rooms, screened porch, h.-w. heat..$38.00
1711 V ST. S.E.
3 rooms, dinette, bath; h.-w. heat...$38.50
1701 V ST. S.E.
2-bedroom apt.; h.-w. heat.....$42.50
423 MELLON ST. (OPEN.)
Congress Hgts.; 2-bedroom apt. with refrigerator.....$41.50
1528 GOOD HOPE RD.
3 rooms, hot-water heat.....$35.00
1617 W ST. S.E.
5 rooms, bath; h.-w. heat.....$35.00
HARTMAN REALTY, INC.
ATLANTIC 5584.

1614 17TH ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath.....$52.50
Gas, electricity included in rent.
Resident Manager, DE. 3218

414 SEWARD SQUARE S.E.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath.....$45.00
Gas and electricity included in rent.
Resident Manager, AT. 4078.

1451 PARK ROAD N.W.
1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath..$42.50
Refrigeration on house current.
Resident Manager, AD. 6939.

4700 CONN. AVE. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath and porch.....$75.00
3 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath and porch.....$95
6 rooms, kitchen, 2 baths and porch.....$135.00
Refrigeration on house current. Elevator and switchboard service.
Resident Manager, CL. 0845.

3220 CONN. AVE. N.W.
1 room, kitchen, dinette, bath.....$45.00
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath.....$60.00
Refrigeration on house current.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service.
Resident Manager, CLeveland 0764.

1530 R. I. AVE. N.E.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath and porch.....$48.50
Refrigeration on house current. Elevator.
Resident Manager, NOrth 7157

2145 CALIFORNIA ST. N.W.
1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath..$45.00
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath..$60.00
Refrigeration on house current.
Resident Manager, DU. 1674.

1702 SUMMIT PLACE N.W.
1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath..$45.00
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath.....$52.50
Gas, electricity included in rent.
Resident Manager, AD. 10480.

1615 KENYON ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath; Murphy bed and dressing closet...$62.50
Gas, electricity and switchboard service included in rent.
Resident Manager, CO. 8425.

4800 GEORGIA AVE. N.W.
2 large rooms, foyer, kitchen, dinette, bath and porch.....$55.00
Gas, Electricity Included in Rent.
Resident Manager, GE. 6996.

1126 11TH ST. N.W.
1 room and bath (bachelor).....$30.00
1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath...$42.50
Gas, electricity included in rent.
Resident Manager MEt. 0635.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE & GUARANTY CORPORATION.
1610 K St. N.W. National 1403.

1832 BILTMORE ST., N. W.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath.

6805 GEORGIA AVE.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath.
ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION.
$50

2008 16TH ST. N.W.
Modern, 2 rooms, kit., bath, large foyer.

THE WINTON
1409 HARVARD ST. N.W.
Completely redecorated apt., consisting of 2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath and porch. $45.50.

2517
MOZART PL. N.W.
Between 16th and 17th, Euclid St. and Columbia Road.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath..... $79.50
Gas and Electricity Included
H. L. Rust Co.
1001 15th St.
NAtl. 8100

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

1840 MINTWOOD PL. N.W.
3 large rooms, bath, butler's pantry, hall, kitchen, porch.
2 large rooms, bath, kitchen, porch.
ADAMS 0339.

2001 16TH ST. N.W.
Upper 16th St. Embassy District
Very attractive corner apt. consisting of 3 rms., kitchen and bath; convenient to cars and buses; all rooms are large; bright, airy with commanding view of the city to the south, east and west.

1441 HARVARD ST. N.W.
A most desirable and convenient location. Two large rooms, kitchen and bath, newly decorated; $45, including refrigeration. Mgr., Apt. 32. COl. 1719.

THE SUSQUEHANNA
1430 W ST. N.W.
4 rooms, kitchen and bath.....$42.50

1758 QUE ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath.
ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION
$50

2501 14th ST. N.W.
2 rms., dinette, kitchen, bath.
Refrigeration free; elevator...$47.
919 L ST. N.W.
3 rms., kitchen, bath, pantry, electric refrigeration; elev...$47.50
1115 8th ST. N.W.
3 rms., kit., bath, elec. refg...$40.00
4820 RESERVOIR RD.
2 rms., dinette, kit., bath, screened porch, elec. refg...$45.50
1511 25th ST. S.E.
2 rooms, dinette, kitchen, bath, back porch.....$35.00
P. J. WALSHE, INC.
1107 Eye St. N.W. National 6468.

JOHN MARSHALL
1910 K St. NW.—1 room, dinette, large entrance foyer, kitchen, bath; $47.50. Apply res. mgr. or call ME. 1463.

1905 B ST. N.E.
Apt. 4. Bedroom, living room, dinette, kitchen, bath and screened porch; heat, hot-water and janitor service furnished; $49.50.

307 DECATUR ST. N.W.
One bedrm., living rm., kit., bath; $49.50.

601 PARK RD. N.W.
One bedroom, living room, kit., bath; resident manager on premises; $45.

5248 44TH ST. N.W.
Bedroom, living room, dinette, kitchen, bath and screened porch; heat, hot water, janitor service furnished; $51.50.
Wm. H. Saunders Co., Inc.
1519 K St. N.W. DI. 1015.

2504 10TH ST. N.E.
One room, kitchen, dinette and bath; refrigeration on house current.....$40.00
SEE RESIDENT MANAGER.

2447 40th ST. N.W.
Apt. No. 3—2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath, porch and yard. Refrigeration. Automatic oil heat. Rent includes heat and hot water.....$52.50

THE DAHLIA
1019 GEORGIA AVE. N.W.
Three rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath and inclosed sun porch.....$65.00
SEE RESIDENT MANAGER.
EDW. M. WILLIS
INVESTMENT BUILDING.
National 7479.

6313 16th St. N.W.
"BENNETT HALL"
Corner of Somerset Street
Near the Rock Creek Golf Course and Walter Reed Hospital grounds. Very desirable apartments, nicely arranged, with large rooms and complete kitchen equipment.
2 rooms, kitchen, dining alcove and bath
$60.00
Under Management of
H. L. Rust Company
1001 15th St. N.W. NA. 8100

KEW Gardens
2700 QUE Street N.W.
C. J. LANKS, Manager
1 room, dinette, kitchen, bath (some with porch).....$42.50 to $47.50
4 rooms, kitchen, bath, reception hall and porch.....$95.00
5 rooms, kitchen, 2 baths, reception hall and porch.....$125.00
Free Refrigeration and Secretarial Service.

Thrifty Used Car Buyers Will Welcome the Values on This Page

Houses—Unfurnished 56

Continued From Preceding Page.

CH. CH., MD., 204 E. Thornapple st.—7 r. 4 bdr.), lge. front, rear pchs., gar., oil heat; refs.: $90. AD. 7288 or NA. 6233. Mrs. Crandall.

CHEVY CHASE, MD. (123 West Woodbine) Attractive 7 rooms, brick house, studio living room, fireplace; 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, maid's room. Venetian blinds, new oil heat. Reasonable operating cost. WIs. 6608.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.—Semi-detached, 6 rooms, 2 baths, all modern conveniences; avail. Dec. 1. Owner's phone, AT. 3351-J.

DETACHED—8 rooms, 2 baths; 2-car garage; oil heat; convenient to schools, stores and transportation; excellent neighborhood. Phone NA. 1040.

HILLCREST, 2140 32d St. SE.—5 rooms, bath, porches; h.-w. h.; $47.50. WO. 0801.

LARGE ROOMS, 4 master bedrooms, 2 baths, glassed-in sleeping porch, spacious first floor, sun parlor, maid's room; 3320 28th St., Chevy Chase, nr. Military Rd. and Rock Creek Park. OPEN AND LIGHTED, 4 to 8 p. m.

MT. RAINIER—8 rms., bath bungalow; beautiful yard; $40. 3620 33d st. GR. 2309-W.

NEARBY VA.—Brand-new delightful six-rm. home, on Mt. Vernon Blvd.; elec. kitchen and porch; oil heat, Frigidaire; garage; 20-minute drive to Pa. ave.; $75. Call J. M. Reed, ALex. 366-J-11.

SILVER SPRING—5-rm. Bungalow, studio living room, hot-water heat, fireplace, garage; $50. BAINS REALTY CO., 8413 Georgia ave. SHepherd 3892.

UNFURNISHED HOUSES in all sections of the city. Call Mrs. Lynch, evenings, MEtropolitan 1235.
WAGGAMAN-BRAWNER,
1700 Eye St. N.W. MEt. 3860.

W. CHEVY CHASE, 4611 43d pl.—6 rooms, bath; h.-w. h., gas, elec.; $60. EM. 4024.

WESLEY HEIGHTS PROPERTIES FOR RENT. W. C. & A. N. Miller. DI. 4434.

WOODRIDGE, 2840 Myrtle ave. ne.—Attr. 6-rm. house; bath, large liv. rm. with firepl.; scr. porch; oil heat. PO. 0744-W.

3D ST. NE., 2519, near R. I. ave.—5-room and bath brick; 3 porches; garage; hot-water heat; newly renovated; $32.50. C. M. PLUNKERT, 1 Thomas Cir. NA. 0652.

6216 8TH ST. N.W.
Detached 6 large rooms, bath h.-w. h. and bath brick; 3 porches; garage; hot-water heat; newly renovated; $32.50. C. M. PLUNKERT, 1 Thomas Cir. NA. 0652.

6216 8TH ST. N.W.
Detached 6 large rooms, bath h.-w. h. and bath brick; 3 porches; garage; hot-water heat; newly renovated; $32.50. C. M. PLUNKERT, 1 Thomas Cir. NA. 0652.

2501 FAIRLAWN AVE. S.E.
Nearly new, 6 rooms, bath; h.-w. heat, $45. HARTMAN REALTY, INC. AT. 5584.

3801-3815 BLAINE ST. N.E.
6 rooms, kitchen, bath $47.50
JOSEPH P. SMITH. REp. 3309.

630 FRANKLIN ST. N.E.
7-room brick. Completely redecorated; Frigidaire; perfect condition; deep lot with garage; $62.50. Call AD. 5297 or ME. 2200.

11-ROOM suburban resid., D. C. city improvements; nice grounds, gar., oil heat; be seen to appreciate. Owner, GE. 1855.

717 3D ST. NW.—9-rm. brick; h.-w. h.; gar.; yard; recond.; conv.; $50. ME 5285.

BRICK HOMES FROM $60.
W. C. & A. N. Miller, District 4464.

List Your Houses With Us.
MURRAY CO.
1406 G St. N.W. NA. 7772.

HILLCREST, D. C.
Detached, attractive brick, 3 full-size bedrooms and 1 small one; Oil heat, built-in garage; $69.50. 2975 Fort Baker drive se. Call Mr. Moore.
ADELBERT W. LEE
1343 H St. N.W. DIst. 4600.

$55.00—3302 19 ST. N.W.—Lovely 6 room brick, h.-w. h., 2-car brick garage; excellent condition. New range.
LEO M. BERNSTEIN & CO., MET. 5400.

BROOKLAND, D. C.
Detached, 8 rooms and bath; garage; convenient churches, schools, transp.; $70.
FIDELITY MTGE. INVEST. CO.
1105 E St. N.W. NA. 2431.

1809 FORT DAVIS ST. S.E.
Near Penna. ave. se. New home, 6 rooms and bath; complete and up-to-date; on bus line; $55.50.
HARTMAN REALTY, INC. AT. 5584.

501 ALLISON ST. N.W.
Corner, 6 rooms, bath; h.-w. h., elec., gas; garage. $70.00.
R. A. HUMPHRIES.
808 No. Capitol. Realtor. NA. 6731.

Potomac Hgts.—6 r., b., garage $50.00
43d Pl. NW.—6 rooms, bath $52.50
Amer. Univ. Pk.—Bungalow, 5 r., b. $60.00
Burleith—5 rms., bath, gas heat $70.00
Garfield st nw.—8 rms., 2 b., gar. ..$95.00
A. D. CRUMBAUGH (Realtor), WO. 1-3-6-4

STONE BUNGALOW.
(1 year old.) Studio living room, large dining room and 2 spacious bedrooms; on deep wooded 80-ft. lot; near Falls Church. $55.00.
JAMES M. DOYLE,
5015 N. Wash. Blvd. WA. 9091.

1921 FIRST ST. N.W.
6 rooms and bath $55.00
820 EYE ST. N.E.
9 rooms and bath $65.00
719 RITTENHOUSE ST. N.W.
6 rooms and bath $60.00
3704 34TH ST. N.W.
6 rooms and bath $75.00
WM. H. SAUNDERS & CO., INC.
DIstrict 1015. 1519 K ST. N.W.

RENTAL BARGAINS.
BETHESDA.
4 and 5 room bungalows, air conditioned heat, automatic refrigeration, (1 just completed.)
$50 TO $60 PER MONTH
THE NEWBOLD DEVELOPMENT CO.
7611 Wisconsin Ave. Wisc. 8286.

1211 QUINCY ST. N.W.
6 rooms and bath, front and rear porches, 1-car built-in garage. Gas furnace. Automatic hot-water. Will take offer.
WEAVER BROS., INC.
Wash. Bldg. Realtors. DIst. 9486.

722 TAYLOR ST. N.E.
Semi-detached, modern 2 bedroom house ..... $55.00.

720 TAYLOR ST. N. E.
Detached, modern 2 bedroom house ..... $65.00.

BRADLEY, BEALL & HOWARD, INC.
NA. 0271. Southern Bldg.

Outstanding Values

Two-Family Home
614 K St. N.E.—$45.00
Five rooms, 2 kitchens and bath; hot-water heat, electricity.

1216 G St. N.E.—$35
Living room, dining room 3 bedrooms, kitchen and bath, 2 screened porches.

Near Navy Yard
1332 D St. S.E.—$45.00
Living room, dining room, 3 bedrooms, kitchen and bath; screened porch; large rear yard.

Semi-Detached
4410 Chesapeake St.—$57.50.
Drive out Wis. Ave. to River Rd., west on River Rd. to Chesapeake. Reception hall, living room, dining room, 3 bedrooms, kitchen and bath; 2 inclosed porches; garage; rear yard.

Excellent Location
435 Decatur St. N.W.—$65.00.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

TA-DUM-DE DUM-TA-DA DE-TE-TUM-TE-DUM!
PLAYING HER TRUMP CARD—"NARCISSUS," THE TRICKY PIECE REQUIRING THE PIANIST TO CROSS THE RIGHT HAND OVER THE LEFT

Bob Burns Says—

I don't think we ever have to worry about havin' a dictator in this country. In the old days, some fella might've put it over, but the present generation is a little bit too independent.

Years ago, my grandma was pretty poor. She'd go to a society party and the hostess'd make some remark about her cheap dress and grandma'd come home and bury her face in the pollow and cry all night. If grandma went to a party today and a hostess would make the same slurring remark, grandma'd slap her face and stay.

Copyright, 1938, Esquire Features, Inc.

MR. AND MRS. Joe and the Mrs. are in it again, in Sunday's Post. BY ARTHUR FOLWELL AND ELLISON HOOVER

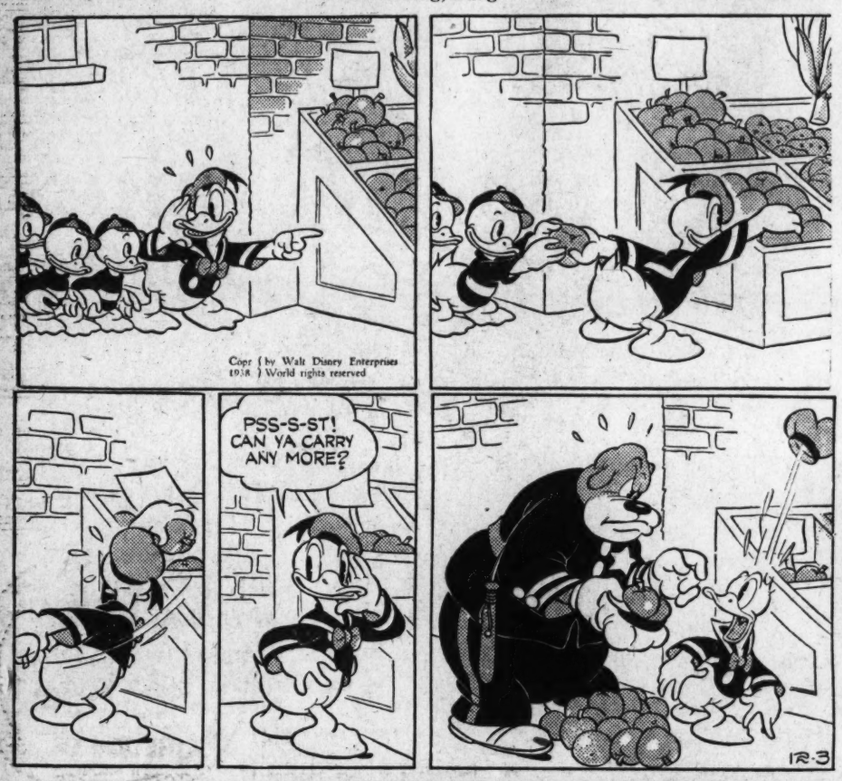
SAY, LOOK AT THAT KID TWO TABLES FROM US. I'LL BET HER MOTHER WOULD GIVE HER FITS FOR SMOKING LIKE THAT IN PUBLIC
THAT'S RICH, THAT IS!
WHAT'S RICH?
WHY, THAT'S ELFIE SQUANDA — AND THAT'S HER MOTHER WITH HER!
IT'S A GOOD THING FOR YOUR NERVES THAT HER GRAND-MOTHER ISN'T WITH HER
I'M JUST AN OLD-FASHIONED GENTLEMAN — I CAN SEE THAT

TERRY AND THE PIRATES . Pat Ryan meets more trouble—in Sunday's Post. BY MILTON CANIFF

THAT MAN... HE'S "WEAZEL"... TRIED TO KILL ME WITH A KNIFE ONCE... I LEFT HIM FOR DROWNED OFF AN ISLAND IN THE SOUTH CHINA SEA...
WELL RYAN—I UNDERSTAND YOU CAME TO SEE ME ABOUT MONEY .. BUT YOU JUST STAND AND STARE AT MR. BELETTE!
BEG PARDON, I THOUGHT I RECOGNIZED HIM!
OBVIOUSLY MISTAKEN IDENTITY! BELETTE IS MY-AH-COMPANION!
COMPANION! YOU MEAN BODYGUARD! THAT GUY IS WEAZEL, AND I HAVE AN OLD, OLD SCORE TO SETTLE WITH THE RAT!
COME, COME, RYAN! THIS IS NOT A REUNION PARTY! STATE YOUR BUSINESS!
YEAH, I'LL STATE MY BUSINESS—AND GIVE THIS BELETTE-WEAZEL THE BUSINESS AT THE SAME TIME!

BIG CHIEF WAHOO See Gusto's narrow escape, in Sunday's Post. BY SAUNDERS AND WOGGON

DONALD DUCK— "Good Morning, Judge!" BY WALT DISNEY



YOUNG SQUAW WANTUM POW-WOW WITH WAHOO, HUH? WHY?
I HEARD YOU SHOUTING "OSKEE-WA-WA!" AND RECOGNIZED IT—AS THE JOY CRY OF THE WAHOO TRIBE. AM I RIGHT?
YEP! WAHOO'S PEOPLE ALWAYS YELL THAT WAY WHEN HAPPY!
AND WHO IS THE CHIEF OF THAT TRIBE TODAY?
YOU LOOK RIGHT AT UM,—CHIEF WAHOO!
GOOD! I'M PATSY PERKINS, AND YOU'RE THE MAN I'VE BEEN SEEKING FOR YEARS!
LOOK! I HAVE SOMETHING IN THIS BOX THAT IS GOING TO CHANGE THE COURSE OF YOUR ENTIRE LIFE!
?

WINNIE WINKLE Perry has the club books examined, in Sunday's Post. BY BRANNER

SAY, HONEY, ANY CHANCE OF YOUR TAKING TONIGHT OFF?
NO, DEAR! I'M AFRAID NOT!
TONIGHT THE BENEVOLENT ORDER OF SISTERS OF THE PEACE IS HOLDING IT'S WEEKLY CARD PARTY IN THE BLUE ROOM!
OH, A PEACE SOCIETY, EH??
AND YOU HAVE TO KEEP SCORE, I SUPPOSE!
NO! IT'S NOT THAT!
BUT SOMEBODY ALWAYS HAS TO BE ON HAND WHEN A FIGHT STARTS!

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY Information Bureau BY FRANK MARTINEK

THIS BAG OF GOLF CLUBS MAY BE A REAL LEAD, BUZZ... LUCKY YOU CAUGHT THE NAME ON THE DELIVERY TRUCK!
YESSIR, THE DIVOT SPORTING GOODS COMPANY...
CRONIN IS CHECKING UP WITH THEM AT THE NEAREST PHONE... HE'LL BE BACK ANY MINUTE..
NO LUCK, WINSLOW... THE COMPANY DID SOME REPAIR WORK ON THOSE GOLF CLUBS FOR "JOHN SMITH", BUT THEY CAN'T DESCRIBE HIM..
YOU MEAN WHAT HE LOOKS LIKE? SAY! I KNOW JUST HOW WE CAN GET THAT DOPE!!

MICKEY FINN Mickey has trouble with Uncle Phil, this Sunday. BY LANK LEONARD

JUST THINKIN' OF TAKIN' THEM EXAMINATIONS TODAY MAKES ME JITTERY—DO YA REALLY THINK I GOT A CHANCE!
SURE YOU HAVE, FLOSSIE! THERE WON'T BE MUCH COMPETITION—IT'S THE KIND OF A JOB THAT MOST GIRLS WOULD BE AFRAID TO TACKLE!
WHAT ROOM ARE THEY HAVIN' THE EXAMINATION FOR THE LADY COPS IN?
JUST WALK DOWN THE HALL AND YOU'LL FIND OUT!
EXAMINATIONS FOR POLICEWOMEN

DIXIE DUGAN Dixie scores a point for the new fashions, Sunday. J. P. McEVOY AND H. J. STRIBEL

NED BRANT—A Story of College Athletics BY BOB ZUPPKE Famous Football Coach.

I'M A BIT WORRIED ABOUT THE FRESHMAN WE SENT OUT AS A CHAUFFEUR, BUD!
DON'T WORRY, NED—HE SAID HE HAS DRIVEN A CAR FOR YEARS
HERE WE GO!
THAT'S DANDY—I WAS ABOUT TO NOTIFY MY FAMILY I MIGHT BE HERE OVER THE WEEKEND
WHAT TH—? STOP HER—STOP THE CAR!!
DON'T BE A BACK SEAT DRIVER, SIR!
ON THE RIGHT, HERE, IS THE BEAUTIFUL SACKS HOME—HE'S THE BURLAP MAGNATE
INTERESTING—I MIGHT SAY VERY INTERESTING—THAT SETTLES IT—I WILL SAY VERY INTERESTING!

JOE PALOOKA See Knobby get the "Ha-Ha," in Sunday's Post. BY HAM FISHER

MY AUDITION — I ALMOST FORGOT THE TIME —
DO I LOOK IMPRESSIVE ENOUGH IN DOC'S COAT??
HA—HA! COME HERE!
IF A WIND STORM COMES UP YOU'LL TAKE OFF LIKE A BALLOON!
AND HERE'S FOR GOOD LUCK!
SAME HERE!
SMACK
SMACK
WOW! I'LL KNOCK'EM COLD NOW!
DON'T MISS DENNY'S AUDITION!!

BENNY On Second Thought BY J. CARVER PUSEY

HERE'S A BUY THAT'S WORTH A FORTUNE.
SECTION II LEASES AND O
WHAT TH' HELP---I'M BEING ROBBED HELP---
HOLD 'IM KID--NOW GORDON YA RAT--YER GONNA TALK ER ELSE--
HEY WHAT'S GOIN' ON?
HELP--GRAB THEM--IT'S A HOLD-UP HELP!
WAIT GENTS--KEEP OUTA THIS-- SO YOU REFUSE MY MONEY?
?

Board Finds More Exempt From Pay Law

Circumstances at Time Of Manufacture of Good Chief Factor

By the Associated Press.

The wage-hour administration, amplifying its interpretation of the fair labor standards act, ruled yesterday that circumstances at the time goods are manufactured for market—not some subsequent development—determine whether an employe is covered by the law.

Basically, the act applies to employes engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce, but complex and borderline cases have arisen to complicate its administration.

Subsequent interstate movement of goods originally produced by an employer, who had reason to believe tthey would be used only within the State of production would not bring the employes of the manufacturer under the wage-hour act, officials said.

Cases Cited

The administration cited these cases to show conditions under which the act would or would not apply to employes.

A manufacturer produces shirts to fill the order of a local retail dealer in the same State. The retailer goes bankrupt and his stock is sold to an out-of-State merchant. The ultimate interstate shipment of the shirts does not subject the employer to the act.

The same manufacturer fills an order for an out-of-State dealer. The order is destroyed by fire before the shirts are shipped. The manufacturer is subject to the act because, regardless of the loss by fire, his employes produced goods for interstate commerce.

Buttons and Lumber

A producer makes buttons for an interstate shirt manufacturer and another produces lumber for a furniture manufacturing company. The buttons and the lumber, in the eyes of the Administration, are "ingredients" of shirts and of furniture moving in interstate commerce. Hence the wage-hour law applies to the buttonmakers and the sawmill workers.

An interstate garment manufacturer engages an independent contractor in the same State to cut materials. After cutting, the materials go back to the manufacturer for finishing. The act applies to the cutter's employes.

Employes of a baker whose products are sold locally, although he obtains his flour from out-of-State, are excluded from the act.

Employes of a small mine which sells all its coal locally, to an interstate manufacturing plant, are excluded.

A local building contractor's employes are not covered because they do not produce goods sold or shipped across a State line, but some of the contractor's employes hauling materials in interstate transportation may come under the act.

'Snob' Husband Wins Suit to Return Children to Britain

Miami, Fla., Dec. 2 (AP).—Mrs. Calypso Baring Liddell, daughter of an American woman and an English lord, agreed today to return to England with her four children at the demand of her husband, whom she branded "an unmitigated snob."

Judge Barns approved settlement of the habeas corpus suit brought here by Guy Maynard Liddell, England's chief of civil intelligence, seeking return of the children. Liddell was bound in the agreement to seek release of his wife's sequestered fortune and the children from their status as wards-in-chancery.

Mrs. Liddell, daughter of the late Lord Revelstoke and niece of Pierre Lorillard, tobacco magnate, said in her answer she wanted her children reared in the democratic atmosphere of the United States. Her income of $30,000 to $35,000 a year was sequestered by her husband, whose annual pay was testified to be $6,500 annually.

Mrs. Etta Dewey Dies Here at 73

Mrs. Etta C. Dewey, 73, a resident of Washington for more than 40 years, died yesterday at her home, 4512 Ninth street northwest, after an illness of several months.

A native of Seneca Falls, N. Y., Mrs. Dewey came to Washington at the time of her marriage. She was a member of the Petworth Women's Club, active in the Gunton-Temple Presbyterian Church, and formerly a leader of a local Campfire Girls group.

Mrs. Dewey leaves her husband, Lyster C. Dewey, of this city, and a daughter, Mrs. R. G. Cral, of Kenmore, N. Y.

Mexican Party Expels 3 Leaders

Mexico City, Dec. 2 (U.P.).—The national committee of the official Government Party tonight expelled three "old line" revolutionists for allegedly criticizing the party directorate for radical tendencies.

Those expelled were Alfonso Gomez Morentin, director of posts and telegraph, former telegrapher for Pancho Villa; Marciano Gonzalez, clerk in the office of the federal district governor and one-time follower of Venustiano Carranzo, and Gen. Rafael Cal y Mayor.

Government Policy Irks Peace Group; Dissolves

Hollywood, Dec. 2. (AP).—Francis Lederer, actor, and founder and president of the World Peace Foundation, announced today the dissolution of the organization because "the federation's plans for a peace vote do not coincide with Government policies at present."

The federation, established five years ago, has boasted an enrollment of more than 1,000,000 in all parts of the world. Lederer dedicated the foundation to the purpose of obtaining a vote for peace by the people of each nation in the world.

Divorces Potter D'Orsay Palmer

Mrs. Pauline (Polly) Warren Palmer, shown in a night club, was in a happy mood at Sarasota, Fla., yesterday after a circuit court granted her a divorce from Potter D'Orsay Palmer, scion of a wealthy Chicago family. Polly, his third wife, accused him of habitual intemperance

Associated Press Photo.

Gillen, Old Hand at Memorials, Optimistic on One to Jefferson

Engineer Believes It Will Be as Popular As Lincoln Shrine

Construction of the Washington Monument was not superintended by Francis F. Gillen because he was born about 50 years too late—or the shaft was erected that much too soon.

With that and a few other scattered exceptions, nearly every outstanding memorial and statue in the Capital one can think of offhand was put up under the supervision of the same National Park Service engineer who will have charge of the huge Thomas Jefferson Memorial job for the Federal Government.

He was asked yesterday which of the dozens of statues and monuments in whose erection he played a part was his favorite.

"Like Going to Church"

"The Lincoln Memorial," he replied without hesitation. "Why, when it was first thrown open to the public not a man—not one—entered without removing his hat. It was like going to church, ascending the steps and approaching the statue of Lincoln.

"But it isn't that way any more. I suppose we're moving in a faster age, or something of the sort."

Yet he added:

"Still I sincerely believe that the new Jefferson Memorial will be every bit as successful, with respect to public reaction, as the Lincoln, in spite of the controversy over the cherry trees."

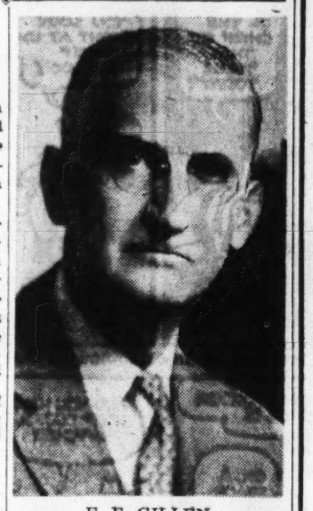
To Work 3 Shifts

In order to complete the foundation work within the six-month contract time without rushing the job, the contractor plans to work "around the clock" with three shifts of men, Gillen said.

Other monumental projects which he supervised include the Arlington Memorial Amphitheater, the Red Cross Memorial buildings and the statues of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, McClellan, Columbus, Barry, John Paul Jones and Hahnemann, to mention only a few.

Gillen was Uncle Sam's "boss man" when President Theodore Roosevelt had the White House remodeled and the first office wing built in 1902 and when Taft had the office enlarged. He also supervised repairs of damage caused by the fire of 1929 and when the Executive Office was remodeled and enlarged in the present Administration Gillen again was in charge.

On March 1 he will mark his thirty-ninth anniversary in the Government service, which he joined after his graduation from the University of Michigan Engineering School. Except for a few years in private work, his entire professional career has been in the old Office of Public Buildings and Grounds and the National Park Service, which absorbed the former agency in 1933.



F. F. GILLEN

Editor Awarded Literary Prize

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 2 (U.P.).—Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, tonight was presented the Mayflower Cup, awarded annually for the outstanding literary achievement by a resident of North Carolina.

M. R. Dunnagan, historian of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in North Carolina, made the award for Daniels' book, "A Southerner Discovers the South." Daniels, a son of Josephus Daniels, United States Ambassador to Mexico, was the first newspaper man to win the award during the eight years it has been presented.

Dope Jury Indicts Bon Vivant, 41

New York, Dec. 2 (AP).—A Federal grand jury has indicted Solomon Gelb, 41, restaurateur, world-traveler and luxury-lover, on charges of smuggling vast quantities of narcotics into the United States.

The indictment was made public after Gelb also known as "Sollie Gordon" and by ten other aliases, was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $2,000 on conviction of perjury. He will be tried on the narcotic indictment in January.

Good Neighbor Fleet Cuts Rates to Students

The United States Maritime Commission yesterday announced approval of a 50 per cent reduction from prevailing rates on the ships of the good neighbor fleet of the American Republics Line to students and teachers.

The commission's action was taken to encourage a greater cultural understanding between North and South America.

A game the entire family can play together!

CHINESE CHECKERS

1.00

It's played somewhat like checkers, only it's lots more fun! And what's more six people can play at one time. The complete game—a large plywood board and 60 marbles for only $1.

The Hecht Co., Seventh and F Sts. N.W., Washington, D. C.

Please send me.....Chinese Checker games at $1 each.

Name .....

Address .....

City .....

State .....

C.O.D...Charge..Check...

Toyland—Third Floor

THE HECHT CO.

F Street at Fifth — National 5100

If It's From THE HECHT CO.

F STREET AT SEVENTH — NATIONAL 5100

It's a Welcome Gift

Watches

The gift that will give years of pleasure to every man, woman and child on your list!

Special! $12.95 Men's & Women's

Swiss Watches

9.95

It's a grand and glorious thrill . . . this business of giving the most longed-for gift there is! You'll be as proud of the giving it as the favorite-on-your-gift-list will be at receiving it! It's a practical idea, too . . . when you can get a fine 7-jewel $12.95 Swiss watch for only $9.95. Every one has a beautiful rolled-gold plated case . . . with stainless steel back. Simple, modern styles, or fancier engraved cases for women. The men's models are in the new long curved-to-the-wrist and step-up types. They'll give years of service . . . and happiness!

Expert watch repair at moderate rates in our watch repair department

*FOR CHILDREN

INGRAHAM WATCHES . . . in colored enamel cases . . . red, green, ivory, navy and black. A gift to bring joy to every youngster! $2.49

"FIRST LADY" . . . a sturdy chrome case that will stand lots of hard wear . . . with the popular metal strap. Accurate movement $3.50

GIRLS' WATCH . . . a narrow model that will really make her feel grown up! Gold color case, and gold color applied numerals. Stainless back $3.95

THE "DEAN" . . . a 7-jewel New Haven watch, with the new curved case in a gold color. Stainless steel back . . . and pigskin strap $5.95

7-JEWEL SWISS . . . for boys. Rolled-gold plate case and applied gold color numerals on face. Pigskin strap . . . stainless steel back $7.95

7-JEWEL SWISS . . . for girls. Beautiful round case . . . of rolled-gold plate. Stainless steel back. Sturdy movement that will give long service $7.95

*FOR WOMEN

7-JEWEL ELGIN . . . shape white-case watches. Stainless steel backs . . . attractive link band. A gift she'll love! $20.00

17-JEWEL SWISS WATCH . . . small 14-karat solid gold case. 17 jewels and 4 diamonds! Dependable Swiss movement .. $29.50

15-JEWEL ELGIN . . . round shape, 10-karat gold-filled case . . . with applied gold-color numerals. With neat black cord $33.75

17-JEWEL HAMILTON "DIANE" . . . a gorgeous 10-karat gold-filled case . . . and a black cord. Applied gold-color numerals on face $40.00

17-JEWEL HAMILTON "RHODA" model . . . in a 14-karat gold-filled case, with fine chased ends. A gift worthy even of her! $47.50

17-JEWEL DIAMOND STUDDED MODEL . . . small 14-karat white gold case, completely surrounded and trimmed at the ends with 20 diamonds $59.50

*FOR MEN

17-JEWEL DOCTORS' Sweep Second Watch . . . rolled-gold plate case . . . with stainless steel back. Genuine pigskin strap $12.95

9-JEWEL WALTHAM . . . beautifully slender curved-to-the-wrist style. Rolled-gold plate case. Famous Waltham movement $19.75

7-JEWEL ELGIN "CAVALIER" . . . 10-karat gold-filled case . . . with gold-color numerals on face. Equipped with a second hand . . . pigskin strap $25.00

7-JEWEL ELGIN . . . long curved rolled-gold plate case . . . with stainless steel back. Comes with an unusually heavy link metal bracelet $27.50

17-JEWEL HAMILTON "SIDNEY" . . . almost square in shape . . . 10-karat gold-filled case. With leather strap and gold-colored numerals $40.00

17-JEWEL HAMILTON "CARLISLE" . . . long curved model . . . with 14-karat gold-filled case. The famous watch of "railroad accuracy." $52.50

WATCH DEPARTMENT—MAIN FLOOR

$5 A MONTH PAYS FOR ANY OF THESE WATCHES